Officers are: Elizabeth Colbert, president; Doris Holmes, secretary; Mildred Jones, treasurer and Annie Kelly, chairman.

St. Paul Baptist Church, Guilford Ave. and Lanvale St., led by the youthful, Rev. George A. Crawley Jr., is doing something for our community and its youth.

Beginning Monday March 21 through the 25th the members will observe Youth Fellowship Week.

Sunday March 27 will be Youth Day. All neighbors are invited to attend.

The Third District Democratic Council, the recently organized group covering Baltimore's Third District, is now preparing for the forthcoming primary presidential and congressional elections.

Representative at large, Mrs. Beryl Williams, has been assigned the stupendous task of contacting all social organizations in the Third District and informing them of the functions, aims purposes and importance of the council.

If your organization wishes to know more about the role of the Democratic Council in the community you may contact the Democratic Council's public relations office at EA. 7-4717 or write a letter or card c/o Mrs. Carlotte W. Downie, 2413 Montebello Terrace. Get on the band wagon, neighbors.

AEL eastsiders are looking toward the coming marriage of charming Anita Elaine Harris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Harris Sr. of 1207 N. Chrystie Street, to Alvin Barry Watson (tomorrow) Saturday, March 19.

The happy event will take place at Morgan Christian Center with a reception following the ceremony.

On Sunday, March 20, do attend the 55th Annual Women's Day Services at Waters AME Church, Asiquith St. near Orleans.

At the 11 a.m. services the guest speaker will be the Rev. Mrs. Mildred Spain of Philadelphia.

At the 3 p.m. services, Mrs. Mrs. Corenia Lake Smith, public school social worker, will be the speaker.

Special musical treats will include organ selections by Mrs. Genevieve Wisner, resource music teacher in the Baltimore City Schools. A fellowship will follow at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Cora Johnson is president; Mrs. Zadie Williams, secretary; Mrs. Estella Bish is general chairman and the Rev. W. B. Nash is pastor. See ya there, neighbors.

SPEAKING OF Waters AME Church, the annual Rainbow Tea held last Sunday was beautifully arranged and very successful.

It was held in the lower church from 4 to 7 p.m. and sponsored by the women of Waters as one of their woman's day projects. As always the food was delicious and the ladies looked as pretty as pictures.

Congratulations to Mrs. Rosa B. Anderson, chairman, Mrs. Edna Johnson, co-chairman, Mrs. Priscilla Gattis, secretary, Miss Beulah Trusty, treasurer, and the many ladies who helped them in this effort.

JUST TOO beautiful was the elegant birthday party tossed by glamorous Gladys Oberslat week end.

The affair was held at her spacious home, 2321 E. Preston St. Gladys looked most dreamy in her ankle length mint green party gown, with a flared skirt and fitted bodice held by a tricky strap. The rhinestone tiara was the mostest, to say the least.

The food — yum, yum — was real gone. Having beaus of her and showering the honores with gifts were: Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Johnson, Charles Tyson, David Cormick, Mesdames Elizabeth Barksdale, Margaret Kennedy, Marguerite Coleman, Helen Ivery, Mildred Miller, Janie Cozart, Gladys Tyson, Lillie Gordon, Dolores Allen, Ida Tyson sisters, Faye Dennis, Maggie James, Catherine Smith.

Messrs. Clifton Ellis, Joseph Barksdale, Leroy McQuaide, J. C. Spearmon, and Cliff Matthews.

Our Good Neighbor of the Week Our Good Neighbor of the Week is Mrs. Jennie Jackson, who lives at 1618 E. Preston St. Mrs. Jackson is the wife of James (Buck) Jackson, an employee of Bethlehem Sta. Co.

Mrs. Jackson is a native of Brunswick County, Va. but has lived on our Eastside over 35 years. She received her schooling at St. Paul High School in Virginia.

Our neighbor is the mother of five children who are: Mrs. Hattie E. Parham, Mrs. Eleanora Pettus, Scranton, Pa., Mrs. Viola Monk, James Edward Jackson Jr. and LaVon Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson has 12 grandchildren. They are Denise Parham, Cheryl Parham, Dona Parham, Reginald Pettus, Vernon Pettus, Patricia Pettus and Joann Pettus.

Also, Gregory Pettus, Colleen Pettus, Brenda Pettus, Anventia Monk and Eloise Monk.

Our good neighbor is proud to have three fine sons-in-laws who are: Richard Parham, Ernest Pettus and Joseph Monk.

Mrs. Jackson is a faithful member of Waters AME Church, along with her family. She is president of the Female Ushers, Missionary Society, a class leader and member of the dietary staff when there are suppers given in the church.

She is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Usher Union and chairman of the Relief Committee. She is an active member of the NAACP.

Her favorite sport is fishing and she likes to eat southern fried chicken.

Special television programs are "The Edge of Night" and "Brighter Day." The Jacksons' wedding anniversary is June 8 and her birthday is June 1st. Our Good Neighbor is fond of the 23rd Psalm and likes the hymn, "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross."

THE OFFICERS and members of the Elegant Ladies Charitable and Savings Club celebrated their third anniversary as guests of the pastor and congregation of Second Baptist Church last Sunday evening.

Presiding was stunning Mrs. Ida Patty who did a grand job as mistress of ceremonies.

Others participating included: Mesdames Ella J. Daniels, Lucille Oniel, Pernel Jones, George Lottier and Queen Esther Hill.

Also Miss Theresa Smallwood, Mrs. Jean Pollard, Mrs. Viola Jones, Mrs. Marie Smallwood, president, and Miss Elsie Knight.

Rendering musical selections were: The Choir of Second Baptist Church, the Gold Tones, the Gospel Bells and a new group, the Unknowns. Remarks were given by Rev. J. Price.

Neighbors you just should hear that new singing group the Unknowns recently organized by Wilbur Wizzy Stallworth.

The members are all teen agers (really good) and should hit the big league someday.

Members include: Melvin Coles, Llewellyn Carey, James Carey, Paul Holmes Bey and Daniel Bell. Also, Willie Elliott and William Smallwood. Watch them . . . Go hear them . . .

Popular Mrs. Susie Rogers, local Eastside beautician, has returned from a trip to Miami Florida where she visited her family. Mrs. Rogers lives 2220 Cecil Ave.

The deacons and trustees of Temple Baptist Church are having a variety supper this Saturday evening at 5 p.m. George Baldwin and trustee Howard Segree, sponsors. Temple is located at 1890 N. Wolfe St.

Jury convicts elderly matron of welfare fraud

A mixed jury convicted an elderly woman on Thursday of defrauding the welfare, and sentence was withheld in Criminal Court pending a full medical examination.

The defendant was Mrs. Louise Wilson, 74, 700 block Fremont Ave., who told the jury she thought the checks she had received from the Welfare were additional Social Security benefits from her dead husband.

In addition to Mrs. Wilson, sentences were withheld Tuesday for three other defendants convicted of Welfare fraud by Judge J. Gilbert Prendergast.

They were:

Mrs. Daisy Evans, 37, 1200 block McCubbin Ct., and Henry Scott, 74, unit block E. York St.

Mrs. Evans was found guilty of receiving $818.13 from the welfare while receiving income from an additional source she had not reported, and Mr. Scott was found guilty of receiving Welfare benefits while receiving undeclared checks from the Veteran's Administration.

Each of the cases were tried on Monday.

DURING TESTIMONY in the case of Mrs. Wilson, the distinguished-looking, attractive matron fearfully denied she willfully and knowingly" defrauded the Welfare department of $2,542.65 over-payment she was charged.

Represented by William T. Gossett, Mrs. Wilson said, "I didn't know any better. I thought it was coming from my late husband."

According to her testimony, Mrs. Wilson received $7 weekly support from her husband, and mistakenly believed Welfare checks were part of the Social Security benefits she was due after the death of her husband.

Assistant State's attorney John T. Sause told the court Mrs. Wilson received the overpayment of $2,542.65 from 1950 to June, 1959 when she failed to list her additional income from her husband's Social Security.

Case workers Vernon L. Brown and Mrs. Audrey Williams testified Mrs. Wilson began receiving Welfare aid in 1931.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

Men's Day held at Asbury Methodist Church; Miss McManus will be presented in April concert; Wayside Spiritual Tabernacle plans annual fellowship banquet; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jackson are new parents; Nannie Bell Council No. 4 of the Knights of Pythias is organized

The interior of the Asbury Methodist Church was a beautiful sight on Sunday morning at the annual observance of Men's Day.

The entire large center seating section of the church was filled with men and while the two outer sections and the balcony were filled with women in attendance at the service. Men also filled the large choir loft back of the pulpit, forming a full choir, under the direction of Roland Colbert.

The Rev. Hilton A. Parker, district superintendent of the South Baltimore District of the Methodist Church, gave a dynamic talk in his discussion on the text, "Give me a man that we might fight together," taken from I Samuel 17:10.

He pointed to the segregation system in America, which is causing constant injury to the self-respect of law-abiding American citizens by denying them first-class citizenship.

"Take a look at America with its beautiful and spacious skies," said the Rev. M. Parker.

"There is also power here to change these injustices to a picture of equality and justice among the people, but we must change the room to fit the picture," he further stated.

He stressed the need for men of stamina and courage to stand up on the side of righteousness, truth and justice — men who must let the world know that we will not be bought out by cheap politicians and when they bump up against us they will not bounce back.

He ended his sermon by pleading for righteousness in man and urged that men fight and challenge whatever barriers that stands in their way.

A NATIVE of Antigua, B.W.I., the Rev. Mr. Parker did his undergraduate work in the islands at Myco College before coming to the states over 30 years ago.

He did further study at Union Theological Seminary in New York where he earned both a Bachelor of Divinity degree and a Bachelor of Theology degree.

During his successful career he has pastored several of the leading churches in his area including:

Leigh Street Methodist Church in Richmond; Simpson at Wheeling, W.Va., Ebenezer at Huntington, W.Va. and Lee Memorial at Parkersburg, W. Va. Just before his appointment to his present position he was the minister at Christ Methodist Church in Baltimore.

Mrs. Parker is the former Miss Nellie Pryor of Staunton, Va. She formerly attended Morgan College and is musical by-trained.

The Rev. Mr. Parker refers to his wife as "a great source of inspiration" to him in his life and in his work.

They are the parents of two children, Mrs. Willie Graham (Frances) of Richmond Va. and Miss Amelia Parker, a student at Douglass High School in Baltimore. The family resides in Dennlyn Road.

TWO YOUNG soloists for the service, Calvin Offer, who sang Malotte's "Lord's Prayer," and Maurice Miller, who did "Bless This House," also lent much to the worship.

The Male Choir sang "I've Found Him" "Oh, My Lord What a Time" "I Just Can't Make It by Myself" and a special arrangement of the hymn "I Need Thee Every Hour" following the sermon, which was beautifully led by Robert Colbert.

During the afternoon service Herbert S. Hilliard, principal of Bates Senior High School was the speaker. Solos were sung by Harvey Ennis and Timothy Butler.

Other music was given by the Bates High Male Chorus. A paper was read by Russell Turner.

The Rev. J. E. Evans, the pastor of Mt. Zion Methodist Church was guest speaker at the evening service. His male chorus and the church group presented the music with Albert Stanton as soloist.

JOYCE PICO McMANUS, CONTRALTO WHO OVER WELMED her audience when she appeared in a recital here at the Mt. Moriah AME Church several weeks ago, will again be presented at the Adams Park School on Friday evening, April 1 at 8 o'clock. This definitely will be an evening to look forward to.

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa will entertain friends at its annual St. Patrick Day Ball on Saturday night March 19. Another nice affair to look forward to during the social season.

The annual Fellowship Banquet of the Wayside Spiritual Tabernacle, which has become a community project, will be held at the Second Baptist Church on Thursday evening, March 24, at 8:30 p.m.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. William H. Richardson, who will use as her subject, "Christian Citizenship in a Changing World."

Mrs. Laureaner Toogood is chairman and the Rev. William Dyson is pastor.

MRS. LAUREANER TOOGOOD is chairman and the Rev. William Dyson is pastor.

THE LOCAL Preachers Alliance of Annapolis and Anne Arundel County will observe its second anniversary on Sunday, March 20 at 3 p.m. at the Waymon Good Hope AME Church at Jones.

This group, which was founded by its president, the Rev. Howard Nichols, has as its purpose the idea of working together in fellowship and advancement.

Other officers and members are the Revs. Mrs. Mamie Diggs, vice - president; Charles Creek, secretary; Floyd Snowden, assistant secretary; Samuel Smith, treasurer; Oliver Kyler, chaplain; Rev. Mrs. Lucretia Jones, assistant chaplain; Oliver Thomas and Amos Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson are the parents of a baby girl, Diane Luvenia born March 4 at 7:10 p.m. at the Anne Arundel General Hospital. Mother and daughter are doing fine at the Jackson residence, 13 Dean St.

Mrs. Mattie Harris of Baltimore, captain of the Hearts of a group of friends of Mrs. Mary C. Brown, visiting teacher in Anne Arundel County, and Mrs. Georgianna Boston,

Mrs. Harris received the Algonquin Indian Award, the highest to be received from her company recently "for promotion of achievement in her work."

Gadabouting In Baltimore

Variety sparks the town's social scene

by Lula Jones Garrett

The calendar is so full of such a variety of affairs over the weekend that there's little chance for boredom on the local front.

Intriguing is the Saturday night "Beatnik Ball" which the Cardigans have scheduled. The ball will be held in the United Steel Workers Hall on Broening Highway.

Planning this entertaining evening are Bernice Hall, Ruth Tonkins, Jimmie Day, Bernard Frye, Bernice White, Elizabeth Butler, Harriett Morton;

Mary Williams, Beulah Westcott, Willie Cash, Vera Taylor, Gloria Sims, Jane Wright, Margaret Peck and Myrtle Smith.

ROMANTICALLY speaking, the news is spent the Saturday wedding of Anita Elaine Harris to Alvin Barry Watson, which will take place in the Morgan Christian Center, at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

This week the pert school marm has been busy dashing from one shower to the other.

Sunday afternoon her bridesmaids, Michaelle Nesbit, Jacqueline Howard and Valerie Smith gave a personal shower for her in Valerie's home.

Held forth in the club room, where under a pink and white umbrella they stacked piles of lovely gifts, the honoree was as pretty as a picture in a royal blue wool frock with lace top and black accessories . . . and the hostesses cute as buttons in fancy pants.

Guests were:

Gloria Payne, Peggy Jones, Roberta Woodland, Camilla Williams, Roxanne Scott, Lizzie Johnson, Mazie Hill, Elsie Robinson, Shirley Holland;

Also Mary Dumas, Anne Davis, Carolyn King, Miriam Hughes, Marsha Mills, Bernadine Harrison, Brenda Clarke, Elsie Clarke, Juanita Harris, Olda Norris, Beulah Roberts, and Mrs. Bernard Harris Sr., mother of the bride - elect.

And the weekend also brought a lingerie shower for Mrs. Harris . . . this given by the Glimpers Club in the home of Elizabeth Hilfer.

About were Jean Jackson, Audrey McNair, Patricia Madison, Shirley Owens, Phyllis Sands, Mary Sewell, Patricia Walker, Shirley Watson, Joyce Harvey and Adeve White.

MR. AND MRS. Luther Jones entertained at a surprise buffet supper at their home on Rosedale St. in honor of their daughter, Junetta, following her performance as soloist with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra in Porgy and Bess.

Miss Jones was greeted by a chorus of congratulations (to the tune of happy birthday) led by Frances Alves, auxiliary Lederovia of the Peabody Conservatory.

She was also presented a bouquet of yellow roses from an ardent lover of the music. The enthusiasm of the guests demonstrated their high esteem for her being one of the first of her race to sing with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra.

The buffet table was charmingly decorated in white and pink, tall lighted candles and silver trimmed pink bows. Guests dined on baked ham, salads, individual cheese sandwich loafs and other dishes prepared in the manner for which Mrs. Lucille Reid is famous.

Guests included:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moseley and Mrs. Pauline Foster of Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Switch of Washington; Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Laderoute, Murray Jerome Nunn, Henry Sands, Donald Cary, Blake Williams and Harry Stewart;

Mesdames Judith M. Kitz, M. Josephine Turner, Bertha Gee, Grace Perry, Florence Simpson, Joan Miller, Mary Hannon, Nicola Bojanowski, Mae Harris, Lois Woodson, Jessye Morris and Verna Hobson;

Dr. Nancy L. Ames and Ruth Sheffey;

Misses Barbara C. Gee, Myrna Whyte, Esther and Mary Laderoute, Janette Lake, Janet Powell, Veronica Tyler, Mary Dickerson, Betty Manning and Annie T. Brooks;

James S. Gee, Barry Hawkins, Maurice Murphy, Robert Anderson, Luther Jones Jr. and Jerry Reid.
