BELAFONTE SAYS KENNEDY TALKS SENSE — "I am an arist, not a politician, but I am deeply interested as a citizen in the economic and political affairs of my country. I deeply believe that Senator John F. Kennedy is the man best qualified to be the next President of the United States. He has the intelligence, the dignity and the gift of talking sense to the American people. I am voting for him and I am urging every American citizen to vote for him also."

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

BY ELOISE RICHARDSON

AN ENTERTAINMENT worth looking forward to on Nov. 4 and 4 will be "The Fall Follies," to be presented by the woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital in the Roy Campanella Building on the hospital grounds at 8:30 p.m.

The show is filled with roaring comedy, exotic dancing and music and features a male chorus line with ten lovely dancing girls.

Also will be included top Baltimore singers and special dance numbers by a group of civic - minded teenagers. A special treat for the evening will be a series of novelty acts to be presented by the Arena Players under the direction of Sam Wilson.

The show is under the skillful direction of Mrs. Nikki Randolph, well - known for successful shows in Baltimore and New York, and Meredith Burche, one of the country's fine musicians, who will be in charge of the music.

All organizations especially in Annapolis, are urged to help in the sale of tickets, for this is a benefit program and all proceeds will be turned over to the auxiliary for needs in its volunteer program at the hospital.

The show is being staged gratis by the talent participating.

Mrs. Janet Woolridge is president of the auxiliary. Tickets may be obtained also through the hospital and Mrs. William H. Richardson.

COOK-PINKNEY Unity No. 141 of the American Legion held its formal installation of officers on Tuesday evening at the Elks Home.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the popular Men's Chorus of the Asbury Methodist Church under the direction of Roland Colbert.

Greetings were extended by visiting friends, Mrs. Ida E. Harris, founder of the unit, the commander of Cook-Pinkney Post, Fred DeJesus, and two past commanders, Thomas E. Harris and Edward V. Notis.

Officers were installed by Mrs. Carrie Milburn of Baltimore, chairman of Child Welfare of the Department of Maryland, who was assisted by Mrs. Helen Dorsey of Baltimore, secretary of Federal Unit No. 19.

Mrs. William H. Richardson gave a talk on Crownsville State Hospital and stressed the need for volunteers and support of the volunteer program.

Among other visitors were Mrs. Eulalia L'Aigle, secretary of the Guy C. Parlette Unit No. 7 and secretary of the 8 et 40 and Mrs. Vivian Johnson, color bearers.

violating a probated traffic sentence.

He was whisked away before daylight to prison, even before Judge Mitchell issued his refusal to cancel the sentence after a hearing on Wednesday.

Mrs. King, expecting a third child, and their two small children greeted Dr. King when he arrived in Atlanta aboard the chartered plane with Attorney Hollowell and his brother.

In addition to the call from Senator Kennedy, Mrs. King said that she had received calls from Gospel singer Mahalia Jackson, Chester Bowles, former Democratic Governor of Connecticut and from entertainer Harry Belafonte, expressing their sympathy and offering any possible help.

Several national organizations also protested Dr. King's imprisonment in appeals to Governor Vandiver, President Eisenhower and other Georgia state and local officials.

DR. KING was arrested in May in suburban DeKalb County on a charge of driving without a Georgia Driver's License. At the time, he was transporting author, Lillian Smith, to Emory University.

He was fined $25 and put on a year's probation, which he said he was not aware of until the matter came up during his arrest with others in the recent sitdown demonstrations in Atlanta.

Bond was granted when his attorneys offered a bill of exceptions.

Mr. Hollowell, chief counsel for the integration leader, said the case will be carried to the State Court of Appeals.

JUDGE MITCHELL said in his statement that he had "followed the law" in previous action that sent Dr. King to prison, but the new motion of the bill of particulars made a difference.

"Therefore, I have no alternative except to grant bail during his appeal in this portion of the case pending before me now," he said.

The Rev. Ralph G. Abernathy, president of the Montgomery Improvement Association, was in the group of ministers that attended the hearing for bond.

He said after court was over, "I'm beginning a campaign right now for Kennedy, because of the concern he has shown in this case. He has won my vote and, I believe, the vote of every colored person in America."

The judge said he received a call from a male voice of the Kennedy family. He didn't say the Nixon family. I was going to vote for Mr. Nixon, maybe. I hadn't made up my mind. But now I'm not going to vote for him.

"My folks have been struggling for justice for 350 years in this country," he added. "I owe Kennedy my vote and my influence to get all others to vote for him."

THE REV. A. D. KING said of bond for his brother, "We are happy that the occasion is this way."

He was the only member of the family in court. He spoke for others after talking with them by phone.

"We have been optimistic all along," he said. "We didn't believe there was any intention on the part of court officials to refuse to let him out one way or the other.

"I think the main concern was to say they had him in jail in Georgia. I believe this accounts for all the delay. The decision to release him could havt been made yesterday."

The Rev. Mr. King and the party flew to the Reidsville prison for his brother. A mass meeting was planned for Thursday night at Ebenezer Baptist Church, where the brothers serve as associate pastors and the father as pastor.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by Bernard S. Lee, a sitdown leader, and Col. A. T. Walden, attorney and community leader.

Horace T. Ward and Vernon E. Jordan Jr. were members of the defense staff for Dr. King.

In addition to the Rev. Mr. Abernathy, other ministers at the hearing were the Revs. Wyatt Tee Walker, Southern Christian Leadership Conference; B. J. Johnson, National Baptist Convention; E. H. Dorsey, Atlanta pastor, and the Rev. P. L. Jones, president of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers Union.
