FIVE MEN FACE BAD CHECK CHARGES

Monday is vote-check day here

This coming Monday is voter survey day.

Beginning about 9 a.m. Monday election judges will begin a house - to - house canvass throughout the city to determine the correctness of registrations on the records of the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

Purpose is to bring these records up to date, by clearing them of the names of eligible voters who have died or moved from the city.

The canvassers will want to know:

If the person registered at the address is still living; if he is living, whether he still resides at the registered address.

If he has moved, what is the new address.

THE PUBLIC is being alerted to the importance of this survey by ministers in their churches, civic and political organizations.

Failure to get this information to a canvasser, or to the Board of Supervisors of Elections, will result in the loss of voting privileges in the May 17 primary election.

It could result in a citizen being required to register again to be eligible to vote in the November 8 general election.

Where there is doubt about registration after the survey, the citizen in question will be mailed an inquiry asking for confirmation of the board's records and if his answer is deemed satisfactory, he remains on the rolls.

No postage will be required to return the enclosed form.

Board officials have asked the cooperation of those in charge of registering with the correct required information which will be furnished from the Supervisors of Elections.

Officials say AFRO readers can help in this project by completing the survey will be completed on Monday — or if not at home, then not be up to date Monday, or perhaps the day after, may be gone from home. Relatives, friends can help by leaving information with a neighbor for the canvasser to pick up.

WOMAN POWER has been called upon to correct voter registration errors in the last few years. If you can't be home, leave voting information with someone in the house, or a neighbor, who will leave it with the canvasser. Don't let someone else do your voting for you. Be certain your name is on the voting list.

Next election — February 9 — is for City Council President, City Comptroller, City Register of Wills, City Clerk of Court of Common Pleas, City Clerk of Superior Court, City Clerk of Criminal Court, City Sheriff, City Surveyor, City Coroner, City Commissioner of Deeds, City Commissioner of Orphans Court, City Commissioner of Insolvent Debtors, City Commissioner of Registration, City Commissioner of Lunacy, City Commissioner of Quarantine, City Commissioner of Pilots, City Commissioner of Health, City Commissioner of Pensions, City Commissioner of Public Improvements, City Commissioner of Public Works, City Commissioner of Streets, City Commissioner of Supplies, City Commissioner of Taxes, City Commissioner of Water, City Commissioner of Wharves, City Commissioner of Markets, City Commissioner of Parks, City Commissioner of Public Buildings, City Commissioner of Public Grounds, City Commissioner of Public Recreation, City Commissioner of Public Welfare, City Commissioner of Public Safety, City Commissioner of Public Health, City Commissioner of Public Education, City Commissioner of Public Finance, City Commissioner of Public Transportation, City Commissioner of Public Utilities, City Commissioner of Public Works