Crownsville Auxiliary plans fall program

The Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville held its first Board meeting of the new year last Saturday at the hospital. Under the guidance of the new president, Mrs. Janet Woolridge, the group planned a full and interesting year's program.

The members of the new board are as follow: Mrs Janet Woolridge, president; Mrs. Eloise Richardson, first vice president; Mrs. Margret Diggs, second vice president; Mrs. Carletta McGruder, treasurer;

Mrs. Dorothy Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ethel Johnson, recording secretary; and Mrs. Jimmy LaForest, parllamentarian.

• • •

MRS. CLARICE RICHARDSON is membership chairman; Mrs. Norma Dillard, scholarship chairman; Mrs. Margarite Brown, canteen chairman; Mrs. Walter Jaharrise, house committee chairman; Mrs. Essie Sutton, occupational volunteer aids chairman;

Mrs. Mary Poole, community relations chairman; Mrs. Bettye Phillips, public relations chairman; Mrs. Hilda Higgen, coffee hour chairman; Mrs. Agnes Brown, nominating chairman; Mrs. Geneva Hodges, nearly - new shop chairman; Mrs. Catherine Torrence, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Margaret Diggs, volunteer chairman, and Mrs. Simon Carter.

• • •

THE AUXILIARY is giving a $500 scholarship to Mrs. Jacque Fassett, hospital social worker, to do graduate work this year at the University of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Fassett is the first to receive the scholarship which was set up by the Auxiliary last year.

The Auxiliary is planning to open two new canteens this year. One will be in the new Campanella Rehabilitation Building, and the other in the patient's community center which will be named for Mrs. Vashti Murphy, the first president of the Auxiliary.

The organization plans to increase the Volunteer Occupational Therapy Aids program, which has proved such an invaluable help in furthering mental health at the hospital.

It has been proclaimed as one of the finest and most effective volunteer services found in any mental hospital in the country. The public is urged to volunteer their services to help to carry on these many wonderful services.

• • •

SPEAKERS FOR the group were: Dr. Charles S. Ward, superintendent of the hospital; Dr. George Phillips, clinical director; Mrs. Bruzie Hamilton, coordinator of the Volunteer Service at Crownsville; Mrs. Harret Hodge, director of nursing service, and Samuel Altoff, assistant superintendent of the hospital.

The group plans a fund raising program at the hospital in October and will have its Tag Month Drive in November.

CO-OPERATIVE WOMEN'S CIVIC LEAGUE committee, which is planning the flower show, fashion show and social hour, to be combined in the annual celebration in the Carver Vocational School on Oct. 9th, includes, left to right, front row, Mesdames Vivian H. Baltimore entertained the Washington, D.C. Chapter a couple of Sundays ago with a picnic at the beautiful summer home of Bertha Forte.

Sippahles were served from 5 p.m. throughout the evening. Charlotte Marshall served the delicious dinner, consisting of turkey salad, pickled fruit, relish, cheesesticks.

The girls were all very chic and charming in their patio clothes ranging from shorts to dresses. The fellows were not to be forgotten either, they sported some very good looking shirts and slacks.

Everyone had fun renewing acquaintances and toward evening when the mosquitoes sent them indoors the girls planned dancing.

From Washington were Agatha Aikens, Betty Banks, Thelma Clarke, Regina Curry, Alma Davis, Miriam Deane, Dorothy Duncan, Naomi Evans, Patricia Hines, Clementine King;

Also Majorie Minons, Thesda Morris, Margaret Nash, Imogene Peck, Norma Pinkney, Jean Pratt, Ethel Randall, Elizabeth Reeves, Placide Roberts, Yvonne Simpkins, Rosa Taylor.

Also Audrey Thompson, Phyllis Washington, Louise Hill, and their husbands and escorts.

The Baltimore hostesses were Ray Carter, Doris Cole, Mabel Byrd, Bertha Forte, Lou Gilliam, Ruth Jennifer, Iris Mapp, Margaret Mason, Sarah Newton;

Doris Moore, Alice Pinderhughes, Theodosia Stokes, Jackie Watts, Dorothy Wood, Helen Queen, accompanied by their husbands.

POTPOURRI: Town folks are devastated over the decision of Mary Jane Brown to pull up stakes and settle in Westfield, N.J. Mrs. Brown has been the official hostess for entertaining bachelors, for career gals, who turned their club parties over to her, and for individuals who admired her expert party - giving, over the years. She has sold her North Avenue place and bought in the New Jersey city.

And in one of the chic little west end colonies the neighbors are all shook up over the antics in one of the pretty little manses. Some weeks back the lady of the house moved out...and almost immediately was replaced by a red - haired entertainer from down town. This week the Missus backed up a truck and took everything out of the house...that is, almost everything...she did leave the food found there, which she placed on the kitchen counter...but the refrigerator in which the food had been ...it went too!

Lena King Lee, attorney, school principal, head of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs...along with a score of other interests, under physician's orders to slow up, is taking time out for rest. Lunching at Hutzler's on Tuesdays, she, abetted by Maryo Oliver, was deep in the assembling of a wardrobe that will see her through a Caribbean cruise within a few weeks. She along with Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Alleyne will take a leisurely look at the Islands.

Clarice La. V. Brooks, young Baltimore designer, displayed her winter collection as a "Designer's Showcase" at the YMCA, Sunday. She has done some exceptional things ... such as the growing fashionable stole...but which she zips here and there to turn into a cape, also. And, with her ensembles she made the hats and even the gloves to be worn with them.

The showing was sponsored by the Emergency Club of the Falls Road AME Church, which is headed by Mrs. Beatrice Kennedy. Mesdames Beulah Scott and Sadie Turner were co-chairmen, and the club ladies flower filled their tables, fetched out their prettiest silver and crystal, plied guests with a variety of fancy sandwiches, cakes and punch.

Over at Knox Presbyterian Church, at the same time, Mrs. Florine Washington was chairman for the unit of United Presbyterian Women at a delightful "Old English Tea," where she served practically the same menu, and refreshed guests mentally with a program of speeches and songs. Had made a flower of the reception hall with artistic variances, flower boxes and original drawings.

Mrs. Jenkins host to wives

Pre-election pointers will be part of the program when Mrs. Martin D. Jenkins entertains the Morgan State College Faculty - Trustee Wives Club on Sunday, Oct. 2, at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Jenkins, wife of Morgan's president, has invited three guest speakers, Maryland House of Delegates members, Ernest Corbin, and Verda Welcome and Mrs. Elaine Jenkins of the Republican Committee of the District of Columbia.

Dr. G. James Fleming, Morgan professor of history and political science, will moderate.

This annual affair is one of the highlights of the autumn season at Morgan. The usual November date has been advanced in order to allow members to hear these varied political views well in advance of the presidential election.

Club members and guests will gather at Mrs. Jenkins' home for this very special event.

BRIDAL SHOP NOTES

Flo and Bea Bridals, formerly in Sa - Lee, will be in their new store on Mondawmin, this Saturday, opposite Food Fair.

Doubet's in Mondawmin has a special wedding ring club you can join. They offer you a lay-away plan with no interest. Do stop in at Doubet's and ask about their plan and say you saw her at the AFRO.

If you are planning to be married this fall, do call and write me today. I have free gift coupons for you that will save you time and money.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

In planning your fall wedding ...you smart gals who intend to cook might like to use Mrs. Jean Harris' recipes for punch and a 4 - tiered wedding cake.

At a recent wedding, this 4-tiered cake was used as the centerpiece of the bride's table. The bride and groom, white roses, pans and pastry tools may be purchased from any bakery and the tools from any bakery supply store, or some 5 and 10's.

Small sandwiches were displayed on silver trays with a silver punch bowl on one end a silver coffee service on the other. Small square cakes in pink and green added to the color of the table. The cakes may be bought in sheets from any bakery and cut.

MINTS AND NUTS completed the menu. The cloth was of white Maderia and the table was decorated with fern, silver candlelabras with white candles. More color was added to the table through the sandwiches and the frozen fruit ring in the punch bowl. (See recipes on this page.)

Some brides this season have varied this theme to use their sorority colors or to match the colors of their bridesmaids dresses.

Miss Clementine McMurren — Miss Katie Lucille Jones

Miss Robbie Clinkscale — Miss Carolyn Brown

4-Tier Wedding Cake

(By Mrs. Jean Harris, Afro Cooking School Demonstrator)

10½ cups sifted cake flour
12 teaspoons double acting baking powder
4 teaspoons salt
4 cups sugar
16 egg whites
2 cups sugar
2 cups butter (at room temp.)
4 cups milk
3 teaspoons orange extract
2 teaspoons almond extract
Ornamental frosting

Use 4-pans, 2 inches deep (12-9-6 and 4-inch. You may use a/1 lb coffee can in place of the 4 inch)

Prepare pans by lining with parchment or smooth brown wrapping paper cut to fit bottom. Grease bottoms or pans lightly, fit in linings then grease linings.

Measure sifted flour; add baking powder, salt and 4 cups of sugar. Beat egg whites until foamy. Add 2 cups of sugar gradually beating until meringue holds up in soft peaks.

Stir shortening to softenv Sift in dry ingredients. Add 3/4 of the milk and the extracts. Mix until all the flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer. Add remaining milk, add meringue and beat 1 minute longer. Pour batter into equal depth in each pan. Bake in slow oven : 325 degrees about 45 minutes or until done. Cool layers.

In making the wedding cake bake cake one day and frost the next day. Cake must be cool before frosting otherwise the frosting will crack.

Ornamental Frosting

1 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
6 pounds (about 24 cups) sifted confectioners sugar
10 egg whites unbeaten
½ cup cream (about)
4 teaspoons vanilla

Cream butter. Add salt and part of sugar gradually blending after each addition. Add remaining sugar, alternating with the egg whites first, then with the cream, until right consistency to spread. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla, blend. Frost top and sides of each layer as they are placed together. Decorate with flowers, leaves and bride and bridegroom.

Note: For easier handling of cake batter, divide recipe in half and make up in two batches.

Bride's Punch

2 cans quick frozen concentrated orange juice
1 can quick frozen concentrated lemonade
6 cups cold water
2¼ cups chilled gingerale
1 pkg (10 oz) frozen sliced strawberries just thawed (or use 1 cup mixed fresh fruit)

Club gives 'orchids' to the Hoovers

Members of the Malcom L. Friedman Auxiliary, an affiliate of the Brich Sholm Lodge, are sending "orchids" to Mr. and Mrs. Luke Hoover (Thelma), 1145 Ridgely St.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have donated their services to the lodge and auxiliary in a drive to raise funds for cancer research.

Mrs. Ida Friedman, mother of the man for whom the auxiliary was named, said, "They are wonderful people."

"Our whole organization has been touched by the spirit they have show. They have given their everything."

MALCOLM FRIEDMAN was a student at the University of Md., Medical School where he had received a fellowship to do cancer research, when the disease claimed his life.

The auxiliary plans a rummage sale Oct. 10 at 1214 Pennsylvania Ave., and Mr. Hoover will pick up and deliver any rummage donated to the organization.

Mr. Hoover and his wife are not members of the organizations.

AFRICAN GUEST — Mrs. Dorothy C. Parker will be a guest in Africa during the Independence celebrations in Lagos, West Africa on Oct 1.
