High motives, high style mark AKA's Freedom Ball

By BETTIE WILLIAMS

Alpha Kappa Alphas did it again!

Turning a subscription dance into a formal ball takes some doing. But the worthiness of the cause coupled with the impact the sit - down technique has upon American communities assured the success of the "Freedom Ball" from its inception.

As is known, out of the dance proceeds, funds will go to the American Council on Human Rights which is supporting the Student Sit-Down Movement.

THE FREEDOM BALL idea was conceived by Mrs. Edna O. Campbell, ACHR executive, and crystallized by Mrs. Vernice Reynolds, then basileus of the host chapter, Epsilon Omega. It had the generous support of city business, fraternal and social groups.

At the door of the Alcazar Ballroom where the benefit was held, guests were greeted by aoroes and given souvenir booklets on which appeared a quotation from Thoreau: "What other liberty is there worth having if we have not freedom?" The booklet with hundreds of names of well-wishers and advertisers, all interested in civil rights, set the tone for the evening.

Decorations included a colorful array of United Nations flags and fern in a graduated arrangement from stage to lowest step.

• • •

FLOYD ADAMS played popular ballads intermittently and during intermission featured an organ medley of patriotic songs, Joyce Picot McManus of Annapolis, sang a trio of patriotic songs, ending with "Lift Every Voice and Sing."

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of special guests by the chapter basileus, Dr. Gladyce Bradley Jones. They included Dr. Marjorie Parker of Washington, national president of ACHR and supreme basileus of AKA; Miss Mary Adams and Mrs. Bernice Hundley, chairman and co-chairman, respectively of the chapter's ACHR committee; and Mrs. Edna Campbell, board member and a former national president of ACHR;

Also Mrs. Emma G. Brinkley of Philadelphia, supreme antibasileus of AKA; Mrs. Emma G. Bright of this city, North Atlantic Region director; Mrs. Catherine Gross, general chairman of the Freedom Ball project; and students from Hopkins, Loyola, Goucher, the University of Maryland and Morgan State College, who are working in the Sit-Down Movement.

• • •

ALTHOUGH THE motive was infinitely more important than the ladies' gowns, the affair was definitely a high fashion one.

Taking cue from their hostesses, many of the feminine guests came attired in the most ornate formal ball gowns. Red predominated. Mrs. Lillian Parrott was in deep red chiffon with a draped neckline, tiny cap sleeves and a panel which, in its fullness resembled a train. Mrs. Leslie Ball wore a red brocade sheath the bottom of which was fluted.

Mrs. Joseph L. Press was in shocking pink, a sheath cut very low in the back and enhanced with an enormous deep-pink rosette. Incidentally, Mrs. Press, originally from Washington, D.C., is a recent bride.

• • •

MRS. MARGARET DRIVER wore a pink gown with a picture neckline and a fetching hemline which graduated from a short front to a floor-length back.

Mrs. Edna Stanford's deep pink taffeta was draped from shoulder to toe. Mrs. Florella Clark was charming in yards of old-rose chiffon, and Mrs. Edith Davidson in pink taffeta with a waist - to - floor panel which was appliqued with tiny white flowers.

• • •

ALSO IN the fashion spotlight was Miss Marion Crawford, lovely in a white - on - white striped satin ball gown, the satin hugging in yards of white net, beginning with a slit bodice, piped in waist, and bowed in the back from neckline to hem. Mrs. Ellen Russell wore a gown made of rows and rows of red net billowing out from her tiny waist. And Mrs. Jean P. Turpin wore a fitted pink taffeta creation. Across her shoulders was arranged a matching stole, and, on her arm, the full train which emanated from a surrounding overskirt.

MRS. WALTER DIXON appeared in a pink strapless taffeta gown, caught up in the front in an apron-effect. Mrs. Charlotte Harper was attired in taffeta, soft pink, in folds at the shoulder and in folds, forming a cummerbund at the waist.

In all white lace was Mrs. Vernieee Reynolds, whose exquisite strapless sheath was decorated by only a sparkling pin, elegant in its simplicity. Nymph - like Helena Hall gave a picture of luxuriousness, molded as she was in a strapless gown of white satin, whose only detail was a black satin bow at the end of the back strapless line, the bow streaming cascading to the floor.

Mrs. Elizabeth White chose white net, tiers of it, each made more glamorous by gold metallic piping and tiers of black net made up the eye-catching, decollete dress of Dr. Vivian Minder - Gilkes. Mrs. Agnese Brown also chose a gown of black net with gold applique all about the skirt; Mrs. Marion Gregory was in electric blue, and Mrs. Jerlyn Manning, a vision in a grey sequinned gown.

• • •

SPEAKING OF quiet loveliness, there was Mrs. Delmas Milbourne in flowing yellow chiffon, a gown with a shawl neckline, on which were embroidered yellow and green flowers, and down the back green velveteen bows. And a dream was Mrs. Rebecca Davis in gold brocade on beige, strapless with a panel back. Miss Barbara Gee chose aqua lace, fitted at the waist, with yards of rich colored lace falling to the floor.

To say the least, the platform guests made an array of beauty as they mounted the steps for presentation by the basileus; Mrs. Gladyce Jones, who was stunning in an egg-shell white satin gown, whose elegance was matched only by the sparkling tiara crowning her head.

Mrs. Marjorie Parker was wearing a pale blue gown as likewise was Mrs. Emma Brinkley, Mrs. Emma Bright, a Grecian beauty, appeared in pure white chiffon accentuated by a fuchia stole, and Mrs. Edna Campbell was elegant in a black sheath, all sequins, with a net interest in the back, emanating from the waist. Mrs. Bernice Hunley was in deep pink with a small sleeve, fitted waist and full skirt. Mrs. Catherine Gross wore black lace, exquisitely arranged to reveal aqua taffeta, reaching just to the ankles, out from which peeped her satin pumps. And Miss Mary Adams in black crepe, shirred from bodice to hemline.

Throughout the evening there was an inexhaustible supply of delicacies prepared by six town caterers, as well as music for dancing.

MAHALIA BELIEVES IN KENNEDY — "Senator Kennedy's the one," says Mahalia Jackson, "who can put a little more sun, and a little more hope in people's lives. The Democrats always try to help people get along by giving them a fair chance to earn their bread and have a home for their children and some hope for the future. Users say... "GLOVER'S STOPS FALLING HAIR"

...Here is What We Say:

Glover's promotes the healthy scalp condition necessary for normal hair growth. We believe the reason our users make bigger claims for Glover's than we do is simply this: They use Glover's and get results. As one user wrote about Glover's, "Heal the scalp of irritation and the hair takes care of itself." In one medicinal treatment Glover's cleanses and stimulates the scalp . . . relieves itching . . . removes scalp scale . . . leaves the hair soft, lustrous, and easy-to-manage . . . starts to control infectious dandruff and to heal infected scalp areas.

Here are the scientific facts: The average life of adult hair is from 2 to 4 years. In most cases, dead hair will be replaced by new. Usually, as the individual grows older, less and less replacement occurs. Thus, thinning hair may begin early or late, depending on the person. But it's never too soon to take measures to delay excessive hair loss. Start now—whatever your age.

Here is how Glover's works:
(1) The purest mineral base (non-asphaltic) petroleum and cosmetic lanolin lubricate and soften the scalp. (2) Refined oil of pine tar gives soothing, antiseptic relief. (3) The finest microground colloidal sulphur restores an important element to the skin necessary for normal tissue formation. (4) Mercaptone—an exclusive Glover additive—provides extra dandruff protection.

The simple, 3-step Glover treatment: (1) Apply Glover's and massage thoroughly. Leave on for 15 minutes. (2) Shampoo hair as usual. (3) Groom hair, then notice the remarkable new, fresh alive look . . . enjoy the clean, waked-up feeling your scalp has after the Glover treatment. That's all you do—Glover's does the rest.

TRY GLOVER'S DOUBLE MONEY BACK GUARANTEE:
Get the big, economy size of Glover's at your druggist's now. We are so sure that Glover's will correct your scalp condition that—if for any reason you are not satisfied with results—we will refund twice the purchase price upon receipt of unused portion.

TAU GAMMA DELTA SORORS observed Founders' Day on Sunday, in the home of Soror Gregory, Pi chapter was host.

Guest speaker for the occasion was the Rev. Matthews R. Silver, pastor of Concord Baptist Church. He talked on the theme, "Adults' Responsibility to Youth." In his talk, he reminded the group that youth is made to dream and it is our responsibility as adults to help make those dreams a reality for the betterment of the community and world.

Mrs. Silver accompanied her husband during his dedication program. She also gave remarks to the group.

This observance served a two-fold purpose: Tribute was made to the eight founders of the National and the eight charter members of Pi Chapter. This was done in a beautiful manner by the Ladies of Pi Chapter. As each name was called, a red rose was placed in a vase of fern.

Soror Winnie refreshed the memories of previous activities as she read the history of the chapter.

"The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Soror Tate.

Soror McNair presided over the program.

LENA IS FOR KENNEDY — "I'm no politician," says Lena Horne, "but it just seems to me that a Democrat like John Kennedy cares more about people. He cares about all the things that still need to be done in this country, like more jobs and a better chance for everybody. Republicans talk pretty but Kennedy will do something about all the problems. That's what counts. That's why I'm for Senator John Kennedy for President."

"I can't tell you how much the telephone meant to me for the last six weeks," writes Mrs. Long

MRS. CARROLL G. LONG, of Salisbury, arranging rides for Joanne and Mike while she was convalescing.

"My foot and leg have been in a cast for the past six weeks. As a result, the telephone has been all-important to me—chatting with friends to relieve the boredom of having to stay home; getting rides for the kids; calling my twin sister and friends to do errands and take me shopping."

Mrs. Long went on to say, "A telephone seems to be the No. 1 necessity to kids. (She has two, Mike 16 and Joanne 11½.) The time and peace of mind which the telephone saved us are worth much more than the money involved."

The comforting knowledge that your telephone is always ready to keep you in touch with all the world outside your home, can't be measured in money alone. And yet if you were to keep a telephone diary, you too would probably find your phone more than pays for itself in money saved, as well as in time and travel.

Mrs. Long's telephone diary shows the money her phone saved her in just two weeks—and the time and mileage it saved her, and those who phoned to chat or lend a hand.
