Sigmas plan exhibit for convention

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — An exhibit assembled during a recent teaching assignment on the African continent, which depicts through pictures, books, produces life in Kenya and Ethiopia, will be on view during the 56th Anniversary Conclave of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, here. The conclave will be hosted by Delta Sigma and Delta Alpha Chapters, in the Robert E. Lee Hotel, December 28 through 30, S. J. Hamlih, of Winston, is convention director.

The exhibit, known as "The Jambo Pictorial Exhibit," was produced by James A. Clarke, national director of exhibits, and world traveler, teacher and lecturer, during his recently concluded teaching sabbatical in Ethiopia and Kenya.

Mr. Clarke said the exhibit shows Kenya and Ethiopia as they are today. His narrations and commentary of the materials on view covers life sketches of the peoples of the two African nations, highlighting how problems were overcome as they moved from tribalism towards building a new nationalism in modern day African Unity.

James A. Clarke, a former school teacher in Virginia, has exhibited his "Jambo Pictorial" at Hampton Institute and his material was the subject of a television documentary aired over WTAR-TV in the Richmond area.

Phi Beta Sigma lists among its members on the African continent the Honorable William A. S. Tubman, president of the Republic of Liberia; Willie Tolbert, vice president to Mr Tubman; Lincoln University alumnus Dr. Kwami Nkrumah, former president of the Republic of Ghana; Dr. Nnamidi Azikiwe, former president of the Republic of Nigeria; and the internationally known musician and recording artist, Michael Olantunji.
