WADDELL HILL, of Riverdale, N. Y., sings one of the leading roles in Theatre IX's production of "Kiss Me Kate" which will be presented at St. Gabriels Auditorium in Riverdale, Nov. 20-21. A native of Spartanburg, S. C., Mr. Hill was accepted with the community theatre group recently.

Musical program by CCB faculty

By
Dr. SIDNEY KOBRE

A musical treat is in store for the readers of the AFRO AMERICAN next Sunday.

A musical program, consisting of vocalists and instrumentalists, presenting a wide range of selections to meet many tastes, will be given at the Community College of Baltimore.

The program, presented by the faculty, will be performed in the Campus Theatre of the college, 2901 Liberty Heights Avenue, at 3 p.m.

"The event is open to the public, free of charge," said Acting Chairman of the Music Department Benjamin Durant. "The program is designed to appeal to all those who like beautiful and stirring musical selections from outstanding operas as well as vigorous instrumental compositions by Chopin, Liszt and Prokofiev."

Mr. Durant, who plays viola on the program, helped to arrange the event with the music faculty. Joseph Eubanks, widely-acclaimed Baltimore bass, will perform the beautiful "The Negro Speaks of Rivers" by Harold Swanson.

Soprano and contralto, tenor and bass voices will be heard, and clarinet and flute, piano, viola and guitar will be featured in duets and trios, Prof. Durant poined out.

"We welcome you to this grand concert," the musical director said. "We know that you will enjoy this Sunday afternoon at CCB. Our performers are talented and their selections carefully designed to appeal to you."

$53,000 awarded 2 colleges

NEW YORK — The Ford Foundation has announced grants totaling $53,00 to two southern colleges for study programs.

Clark College in Atlanta, Ga., received $30,000 to cover the cost of two summer workshops for journalism students.

Jackson State College, Jackson, Miss., was awarded a $23,000 grant to help expand and improve the Afro-American studies program under the leadership of the distinguished poet and novelist, Dr. Margaret Walker Alexander.

The Jackson grant will provide partial support for the school's Institute for the Study of the History, Life and Culture of Black People.

The foundation also announced a $2.1 million scholarship program to assist some 1,000 minority-group students who are graduates of two-year colleges complete the requirements for the A.B. degree.

Guerrillas bomb Portuguese ship

LONDON — Urban guerrillas in Lisbon have claimed responsibility for the recent explosion aboard the Portuguese cargo ship "Cunene" which blew a hole in the stern of the 16,000-ton vessel.

The ship was used to ferry arms and supplies to Portuguese troops fighting against African freedom fighters in Angola.

An underground spokesman in Portugal said in a statement that "the urban guerillas sought to sink the ship." The statement said that "the urban guerrilla movement had failed in the past because of bickering and disunity."

"These problems are now dead and buried," the spokesman said, adding: "We have it in our power to strike at the regime with modern guerilla tactics. We are not violent for the sake of violence, but Portugal has been ruled by violence for more than 50 years and so a certain amount of force seems the only effective rejoinder."

the little cookbook column

Hello, I'm Esther Coley, Home Economist for Hunt-Wesson Foods, Fullerton, California. Read my column every week. I'm sure you'll find something to interest you. I'll have tips and hints about buying and preparing food. And I'll answer any questions you may have about cooking. See you next week.

This week's tip:
When a recipe calls for 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk and you only have sweet milk, make your own. To 1 tablespoon lemon juice add enough sweet milk to make 1 cup and let stand a few minutes at warm temperature.

Hunt's Handy Hint:
To add body and color to your potato and macaroni salads, stir a tablespoon of Hunt's Tomato Paste into the dressing.

Dear Esther:
When I lived in Louisiana we had shrimp soup a lot. But I lost my recipe. I'd appreciate it if you'd give me one. Thanks.
Joann E. Raney, Portsmouth, Va.

Here's my favorite. Lightly cook two cups diced onion and two cloves garlic, crushed, in ¼ cup Wesson Oil. Add one (1-lb., 12-oz.) can Hunt's Whole Tomatoes, 2 cups water, 2 Tablesp. chopped parsley, 1½ teasp. salt, 1 teasp. thyme, ½ teasp. pepper and one bayleaf.
Bring to boil, simmer 30 minutes. Add 1 lb. shelled and cleaned raw shrimp during last few minutes. Makes 4-6 servings.

Dear Esther:
I'm very conscious of vegetables having been sprayed before they're picked. Is there any way I can wash the spray off?
Carolyn R. Peay, Baltimore, Md.

All fresh vegetables except lettuce and leafy vegetables can be thoroughly washed before cooking by soaking in salted water for 1 hour. This removes dirt, worms, spray, everything.

Dear Esther:
I had a tongue sandwich at a restaurant the other night. It was so good. Can you tell me how to cook a beef tongue?
Mary Boston, Newark, N.J.

Place tongue in enough water to cover. Add salt, pepper and a few slices of carrots, onions and celery. Cover and simmer 3 to 4 hours until tender. Skin and serve sliced, either hot or cold.

Dear Esther:
What is the best temperature to bake potatoes? Mine always turn out crusty.
Cornelia V. Odom, Philadelphia, Pa.

Scrub potatoes. Rub skins with Wesson Oil. Bake in oven at 400° for 45 minutes to 1 hour until tender. Pierce with fork to determine doneness.

John Gloster heads Opportunity Fund

The Office of Economic Opportunity and the Board of Governors of Opportunity Funding Corporation has announced the selection of John G. Gloster of Hyattsville, Maryland as the president of the recently-formed corporation; which is aimed at attracting private capital to low-income areas.

"John Gloster brings excellent qualifications to this important position," Dr. David B. Hertz of New York City, chairman of the board, said. Dr. Hertz said the board conducted a thorough search to find an individual with the right combination of talents to head up the corporation.

On June 30, Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity announced an initial grant of $7.4 million to begin the experimental economic development effort. The corporation will have its principal offices in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Gloster, 42, will leave his position as Director of Economic Development and Manpower for the National Urban Coalition, Washington, D.C., to assume his new role.

He is a former deputy director of Program Operations at the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Model Cities Program and a former Department of State Ethiopia desk officer and assistant Country Director for Northeast Africa.

From 1958 to 1962, he was business manager and assistant to the president of Morgan State College, Baltimore, Maryland. Prior to that he was manager of the main branch of the Citizens Trust Company of Atlanta, Georgia, a black-owned commercial bank.

He received a bachelor's degree from Amherst College; a master's degree from Columbia University and a master's degree in Business Administration from Harvard Business School. He served in the United States armed forces in the U.S. and Germany from 1951 to 1953.

He is married and has two children.

EXHIBIT

The work of eleven students in a class in the fundamentals of painting at Catonsville Community College has been selected for exhibit in the college Library, according to their instructor, W. C. Zwingelberg.

The paintings are on display in the lower level of the building on the college campus at 800 S. Rolling Road, and the public is invited to view the exhibit, at no charge, at any time during regular school hours. The Library is open from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sunday afternoons, as well.

Girls rate high with driving instructors

NEW YORK (UPI) — Increasingly the person behind the wheel is the teenager.

Safety officials estimate that 20 per cent of the nation's drivers are in the teen bracket. They predict that by 1975, over two million high school students will own cars.

All of which brings up the matter of safety and who is the better driver, the boy or the girl. One automotive concern set out to find the answer with questionnaires to 2,355 driving instructors in 600 high schools across the nation.

Fifty-two per cent gave the safety nod to the boys, 48 per cent to the girls, gags about dames behind the wheel.

The boys start out ahead of the girls because they become interested in cars at an earlier age, the instructors agreed.

Boys have more opportunity than girls to learn the fundamentals before they are enrolled in driver education courses. Many male students tend to be more mechanically minded than the girls.

But the study, conducted by the Chrysler Corporation, showed why the girls established high ratings. They take their lessons much more seriously than the boys, they seem eager to learn and they apply themselves more to learning skills.

Child group

The Druid Park West Child Study Group has given $700 to the Baltimore Association for Retarded Children. The donation will pay for transportation of one retarded child to and from a day care center for one year, Mrs. Cassandra R. Young, outgoing president of the group, presented the donation to the association.

Catholics give grants-in-aid

The Archdiocese of Baltimore through its Grant-in-Aid Program will again subsidize individual students who need help in paying their tuitions to one of the Archdiocesan High Schools (Archbishop Keough, Archbishop Curley, Cardinal Gibbons, Martin Spalding or John Carroll). Varying amounts of aid are given according to the degree of need.

Applications for aid can be obtained from the local parochial schools or from one of the five high schools referred to above. In the 1970-1971 Program the subsidies to the students have amounted to over $189,000.00.

The current application program (1971-1972) is limited to a $250,000.00 total. The applications, which are kept confidential, are processed by the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, New Jersey. The program is administered under an Archdiocesan Grant-in-Aid Board.

The Filing Period of Grant-in-Aid applications for students who wish to attend an Archdiocesan High School during the 1971-1972 school year extends from the present to Friday, December 4, 1970. Applications submitted after December 4, 1970 will be considered only if extreme, extenuating circumstances occur beyond the filing period.

Black studies in Arundel

The English and social studies departments in Anne Arundel County schools are continuing their study of the humanities in relation to black studies, which they began during an August workshop.

This time it was a day of in-service training for the more than 550 seventh through twelfth grade English and social studies teachers.

The meeting took place at Severna Park Senior High School on November 11. Walter Fisher, associate professor of history and librarian at Morgan State College, spoke in the general session on the topic "The Negro in the Making of America."

After lunch, Leroy E. Giles, chairman of the English division, Catonsville Community College, discussed "Black Literature: Major Themes and Writers."

"We believe that by holding these two general sessions and by keeping the disciplines of English and social studies more academically combined we can realize a more coordinated approach to humanities in black studies," Dr. William H. Shannon, supervisor of
