Caperettes swing at gay supper party

by Lula Jones Garrett

Already the guests are pester-town's newest aggregations of ing the Caperettes for a repeat young business women . . . and performance of their Friday their party was a benefit for night supper dance, held in the their scholarship fund.

Rose Room.

The Caperettes is one of the

How on earth they made money with the lush supper (from shrimp to ham and potato salad) the array of souvenirs, etc. they provided is a well-kept secret. But they assure me they did reach their goal and have already selected their awardee.

Their tables were beautiful, with blue and white Easter flowers (to carry out the Parisian idea) and colored umbrellas to depict their April in Paris decor.

Sherman Lewis provided the music, and called the Madison so that their line was not only strong but uniform.

And there was Daniel Dixon to keep the Cha-Cha-sa-going, and the audience joining the Caperettes in the "singing of April in Paris" and "Put On Your Easter Bonnet."

Guests land not only their voices but plenty of eye-appeal to the sum total of a good party. Lila Weaver's blue print frock with dropped hood was a most fashionable note at the affair.

The George Gilberts (Lois in a blue print and wearing a very new hair cut); Edgar Carter, who just missed the airplane tragedy at the Denton, Md. school, very radiant and glad to be there; the William Gates (Juanita Holsey) making their first public appearance since taking on the role of parents (they have a lovely daughter) and Charles and Esther Morris (she attractive in navy sheer) were about.

Hostesses were:

Barbara Council, whose aqua chiffon with draped back worn with matching shoes, lent a gay note to the party.

Bernie Keene, radiant in red print sheath with low front neckline revealed at the back;

Barbara Patterson in black and white print and exquisite jewelry spending most of her dancing time cha-chaing with husband Donald;

Hilary Quinn, who chose ice blue silk organza, embroidered top, blue hose and shoes, but who, with her Edward, preferred to tango through the evening;

Shirley Chambers wore aqua taffeta; Audrey Williams, black chiffon and satin; Ruth Harrison, beige silk with embroidered overskirt; and Phyllis Wallace, cute in royal and black print sheath.

Also Louanna Jefferson whose black cotton had an interesting white organza neck treatment; and Elizabeth Gerald, an eye-catcher in brown and white print.

A "SUPER STRONG" Madison line is being promised by Baltimore Alphas at their annual spring cabaret affair on Friday, May 20.

Bids were being sent out this week for what the Alphas pledge will be a most unusual event to be held at the Coliseum, 2201 N. Monroe St.

Pierre Davis, chairman of Delta Lambda chapter's social committee, announced plans for the cabaret, which is given each year for the benefit of the chapter's scholarship fund.

The Easter weekend will be a busy time for Alphas along the Atlantic seaboard, who will be themselves on Friday to Wilmington, Del., for the Eastern Regional convention.

Sessions are scheduled for the Hotel DuPont with Judge Myles Paige, Alpha national president; Dr. Charles Broadus, Eastern regional vice president; and Louis V. Redding, NAACP counsel, appearing as speakers.

Frank Veney, who is treasurer of the Baltimore chapter and Dr. Clifton Jones, will represent Delta Lambda at the regional. In addition, Charles P. Howard Jr., Pierre Davis, John Richardson, Joseph Bracey and Dr. Frederic Jackson indicated plans to attend.

DR. FREDERICK DEDMOND, president of the Baltimore Interfraternal Council, told local Alphas at their April meeting Monday, of council plans to hold a public meeting Sunday, May 22 at Union Memorial Methodist Church.

Dr. Lawrence Howard, professor of political science at Brandeis University, Massachusetts, and brother of Delta Lambda's president, Charles P. Howard Jr., was a visitor at Monday's meeting.

THE WOMAN'S Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society observed the annual Five - Point Program with the presentation of City Councilman Walter T. Dixon and Mrs. Gladys B. Shepperd as speakers, Thursday evening.

The meeting was in the Powhatan Avenue home of Mrs. Herbert Moseley.

Mr. Dixon spoke in support of Ordinance 215 which he introduced. His talk tied in closely with the book "Mary Church Terrell, Respectable Person," authored by Mrs. Shepperd. The latter autographed copies of the book for members of the Auxiliary.

Those present were Mesdames George Pendleton, Glenford Mussenden, Ivan Higgins, John Holmes, George Page, Emerson Walden, Mansell Lawrence;

Mesdames R. G. Chissell, Charles Campbell, James Pair, Carson Johnson, Edward Holt, Earl Clay, Bernard Harris Sr., Bernard Harris Jr., and Mrs. Moseley.

SIGMA GAMMA Rho sorors completed plans for a cocktail party on May 6, when they held their regular session, this week.

They also made plans to attend the sorority's 18th Northeastern Regional Conference, April 22-24 in New York City.

At the session, Soror Victorine Q. Adams, director of "Woman Power," conducted a political workshop.

Present were Mabel Walters, Emily Bryant, Hortense Franklyn, Carolyn Robinson, Pauline Butler, Katherine Royster, Victoria Jones;

Yvonne Allen, Lillian Barber, Willie Mae Stanley, Rose T. Kinney, Dorothy Riley and Victorine Adams.

BALTIMORE IOTAS went on record Saturday to give full and enthusiastic support to student sit-downers and pickets in their fight for the enjoyment of equal and neighborhood stores.

The vote came after Miss Vivian Young, president of Kappa chapter, and Mrs. Fannie Poulson, who were representatives of the sorority at the Maryland League of Women's Clubs, reported on the decision of the league to prosecute an all-out fight for equality in Maryland.

Reports were also given by delegates who attended the sorority's eastern regional at Coburn Hall, Virginia Union University in Richmond. Kappa chapter was represented by Mrs. Gladys Ball and Misses Vivian Young and Evelyn Wilkey, delegates; and Mesdames Fannie Poulson and M. Francis Mackay.

THE APRIL meeting was held in the beautiful new ranch-style home of Soror Helen P. Weatherford, a bride of six months, at Arundel-on-the-Bay.

Besides Mrs. Weatherford, hostesses included Evelyn Wilkey, Marian Ransome and Fannie Poulson. Attending were sorors Josephine Wallace, Gladys Ball, Mary Tucker, Vivian Young, Mabel Walters, Gladys Palmer, Anna Wilson, Willie Mae Scott and Francis Mackay.

While the girls were meeting John Weatherford played host to husbands who made the trip to Annapolis. They were Harrison Tucker, Philip Poulson and Cliff Mackay.

DELEGATE VERDA F. WELCOME was the speaker at the April meeting of the Baltimore Club of the National Association of Business and Professional Women last Tuesday at the YWCA.

She told the story of the Welcome Bill, HB83, prohibiting discrimination in hotels and restaurants, in the past session of the Maryland legislature. She advised members to know their legislators and told of steps being taken to publicize the opponents of HB83, who kept it in committee.

Mrs. Welcome presented the members with a list of names of the Maryland legislators. She also told of the Omnibus Bill 215, sponsored in the City Council by Councilman Walter T. Dixon, now being considered by the Governor's Commission on Human Rights. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Georgia Boston, legislative chairman. The club voted to support the Sitdown Strikers.

Mrs. Laurie Parker and Mrs. Boston gave a report from the Maryland State Civil Defense meet at the State Headquarters at Pikesville in March. Dr. Delores Hunt gave a report from the Maryland Educational Council.

Mrs. Lillian P. Jones presented plans for Founders Day on May 1 at which time Mrs. Anna M. Lawner, director of the Hunter Home for the Blind, will be presented the Sojourner Truth Award. The celebration will be held at Morgan Christian Center.

The president, Mrs. Alice F. Ford, outlined plans for the spring dance and Mrs. Lillian S. Watty, made the report on Receiving in honor of their debutante daughter, Sonja, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Branson welcomed a host of friends to their Windsor Avenue home, Saturday, at six.

Yellow tulips, green tinted chrysanthemums, stately gladioli and yellow roses formed the floral background for the receiving line.

MRS. LELIA POWELL, aunt of Miss Branson, received guests at the door. She wore a petal pink French crepe dress, matching shoes and rhinestone jewelry.

Mrs. Branson chose an Italian silk print with shoes matching the turquoise tone in the print. An orchid corsage and matching jewelry completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Viola Wright, also an aunt of the debutante, also in the line, wore beige embroidered silk organza double-tiered dress with mint - green shoes. The green shade was repeated in the setting of her gold jewelry. Her orchid corsage matched her dress.

Her silk pumps were of the same blue green color and her matching necklace and earrings were of crystal.

Dear friends in the Brotherhood of God through the love of Jesus Christ and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit. We ask the aid and cooperation of all mothers in encouraging their children to attend Bible classes and Sunday School regularly. We feel this early training is the teaching of Christ in an environment that will contribute greatly to the future happiness of both parent and child. It is on to us the people of God, to begin such a movement. Will Christ the inspiration of the Holy Spirit be the guiding light of paces and go with us, in this our chosen endeavor.
