New party doesn't expect S. C. win

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — The decision of South Carolina's newest political party to enter a write-in candidate in the gubernatorial race is more an attempt to build party strength than a serious effort to win the November election, according to its president.

John R. Harper II of Columbia told newsmen write-in candidate Thomas D. Boradwater "mathematically" could win the four-way battle for governor in November, but admitted "realistically our aim is to build up our party."

Harper heads tre black-oriented United Citizens Party.

Harper disclosed that Broadwater, a Columbia attorney, and his running mate, the Rev. Julius McTeer, will undertake a flying tour of the state this week.

• • •

"We want people to see our candidates and hear about our party," Harper said. "We are anxious to build enthusiasm and this is a very good way of doing that."

The one-day whirlwind tour will include stops and news conferences in Augusta, Greenville, Charlotte, N.C., Florence, Charleston and Columbia.

The United Citizens Party was formally certified by Sec. of State O. Frank Thornton last week. It is the fourth political party in South Carolina, but because it was certified after the closing date for ballot eligibility, the party cannot place candidates on the November ballot.

Harper said the party is committed to "dismantling of the present South Carolina system and building in its place a society of freedom, justice and equality for all."

• • •

Harper called for a constitutional convention to draft a new state constitution "which will guarantee basic human dignity for all citizens of the state."

"The UCP will advance the interests of black and poor people," he said in a brief statement to newsmen on the statehouse grounds.

"We will firmly support the rights of individual citizens to form labor unions — whether they be state or private employees — and we will firmly support the rights of citizens to peaceably redress their grievances under the First Amendment," he added.

Harper said he read his statement on the statehouse grounds because of the symbols of "oppression for blacks and poor whites" that are visible. Among them he mentioned the Confederate flag atop the capitol and the statue of former Governor and Sen. Ole "Pitchfork" Benjamin Tillman.

Swedes hurl eggs during Holland talk

GOTEBORG, SWEDEN (UPI) — Students hurled eggs and scuffled with police Friday when U.S. Ambassador Jerome H. Holland visited Chalmers University of Technology.

Police arrested two of 40 demonstrators who tried to force their way into a room where Holland was meeting the board of the student association at Chalmers.

Two eggs where hurled at the ambassador but both missed, witnesses said.

More than 150 police officers were guarding the campus when the demonstrators appeared shouting anti-American slogans.

When police moved in to stop the demonstrators from entering the room where a meeting was going on, fighting broke out between demonstrators carrying placards and Viet Cong flags and officers swinging their clubs.

Some demonstrators managed to get past the police cordon and hurl their missiles before the room was cleared.

No injuries were reported.

Holland later delivered a lecture at the university without incident.

But a few hundred demonstrators were waiting for him when he left with his wife in a limousine. Again eggs were thrown.

Holland, himself a former college president, has been a favorite target for the demonstrators since his arrival last April. The Swedish Government has condemned the demonstrations.

47 arrested as Chi. gang raps police

CHICAGO (UPI) — About 47 persons were arrested Friday night as members of a street gang demonstrated in front of a South Side police station. Three policemen were injured slightly by missiles.

About 300 members of the Black Disciples gang protested alleged police brutality and the removal of a black district commander who was replaced by another black man.

The protest at the Englewood District Station ended a march from Black Disciples' headquarters.

The crowd chanted, "We want Miles" — former District Commander Capt. Harold L. Miles, who was replaced several months ago by Capt. Julius H. Watson.

Both are black. A spokesman said Miles was preferred because he was active in community affairs.

Police gave the crowd two orders to disperse, which failed. Arrests were made and some demonstrators threw missiles at the police. Forty-seven were arrested and 26 of them were charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.
