On The Town

WITH THE PUB CRAWLERS

Well now, like greetings all ye lovers of the wild, cool scene— Pub Crawlers want to clue you in on the latest happenings in the after-dark world.

First off, be informed that the "Favorite Barmaid Contest" is away and winging.

On your next trek to your pet fountain of joy, you'll probably spy placards and a place to cast your vote for "Queen of the Barmaids."

Best thing for you to do is clip out the ballot—'tis here in this paper today, and carry it along with you.

In addition to the cash prizes for winners of the contest, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall of the Gateway to Beauty Beauty Salon on Pennsylvania Ave. and Sanford Pl., will give a free hairdo to the Queen.

BIGGEST NEWS on the scene this week is the grand opening of the new dining room at Maceo's Lounge at 1926 N. Monroe St.

Pub Crawlers have been watching the development of this top spot, and the new decorations and facilities are really something to see. Be sure to note that really wild ceiling.

The whole bit is done in varying shades of tasteful blue, and the food matches in excellence the delightfulness of the decor.

Maceo and Ruth Paysour really deserve the plaudits of nightlifers for a really forward step in giving the Big B a comfortable place to eat, sip and enjoy pleasant company. Congratulations from the Pub Crawlers.

NORTH END LOUNGE, where Gay Street meets North Ave., is rapidly gaining renown as the spot where old friends meet.

Besides featuring the modern sounds of the Gary Bartz combo on week ends, week days are devoted to specials.

There are such things as "Social Security Night," or "AFRO Night." On these various nights, double drinks are sold for the price of singles. And a goodly crowd is making the scene for fair.

FRANK REDDISH'S Dotson's Club, out on Furnace Branch Rd., in Glen Burnie has started off the fall season with a large bang.

Deejay Sammy Jay is on tap emceeing and packaging shows for the club. Productions are called "Swinging Affairs of 1961." Sammy is singing the praises of a new singing discovery Herman Hawkins who is appearing weekends along with the Jack Perkins Trio.

Happenings take place on Thurs., to Sun., with Thursday nights devote to what the Crawlers call "pleasant surprises." Like last Thursday was "Beatnik" night, with prizes for the best costumes.

There will be Monte Carlo night, Shimmy night, etc. Better pick up.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Baltimore soprano to leave soon for Portuguese Africa

By ADAH K. JENKINS

MAIL - BOX: From Theresa Greene Coleman at Port - of - Spain, Trinidad, B.W.I. where she completed a concert tour of the Carribean, including Jamaica, Curacao, Havana (Cuba), Puretio Rico and Trinidad.

The Baltimore soprano is returning this week for a New England performance, followed by a Town Hall (N. Y.) recital on Sept. 26, after which she leaves immediately for an extensive tour in Portugese Africa.

One recalls the rare gifts of this brilliant singer when she sang operas while in her teens at Douglass High School. After winning the Marian Anderson Award and a scholarship at Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia one seccess followed another, and she was ing a concert season in Brazil, Buenos Aires and Caracas. She is under the management of Columbia Artists, Inc.

In private life this young artist of real personal charm is the wife of Gilbert Coleman, with whom she makes her home in Manhattan.

SPOTLITE CLUB OF THE WEEK

Club in the spotlight this week is Walter Brown's Uptown Bar, at Edmondson Ave. and Monroe St.

Just one year old, this spot has really become a place to see and be seen.

There's a party every night. Pub Crawlers stopped in on the night of the celebration of Cossocks Nite and found the place comfortably crowded and swinging all the way.

Oh, there were fancy hats, free champagne and all the trimmings. Spied Cossock Alvin Townes who made sure that everyone present enjoyed themselves.

PUB CRAWLER Sare willing to bet that if you stayed at the Uptown long enough, you'd see everyone in Baltimore who ever visits a nightclub. That's how popular the club is, and rightfully so.

Walter Brown has created an atmosphere here that makes you want to come again — there's the intimacy of a private club yet a genial camaraderie that makes strangers become friends, and closing time come too soon.

On the Town proudly salutes the Uptown Bar — Spotlight Club of the Week.

IN DIVOICE COURT

22-day marriage is dissolved by court

Testimony that his marriage, lasted only 22 days because his wife decided she didn't like married life, won a divorce for Albert T. Jacobs, Monday.

Mr. Jacobs, who lives at 3412 Fairview Avenue, and is on the faculty of School No. 140, said he and Mrs. Estelle H. Jacobs were married on Sept. 23, 1957.

"Estelle was dissatisfied and unhappy, so she packed and went back to live with her mother," he said.

The desertion took place on Oct. 15, the same year, he said.

Charles Howard Jr. was attorney for the husband.

MRS. IDA ELIZABETH BULLOCK, 1215 Patterson Park Ave., who also charged that she was deserted, testified that her marriage to Willie Albert Bullock was short lived.

Married on April 13, 1955 her husband left on June 24, 1955, she said.

"He left me. He said he didn't want to be married any longer," she testified.

Mrs. Bullock was represented by William M. Toadvine, attorney.

ON THE OTHER HAND, Mr. and Mrs. Chick Jenkins ended a marriage that had lasted 27 years and produced eight children.

The decree went to Mrs. Catherine Jenkins of 2126 Baker St., who said that she and Mr. Jenkins just couldn't get along, and decided to separate.

Two children, not yet adult, were also divided, the oldest, 18, going with the father; and the youngest, 16, staying with the mother.

MRS. JACQUELINE MILES won a divorce from Carl Miles, this week, but under a stipulation, lost custody of their eight year - old son.

The 26-year-old wife, who gave her address at 1907 E. North Avenue, will, however, have the right to visit the child at reasonable times.

Mr. Miles had filed a cross bill under which he said that his wife had deserted him. This bill was dismissed. Her divorce was granted under volunteer separation.

They were married on October 13, 1950 and separated on April 24, 1956.

CHARGES THAT Mrs. Annie Anderson has been unfaithful to him won a divorce for Clemmie Anderson of 2330 Brooklyn Avenue.

Mr. Anderson testified that Mrs. Anderson admitted to him that she had been intimate with another man over a period of years. He consented to her having custody of their four children, though he added that he did not believe her to be a fit mother to rear the children.

He also agreed to pay to her $25 per week for the children's support.

His witness, Robert Strong of 1829 N. Caroline St., named the other man as a James Stockett, and said that he had seen him and Mrs. Anderson together, in an affectionate embrace on several occasions.
