West Coast record firm prexy gets annulment

By A. S. "DOC" YOUNG

LOS ANGELES— (ANP) Dootsie Williams, wealthy recording company president last week was granted an annulment of his 10-year-old marriage to Mrs. Josephine Williams, a former executive of the firm, in Superior Court.

In handing down a decision on the case, bitterly fought over for a period of nine months, Judge Jesse J. Frampton upheld Williams' contention that the marriage was null and void because Mrs. Williams had failed to divorce a previous husband, Ernest Billups, whom she had married in Texas.

ALONG WITH the annulment, Williams was granted all rights to Dooto Record, largest colored-owned firm of its kind in the nation, and affiliated publishing, manufacturing and distributing companis.

He also retained title to three lots, which comprise the site of Dooto's proposed new plant, plus another unimproved piece of property.

MRS. WILLIAMS was granted ownership rights to the spacious ranch-type home they built several years ago in South Los Angeles, plus cash and other property totaling $100,000.

She was given half interest in a 1959 Cadillac (she will purchase the other half interest from Williams), but Williams retained his 1959 white Cadillac convertible, two new Pontiac station wagons, plus piano, films, recording tapes and other personal effects now lodged in their former home.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

St. John's plays host to Music Teachers group

St. John's College, Annapolis, Md. was host to the Maryland State Music Teachers Association at its fourth annual convention.

The formal business which opened Sunday was preceded by a "Play Day" on Saturday with a tour of historic Annapolis and a boat trip on the Severn River, followed by an informal supper.

Following the impressive services at the U.S. Naval Academy Chapel the convention was called to order by Mrs. Elizabeth R. Davis, president of the Maryland branch of the Music Teachers Association.

Arland F. Christ - Janier, vice president of St. John's extended greetings to the assembled delegates from Maryland and the District of Columbia.

HIGHLIGHTS OF the convention were two panel discussions and an address by Miss Grace L. Barber on "The Why of Music Settlement Schools."

Frank Crockett, president of the Southern Division of the National Music Teachers Association, who spoke at the annual dinner, gave a resume of the national program in relation to the regional division and to the state branches.

Hugh O'Meagher, harpsichordist and pianist, John Richardson, violinist and Wallace Terani, 'cellist were guest artists for the convention public concert in the Francis Scott Key Memorial Hall of St. John's College.

Heard at this event were sonatas by Telemann, a contemporary of Johann Sebastian Bach and by C. Phillip Emmanuel Bach, the gifted son of the great master. The modern period was represented by the Italian composer, Casella and by Dvorak in the "Dumky Trio" (of nine movements) based upon Central European dances.

There was an extensive exhibit of musical teaching materials that attracted the delegates between sessions. The annual business session and executive committee meeting closed the convention, which was arranged by Mrs. Nina V. Ingraham, chairman, assisted by seven committees.

Officers of the Maryland branch are: Mrs. Elizabeth R. Davis, president; H. Emerson Myers and Gerald E. Cole, vice - presidents; Miss Muriel H. Costello, recording secretary; George R. Woodhead, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Katigne N. White, treasurer and Albert E. Will, historian.

Among the Baltimoreans attending the convention were: Meadames Katrine White, Carol Blanton - Diggs and Celia McLeod.

MORTON FELDMAN, young American composer, who is writing music for the forthcoming picture "Something Wild" has become affiliated with Broadcast Music, Inc.

CALENDAR: FRIDAY, Sept. 30 at 8:15 p.m., the auditorium of Lemmel High School, Daniel Comegys, lyric baritone will appear in concert.

Included on Mr. Comegy's program will be art songs by Hugo Wolf, the distinguished post - Romantic German composer, whose anniversary is being celebrated this year.

He will sing also Italian, French and English offerings that promise a choice evening of leider music.

Heading the committee for the benefit for St. Edward's R. C. Church School, is Mrs. Phillathia Hall.

There are a limited number of children's tickets at special rates, which may be secured by calling Mrs. Hall at LA. 3-8483 or at St. Edward's School, Poplar Grove and Lafayette Ave., where she is a lay member of the faculty.

SUNDAY, OCT. 2 at 4 p.m. at Douglas Memorial, Madison and Lafayette Aves., Thomas H. Kerr, Jr. will be given a concert in the first of the 1960-61 Music Series sponsored by the church. The soloist, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Henderson Kerr, is a member of the faculty of Howard University School of Music and has made numerous appearances in organ and piano recitals.

SUNDAY, OCT. 9 at 5 p.m. at Grace AME Church, 677½ Winters Ave, Catonsville, Weldon J. Irvine will give an instrumental recital, playing on ten string and wind instruments.

Programmed are solos for mandolin, violin, trumpet, guitar, tenor banjo, soprano and alto saxophones, trombone and clarinet.

Bertie Valentine will accompany at the piano. The Rev. C. C. Brown pastor of the church, will conduct the closing devotions and Mrs. Pinnie Ross will introduce Mr. Irvine and also present the dramatic reader, Mr. Irvine is director of music at Sollers Point High School and conductor of the City Park Concert Band.

SATURDAY, OCT. 8, at the Baltimore Museum of Art, Wyman Park Drive, near Charles and 31st Sts., the Rudie String Quartet will give the first of the 1960 - 61 annual Young Musician Series.

Single tickets for adults (accompanying children) and young people may be obtained at the door. Children under nine years of age are NOT admitted. Patrons interested in securing subscriptions for the entire series of four concerts may do so by writing Mrs. W. F. Gerringer, Green Spring Ave., Lutherville, Md.

DATA 'N' CHATTER

By DARCY DEMILLE FOR ANP

FROM HOLLYWOOD TO HARLEM . . . Have you noticed that Nina Simone and Marian Anderson are look - alikes???

"Tambourines to Glory", the Langston Hughes book turned into a play, will feature Hazel Scott, Nipsey Russell and Clara Ward.

It's a boy for Jazz organist Jimmy Smith and his "Joy". They've dubbed the little fella Junior — James Oscar that is. He was born in the city of "brotherly love."

Looks like ole Bill Marshall really likes it in gay paree. Herself he is learning the language at a famed French school.

Didja know that Don Jeffries, brother of the 'Flamingo boy' Herb, was Gary Crosby's best man??? Interesting, eh wot . . .

SORRY TO hear that Pearlie Mae's back is acting up again. That's why she missed a recent show at the swank Cocoanut Grove (out Hollywood way). Seems she is suffering from a ruptured spinal disc. The 60 odd persons in her show carried out the show in the best 'show must go on' tradition.

Billy Kenny, one of the stars of the Ink Spots, is now going it alone in gay ole Gotham. He recently opened to SRO at the Blush Roundtable in New York City. He will remain there one month at least.

Eartha Kitt will return home in time for her first child to be born, even is she does "love it over there".

IT WAS shocking to learn of the sudden death of Oscar Peterson in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Only 37, the great Jazz pianist who showed remarkable skill in adapting his style to the cello, had just completed a gig at an art exhibit when he was stricken. The medics did not disclose the cause of death. His beautiful wife who earlier presented him with twins is in state of shock.

BALTIMORE AFTER DARK

On The Town

WITH THE PUB CRAWLERS

AFRO Favorite Barmaid Contest is winging down the lane now, and you can help your favorite win simply by cutting out the coupon ballot— there's one in this issue.

You'll find a ballot box in all the participating clubs, so cut out that ballot now, slip it in your wallet so you can deposit it when you go out on the town.

Some of the barmaids vying for "Queen of the Barmaids" honor include.

Shirley Leonard, at the Lucky Number Club, who says the drink she likes best to mix is Zombie or Singapore Sling.

Hannah McGaine, Alhambra, prefers mixing Tom Collins.

Gloria Gee, Walter Brown's Uptown Club, claims she specializes in the dry martini.

Virginia Summers Lucky Number, likes to put together a whiskey sour.

Others enrolled in the contest include: Marion Monroe, Maria's Lounge; Irene Talley, Red Fox; Doretha Powe, North End Lounge; and May Collins, Lucky Number.

To all those ladies who haven't entered yet, Pub Crawlers advise that the situation be rectified at once. There's no entry fee—all you have to do is fill out an application blank and bring it to the AFRO office, where we'll make a beautiful picture of you at no charge.

If you don't have an application blank, ankle on down to the office and we'll be glad to give you once.

There's 100 green bucks for the first place winner; 50 for number two, and five bucks for the runners up.

Any barmaid employed by an AFRO advertiser is eligible . . . Pub Crawlers will be looking for you.

PICK UP on what's happening in the Big B. Like the other dark scene, is swing for fair, and Pub Crawlers have been there to put you in the know, Joe.

Started on the town out Glen Burnie way at Frank Reddish's Dotson's Club which just keeps jumping along. Jack Perkins and the Combo mount the podium weekends, but there is more.

Sammy Jay, emcee of the show, which is called, "Swinging Affairs of 1961," has brought in singer Herman Hawkins who is a real show stopper. Add to this the Madison Gentleman, which incidentally will appear at New York's Apollo Theatre on the 14th, and the whole house rocks.

Thursday, is Shimmy Night, with the Voguettes being saluted. 'Tis also "Crazy Pants," night and promises to be gas.

NORTH END LOUNGE has the Gary Bartz trio on tap for the weekend music every night is happenings night here, however, with various clubs and groups being saluted.

Next Tuesday, is given over to AFRO night and promises to be a real deal. Bar is presided over by Doretha Powe, one of the entrants in the AFRO Favorite Barmaid Contest.

ON TO THE CARNIVAL LOUNGE where music is provided nightly by Gene Smith and the Forenotes, Pub Crawlers listened to Gene warble a few tunes during the past seven, and are here to report that this guy can make a ballad sit up and take notice.

interesting to note too, he plays drums standing up. You must catch them on your after-dark tour.

Speaking of music, you ain't heard nothing yet, until you pick up on the really cool sounds that are on hand at the Red Fox each weekend.

First off, there is Count Lantz and the group, undoubtedly one of the best modern sound groups in town. And when they backstop the equally terrific Ruby Glover, we try you to keep from patting your feet.

MACEO'S LOUNGE, which has earned the rep of being the place where friends meet, can now proclaim it's "the place where friends meet to eat."

The dining room is open now, and you've just got to try it. 'Course the bar, open seven days a week, ya know, is still the meeting place for after - dark strollers in the know.

Showtime, happens three times nightly: 9:30, 11, and 12:30 at Chicks where Fabulous Flink Johnson heads up a torrid revue guaranteed to keep you happy.

Mickey Fields and the ork provide the sounds and dancers Tarza Young, Sheila Renee and Mikki provide the gyrations calculated to appease lovers of the exotic dance.

It's impossible to be "On The Town" without dropping by Walter Brown's Uptown Club where the anniversary celebrations are still going on.

Besides being a top night spot, The Uptown is the place where the young businessmen and sports figures congregate at lunch time. You'll have to visit the club and check for yourself. Pub Crawlers can tell you that the food is delicious.

JUST IN case you plan your tour before you leave home, don't forget to put these clubs on your itinerary. You won't be disappointed.

Club Astoria, Knotty Pine, the Vilma, Jones Cocktail Lounge, Avenue Bar, Club 401 and Club Tahiti. In case you get hungry, don't forget to look in at the Alhambra, there's food there until all hours.

LUCKY NUMBER ENTRIES — Joining the ranks of the young ladies seeking fame and cash prize this week were these charmers from the Lucky Number Night Club. Mrs. Virginia Sims (left) and Mrs. May Collins (right) are the ladies. They are entered in the AFRO's Favorite Barmaid Contest. For complete details, read the ad in this edition and the night club column.

Spotlite Club of the Week

In the Spotlite this week is the Lucky Number Club, 711 Poplar Grove St. which has rapidly become a MUST on the nightclub scene.

The club has many things to recommend it, but the main emphasis is on good entertainment.

Currently featured on the bandstand is Cornell Muldrow and his group, and take it from us, they have the customers doing the shimmy on their barstools.

With the new arrangement of the podium, it's in the center of the bar now, every seat is a ringside seat. This in itself goes to make a cozy sort of atmosphere that blend the music perfectly.

Then there are the decorations, an all - over draped ceiling with indirect light shining through gives a sheen of intimacy to the entire proceedings.

UPSTAIRS, THE Rose Room is available for parties, dances, cabarets or what have you Manager of the club is Watty, who is smiling. Watty, who is smiling these days since the patrons have flocked to the Lucky Number to get in on the happenings.

Last Friday when Pub Crawlers came to call, the velvet rope was up with niteliers waiting to get in.

So when you make it over there, and you really must, make it early. It's a cinch you won't want to leave until the last note is played.

On The Town salutes the Lucky Number, a Club that really is swinging all the way.

Asks florist shop at 3000 Edmondson

A request to locate a florist shop in the basement of 3000 Edmondson Ave. is scheduled to be heard by the Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeals at 1 p.m., Oct. 11.

No hearings are scheduled for the coming Tuesday, a normal meeting day.

Legal assistance discussion topic

What happens when the accused has no money for legal assistance? That's what a panel of Washington attorneys will discuss on "District Roundtable" Sunday, from 9:35 - 10 p.m., on WWDC.

Participant in the discussion will be Kenneth A. Pye, Washington attorney and instructor at the Georgetown University School of Law; John Bodner Jr., and Thomas O'Malley, assistant United States attorney.

Political debate set at Md. Stae

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. — Democrats and Republicans will have their say before an expected capacity audience, Sunday, October 2, at 6 p.m. in Kiah Auditorium.

Sponsored by the Maryland State College's Y.M.C.A., the Democrats will be represented by Congressman Thomas F. Johnson and Attorney Hamilton P. Fox.

The Republican viewpoint will be presented by Senator Harry T. Phoebus and former Congressman Edward T. Miller.

They will discuss, "The political issues of the 1960 presidential campign."

Dr. W. A. Low, Head of the Department of Social Sciences will serve as chairman. The YMCA has invited the public to attend.

Radiation head

Howard E. Chaney, Division of Occupational Health, Maryland State Department of Health, will head the Department's expanding radiation control program, according to Dr. Perry F. Prather, Director.

When making the announcement, Dr. Prather pointed out that radiation control could well become one of the major public-health considerations of the future.

African students to discuss Congo

The Americans All radio series will feature a panel discussion by African students from many parts of the continent on recent events in the Congo and the United Nations Sunday on WOOK.

The students will speak on "Betrayal of the Congo." The expected participants are N. D. Onyenu, of Nigeria; Koba Moussa, Guinea; Ahmed Lawaha, Somalia; William Socko Davis, Liberia; B. Asfaw, Ethiopia, and Prof. M. Nlisane, of the Union of South Africa who is the only non - student participant.

Ex-governor speaks at Morgan assembly

Theodore R. McKeldin, former governor of Maryland, will be guest speaker at Morgan State College Oct. 19, 1 a.m. in Hurt Gymnasium.

The Institute for Political Education and the Young Republican Club are sponsoring the assembly.

Mr. McKeldin will explain what the Republican party is, what it has done, what it stands for and why Americans should elect a Republican as President of the United States.

In April, a mock Democratic Convention was held at the college and Paul M. Butler, then chairman of the Democratic National Committee was guest speaker.
