Gen. Davis among delegates to Africa

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — The United States has sent a delegation to Africa to attend ceremonies connected with the independence of Cameroon and the inauguration of President William V. S. Tubman of Liberia.

President Eisenhower Thursday announced the appointment of the delegations, both of which are headed by United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as the personal representative of the President.

• • •

THE DELEGATION to attend the ceremonies incident to the independence of Cameroon, which are to be held at Yaounde and Douala Thursday through Sunday, consists of:

Robert P. Burroughs of Manchester, N.H.; Maj. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., Chief of Staff of the 12th Air Force; Staff of the 12th Air Force; Joseph C. Satterthwaite, assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs; and Mason Sears, U.S. representative on the UN Trusteeship Council.

The same delegation was designed to attend the inauguration of President Tubman in Monrovia, Sunday through Thursday, except that Elbert G. Mathews, United States Ambassador to Liberia, will replace Mr. Sears.

THE STATE Department also announced the names of five others who will attend both ceremonies.

They are A. Burks Summers, president of General Credit, Inc.; William O. Walker, publisher of The Cleveland Call and Post and president of NNPA; Val Washington, director of Minorities, Republican National Committee.

And Rep. Charles C. Diggs, (Dem., Mich.), and Steven B. Daroughian, New York, Republican.

Naval clerk, 30, eulogized Mon.

WASHINGTON

Funeral services were held Monday for Miss Elsie A. Lyons, 30-year-old Naval clerk who died Dec. 24 of a kidney ailment.

Rites were at McGuire's Funeral Home, 1820 Ninth St., NW.

Miss Lyons who resided with her parents at 4008 Marlboro Pl., NW, had been ill for the last three years, according to the family. At the time of her death, she was confined at George Washington Hospital.

A NATIVE of the District, Miss Lyons was graduated from Cardozo High School and later studied at St. Paul's Institute of Nursing where she was trained as a practical nurse.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Elsie Lyons, and father, Percy W., of the Marlboro Pl. address, and a brother, William H., of 5117 Third St., NW. Burial was at Lincoln Memorial.

APOLIS DINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

Writer spending holidays in Indianapolis; Frontiers Club stages its tenth annual Christmas party at Carver Hall; Mrs. Mattie Wilson reported critically ill.

Here I am out in Indianapolis spending the holidays with my family and friends.

The night before my departure from Annapolis the Frontiers held their tenth annual Christmas party in the Severn Room of the famous hotel, Carvel Hall, when Frontiersmen their wives and others of Prince Georges County Chapters were the special guests.

This year, a dinner dance, the format of entertainment was a most delightful one and there seemed nothing left undone to make the evening a gay and pleasant one. Wives of the jolly good fellows were arrayed in their Christmas finery and helped to stimulate the attractiveness of the room.

The table decorations were beautiful natural greens, holly and magnolia leaves, which had been sprayed here and there with gold, and the lovely place cards were original with sprigs of holly leaves and berries and hemlock attached to one side.

At the front of the room stood the center of attraction, the pretty traditional Christmas tree, always a symbol of joy and happiness.

Cocktails flowed the entire evening, and after dinner the unique program before dancing included such games as the Number Bug, Hostess Trot, Auxiliary Tag and the Frontiersmans Stroll was featured during the dance program. The games were supervised by Mrs. Norwood Brown. Miss Catherine Parker of Baltimore, sister of Frontiersman Rostoe Parker, alderman of Annapolis, assisted with the dance entertainment.

GREETINGS AT dinner were offered by William W. Hall, supervisor of schools in Prince Georges County and president of the Prince Georges Chapter, Dr. J. Alexander Wiseman, general chairman for the party, Mrs. J. Alexander Wiseman, acting chairman for the local auxiliary group, and Edward Bullock, newly - elected president of the local chapter. Henry Holland, who served as president of the local chapter the past year, was master of ceremonies.

The Annapolis chapter graciously presented a gift of appreciation in monetary calibre to Mrs. Florence McPherson who has served the club well over a period of years in handling many of its parties and all of its dinner arrangements.

Mrs. Francis Noel of the local auxiliary group presented a gift, a combination scrapbook and file case, to the Annapolis Chapter.

Among those seated at the head table were the Wiseman, the Halls, the Hollands, Mr. Bullock and the newly - elected president of the Prince Georges Chapters, William S. Gray.

Out - of - town guests who attended the party were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Dorsey Scofield, Romey Wo. Keys, Thomas Varborough, Clement Martin, Benjamin M. Young, William A. McGee, C. K. Dorsey, Robert T. Frisby, Julian P. King and Mrs. Barbara M. Breedlove, all of Washington; Also Messrs. and Mesdames Robert R. Gray, Fairmount Heights; John M. Ellis, Upper Marlboro; P. Nelson Lee, Brandywine; Charles Pinkney, Upper Marlboro; Doswell E. Brooks, Seat Pleasant; William W. Hall, Mitchellville; E. C. Woolfolk, Upper Marlboro.

Also Dr. and Mrs. William E. Henry, Maryland State Teachers College, Bowie; Messrs. and Mesdames Charles E. Hicks III, Frederick; George M. Crawford, Glen Burnie and James Brown, Baltimore; and Miss Catherine Parker, Baltimore.

New officers of the Annapolis club are J. Edward Bullock, president; Carroll H. Hynson, vice - president; Everett Pettigrew, recording secretary; Norman Williams, financial secretary, and Walter S. Mills, sergeant - at - arms.

My column would be incomplete this week without the mention of Mrs. Mattie Wilson of Indianapolis. Many of you who live in Baltimore, especially, will remember Mrs. Wilson as the mother of the late Dr. Marion E. Wilson, who practiced medicine in Baltimore for a number of years.

Mrs. Wilson is seriously ill at her home, 741 W. North St., Indianapolis, Ind. Affectionately called "Aunt Mattie," Mrs. Wilson spent quite some time in Baltimore during her son's lifetime, and made many friends there. Be sure and shower her with cards and gifts for it will make her very happy.
