Bill to clear Interracial Commission

ANNAPOLIS — The Senate was given a bill Tuesday, designed to clarify the powers and duties of Maryland's Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations.

Sen. J. Alvin Jones (D. 4th D., Baltimore) introduced Senate Bill No. 98, which would revise the language in the passage of the law establishing the commission:

"The said commission shall have authority and power to make such surveys and studies concerning interracial relations, conditions and problems, as it may determine, and to promote in every way possible (the welfare of the colored race) the betterment of interracial relations."

The phrase in brackets, the welfare of the colored race, would be deleted by the bill. Substituted in its place would be this new phrase: the betterment of interracial relations.

License fees for laundries asked

ANNAPOLIS—A proposal to combine licenses for laundries with those of cleaning, dyeing and pressing establishments was placed before the House of Delegates here Tuesday.

The House Bill No. 120 specified a $5 license fee for places employing less than five persons; $15 for not more than ten; $50 for between 10 and 20 persons, and a $100 fee for places employing more than 20 persons.

The bill, introduced by Speaker of the House Perry O. Wilkinson (D. Prince Georges), excludes laundries where the laundry is done by hand.

New vote registration proposal given House

ANNAPOLIS — A bill to permit any resident of the state, who would become qualified to vote in a general election, to register and vote in the primary election preceding that general election, was introduced in the House of Delegates Tuesday.

House Bill No. 122, sponsored by Charles W. Woodward Jr., (D. Montgomery), reads:

"Any person who will be a resident of the state for one year, and of the county or the Legislative District of Baltimore for six months, both preceding the date of any general election, is entitled to register to vote.

"And to vote in the ward or election district in which he resides at the primary election preceding such general election, if he is otherwise entitled to be registered as a qualified voter."

Mr. Woodward has asked that his bill, if it passes the General Assembly, be declared an emergency measure to become effective immediately.

This would allow such persons to vote in the May 17 primary.

Bill asks Nov. 11 be 'Veterans' Day'

ANNAPOLIS — The General Assembly has been asked to observe November 11 as "Veterans' Day," rather than Armistice Day, and provide for a half day school holiday on that date.

The proposals came in Senate Bill No. 100 introduced Tuesday by Sen. George E. Snyder (D. Washington).

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

"World peace depends on insuring equality for all"—Mrs. Roosevelt

By ART CARTER

WASHINGTON

"If we are to have equality, we must first have it in education," Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt declared Wednesday.

The future of world peace depends upon the United States "putting its house in order" by "insuring equality for all," she added.

"The constitutional right for each of us to take part in Government, regardless of race, creed or color is the first thing I would like to see published," the former First Lady emphasized.

THE VIEWS of the 75-year-old author, lecturer and world traveler were given in a speech to more than 350 women at the luncheon at Shoreham Hotel. The luncheon was the opening event in a three-day program of the NOW (National Organization of Women) for Equality in Education Conference.

Representatives of 18 national organizations and scores of guests from local organizations were in attendance at the luncheon. Earlier Mrs. Roosevelt had expressed similar views in a press conference preceding the luncheon.

She stoutly declined to discuss questions with political implication and refused to comment on the current civil rights bills before Congress. Declaring she had not "studied them carefully enough," She expressed the hope, however, that any bill passed will be "non partisan because this is a non partisan question."

* * *

THE FORMER First Lady told the assembled women at the luncheon she was glad they were "awakening to spread the responsibility" of this important issue to "every woman."

She emphasized that "if you are to have equality in other things, you must have it in education. Many other areas, housing, jobs and taking part in our government, have to be equal before we can really have equality."

"The first basic thing we want is peace," she added, "but you can't have peace until you set your house in order. You can't have prejudices for any reason."

She stressed that "you are responsible for everything that happens in every state; you can't say we are not responsible for what happens in another state, for it is our country."

She reminded the women that as Americans "we are a wonderful people, but to fulfill our mission in the world, we have to bring about real equality." She told them that people who are discriminated against are not the only ones who suffer. In these instances but those who discriminate "suffer just as much, differently perhaps but they suffer."

MRS. ROOSEVELT pointed out that the small things that happened in the United States "loom big in other parts of the world," and urged the women to do things that will spread good around the world. "We need to grow in understanding, in sympathy and in conviction," she asserted.

Recalling the trials and tribulations she and other passengers had when a bus on which she was a passenger got stuck near Pittsburgh last week she said the way the riders "rose to the occasion" made her "proud to be American."

"We had a lot of different kinds of people in that bus; some white and some colored but no one seemed to notice; we were all going through the same thing."

"I looked around and thought, every single person in this bus has his plans disrupted, yet there's not a complaint. The people talked to each other and joked with the driver. I thought that if I had been on a bus in India, Great Britain or France, they wouldn't be like this. These people are wonderful and I'm proud to be an American when I see the things they can rise to."

As a final word, she urged the women to talk with their Congressmen, let them know you want to eliminate discrimination and something will be done.
