Demand and Mrs. Annabelle Payne.

Speaking of old Baltimore residents whom everyone knows, good news comes about Ruth Shipley who is greatly improved after an operation at Johns Hopkins and Miss Sallie Logan, also much better, at a rest home in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bertha Chew, 908 N. Carey St., had as week-end guests Mesdames Mae Boykins and Thelma Jones of Philadelphia.

• • •

ANNA COLEMAN, recently returned from study in Paris, Pierian Louise Parham Lamb, Dorothy Atkins, Lucille Venture, Lettie Wilson, Carrie Johnson, drove to New York on the week-end.

On Saturday morning, they attended the Annual Founders Day Awards Luncheon of the West Chester Business and Professional Womens Club at the Astoria Starlight Room.

Among recipients of awards was Mrs. Lamb's sister, Mrs. Bettye Parham Thomas, who where she opened branches of her beauty supply firm.

Among guests were Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller and Mrs. William C. Handy who joined the 500 guests in singing, "Happy Birthday To You" to the two sisters' mother, Mrs. Carrie McFarham, who celebrated her 80th birthday.

After an evening shopping in Greenwich Village, all drove to the Albany Post Rd., Croton-On-Hudson Thomas estate, for dinner.

Lovely is the word for the Spanish villa which has an African room filled priceless Nigerian works of art.

• • •

INTERESTING are the Nigerian natives who serve as houseboys.

A neighbor sent in smoked turkey — all so entrancing, the Baltimore schoolmarms who are teachers at Kenwood, Arbutus and Sollers Point High Schools (Baltimore County), wanted to stay a while longer.

Crownsville Auxiliary cited for contributions

The Occupational Therapy Volunteer group of the Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital has been praised in an evaluation meeting by the hospital staff and other notables in the field of Mental Health for the fine work it has done with the chronic and regressed patients at the hospital.

This group began working with these patients three months ago and to date 15 of the original 57 have been released, 20 have moved up for work evaluation and 22 are still in therapy.

The volunteers serve as a link for the patients to the world outside.

The volunteers are divided into two sections, one meets with the women patients on Monday, and the other meets with the men on Wednesday. Each volunteer is assigned three patients with whom she works each week.

• • •

THIS SMALL group has done much to advance the cause of mental health, but more volunteers are needed to carry on and the work. Persons who are interested, may contact Mrs. Essie Sutton, chairman, at Madison 3-8831.

It was emphasized that the volunteers are not asking for money, or gifts, but the presence of people to give of themselves so the patient will not think the world has forgotten or rejects him.

The presence of the volunteer is the only contact the patient has with the outside world which is so vital to his recovery.

• • •

MRS. ESSIE SUTTON, chairman of the occupational therapy group; Mrs. Margaret Diggs, Mrs. Spencer Dobson, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Mary Glasgow, Mrs. Genevieve Yerrell, Miss Bertha Gibson, Mrs. Beatrice Beavens, Miss Martha Gibson, Mrs. Lucille Robinson, Mrs. Emma Daniels, wife of the Rev. Sidney Daniels of the Emmanuel Christian Community Church.

Other members of the group are Mrs. Mary Poole, Mrs. Catherine Green, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Jeannette Lowe, Mrs. Irma Widgeon.
