ROBERT LANSING, who portrays a scientist in "4D Man," now playing at the Harlem, projects himself into the terrifying realm of the fourth dimension in this scene from the exciting new Fairview Production.

FIRST RUN FILMS

STEVE REEVES STRS IN FILM AT NEW ALBERT

Currently screening at the New Albert Theatre in Ameri. town is "Goliath and The Barbarians," a lavish color production of intense drama, pulsating violence and death against quiet beauty and love. Steve Reeves is starred as the young nobelman who heading the east of sharp-shod Territory of Kansas town' by combs known as the "Goliath" and co-starred are newcomer Chelo Alonso as the barbarian girl he loves, and Bruce Cabot as king of the barbarians.

The film depicts one of the most turbulent periods in all of Italian history, that era when Germanic barbarians — Lombards, Goths, Visigoths, Herulians, Gepidae and others — separately or by banding together, invaded Northern Italy and forced the natives under their oppressive rule.

History records these marital, despotism, religious intolerance and barbarous cupidity. And of all the tribes that swept into Italy from northern and central Europe the fiercest and rudest of them were the ones still which the story deals.

"Goliath And The Barbarians" has a cast of thousands, is in Color and Totalescope and the magnificent musical score accentuates the turbulence, terrorism, violence, brutality as well as the pastoral beauty and tenderness between the young lovers.

The film sets a new standard for business in motion pictures.

FLAMING "BB" STARS IN MET OFFERING

Brigitte Bardot made her appearance yesterday in a role that fits her like a Bikini. The picture is "A Woman Like Satan".

The picture at the Met Theatre. The time, 50 years ago.

Miss Bardot, who has been teasing the lads limp since France was foolish enough to let us in on the antics of Miss Sexpot a few seasons ago, now surpasses all her previous days-ations with her special brand of saucy sensuality in this one.

For, as a French girl living in Spain, Brigitte shatters (at a young travel agency she should have known better) a night club owner, who did what any man would do, could help himself and (as a wealthy, married playboy) who took one look at Brigitte and knew his playing days were over.

These two lady-killers play hot and cold with Brigitte in the film, Antonio Vilar as the wealthy playboy and Dario Moreno as the night club owner.

The picture, which was filmed in Eastman Color on location in Spain, captures all the warmth, gaiety and charm of the Spanish country side and people.

Directed by that age film maker, Julien Duvivier, it features a spectacular sequence of a grand five-day fiesta in Spain, known as the "Feria."

HUNTING IN the hills near the rebel's headquarters, Londo (Chelo Alonso) is thrown from her horse and her life is spared because she had previously befriended Emiliano's (Steve Reeves) sister. The young couple fall in love but when Emiliano is accused of neglecting his own people, he sends her away not to return. She suspects he is the "Goliath." In the American - International Picture "Goliath and The Barbarians" now at the New Albert Theatre.

ANTONIO VILAR tries to persuade Brigitte Bardot to see things his way, but when a woman makes up her mind not to listen — "bn. well! Her newest film, "A Woman Like Satan," will open today, Friday at the Met Theatre. The Lopert Films Inc. release was photographed in Eastman Color.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Morris Queen Chorale to sing 'Porgy and Bess' at the Lyric

By ADAH K. JENKINS

The Morris Queen Chorale, which will sing the opera "Porgy and Bess" with the Baltimore Symphony at the Lyric in February was presented in concert Sunday by the Ethel Newman Guild of Ames Methodist Church.

The indefatigable, yet modest director and his singers prepared a racital of varied choral works covering a wide historical and musical range. They are equally at home with the counterpoint of Bach or the rich harmonies of Schubert.

In the group of spirituals that concluded the concert, the soloists were Mr. and Mrs. Owens and Marvin White. Mr. Queen obtains in these folk songs a neat balance between the primitive and cultured interpretations.

Those who have not obtained their tickets to the "Porgy and Bess" performance with the Chorale, Junetta Jones and Robert Mosley (soloists) would do well to hasten their steps. Saturday, Feb. 27 promises to be a sell-out.

The concert at Ames Church was headed by Mrs. Alice Matthews and Mrs. Catherine Lewis, president of the Guild.

THE RECENTLY organized Choral Society, under the direction of Shellman Johnson was among the groups which presented an evening of international and interfaith music at Northwood-Appold Methodist Church last Sunday.

MAIL-BOX: received from Mrs. Bertha Wainwright Peyton, in Izmir, Turkey, a handsome program and flattering press notices of excerpts from "Messiah" which were given at the Izmir Theatre under her direction.

The concert was presented to the English speaking community by the Community Choir composed of American military and civilian personnel living in the city, with the exception of Italian Warrant Officer Rocco Stassi, who sang the tenor role.

In addition to conducting Mrs. Peyton, who is a concert singer, did the soprano arias. Peter McCandles, bass, Shanne Cano, contralto, were soloists also while L. Mentzers provided the organ accompaniment. The choir which numbered 39 voices, began rehearsals in July.

The concert attracted capacity houses for two performances was arranged by Major Chaplain Cecil C. Cowder, Detachment 20 TUSLOG and Mrs. Peyton, who is the wife of W/Sgt. Charles Peyton, assigned to the office of the Secretary General Staff of NATO's Allied Land Forces of Southeastern Europe.

* * *

IN RECOGNITION of her services, Mrs. Peyton was honored at a dinner held in the Izmir Toppers Club, where she was presented gifts by Major General Edward W. Suarez, Commander of the Sixth Allied Tactical Air Force. She was given flowers at the concert also.

Sgt. and Mrs. Peyton will leave Izmir for the states in May after three years in Turkey. Before departing she will give a concert for the American Girls College and one at the Italian Consulate. While in the near East the singer has done advanced vocal study with an outstanding Italian teacher.

Baltimoreans will recall Mrs. Peyton's concert work in Baltimore and participation in recitals given with the Baltimore Singers and Gerald Burks Wilson. It is to be hoped that she will be making her residence here and will be a welcome addition to the local music colony.
