Many study sewing, get jobs at Adult School

Want to learn to sew in order to earn more money and perhaps get a better job?

Many have done so by studying sewing in the Baltimore Schools' Adult education program.

The course, an on going one, is being offered for eight week periods at the Calvert Educational Center, North Avenue and Calvert St.

Classes are held each day, Monday to Friday, from 8 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

The classroom is equipped with 40 single-needle, industrial sewing machines. Four teachers with many years of experience in the sewing industry give individualized instruction. The pace of progress is determined by the student's own capacity to master each phase of the training program.

Along with the development of sewing skills, the teachers work with the students in developing work habits and attitudes that will bring success on the job.

* * *

Since the course began operation in May, 1968 over 200 students have successfully completed the course; and after securing the certificate of graduation, they have gone on to employment in the industry.

To date, the placement record is 100 percent of those who have completed the eight weeks of training.

Because of Baltimore's position in the world of clothing manufacture, there is a recurring demand for industrial sewing skills. A placement coordinator at the Calvert Educational Center works with each graduate in finding a suitable and satisfactory job.

There is no charge for tuition or placement for residents of Baltimore City or for non-residents. A new class starts each Monday morning. Applicants may register any weekday from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the registration office, Room 408, Calvert Educational Center, Calvert and North Avenue. Additional information may be secured by calling HO. 7-4030, Ext. 2974.

Phi Beta Sigma sets convention

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — To plan and put into execution programs in business, education and social actions that are beneficial for Blacks will be the objectives of 1,500 delegates who are expected to attend the 56th Anniversary conclave of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Incorporated.

The convention, which will be held in the Robert E. Lee Hotel, here, from Saturday, December 26th, through Wednesday, December 30, 1970, will be hosted by Delta Alpha and Delta Sigma Chapters of the national fraternity, located in the North Carolina area.

S. L. Hamlin of Winston-Salem is conclave director of the four-day meetings. Other Winston-Salem members of Sigma who head Committees charged with assisting in the preparations for the deliberations that will be conducted through general meetings and workshops are F. King Thomas, co-Director; C. J. Washington, Registration Chairman; J. D. Ashley, Souvenir Program Chairman; H. E. Staplefeet, Publicity Chairman and George W. Allen, President.

In announcing the general format of the convention, Dr. Alvin J. McNeil, National President of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Incorporated, characterized the convention's goals as relevant to today's happenings as Blacks press for educational, business, political and social goals which will account for changes during the seventies as Blacks seek to participate to their fullest capabilities in the American mainstreams of endeavors.

Dr. McNeil also said that William E. Doar Jr. of New York, National Executive Secretary of Phi Beta Sigma, had been named General Conclave Chairman and Clarence L. Townes, National Treasurer, of Richmond, Virginia, will serve as Treasurer of the Conclave.

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity is one of the eight nationally membered Greek letter fraternities and sororities among black college trained men and women.

The organization was founded on the campus of Howard University in 1914; has a membership of 40,000 college trained men and stress national programs in Education, Business, Social and Political Actions through 200 graduate and undergraduate chapters located on college campuses, Rural and Urban communities in the United States, the Virgin Islands and the continent of Africa.

National Programs of Sigma are "Bigger and Better Business" of which Mr. H. A. Howard of Los Angeles is National Director; Education of which Dr. J. Neil Armstrong of North Carolina A and T University of Greensboro is National Director; and Political Action of which Daniel W. Hendrix of West Palm Beach, Florida, is National Director.

Other Program chairmen and national officers are:

William C. Scott, Savannah State College, Savannah, Georgia, Editor of the Crescent; James T. Horton, Silver Springs, Maryland, National Legal Council; C. Melvin Patrick, New York City, National Director of Publicity; Charles Wright, Baltimore, Maryland, Assistant Director of Undergraduate Affairs.

CHRISTMAS is for children. The AFRO's Mrs. Santa has hundreds of children in need of food, clothes and toys this Christmas. Call Mrs. Santa and she will give you the name of a needy family, or you may send Mrs. Santa a contribution (cash only — no food or toys), and she will use your contribution to help the neediest ones on her list.

Dear Nancy

(Forget the rumors. Get The Facts. Write "Nancy," c/o P.O. Box 415, Hollywood, Calif., 90028. No personal replies.)

Q. The movie (and stage play) of "Boys In The Band" had a Black actor in it. But does the upcoming film from Paramount, "Myra Breckinridge," have a Black actor in it? — Charles Gershman, Toledo, Ohio.

A. Yes. He's Vance Davis, a popular actor in Toronto, Canada, who recently appeared in "The Hostages" on Broadway and in "Hair" on the road. He goes in "Change of Mind."

Q. I heard that Shirley Washington, who was very popular in Hollywood a few years ago, and who was 1969's Miss Black America, moved out of Hollywood, is she doing any motion picture work there? — Marvin James, Pontiac, Mich.

A. Yes, she is in Detroit, has appeared in one TV show, and is trying to get back into the movies. Hollywood jobs are getting more scarce. But she is not alone, for Hollywood is loaded with title winners trying to make it before the camera lens.

Q. I hear that Jerry Lewis is gone from the hospital. But what is that "Joe Louis Kiss of Death" thing I keep hearing? And was his Denver hospitalization his first for a mental disorder? — Clarence Franks, St. Louis.

A. It's merely a joke, that whenever Joe Louis picks a fighter to win a bout the man is sure to lose. Joe's May, 1970, in-patient treatment for an emotional disorder was his first in several months prior to that time. Dr. Robert Berman, one of the nation's top psychiatrists, checked him over in Detroit, and reportedly declared that Joe needed psychiatrical attention. Joe currently receives out-patient medical attention.
