Happy New Year Neighbors. Here's hoping all my loyal readers had heapings of fun and happiness during the holidays.

Among those having a grand time were members of the Pastor's Aid of Waters AME Church.

The group gathered at the home of Mrs. Margie Wilson. Later the same evening they were entertained at "Open House," at the home of their president, Mrs. Imogene Byrd Douglas.

Carol singing was led by Mrs. Arnita E. Woodlon after which gifts were exchanged and also presentations were made to the pastor and his wife, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nash and the officers of the pastor' Aid.

Guests included: Mesdames Beatrice Donnelly, Cassie E. Gee, Zadge Williams, Geneva Bush, Estella Stepney, Margaret E. Johnson, Evelyn Myles, Edna Johnson, Mattie Davis, Camilla Madison and Louise Beasley.

Members present were: Mesdames Nellie Aquilla, Margaret Bouldin, Delaphine Dorsey, Imogene B. Douglas, Rose Givens, Sartoris Jackson, Blanche Lemon, Bettye Marine, Margie Nelson, Beulah Ralph, Hilda Rochester, Clara Scott, Rose Simpson, Lillian Stanford, Thelma Taylor, Corrine Vanlandingham, Mesdames Arnita Woodlon, Irene Woodson, Sarah E. Swann, Lillie Hudgins, Lucille Sullivan, Myrtle Smith, and Bertha Woolford.

Mrs. Delephine Dorsey was chairman for the Christmas activities of the group.

DURING THE holiday, 150 children attended the sixth annual children's Christmas party which was held at the Government Masons Local No. 43 Hall, Barclay and 21st sts.

This gala affair was sponsored by the North East Neighborhood Guild, civic and charity organization.

Mrs. Emma Rice, president, welcomed the children and the master-of-ceremonies Horace Stokes gave the response.

Teen ager Theresa Maheia explained the meaning of Christmas.

Donations were received from the Clement Masons Local, and a grocery store of the 300 block 21st St.

Each child departed with a bag containing fruit, cookies and candies.

The lovely party was directed by Mesdames Anna Warren and Lisa Brown.

Hostesses were: Mesdames Assolita Kellum, Delores Epps, Mary Taylor, Cora Smith, Thelma Graham, Christine Coston, Phoebe Taylor, Ruth Jackson, Beulah Barron, Irene Coleman, Maude Stokes, Alice Cook and Edna Powell.

• • •

OVER 100 patients at Clovens ville State Hospital received a neatly wrapped cellophane bag containing a sweet smelling bar of soap from the North East Neighborhood Guild.

The gifts were delivered by Mrs. Elizabeth Tinsley, a member.

Come Sunday evening, Jan. 10, the Guild will visit the Nurses Home to present a twilight service and give treats to the inmates.

Mrs. Christine Coston is chairman and Mrs. Assolita Kellum is the co-chairman. At the piano will be Mrs. Elizabeth Tinsley.

Officers of the North East Neighborhood Guild are: Mrs. Emma Rice, president; Mrs. Christine Coston, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy McCutheron recording secretary; Mrs. Cora Smith, financial secretary; Mrs. Lisa Bowen, treasurer, and Mrs. Alice Cook, chaplain.

It is good to see that the Milton Avenue Methodist Church, after six months in the Washington Conference, carries its original plan of service to the community of East Baltimore.

In connection with the recreation center, Mrs. Barbara Council with Mrs. Constance Braxton and other assistants have opened a teen Canteen on Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons. Proceeds from the project will go toward purchase of additional recreational equipment.

The women's society of Christian Service held the last session of a study course on the work of the society.

Persons participating were: Mesdames Harriet Hammond, vice president; Helena Barnes, recording secretary; Eleanora Williams, treasurer; Constance Braxton, secretary of student work; Hilda Tomlin, secretary of Spiritual Life; Barbara Council, secretary of missionary education; Beryl Williams, secretary of promotion.

Mrs. Barnes was honored that evening on her birthday, and a special guest was Mrs. Myrle Travers, North Baltimore District Secretary of Promotion.

UNIVERSAL BIBLE Sunday was observed at Mt. Olive Avenue Church by the Methodist Youth Fellowship under the leadership of Larrie Butler, advisor and held under the auspices of the Church Library.

There was a display of Bibles dating from 1848.

The annual Church School Pageant with a White Gift Service was held during the Christmas holiday with members of the senior and junior choirs and the Church School participating.

Gifts of canned goods wrapped in white paper and laid in the manger during the pageant were given to the poor. Christmas poetry.

Former members of the church from Baltimore County and other nearby areas attended the pageant and fellowship hour which followed.

Student Recognition Day was observed at the morning service on Dec. 27. Scott Williams, a senior at Baltimore City College, spoke on the importance of higher education to students and parents in the Methodist church.

A coffee and cocoa hour followed during which Mr. Frank Toggle, the layman leader, was honored and presented with a farewell gift on his departure for Denver. John Barnes made the presentation speech.

Greetings with the 175th anniversary of the establishing of Methodism in America, the Commission on Education has an exhibit of literature on the history and current administration of the Methodist Church on display at Milton Ave. Methodist annual conference for young pastors and their wives.

Lovely Lane Methodist church in Baltimore.

Neighbor, attend services at the Milton Ave. Church located at Milton Ave. and Oliver St. The weekday activities and worship services are a blessing to our community.

ELEGANT WAS the cocktail party tossed by fashionable Ruth R. Tibbs at her pretty home on E. Chase St. Guests were members of her committee who worked so well to put on the Apron and Hat show which was sponsored by the Ladies Guild of Provident Hospital.

Amidst all the beautiful holiday decorations that Ruth had so artistically arranged, the gals dined, had fun doing 'the Madison' and just had a real gone time.

Those who came forged in their spicy posts which were out of this world included: Marian Jones, Vernice Vankinscott, Carolyn Veases, Margaret Carroll, Connie Banks, Velma Ferguson, Ruth Ellis, Cressie Fox, Julie Johnson, Louise Vaughn and Louisa Matthews.

The Christmas Season has come and gone as has the year of 1959. Pleasant memories of the Christmas Season linger on, but the true spirit of Christmas should remain in the hearts of men 12 months of the year.

The Day Village Bible Class meet regularly each Monday at 4 p.m. in the Youth Center, 801 Avondale Rd. Mrs. Lucy Pittman is the teacher. She is ably assisted by Mrs. Sadie McCray.

In addition to the study of the Bible, the young people are interested in art work. Recently the Bible Class sponsored a Doll Show which was a success.

There were 100 dolls entered to be judged in five categories.

The winners were: The Tallest first, Peggy Chavis; second, Mrs. Butler; third, Glenda DeShazo.

The Smallest first, Dianne Deborah Pulliam, second, Jan Green; second Peggy Chavis; third, Patricia Blunt.

The Most Unusual: first, Deborah Pulliam, second, Jan Green; third, Peggy Chavis.

The Oldest — Paulette McCrary; second, Patricia Blunt; third, Mrs. Mattie DeSingle.

THERE WERE various types of doll dress display at the show. There were the American Indian dolls, the colored dolls, the American white dolls. There were the Chinese dolls, the Japanese dolls, and Spanish dolls.

Judges for the dolls were Mesdames Frances Waters, Elizabeth Day, Joseph Oliver and E. S. McDaniel.

The boys who were not interested in dolls, entered their art work. There were three awards given to their work.

The winners were Leon Atkins first and Clide Bucker, second and third.

Ladies who helped the Bible Class teachers were Mesdames Hazel Street, Viola Jones, Maria Day, Eleanor DeShazo, Lucia Green, Helen Jones, Linda Garland, Thelma Louden, Pearl Gilliam, and Mesdames Butler and Ivey.

Mrs. Pittman is to be commended for her efforts of starting this class in the community. She is assisted by a group who are anxious to do something worthwhile to promote the upbuilding of our youth. She has been able to secure the assistance of Mrs. McCray who helps her to produce the plays and she also is able to take over and when she is not there she is with the young people.

THIS TYPE OF adult support, what is so badly needed with all of
