Rinkeydinks fete Satchmo, Aretha Franklin joins party

NEW YORK — The annual Rinkeydinks, Inc. Ball held at the plush Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, was enhanced by a gala birthday party for world-famed bandleader Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, and the appearance of Aretha (Miss Soul) Franklin, who joined Satch in a real session.

More than 1800 musicians, song writers, top arrangers entertainers and guests packed the elegant Victorian-styled Waldorf ballroom.

Mrs. Catherine Basie, chairman, Chickie Evans, president of the New York Club and members of the popular club were highly complimented for the coordinated effort.

• • •

Balcony, orchestra boxes and main floor tables were decorated in pale green edged in gold. Soft glowing candles were centered on each table and horn-of-plenty baskets filled with fruits reflected the holiday spirit.

With the evening's affair focused on Louis, the great, a huge screen carried excerpts of Armstrong in many of his movie roles.

At the honoree's table, aside from his wife, Lucille, were approximately 30 friends, most of whom have been close to the couple for 25 or more years.

Among them were: Sidney Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Josephson, Mrs. Esmena Stevens, Leo King, Chauncey Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor;

Also Mesdames Helen Owens and Penny Pennet, Dave Feurtado, Mrs. Gloria B. Overton, Lamar Stubbs, Billy Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jones, Mr. and Mrs. George Lopez, Mrs. Victoria Thomas, Mrs. Dorothea Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. William Hubbert and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bombolow.

While dancing was to the music of the Ross Carnegie Orchestra, the evening's entertainment began when Comedian Irwin Watson, introduced Satchmo on the Waldorf Stage.

• • •

It was shortly after that Aretha entered and the assembled guests were treated to a songfest with two of the greatest artists of all time.

Among those introduced during the evening were Edith Taylor and Mona Hinton, past president and treasurer, respectively. Also O. B. and Mrs. Masingill and Jack Walker.

Jerseyans included milliner Sadie Veney, designer Janet Beadle, noted entertainer and producer Reese LaRue, Mary Avery, recent appointee as state regional NAACP membership chairman, Cherri Walden and Rose Robinson, all of Newark.

From Chicago, Ill. a group of Rinkeydinks were presented and pledged their support to strengthen the organization's charity and civic programs.

NEW YORK

The unexpected and sudden death of 37-year-old HAL ATKINS was quite a shock to his family, many friends and listeners of WWRL radio. I learned of Mr. Atkins' death on the night of his funeral.

At the time of this writing, the cause of his death is not quite clear. Mr. Atkins was also a board member of The National Association of Television and Radio Artists (NATRA).

CLAUDE STERRICK, we just heard, was killed recently in an automobile accident. Claude was national sales and promotion manager for Ro-jac Records and an associate member of NATRA.

TV'S BEWITCHED and 22 BLACK STUDENTS

The Christmas Eve segment of "Bewitched" will have 22 writers' credits, all of them black students of Los Angeles' Jefferson High School.

The unique chain of events leading up to the mass scripting began about a year ago, when producer William Asher and star ELIZABETH MONTGOMERY invited a class at the school to visit the series' set.

In appreciation, they wrote a script for the show with the help of their teacher, MARCELLA SAUNDERS, when they returned to their classroom — and gave it to the Ashers last Christmas as a gift.

When production of their teleplay, "Sisters at Heart," started Nov. 10, the 22 students attended production and rehearsal meetings on their script.

They will follow the filming and post production phases of the segment as part of a special mass media program at their high school, supported by a special grant from the state of California and donations from the Ashers and Screen Gems, which produces the ABC-TV series.

The students have agreed to donate their money as script-writers to a foundation which will help continue the special school program.

DETROIT

SLY AND FAMILY STONES — In Detroit, everyone but promoter Gabe Glanz and more than 11,000 fans, thought it was funny that nobody had faith in Sylvester Stewart (Sly) and cancelled the show in Cobo Arena when SLY AND THE FAMILY STONES failed to get off their scheduled flight at Metro Airport.

In a news conference the following morning, Bob Bageris, one of the show's promoters, explained that the group, who had not showed up in Detroit for a February concert, had come by automobile without informing anypne of the change of transport plans.

The Family arrived at Cobo in time to go on at 9:30 only to find the lights out and the guests gone.

Concert was rescheduled.

Sly and Family moved on to a sellout in New York City.

BULLETS — SKYJACK AND POT — Bullets in their baggage led to the arrest last week of three members of the Quicksilver Messenger Service rock group at San Francisco International Airport.

David Freiberg, George Bonney and Jose G. Reyes were later released on $1,250 bail.

Trouble for the trio started when a skyjack metal detector flashed a warning as they passed through a gate headed for a Hawaii-bound airliner.

A U.S. marshal said the device was reacting to a handbag that Bonney carried.

When they searched the satchel, they found 50 rifle bullets and another eight .38 calibre bullets in Bonney's pockets.

As the search proceeded, according to police, Bonney allegedly fled and sprinkled contents of a plastic bag as he ran.

Caught quickly, Bonney supposedly told police there was a pistol and a rifle in his baggage aboard the plane. A search revealed no weapon but did turn up traces of marijuana, police claimed.

BALTIMORE

MRS. LIBBY RICHARDSON was crowned "Miss Esquire" recently at the Esquire Lounge. Mrs. Richardson, who classifies herself as an amateur, won over 11 other lovelies.

She has the unusual sharp features of an African Goddess. . .without the bush; her smile is like sunshine after rain; she emulates a concealed strength of all woman in every sense. Congratulations, Goddess. . .

"THE ELECTRIC BANANA," a group of young ladies dedicated to helping the community wherever they are needed, met with Mrs. Santa Claus, of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers, to work out a course of action that would be beneficial to the less fortunate.

MACEO and ALL THE KINGS MEN turned Baltimore on to soul origin at the Scene Night Club a short while ago. No co-stars, just their own musical and singing aggregation.

Musicians paid nitely and returned trying to learn, steal or just marvel. It didn't matter! Maceo and the boys just poured and kept on pouring it on Baltimore.

I imagine the sounds are still ringing in the ears of many who came back night after night to hear the former band that helped send James Brown to the top. Now they are on their own and doing "their own thing."

Their latest single is "Got To Getcha," and their first album is now available, "Maceo And All The Kings Men, Doing Their Own Thing." It's a gas!

YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO

The Youngstown Black Broadcasting Coalition was commended in a resolution adopted by the city Human Relations Commission for its efforts toward making equality and fairness an integral part of the broadcasting code.

Mrs. Margaret Linton, a member of the commission and BBC activist, and James Mosely, BBC president, said two local stations, WBBW and WKBN-AM-TV, have failed to meet the demand put forward by the BBC in three areas — equal opportunity, fair practices and service to minority groups.

They were criticized as inconsistent in practicing the code pledged when they applied for licensing.

Both stations are still on the air without licenses, pending hearings by the FCC.

Three other stations, WFMJ-AM-TV, WHOT radio and WYTV, were commended for their interest in equality and minority groups.

WASHINGTON — The Health, Education and Welfare Department said last week six of every 100 Americans were on welfare as of last June, compared to four of every 100 a decade ago.

The Department said the trend plus recent sharp gains in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program "make even more imperative President Nixon's welfare reform proposals."

Needy helped by club in Columbia

COLUMBIA, S.C. — Through the generosity of local businesses and the work of its members, the Save Our Community Club was able to distribute 100 baskets of Thanksgiving food this year.

That was more than a six-fold increase over the 15 baskets delivered three years ago.

"We've been able to help burned-out families, purchase clothes so children could go to school and help with doctor and dentist bills, among other things," said President E. B. Harris.

The group has also procured traffic lights at several intersections, contributed to the Wilkinson Home for Girls in Cayce and bought floor covering for the Camp Furnace OEO center in Cola.

Other club members are, W. F. Mayo, vice president and David Williams, Cecil Adderly, Lewis Summers, Alphonso Cain, Thernell Scott, William Herrin, Theodore Reid.

Old Taylor. It's worth saving up for.
Old Taylor costs more. For some very good reasons. To begin with, Old Taylor was created by Col. Edmund H. Taylor, Jr., foremost Bourbon distiller of the late 1800's. Old Taylor is made in a castle near the delicious limestone spring the Colonel discovered in 1887. We still use the same costly grains, tend our mash as lovingly—still do everything exactly as the Colonel did. That's why Old Taylor is the best-selling, premium-priced Bourbon in America. Why it's worth saving up for.
