'Better Women, Better World' theme Morgan Women's Week

"Better Women for Better World" will be the theme for the fourth annual Women's Week at Morgan State College, which begins Sunday.

The first colored woman appointed a Municipal Court Judge in Philadelphia and a prominent Washington leader will be the key speakers for civic women's week, Dean of Women Thelma P. Bando announced today.

Judge Juanita Kidd Stout, Judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, Pa., will speak Wednesday, March 9, 10 a.m., Hurt Gymnasium, in a major address of the week.

Speaker at the annual dinner which traditionally closes the observance will be Mrs. Jewell Mazique, Washington, D.C., and wife of Dr. Edward C. Mazique. Mrs. Mazique will talk on her recent trip to Russia.

The dinner will be held Friday, March 11, 7 p.m., Memorial Refectory.

IN ADDITION to a variety of socials, the Week will feature clinics and workshops on health and charm.

The Week will officially open on Sunday, March 6 at worship services in the Morgan Christian Center. The Rev. Howard L. Cornish, Director of the Center and College chaplain, will speak at the 10:30 a.m. services.

Members of the Faculty Trustee Wives Club will assist in the service, which will also include a pledging ceremony for 1960-1961 senior mentors.

TO BE pledged are Misses Henrietta Ballard, Mary J. Briscoe, Vivian Horton, Loretta Hughes, Lillie C. Lewis, Anna Squarrel and Sylvia Williams, and Mrs. Hyacinth Ross.

Open House in the women's dormitories will be held from 2 to 4 p.m., and at 4 "Tea Time" will be sponsored by five sororities in the Tubman Lounge.

A musical recital in the Student Union Building at 5 p.m., will conclude Sunday's activities.

AN OPEN house will be held in the Home Management Residence apartment of the Department of Home Economics Monday, March 7, 10 a.m., under the leadership of Dr. Theresa K. Brown.

At 7 p.m., a pinning ceremony for senior mentors of 1959-1960 will be held in Holmes Hall. Room 100 with awards gang to: Misses Catherine Akins, Delores Church, Brenda Hemingway, Maxine Jones, Annette Jones, Marcia Lloyd, Emily Patterson and Mrs. Greta Edness.

Following at 7:30 p.m., a travelogue will be presented under sponsorship of the Women's Dormitory Council.

On Tuesday, March 8, 1 p.m., Student Union, Morgan students will meet Mrs. Gladys B. Shepperd, author of "Mary Church Terrell, Respectable Person," at a "Meet the Author" program.

At 3 p.m., Dr. Irene Diggs, Professor of Sociology, will comment on a "Showcase of Jewelry from Around the World." Items in the collection represent jewelry Dr. Diggs has collected on her several globe-trotting tours. This activity will also be held in the Student Union Building.

IN ADDITION to Judge Stout's address on Wednesday, March 9 other activities will include a coffee hour in honor of the jurist, a charm clinic and a pre-Easter fashion show.

The Charm Clinic will be held at 7 p.m., Student Union, with Mrs. Bernice Monroe serving as consultant. Featured will be "The art of make-up for all facial contours and types."

The fashion show will follow at 8 p.m., Student Union, with the Charm Club presenting the show and modeling fashions from the Charm Centre. Mrs. Victorine Adams, Charm Centre proprietor, will narrate the show.

ON THURSDAY, March 10, at noon, a "Housemother" Clinic will be held in Truth House. Featured will be a symposium aimed to improve working relations between the college and approved homes. Dr. Ruth Brett, coordinator of Student Personnel Services, Dean Bando, and Mrs. Mary J. Spellman, Assistant Dean of Women, will be clinic participants.

A luncheon for housemothers will follow at 12:30.

JUDGE JUANITA STOUT

MRS. JEWEL MAZIQUE

DR. EFFIE ELLIS, of Provident Hospital, will preside at a clinic on women's health problems 1 p.m., Truth House. Films will be shown.

A Home Management Residence open house at 2 p.m. will conclude Thursday's activities.

On Friday, March 11 at 3 p.m., Student Union, Morgan students will meet the poet, Mrs. Evelyn Crawford Bryant-olds (Eve Lynn) of Philadelphia, Pa., who will read from her collection of original poems.

Meharry prexy honored here

Dr. Harold D. West, president, and Walter H. Boyd, alumni liason officer, of Meharry Medical College, were guests of the Maryland chapter of the Meharry Alumni Association, here, Sunday evening.

The guests were entertained at a dinner meeting in the Blue Room of Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel.

• • •

DR. WEST, a noted biochemist and fifth president of Meharry, discussed the phenomena of all the colored physicians and dentists practicing in the United States, said Dr. West.

The college also pioneered in the use of radioactive gold in the treatment of cancer and leukemia. These accomplishments he said, were made possible in a large sense, by the donations and contributions of foundations and interested individuals.

• • •

AT PRESENT, Dr. West pointed out, Meharry can accommodate only 500 students, and can graduate just 65 physicians, 30 dentists and 30 nurses each year.

Supporting this program is a $2,000,000 budget which is quickly being engulfed by ever increasing costs, Dr. West pointed out. Particularly is this felt, he said, in the area of salaries for instructors. There is need also to expand the physical plant and to provide dormitory accommodations.

• • •

TO THIS END the college plans to initiate a drive for $20,000,000 in the near future.

Each alumnus present made a pledge to this drive.

League of Clubs sets 17th annual conference

The Maryland League of Women's Clubs will hold the Seventeenth Annual One-Day Conference in the Carver Vocational and Technical High School, here, March 26.

Dr. Albert Whiting, dean of Morgan State College will give the keynote address at the opening session. This will be followed by workshops, and Dr. Marjorie Parker, director of practice teaching, State of Maryland Department of Education, will be speaker at the luncheon session at 1 p.m.

• • •

WORKSHOPS this year, will be in the areas of "Health, Wealth and Social Welfare," "Community and World Affairs," "Family Life Education," and "Youth Faces The Challenge of the Space Age."

Mrs. Verniece Reynolds, Miss Una Corbett, Dr. T. Vivian Winder, and Dr. Delores C. Hunt will serve as chairmen of the respective workshops.

CONSULTANTS will include Dr. Effie O. Ellis, Mrs. Nearine Cliff, Mrs. Irma DeBeal and Dr. Herman Branson of Howard University.

All sessions will be open to the public. Luncheon reservations are being received by Miss Fannie R. Glascoe of 1624 Druid Hill Avenue.

Mrs. Lena K. Lee is president of the League and the first vice president and chairman of the conference is Mrs. Rosalie J. McGuire.

Joyed a recent weekend of delightful activities.

On Saturday they attended the final youth concert of the season at the Lyric. The little folk, whose ages range from five to 10 years, particularly enjoyed "Peter and the Wolf Without Peter" and Haydn's "Toy Symphony."

Members attending the concert were Errol Taylor, James Green, Valdemar Washington, Patrice Pinkett, Judith Gambrill, Linda Young, Stephanie Lee, Quida Lee, Karl King, Kenneth Jones, Cynthia Stewart and Sarah Lee Foster.

Mothers about were Mesdames Mildred Taylor, Mayfield Green, Vivian Washington, Annie Mae Pinkett, Julia Gambrill, Eugenia Young;

Mesdames Ometa Lee, Estelle Lee, Ruth King, Helen Jones, Ellen Stewart and Marie Foster.

Following the concert, many of the group were guests at the Tots and Teens dance.

On Monday the Guys and Dolls were guests of Adamae Green and Cynthia Stewart at luncheon, after luncheon they played games, sang and danced, and enjoyed a story-telling period conducted by Mrs. Ruth J. King.

Mothers around to keep things going at the latter party were Mesdames Mayfield Green, Ellen Stewart, Ruth King, Edna Russell, Marie Foster and Ometa Lee.

PRETTY WEDDING on Saturday evening united the former Mrs. Helen Holland Jones and James Allen. It was held at the Dukeland St. home of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Booker Hilson (Elizabeth).

The Rev. Carlton Cook, pastor Union Baptist Church, Turner Station, officiated.

It was a second marriage for both. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Annie Holland and the late George Holland of Baltimore. Until recently, she has made her home in New York.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Virginia Allen of Catlett, Va., and the late William Allen.

FOR HER wedding, Mrs. Allen wore a lovely street-length frock of baby blue sheer wool, matching shoes and gloves. She wore a white orchid and a small veil.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Eary Brown. Best man was David Poole.

The newlyweds are planning a New York honeymoon later on. They are now at home to 408 Peach Orchard Lane in Turner Station.

Among out-of-towners here for the wedding were Messrs and Mesdames Raymond Williams, Joseph Towles, Steve Frazier and Oscar Reaves, and Mrs. Alvena Dixon, all of New York; Mr. and Mrs. James V. Glenn, Virginia; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bumbery, Washington.

LARRY WAYNE STANLEY celebrated his fourth (4th) birthday with a party on Sunday at his Dukeland St. home.

Present were: Lloyd Barry Jr., Derek Brown, Norris Stanley Ivory Russell Jr., Michael Seay, Michael Glenn, Emory Roger, Melvin Johnson, Leslie Nicholas, Christinc Nicholas, Roxanne Henry, Valarie Moses, Linda Sewell, Hope Williams, Doris Johnson, Kimberly Holt;

Following Larry's party, his father celebrated his birthday which was on the 27th.

The parents formed a "strong" Madison Line with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Barry doing the calling.

Phyllis M. Woods, recent N.Y. import to our city to fill a supervisory position at Social Security, invited guests in Saturday night to meet her weekend guest, Gloria Taylor, of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Delectable miniature sandwiches, sippables with all the trimmings were served by the hostess with the Cha-Cha-Cha, was a Madison-line-caller. Hostess, and, of course, there the Samba, etc. which lasted until the wee-wee hours.

CUTEST PARTY of the week was that which arked the ninth birthday of Roxanne Chisholm, on Saturday.

Her mother, Mrs. Jannette Chisholm, had Louis Sheppard (librarian) tell the youngsters tall tales, illustrated from a flannel board with cut-out characters; and engage in non-sense rhymes, which simply delighted them.

And then, as is everyone, they formed a Madison line. . . later went to the elaborate refreshments.

With Roxanne were:

Patricia Jackson, Paula and Romona Roberts, James Green, Jo Ann Minnis, Kathy Reynolds, Vernon Green, Phyllis Green, Dawn and Van Blackwell, Linda and Gloria Basfield, Thelma Cole, Roderick Lockett, Rollan and Ganges, Linda Ticlaferro, Patricia Carrington;

Ralph Finney, Amelia Brown, Janice and Ancela Jefferson, Rosearle and Elizabeth Julian, Carol and Christine Musselwhite, Tonya Quille, Karen Rouse, Billy Spencer, Deidra Mooloo, Dwight Ransom.

ALPHA ZETA CHAPTER culminated their 39th Annual Observance of Finer Womanhood Week with their Open Meeting and Tea held Sunday, February 28th at Douglas Memorial Church. The affair was graced by the prescence of one of the sorority's founders, Soror Arizona C. Stemmons of Philadelphia, Pa.

The speaker of the evening was Zeta's Grand Basileus, Dr. Deborah C. Wolfe of Queen's College, New York. Speaking on the chapter's theme "Developing Our Greatest Resource — Today's Children for Tomorrow's World," Dr. Wolfe Challenged "woman power" to "help the youth of our nation find freedom by encouraging them to seek the truth through higher education, to gain economic security through ever increasing job opportunities and to exercise, with wisdom, their voting rights."

The speaker was introduced by the Basileus of Alpha Zeta, Soror Ruth W. Cleaver. Soror Sandra East brought greetings from Gamma Chapter. Also present were Sorors Josephine Smith, Eastern Regional Director and Esther Peyton, national known as "Miss Zeta," both of Washington, D.C. Soror Mary C. Frazier substituted as presiding officer for Soror Iris C. Wheaden who became suddenly ill at the meeting.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the beautiful music provided by the Zeta Choir composed of members of the graduate chapter, the undergraduate chapter and the youth groups sponsored by the sorority. The choir was under the direction of Soror Mildred Williams, with Soror Ellen Johns as soloist and Soror A. Goldia Gord as accompanist.

Former "Zeta Women of the Year" who were present were Mrs. Victorine Adams, Mrs. Bertha Winston and Mrs. Violet Hill Whyte.

Soror Audrey J. Davis served as chairman of the Finer Womanhood Week Activities. Members of the committee were Sorors Isolene Crowder, Mary C. Frazier, Beatrice Hall, Doris Howell, Annie Johnson, Beatrice Mayo, Hattie Phillips, Blanche Powell, Geraldine Powell, Ruth Russell, Carrie D. Scott, Iris Wheaden, Precious Williams assisted by Katherine O. Johnson.

• • •

FOLLOWING the tea, Soror Althea Cornish was hostess at a dinner party for Founder Arizona Stemmons, Grand Basileus Deborah C. Wolfe, Basileus Ruth W. Cleaver, Associate Director Katherine O. Johnson, advisors, Mary Hurt, Alice Hall, Lillie Ross and Chairman Audrey J. Davis.

MESDAMES HELEN MAE CHAMBERLAIN and Thomas Griffin were co-hostesses to a group of ladies known as The D.A.Z's (can't give you the second anniversary-Saturday Night with a party after their regular card session.

Included were their husbands and special guests. There were no losers at cards everyone received a prize. The club members received souvenir ceramic ash trays with their club emblem and the husbands and guests received novelty gifts.

Club member Bernice Brown was showered with gifts and a large birthday cake.

The husbands formed their own Madison line, which was called into service by the guests and the D.A.Z. Madison lines. With Duke Ventura, Alfred Woolridge, Edward McDaniels and Elwood Brown calling for the husbands, they had a time which made them champions of the evening.

Rosemary and Madison Garrison, Bettye and William Morton, Bernice and Elwood Brown tied for honors with the latest and smoothest dance calls.

The D.A.Z. membership includes Janet Woolridge, Anethia Williams, Bettye Morton, Charlene Griffin, Bernice McDaniels, Iris Wheaden Evelena Henderson, Lucille Venture, Bernice Brown, Mae Chamberlain, Delores Branch, Christine Moore and Lucille Williams.

Others enjoying the evening were Helen and Clifton Gattis, Lilyan and Ed Slater, Gladys and James Parker, Alfred and Don Parker, Zelma and Murvin Thompson, Rosamary and Madison Garrison.

Alfred Woolridge, Roland, William Morton, Cornelius Griffin, Malcolm Chamberlain, Edward McDaniels, Thomas Wheaden, Jr., William Henderson, Duke Venture, Elwood Brown and Mildred Taylor.

ABOUT THE MOST relaxing evening on the horizon is that being set for tomorrow (Saturday) when the Woman's Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society will sip sherry and play cards . . . a benefit for Provident Hospital.

Mesdames Gladys Shepperd, president of the organization; Mesdames Vivian Pendleton and Lydia Mussenden vow there is to be no "stress or strain" what with prizes being alloted to each fable and each foursome allowed to play whatever strikes their fancy.

Incidentally, Mrs. Emerson C. Walden, vice president, and Mrs. C. Mansell Lawrence, Western Zone director of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Medical Association, are back from the mid-year ex-board meeting held in Indianapolis, Ind.

Mid-years reports and plans for the national convention to be held in Pittsburgh, Pa. in August were the order of business.

The Baltimoreans say heavy midwest snows played havoc with the arrival and departure schedules of members, but facilities of the beautiful new Falls Creek YMCA, the Planner Community House and Hoosier hospitality combined to make the meeting enjoyable.

• • •

LES AMIES met with Pearl Moulton to perfect plans for a benefit project at the Cherry Hill Community Center on March 12.

And after the session, the hostess bundled her guests off for cocktails and dinner at the Garrison Lounge.

The gala evening was shared by Mrs. Moulton, Annabelle Ruffin, Della Saunders, Frances Gardner, Octabia Jones, Delores Adams, Jean Tyler, Evelyn Gail; Josephine Johnson, Natalie Bundy, Catherine Coleman, Dorothy Rankin and Helen Eighler of Washington.

THE GENIAL WIVES held their annual Sweetheart party in the clubroom of the beautiful Swale Avenue home of Mrs. Bell Campbell, a Friday ago.

They took on a "heart" decor for the affair, gifted each husband with a special token from the wife . . . were serenaded in turn by the men and then seated down to an elaborate buffet supper.

Needless to say a Madison line evolved, this time with Mr. and Mrs. Handy Colbourn and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roger "calling."

Others about were William Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilkins, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell.

DR. DEBORAH WOLFE, national basileus of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, shown at center, receives gifts from Miss Rose Kenny, representing Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, left; and Mrs. Rosalie McGuire, right, representative of the Baltimore chapter of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Urge women to fight for pay equalities

Women's place in modern society should be chiefly in the area of social welfare, Dr. Sadie Daniel St. Clair, said, here, Saturday.

Dr. St. Clair was speaker at the 36th annual luncheon of the Cooperative Women's Civic League. The luncheon was held in the Assembly Hall of the Gilmor Homes.

POINTING OUT that there are generally still inequalities for pay for women workers, Dr. St. Clair urged her hearers to use the vote to eliminate this evil.

"Now that we have 3,000,000 new babies each year, and an increased number of older people, there is great strain on the family budget. This burden fall chiefly upon women in the in-between group," she said.

Women, said Dr. St. Clair must also keep up the intellectual standards of the group. "Men write the books but women are the readers," she added.

Women, she also said, must be vocal. "Women are in a position to speak out" she told the group.

• • •

DR. ST. CLAIR was presented by Mrs. Vivian Cook, president of the League. Presiding at the luncheon was Mrs. Beryl L. Williams, chairman of the luncheon committee.

Other participants included: Mrs. Marie Taylor, chaplain, who gave a memorial and invocation; Mrs. Violet Hill Whyte, a past president of the League, who brought greetings, the Rev. James A. Williams, who gave the benediction and Miss Dorothy Glenn who provided the incidental music.

ASSISTING Mrs. Williams in planning the luncheon were Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Juanita Hill, Mrs. Hoktum, Louie Meier, Bill Green, Clarence Johnson, Norman Moir;

Misses Delores Williams, Maggie Hudson, Bessie Smith, Zelma Foulkes; Messrs. Harold Sanders, Roy Williams, J. Brown, Arthur Thompson, and Charles Daniels.

Washingtonians present included Messrs. and Mesdames Clarence Gunter, George Williams, Brough Wells; Messrs. Cleveland Holland, Wilbur Carpenter and Miss Janet Brown, her sister, and Louis Parker of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Marjorie Parker, director of practice teaching, State of Maryland Department of Education and national basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will be speaker at the luncheon session of the annual conference of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs, in Baltimore, on March 26.

B & O No. 12 members entertain wives, friends

The Local No. 12 B and O Train Attendants, affiliated with the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, opened their 1960 social season by playing host to wives and friends at a fashionable cocktail party held in Washington at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown Paul, 4526 Eads Pl.

The Paul's downstairs clubroom was the scene of the business meeting called by general chairman Herbert Bass.

The festivities followed with barbecued ribs prepared in the Paul's outdoor barbecue pit, topping the menu. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Arnett made photographs of the gala occasion.

Seven automobiles formed a motorcade from Baltimore — led by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simms.

AMONG those attending from Baltimore were Richard Turner, Messrs. and Mesdames Cole, Hoktum, Louie Meier, Bill Green, Clarence Johnson, Norman Moir;

Misses Delores Williams, Maggie Hudson, Bessie Smith, Zelma Foulkes; Messrs. Harold Sanders, Roy Williams, J. Brown, Arthur Thompson, and Charles Daniels.

Washingtonians present included Messrs. and Mesdames Clarence Gunter, George Williams, Brough Wells; Messrs. Cleveland Holland, Wilbur Carpenter and Miss Janet Brown, her sister, and Louis Parker of Pittsburgh, Pa.
