Balto. 'most segregated city"—Rabbi Lieberman

"When it comes to religion, as in race, Baltimore is the most segregated city in America".

That was the comment of Rabbi Morris Lieberman as he addressed a meeting at Fellowship House Monday evening.

The meeting, fourth in a series of six giving basic training in human relations, was held at Fellowship House, 21 W. Preston St.

As he discussed the topic "Does Religion Unite or Divide Us?" the speaker said:

"Although religion is supposed to unite us in togetherness, it is one of the most divisive forces in our society.

"Because the differences in the three major religious groups —Protestant, Catholic and Jewish — are given such great emphasis, we forget that we are all members of a common family.

"Emphasizing these differences has brought great trouble to the world. Because of this many have wondered if the world would be better off without religion.

"But a look below the surface of religious conflict of today reveals that this is no solution.

"Religion, as such, has not failed, but the people who practice it have.

"Therefore, throughout history, religion has divided humanity."

RABBI LIEBERMAN listed several causes for religious conflict. Among them were:

The prevailing view that this is a Protestant country. And unless one is a Protestant — a white Protestant — his religious views are unimportant.

The belief in the separation of church and state. But in reality, government subsidizes religion in some instances.

The U.S. chaplain corps was listed as an example of this.

Matter of censorship. Some practice rigid censorship on entertainment and literature, others denounce it.

Birth control. To some it is completely wrong. For others it is right.

Theological differences. On these there is no compromise. Concepts of the nativity, and crucifixion embraced by some, is completely rejected by others.

Speaking to an audience of 35 persons, Rabbi Lieberman also emphasized the conflict between Christianity and Judaism.

"Since the majority of this country considers itself as a Christian nation, they also feel that minority groups should accept the teaching of Christianity.

"On the other hand, Jews feel that religion is a matter that should be dealt with in the home, church and synagogues."

Following the address, the speaker announced questions from the audience.

It was during this period when he said:

"I am pessimistic about our approach toward the solution of social problems. Because no progress has come from peaceful methods of solving these problems, I fear that we will find solutions only after great violence."

THE SPEAKER commended the nationwide student movement and scored leaders for making it necessary in the first place.

The series of meetings, designed to promote personal contact between racial groups have attracted representatives numerous professions.

The average attendance of 35 has remained constant.

At Monday's session a collection for the Student Coffee Fund was raised.

The funds are to be used to buy coffee for students demonstrators as they continue their protest campaign against segregation in the Northwood Shopping Center.

At last week's meeting the guest speaker was Dr. Montague Cobb, professor of anatomy at Howard University.

Speaking on "The Facts About Race," Dr. Cobb told the group that there is no evidence that the color of skin has any bearing on the mentality of any human being.

Using film slides to illustrate the lecture-discussion, Dr. Cobb showed that all humans are descendants from the animal family.

He also pointed out that such things as straight hair, shape of noses, etc., are but mere decorations of nature.

But to some racial "experts," he stated these are symbols of inferority or superiority, depending on one's hue of politics.

THE NEXT meeting will be addressed by Miss Marjorie Penney, director, Philadelphia Fellowship House. She will speak on "Fellowship House Approach."

Tawes signs physician, boat registration bills; budget

By MAX JOHNSON

The state's new 1961 record budget of $477,000,000, and legislation requiring the registration of physicians and the licensing of privately owned motor powered water crafts, were among 72 bills signed into law Wednesday by Gov. J. Millard Tawes.

Physicians will now be required to register by the coming Oct. 1, and every three-year period afterwards, or face conviction of a misdemeanor and a possible fine up to $25.

The boat licensing bill exempts sailboats under 25 feet and power boats under seven and a half horsepower. The bills and resolutions signed by Gov. Tawes in his Baltimore offices Wednesday afternoon were among 139 enacted by the Maryland General Assembly during its recent 30-day session, which ended March 3.

Eight bills and two resolutions still remain for the Governor's signature.

* * *

GOV. TAWES signed into law a bill which permits judges to commit narcotic addicts to one of the state hospitals for treatment — an authority the courts did not have.

As the Governor signed this bill, Mrs. Bertha D. Baldwin, assistant to the supervisor, Federal Bureau of Narcotics, presented him with an opium pipe, as a token of the Bureau's appreciation.

Other bills signed into law by Gov. Tawes provides that:

1. AT LEAST ten fire drills be conducted per school year in public schools throughout the state.

2. Retired school teachers may accept part-time employment, and still receive retirement pay.

3. An appropriation of $1,250,000 be granted Johns Hopkins Hospital.

4. Pay raises be granted members of the State Police.

5. It is unlawful to ride a bicycle or an animal, or drive an animal drawn vehicle on an expressway.

6. The office of "business manager" be created at Morgan State College.

* * *

7. THE PENALTY for operating a motor vehicle on a suspended or revoked permit be increased from imprisonment up to six months and or a fine up to $500 — to imprisonment from 10 days up to six months and/or a fine of from $100 to $1,000.

This was a Senate Bill No. 60 introduced by Senator J. Alvin Jones (D. 4th D., Balto.).

8. An increase from $35 to $50 be assessed an applicant taking examination to practice medicine in the state.

9. An increase of annual fees of funeral directors and embalmers be raised from $10 to $25.

10. A widow may continue to operate the automobile of her deceased husband, without changing the registration to her name, during the administration of the estate.

11. This change be made in a provision governing the Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations:

"The said Commission shall have authority and power to make such surveys and studies concerning interracial relations, conditions and problems, as it may determine, and to promote in every way — the betterment of interracial relations.

* * *

THE LATTER clause was substituted for one that previously read, — "the welfare of the colored race."

This Senate Bill No. 98 was also introduced by Senator Jones.

12. An increase of from $2 to $3 be levied as a service charge for each bad check to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

13. The state real estate tax be fixed at $13.75.

14. An increase from $1.25 to $1.75 in the cost of a county hunting license.

15. An increase from five to ten days the time within which a person may request a hearing after receipt of notice that his driving permit has been suspended or revoked.

* * *

AMONG THE 41 bills and six joint resolutions previously signed by Gov. Tawes, are:

1. His pay raise plan for teachers, calling for a minimum scale of from $3,200 to $5,300 and a $500 increase for teachers with 11 or more years of experience.

Baltimore teachers got no raise under the plan because the salary scale is now $4,300 to $7,250.

2. That driving permits be renewed every two years.

3. To create a commission on alcoholism.

4. Raising the number of judges of the Court of Appeals from five to even.

5. Authorizing the Department of Motor Vehicles to refuse new auto license tags to persons against whom a traffic warrant is standing.

6. A Senate joint resolution authorizing Gov. Tawes to appoint a commission to study and report on illegitimacy among recipients of the Department of Public Welfare monies under its aid to dependent children program.

Federal funds request okeyed for renewal area

The Board of Estimates gave its approval Wednesday to the proposed Project One in the Mt. Royal - Fremont Urban Renewal Area, which would reshape completely the area north of Dolphin St. between McCulloh St. and Park Ave. and north to Laurens St.

Mayor J. Harold Grady specified, however, that the approval was only an agreement to allow the Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency to request the necessary funds and not of the proposed plans as presented.

Deadline for presenting the plans to the Federal Urban Renewal Agency is the coming Monday.

Redevelopment of this 82-acre site has been estimated to cost $9,835,711, of which $7,406,783 is to come from Federal funds.

The remaining $2,408,928 would come through a local bond issue.

Plans for redeveloping the area call for the demolition of at least 1,650 dwelling units.

From 900 to 1,000 new dwelling units would be erected, geared to families in the middle and upper income brackets.

Mt. Royal Ter. boarding house proposal rejected

The Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeals rejected a request Tuesday to allow the operation of a boarding house at 2123 Mt. Royal Ter.

Edgar M. Ewing, assistant director, renewal operations, Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency, and representatives of the Mt. Royal and Park Royal Improvement associations strongly protested the application.

Edward and Mrs. Bernice Fogg, 3000 block Poplar Ter., told the Zoning Board they planned to use the Mt. Royal Ter. premises as a home for women on public welfare, who are 50 years old and older.

* * *

THE PLANS would renovate the two - story structure to include six bedrooms and two baths.

Upwards to 20 women would be housed there at a fee of $65 a month each.

Mrs. Fogg said she is a licensed nurse, and now operates a nursing home in the 1500 block Bruce St.

In objecting to the Mt. Royal Ter. boarding house, Mr. Ewing told the board:

"We feel very strongly about this. This represents a use that is incompatible with the area."

* * *

IN OTHER action the Zoning Board approved:

1. The housing of three families at 242 N. Fulton Ave., on the request of the Rev. William P. Mitchell, represented by George L. Russell, Jr., attorney.

2. The continued housing of three families at 539 Cumberland St.

The Zoning Board rejected a request to allow three families to be housed at 830 N. Fulton Ave.

Among the cases scheduled the coming Tuesday at 1 p.m., are requests to house seven families at 1323 McCulloh St., four families at 1611 Edmondson Ave., and three families at 1718 N. Fulton Ave.

Mahalia Jackson concert slated

Mahalia Jackson, hailed as the world's greatest gospel singer, will appear here at the Lyric on Saturday (April 2) at 8:30 p.m. under the auspices of Maryland Shows, Inc.

Miss Jackson, whose records have sold over eight million copies and who has won acclaim from critics and audiences the world over, takes her religion seriously; she has refused fabulous offers to sing in night clubs.

She has, however, appeared on all the leading television programs and in concert halls throughout the world.

She single-handedly revolutionized the gospel singing field and today, her singing transcends all religious and language barriers, and she is truly, as the Saturday Review declared, "one of those claimed by the world as its own."
