MAYOR PAYS TRIBUTE — In the Council Chambers of the District Building, last week, Mayor Walter E. Washington paid tribute to Miss Black America who arrived in D. C. Thursday and was escorted through the streets of Washington by a 30-car motorcade and police escort. Once at the District Byilding, she was serenaded by the Recreatinment mobile. In the picture, Mayor Washington, who was kissed by Miss Clark, re-presents the lovely Miss Glack America silver trophy to her while her parents and nearly 300 hundred fans watched. that a prominent Washington Attorney (Larry Williams) who was originally the lawyer for the Jacks Productions here in D.C. has switched horses and is now representing the national director, J. Morris Anderson. Consequently at a recent meeting between the parties involved this left the local group totally defenseless, without warning, during contract talks.

To help make matters worse, it is being said that no kickback of any form has been offered the local sponsors, the Infernos Club . . . or the Kack Productions. Instead they are being faced with the problem of obligating themselves to sell something like 2,000 Miss Black America magazines each month.

I am told that this task is an addition to last year's contract, and one which had to be accepted by the local group in order to get the franchise again.

It was said that Mr. Anderson and Attorney Williams did not feel that this was too much to ask the holders of franchise all over the country. Yet, according to the terms of the new contract, it is said to hold nothing which would insure that the sellers get a would go to the national director, J Morris Anderson, also to be rumored as publisher of the magazine along with some white advisors.

Miss Clark, who flew to Atlanta, Ga., over the weekend, said that she has accepted this title because "I want to help my people." She explained that advancing her people was foremost in her mind and thatshe would not stoop to do anything that would cause shame or disgrace to her family or her race.

Many people in high places here are said to be looking into the matter behind the scenes to insre that justice is done to not only Miss Clark but to the directors of the pageants who have been threatened that if they don't accept all of the terms of the contract by the end of September a local personality with an organization would.

It should be noted that a beautiful thing has happened and it would be a stigma on the part of the national office to permit unfavorable reports due to bad judgement, to destroy the Miss Black America pageant forever.

The reason for creating a Miss Black America pageant was because young black women were not getting a fair shake in other similar type competition . . . and now it seems likely that black girls can't get a fair shake in black pageants either.

If any of the above assertions are correct it is hoped that Mr. Anderson takes steps to see that justice is done and fair play prevails.

As for the Washington sponsors and producers, it is obvious their course calls for a new legal mind as time and foremost.

All of Washington and other cities as well will be keeping their eyes on Stephanie Clark and the Washington sponsors.

Miss Clark is due to return from Puerto Rico, where her younger sister accompanied her, on Thursday.

Temple, Eutaw Pl. near Lanvale St., Ramsey Clark, former U.S. attorney general, will appear on behalf of black democratic candidates and Sen. Joseph D. Tydings.

Monday afternoon, the Arabs and Hucksters Association in cooperation with the AFRO will sponsor a parade from the same Temple to Lafayette Market for the candidates.

The AFRO announces today (Friday) its endorsements for Tuesday's primary, and urges its readers to support these candidates.

Polls will be open for 13 hours, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., affording all ample time for voting.

However, only those eligible voters registered as Democrats or Republicans may cast ballots in the primary.

Those registered as independents, not affiliated with either party, will not be permitted to vote Tuesday, but may do so in the Nov. 3 general election.

This primary is for nomination of Democratic and Republican candidates for various offices, and the successful ones of both parties will face each other in the general election.

These Democrats may only vote for Democratic candidates in this primary, and Republicans may only vote for Republican candidates.

* * *

For those citizens new to their residential area who may encounter difficulty in finding their correct polling place to vote, the Supervisors of Elections will e open to give aid.

Telephone number there is — 539-6960.

For those working women and men who must be on their jobs Tuesday, remember employers are required by law to give their employees time off to vote.

For those, too, who may arrive at the polls just prior to closing time, if they find a line and get in t before the polls close they will be permitted to vote.

This primary, especially Democratic-wise, is going down to the wire as one of the most heated in several categories in years.

The Democratic nomination Tuesday in some cases will be tantamount to winning the November general election.

For examples where black candidates are running, this is the case where Milton B. Allen is bidding for state's attorney, also where Paul L. Chester is in the race for clerk of Court of Common Pleas, and where Bertram J. Dorsey is the frontrunner bidder for city sheriff.

The state's attorney fiveman race is undoubtedly the most heated here for a citywide post, attracting high attention of both black and white Democratic

Though generally given at this point a 50-50 chance of winning, if Mr. Allen is to emerge victorious Tuesday he will need ful lsrnport of all Democratic black voters.

Those registered Republican cannot vote for him.

The same holds true for Messrs. Chester and Dorsey.

* * *

For the first time in recent years, there are black citizens running on Democratic tickets in all six of the city's Legislative Districts.

They are named in an accompany primary candidates listing elsewhere in this edition, which the AFRO has been runig for some time.

Black community representation can be expected to be increased through this primary in the General Assembly at Annapolis in the city's 2nd District, and black breakthroughs are almost certain in the 5th District.

The 4th District long black has only one white candidate running for the General Assembly, and she is Mrs. Beatrice A. Schwartz, real estate broker and Girl Scouts leader.

This district's primary is sharpened by the rivalry between the 4th District Democratic Club, headed by Sen. Verda F. Welcome, and the Metro-Democrats Inc., headed by Henry G. Parks Jr., for city councilman, and William Adams, well known businessman.

The Metro group is fielding a slate headed by Sen. Clarence M. Mitchell rd.

The 2nd District has two integrated slates, another all black and still another all white.

In Northwest Baltimore's 5th District, there are two black Democratic candidates for State Senate and eight in a field of 23 running for seven ominations to the House of Delegates.

The 3rd District has three black candidates running for the House, the 1st and th Districts one ach.

All are named in the primary candidates listing.

* * *

Tuesday's primary will be vital too, as to whether trere are indications Baltimore will be able to add to its black judges.

Judge Harry A. Cole and Robert B. Watts are up to hold their seats on the Supreme Bench. Judge John R. Hargrove is running to hold his seat on Municipal Court.

In addition, William H. Murphy Sr. is bidding for a Municipal Court judgeship, and DeHaven L. Smith is trying for People's Corrt.

At time of the last election in November 1968, Baltimore had a total registration of 436,760, of which 157,293, or 36.1 percent, were black.

Supervisors of Elections officials have since halted keeping tabulations by race. However, their estimates are that black registered voters now comprise around 40 percent of the city's approximately 431,000 total.

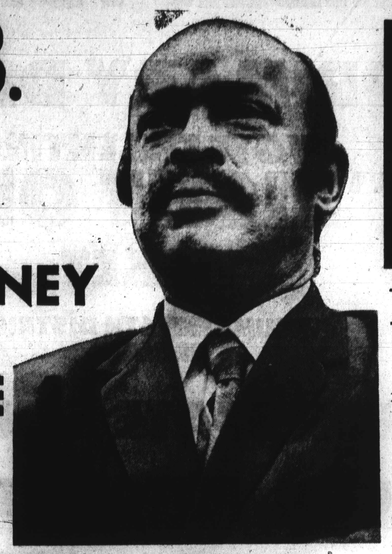
JUSTICE . . . ELECT IT OR LOSE IT!

MILTON B. ALLEN

FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY OF BALTIMORE CITY



WHAT IS A STATE'S ATTORNEY ??

The State's Attorney . . .

The SECOND MOST POWERFUL JOB IN BALTIMORE

1. The State's Attorney supervises the prosecution of all criminal cases in Baltimore.

MILTON B. ALLEN has studied and written about the inefficient operations of the prosecutor's office that result in a denial of justice to the public, the victim, and the accused.

2. The State's Attorney controls a staff of 75 lawyers and over 26 secretaries and clerks with a budget of more than 1½ million dollars.

MILTON B. ALLEN has spoken out against the abuse of power by the prosecutor's office and the waste of money through the inefficient administration of justice.

3. The State's Attorney recommends the AMOUNT OF BAIL to be set in a criminal case.

MILTON B. ALLEN opposes unreasonable bails and preventive detention.

4. The State's Attorney SETS THE DATE FOR TRIAL in most criminal cases.

MILTON B. ALLEN has condemned the practice of first trying the headline-making cases while the routine cases of average citizens go untried for months, then years.

5. The State's Attorney has the POWER TO DROP CASES or to bring them to trial.

MILTON B. ALLEN has attacked the waste in time and money and the injustice of prosecuting cases that should never be tried.

6. The State's Attorney assists the police in the INVESTIGATION OF CRIMES.

MILTON B. ALLEN has denounced the improper invasion of the privacy of innocent citizens and has insisted on efficient and proper investigations followed by fair trials.

7. The State's Attorney TAKES CASES TO THE GRAND JURY and recommends whether or not the accused should be indicted.

MILTON B. ALLEN opposes bringing improper charges which add hopeless cases to a crowded docket and inconveniences innocent people.

8. The State's Attorney may recommend the LENGTH OF SENTENCE to be imposed after conviction.

MILTON B. ALLEN believes that prison sentences should be aimed at rehabilitation as well as the protection of society.

The State's Attorney should have EXTENSIVE COURTROOM TRIAL EXPERIENCE.

1. MILTON B. ALLEN has practiced law for 22 years, and is a founder and senior partner in the law firm of Brown, Allen and Josey, which has produced three Supreme Bench judges.

2. MILTON B. ALLEN has tried over SEVEN THOUSAND CASES at all levels in City, State, Federal courts, and in courts in other states. These cases ranged from simple offenses to serious cases involving the death penalty.

3. MILTON B. ALLEN has argued over 100 appeal cases before state and federal high courts, many of which have resulted in landmark decisions in criminal law, voting rights, and civil rights.

The State's Attorney should UNDERSTAND THE SOCIAL PROBLEMS involved in the administration of criminal justice.

1. MILTON B. ALLEN was born and raised in Baltimore's inner city and knows of the causes of crime. He has represented both those accused of crime, and those citizens victimized by crime.

2. MILTON B. ALLEN has often spoken out on the need for the State's Attorney's Office to shift its priorities from the prosecution of glamorous headline-making cases to the fair and efficient administration of speedy justice to both citizens and defendants.

The State's Attorney should RECOGNIZE THE NEED FOR REFORM and the implementation of changes in the administration of Justice.

1. MILTON B. ALLEN, as Chairman of the Criminal Courts Committee of the Baltimore Bar Association, researched and wrote a report entitled "A Study of the Administrative Procedures in the Criminal Court of Baltimore City." Several of his recommendations have been adopted including:
   1. Full time assistant State's Attorney's in the Municipal Courts.
   2. Screening of cases by the State's Attorney's Office before presentment to the Grand Jury.
   3. Increased clerical staffing in the State's Attorney's Office.
   4. An increased trial assignment staff.
2. MILTON B. ALLEN is a member of the Advisory Group for the Study of the Administration of Criminal Justice, a federally-funded organization created to study the problems of Baltimore's criminal court system.
3. MILTON B. ALLEN assisted Judge Joseph C. Howard in preparation of his study on the handling of rape cases in Baltimore City and the entire State.
4. MILTON B. ALLEN is a member of the Committee on Judicial Administration of the Baltimore Bar Association, which deals with all phases of the administration of justice.
5. MILTON B. ALLEN is a member of the Criminal Law and Practice Section of the Maryland State Bar Association.
