Russell talks to his mayor bid backers

Faced with an outstanding tribute to his expected bid for the mayoralty post of Baltimore City in a historic testimonial at the Civic Center Thursday evening, George L. Russell Jr., city solicitor, responded on a humble note without actually declaring his candidacy.

It was an affair that drew up to 2,000 Russell supporters within the area of 3,000 tickets sold at $50 per person.

Mr. Russell, in a prepared speech, spent most of it giving credit to his supporters who braved a rainy evening to show up to make the affair a success.

Without further ado in this respect, here is the text of Mr. Russell's statement to his supporters at the Civic Center event:

"This is all a bit overwhelming for a boy from Fremont Avenue. I hope I don't get confused, like the Texas jusge President Johnson told about on one of his visits to Baltimore.

"The judge was so flustered by his testimonial tribute that he stammered in reverse English, when the time came for him to acknowledge the applause, 'I know I don't appreciate it, but I surely deserve it!'

"I don't know if I deserve it, but I do sincerely appreciate it! Yours is the greatest compliment that can be paid to any man — a vote of confidence in his ability through a call to service.

"I am humbly grateful for your magnificent tribute.

me, but I've come to give you the credit you have earned. I don't want this happy occasion to degenerate into a mutual admiration society, but it is really you who should be honored.

"I say that sincerely.

"You — the men and women who spend the time, trouble and money to initiate this kind of event; who try to help the city to solve its problems and to raise the quality of politics in the community;

"Who strive long and hard without reward, even without any basis for expecting a return on your efforts; who do not wait for things to happen, but try to make them happen . . .

"I can't begin to name all of you who have contributed to the success of this occasion, but you are the citizens whose toil, sweat and tears make our democracy work!

"You are the unselfish and unsung heroes of a free political system who keep it alive and healthy.

Instead of being thanked are too often criticized for doing what some fine folks, in ivory towers are too lazy or aloof to do — so they content themselves with impugning your motives.

"It's time someone gave you the testimonial you deserve, because you know darn well that praise is about all you can expect to get from any hard-pressed City Administration these days.

"On the other hand I know that you are trying to get me a nice soft job. I hear it pays a big salary with very little work, no headaches, a bright future and lots of coffee breaks.

"And all you have to do, they tell me, is put your feet on the desk and wait for the opening of the baseball season next Spring, so you can throw out the first ball.

"Your testimonial is not only appreciated. It is also reciprocated, I know you mean it, my friends — and so do I- Thank You."

30-year Parks employee feted at Hit and Run Room

The Dept. of Recreation and Parks said "farewell" to one of its most likeable and longtime employees, Hannibal Whitaker Jones, in special retirement ceremonies recently.

The ceremonies were held in the Hit and Run Room at Memorial Stadium. Dignitaries present were: Douglas S. Tawney, director of Parks; Charles A. Young, superintendent of Parks; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Blank, president, NAC Charge Plan; the Rev. J. C. Griffin, pastor, Church of God and Christ, which Mr. Hannibal attends and 60 persons from the Dept. of Recreation and Parks' staff.

Mr. Jones retired as custodian in charge of the administration building and surrounding grounds after 30 years, seven months, and eight days on the job without absence, "I never lost a day's work." Mr. Jones states proudly.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro sent his personal greetings to Mr. Jones of whom he said these words:

"Your service to Baltimore will be missed by your co-workers who join with the citizens in wishing you a long and happy retirement. I thank you for your splendid service."

As a retirement gift, Mr. Jones' co-workers presented him with a check and a new guitar. The guitar is one of his hobbies.

Still a spry young man at 70, Mr. Jones plans to "keep active" He plans to continue working part time for a local credit firm.

Married 40 years ago, Hannibal Jones and his wife, Ada, lived at 4108 Springdale Ave. They attend the Mt. Hebron Church of God in Christ where Mr. Jones has been a deacon since 1931.

A FAMILIAR SIGHT, Hannibal W. Jones, retired recently after 30 years with the Dept. of Recreation and Parks. He stands at the entrance to Baltimore's famed Druid Hill Park where he spent many of his working days.

Sea captain strikes it rich at sea and at home

By CAROLYN K. ERWIN

"I've been a commissioned officer for 18 years. Now I can retire and live like a human being.

"I'm going back home, get me a little garden farm, get up when I want, dress without a tie . . ."

A far-away gleam in his deeply set dark eyes and a look of satisfaction on his olive brown face, 45-year-old Pakistani ship's captain, Nasiruddin Ahmad, sat on board his ship docked at Pier 8 in Baltimore harbor and dreamed of what his life would be like as a millionaire.

Everyone at some point in life dreams of becoming a millionaire but few have been fortunate enough to have this dream come true. Yet, today, Nasiruddin Ahmad, finds himself owner of a salvage claim estimated to be worth millions."

His good fortune, however, comes not because he "dreamed" but because he dared to be courageous.

The Captain's tale is almost like an episode out of a Herman Melville story complete with all the excitment, danger, and suspense of the sea adventures for which Melville is well known.

On October 30, Capt. Ahmad and a crew of 55 men were aboard their ship, the cargo freighter, Warsak, en route from Lourenco Marques, Mozambique to Baltimore when they received a radio message that a sister cargo ship, the Jenny Marine, was afire off the coast of Africa and that her crew had abandoned ship.

"We immediately plotted the position of the ship," the Captain recalled, "and discovered that it was only 30 miles off our course. I decided that it was worthwhile to have a try so we proceeded to intercept her."

Coming upon the ship, Capt. Ahmad stated that he found her ablaze and leaning heavily to one side. He circled the burning vessel for two hours before deciding to attempt the salvage.

"I had to think of the safety of my men and my ship, first."

Once the salvage operation was begun, it became a "challenge" and the fulfillment of a "captain's dream," the veteran seaman noted.

After three days and eleven hours of battling fire, rough seas and a tow line that broke loose repeatedly from the crippled Jenny Marine, the Warsak's crew were finally able to extinguish the blaze and claim salvage rights.

By this time, a tug boat contracted by the owners of the Jenny Marine had arrived on the scene to tow the ship to port. The major portion of the salvage had been performed by the Warsak, however. So with knowledge that their claim was undisputable, Capt. Ahmad headed his ship for Baltimore.

It will take some time for the legal processes to be completed but once they are complete, Capt. Ahmad is expected to received several million on his claim.

The money will come from the insurance claims on the Jenny Marine and her valuable cargo that included sugar, ammunition, automobiles, and petroleum products.

How is Capt. Ahmad taking his potential new wealth?

As far as the money is concerned, he seems totally unaffected by it. When he entertains friends, as he did while in port recently, he talks more of the salvage itself rather than what he'll eventually get out of it. It's a tremendous source of pride for him.

Nasiruddin Ahmad, whose name means "helper of the religion of Ahmad," is still very much a genteel person. When entertaining he likes to tell "American" jokes and play practical but harmless pranks on his friends.

Another great source of pride for him is his new bride, Amna Perween Ahmad, a 25-year-old Asian beauty from his native Karachi.

Married since August 29, Ahmad brought her along on the voyage despite a sailor's superstition that women are bad luck. Ahmad's good fortune is enough to disprove that theory.

The Ahmads expect their first baby in July. Deciding on a name, Mrs. Ahmad said with a smile, is the least of their worries:

"Whatever we have, boy or girl, we'll name it Jenny."

MILLIONAIRE - CAPTAIN looks forward to retiring to enjoy the simple pleasures of life. Pakistani ship's captain, Nasiruddin Ahmad, who recently completed a successful salvage of a ship's cargo reportedly worth "millions", stands on the deck of his vessel, The Warsaz, docked in Baltimore harbor.

Veteran track star, youth organizer, John Lewis buried

DETROIT — Funeral services for John Lewis, legendary athlete and for 41 years a dedicated youth leader, were held at Scott Methodist Church.

Lewis, hailed as one of the greatest athletes in the history of, what is now, Wayne State University, died at the Imperial Convalescent Center after a lengthy illness.

Lewis is remembered in athletic circles for his outstanding track performances which earned him innumerable championship awards.

The high points of his athletic career came in 1927, when he, along with Eugene Beatty, won championships in the national interscholastic track meet at Northwestern University.

In the same year he earned a berth on the U.S. Olympic 1600 meter relay team.

"For two consecutive years he won both the 440 yard dash and the 440 yard hurdles championship at the Penn Relays.

At the close of his track career, Lewis received a job as a play leader with the Detroit department of recreation.

Intensely interested in the youth of the community, Lewis tackled his new occupation with the same zeal that characterized his track career and made the long climb to supervisor in 1954.

"Mr. Lewis' illness and death has deprived the department of a dedicated leader in community recreation who had a great rapport with the young," said John M. May, genral superintendent of Detroit Parks and Recreation.

M. May, general superintendent of Detroit Parks and Recreation.

Lewis was past president of the Mackenzie Honor Society of Wayne state University, a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, Boys' Work Council of Metropolitan Detroit and of the United Memorial Methodist Church.

He is survived by an adopted son, Mrs. Eva Childress of Nashville, an uncle, Albert McClellan, Coatsville, Tenn., and several cousins.

Torment Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved
Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief from Such Burning Itch and Pain in Many Cases.
The burning itch and pain caused by infection and inflammation in hemorrhoidal tissues can cause much suffering. But there is an exclusive formulation that in many cases gives prompt relief for hours from this itch and pain so that the sufferer is more comfortable again. It also actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation and infection.
Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients in New York City, Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center reported similar successful results in many cases. This is the same medication you can buy at any drug counter under the name Preparation H®.
Preparation H also lubricates and protects the inflamed surface area and it doesn't sting or smart. In fact, it has very soothing qualities which make it especially helpful during the night when itching becomes more intense.
There's no other formula like Preparation H. In ointment or suppository form.

claimed that the statement came while he was "trying to calm things down and get to the root of what had happened."

He went on to claim that his reason for arresting Mrs. Jones was based on the fact that a "crowd had gathered around the scene and I feared that the way she was carrying on" something might happen.

Witnesses for Mrs. Jones deny the patrolman's statement and flatly stated that "when the police arrived they never once questioned Mr. Patryn to find out what he had done.

"They immediately approached Mrs. Jones after asking generally what happened of the crowd. Officer Price yelled at her and shoved her into his car."

During the previous proceedings Mrs. Patryn had been convicted of assaulting Mrs. Jones and fined a total of $750.

This week's Appeal's Court decision relieved Mrs. Jones of having to pay the $50 fine' levied against her by the Dundalk court in February.

Mrs. Jones' children, William L., 20 and Syria J. 18, are both students at Howard University, and she herself, a cook for the Baltimore County Board of Education, is a member of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church. She was defended by attorney Larry Gibson.

ter run primarily by adolescents seeking what counsel they desire from others may prove unusually beneficial. Substantial grant money should be allocated to the Drug Abuse Authority so that it may fund a project of this kind and offer other experimental projects which may receive its approval.

6) Residential Therapeutic Centers. Under the supervision of Johns Hopkins Hospital, the Drug Abuse Authority and federal government. Project Exit is being started in East Baltimore for adult addicts. This will be an experiment in a therapeutic community run by addicts.

7) Drug Abuse Authority Request for 110 Bed Services. The Drug Abuse Authority in its proposed budget is seeking 1.2 million dollars for 50 beds for the admission, evaluation and detoxification of drug abusers of all ages and 60 beds for the treatment of those civilly committed of all ages. Although such beds are for the entire population and for the use of the entire state, the budgetary request is fully supported, recognizing though that here too the real need is far greater.

8) Group Homes. The Department of Juvenile Services is requesting in its proposed budget funds for the establishment of a network of group homes both as an alternative to training school commitment and as a halfway facility upon release from a training school.

9) Screening Center. Every youth who is a drug addict or user and is being considered for possible treatment should be initially screened and processed through an arrangement sponsored and supervised by the Drug Abuse Authority.

10) Confidentiality. There is a clear need to extend the guarantee of confidentiality to those working with young drug abusers and not limit this privilege to only the counselors of the Drug Abuse Authority. It should extend to all who may come into regular contact with adolescent users, such as school counselors, agency workers and certain others.

11) Research and Study. More funding is necessary and required for the purpose of research and study.

12) Drug Abuse Authority as a Coordinating Agency. The Drug Abuse Authority should coordinate all services and efforts in the community for the adolescent drug addict or user.

The members of the committee include:

The Reverend James Hodges, Administrative Director, Provident Hospital, Project Add-a-man.

Mr. Earl Maultsby, Administrative Assistant, Prisoner's Aid Association.

Mr. Robert C. Hilson, Director, Department of Juvenile Services.

Mr. George Taliaferro, Dean of Students, Morgan State College.

school's dean of students, George Taliaferro, told the AFRO:

"The premature exhibition of concern by a small group of students concerning the poor food service and unclean conditions that, in fact, do exist at the Morgan State College Refectory created a hardship situation for the majority of the on-campus boarding students.

"It came at a time when the administration was actively seeking solutions jointly with student leadership.

"Unfortunately," the former football star turned administrator, said, "a cleanup campaign must precede the actual implementation of plans conceived to eradicate the unhealthy conditions at the refactory.

He concluded, "There is unity of purpose and work is in process at this time."

Tuesday night, Edward Smith and Gerald Lymas, heads of the Student Government Association, could not be reached for comment.

Mrs. Rosa Hampton funeral on Tuesday

Mrs. Rosa Nixon Hampton, 80, died this morning (Friday) at Hopkins Hospital.

"She had not been ill, in fact she had been out and busy all week up until Thursday when she suffered a stroke and we rushed her to the hospital."

Her nephew, Samuel N. Phillips, city school principal, with whom she made her home on Bentalou St., was telling the AFRO how she died.

The Charles Law Funeral Home is making arrangements for the funeral scheduled for Tuesday morning at St. James Episcopal Church where she was a longtime member of St. Cecelia's Guild.

Born in Montgomery, Ala., Mrs. Hampton was one of 5 children of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nixon. After finishing high school in Montgomery she moved to New York where she earned both her bachelor and master degrees at Columbia University.

For 30 years, up until her retirement in 1951, Mrs. Hampton was with the Art Department of the Washington Public Schools. She was Director of the Department of Art in Divisions 10 13 for 27 years.

Mrs. Hampton was the widow of John Hampton, the attorney and one-time postal employee. For over 20 years they lived at 122 W. Lafayette Ave. He died in December, 1961.

In addition to her church work Mrs. Hampton was a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, the VAGS, the Fortnightly Club and a pioneer member of the Philomathians, the city's oldest study club.

In addition to the nephew with whom she made her home, Mrs. Hampton is survived by two other nephew, William Phillips of Baltimore and Renee Alvarado of N.Y.; three nieces, Mrs. Joyce Davis, Chicago, Mrs. Myrtle Lassiter and Miss Laura Nixon, both of Succasunna, N.J.

Also two brothers, Dr. Alfred Nixon, head of the biology department at Alabama State College in Montgomery, and William Nixon, retired superintendent of the Boys' School in Kansas City.

Her late sisters were Mrs. Eugenia Phillips, Baltimore, and Mrs. Winifred Brown, Chicago.
