Chi Eta Phi sorority observes Founders Day

From a small idea has grown an ideal which is practical in principles, inspirational in its services and realistic in its scope.

Chi Eta Phi Sorority was founded in October 1932 by Mrs. Alleen Carrington Ewell, a nurse who felt that there was a need for an organization devoted to a closer union among nurses, an organization which would have as its aim service to others. Chi Eta Phi Sorority has flourished and grown under its motto — "Service to Humanity."

COOKING IS FUN

Food is life! Get nutrient needs into each day's diet

By MARY ALDEN

The good food that you eat daily becomes you. It helps make your hair shiny, your complexion clear, your bones strong and keeps your muscles in tone.

It's so important for you and your family to partake of a well balanced diet each day, for food is life.

IT IS MORE than important that foods from the four-basic groups be included the day's menu.

These include the bread - cereal group, the vegetable fruit group, the meat group and the milk group.

• • •

THE BREAD AND CEREAL group provide the carbohydrates which are sources of energy for the body. This group, particularly the whole grain and enriched cereals, also supplies protein, iron and B vitamin.

Fruits and vegetables supply the necessary vitamins A and C which help keep organs and skin in tone and are necessary for vision.

Vitamin C, or ascorbic acid, is needed to avert infection and keeps gums and skin in good condition. It is wise to have four or more servings of this group every day.

• • •

THE MEAT GROUP contains proteins which benefit your hair skin, nails, muscles, nerves and other body tissues. Meat, fish, poultry, eggs, nuts and legumes are included in this group.

The milk group supplies calcium, protein, riboflavin, vitamin A and other nutrients to the diet. Calcium is a mineral that the body needs to keep teeth and bones healthy.

Get more milk into the diet by substituting milk for a part of the liquid used in cooking. For instance use half milk and half water for preparing hot breakfast cereal.

• • •

BUNBURGERS — a tasty mixture of ground beef, evaporated milk and seasonings topped with cheese, is a highly nutritious item. Along with a bun it combines the bread, milk and meat groups.

Use an egg, two-thirds cup undiluted evaporated milk, a pound and a half ground beef, a half cup fine cracker crumbs.

Also one and a half teaspoons salt, a fourth teaspoon pepper, a teaspoon dry mustard, a fourth cup finely chopped onion, a half cup finely chopped green pepper, four to six slices American cheese and six hamburger buns.

Combine milk, ground beef, cracker crumbs, salt, pepper, mustard, onion and green pepper. Mix gently but thoroughly.

Form into 12 thin patties (about a third cup for each patty). Split hamburger buns. Place meat patty on each bun half, covering bun completely. Place on broiler pan about five to seven inches from heat.

Broil five to seven minutes, or to taste. Top each burger with sliced cheese. Return to broiler until cheese melts. Serve at once.

A good citizen registers and then he votes. Be a good citizen. Study the candidates and issues NOW. Be prepared to VOTE on Tuesday, Nov. 8. Polls open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

RACE RELATIONS EXPERT VOTES FOR KENNEDY —"I find Senator John Kennedy a man that I admire," says Frances Harriet Williams, Secretary of the Board of the St. Louis Urban League and former associate of the Truman Committee on Civil Rights. "I see him as a man able to educate himself, a man capable of real but controlled emotion, a man who rises to the situation at hand unafraid of opposition and willing to act on the important rather than be stopped by the difficult and unimportant. So I am for Senator John Kennedy for President. Hope you are also."

WEEK'S BEST BUYS

S. potatoes, beef, high on ecomony list

By VIRGINIA L. McLUCKIE

If you are a keen shopper you will make food selections from the seasonal offerings for its use, nutritive value and money value, says Virvinia McLuckie, Food Economist, Baltimore Office, University of Maryland, Department of Markets.

The fall produce counter offerings are those that add color and taste appeal to meals. Two yellow vegetables are on the best buy list, sweet potatoes and rutabagas. Yellow and dark green vegetables are considered excellent sources of vitamin A and it is recommended that the diet include a serving at least every other day.

• • •

RUTABAGAS are very often mistaken for yellow turnips because they look similar and have yellow flesh.

Actually they are a cross between turnips and some form of cabbage. The market supply comes from nearby areas and many are imported from Canada. Learn to use this economical vegetable as they are a perfect stew vegetable.

They are also good in patties. Mashed rutabagas and carrots are another variation. Diced rutabagas in herb butter is another tasty idea.

• • •

SWEET POTATOES are coming from Maryland and Virginia. Remember, the choice you have is for either moist or dry types which are commonly referred to as yams or sweet potatoes.

Prices are attractive for these sweets that lend themselves to baking, frying, mashing, boiling with a variety of sauces or flavorings when served as vegetables. Sweet potatoes lead a dual life as dessert makings in pies, custards, and puddings and breads.

• • •

CABBAGE is again on the best buy list. The fall crop of cabbage this year is twenty-seven percent larger than last year and quality is very good. Cabbage can be made plain or fancy, served raw or cooked and still be a budget stretching vegetable.

There is no substitute for the flavor celery imparts to meals, regardless of how it is used. One of the best buys is a crisp green stalk of pascal celery from nearby New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, or from Michigan. Include celery on your market list.

At the fruit counter the best buys are apples, bananas, and grapefruit. The supply of cijrus from Florida is beginning to move into market with increasing receipts of grapefruit. Prices are lower on smaller sized fruit.

• • •

APPLES CONTINUE in heavy supply for this time of year and movement into consumption has been brisk from THIS Fall's harvest. Prices are higher on Delicious varieties while more attractive prices are to be found on Staymans, McIntosh and Romes. Consumers will find four pound film bags most attractive buys.

Bananas are advocated for people of any age and are wholesome treats for children between meals or with meals. Supplies are about the same with the quality of Ecuador fruit improving seasonally.

• • •

CHICKEN, one of the best buys these days is probably appearing on your menu often. One of the most dynamic developments in agricultural food production in recent years has been the development of the commercial broiler industry. Use chicken often.

Beef is generally lower in price. Sales on steak have been providing families with more of the quick cooking cuts at lower pre. Watch for rd at lower price. Watch for red meat specials.

Rockfish is suggested as the whole fish best buy.

• • •

MASHED RUTABAGAS and carrots are made with two and one - half cups mashed cooked rutabagas, two and one-third cups mashed cooked carrots, two tablespoons butter or margarine, two teaspoons sugar, one - eighth teaspoon ground black pepper, three tablespoons minced onion, one and one - half teaspoons fresh lemon juice, one - fourth cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese, and two teaspoons salt.

Combine mashed rutabagas, carrots, butter or margarine, sugar, salt, black pepper, onion and lemon juice. Mix until fluffy. Pile in a one - quart buttered casserole or a nine - inch pie plate. Sprinkle with grated cheese.

Place under the broiler to melt cheese. Serve hot.

YIELD: Eight servings.

Olives enhance carrot salad

Ripe olives are simply wonderful to dress up some family favorite for company. "Black and Gold Salad," for example, is a variation of shredded carrot salad, brightened up with chopped parsley and given full-bodied flavor with glossy ripe olives. Keep this combination in mind for holiday entertaining.

For Black and Gold Salad use 1 cup ripe olives, 1 cup shredded carrot, ½ cup chopped parsley, ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ cup mayonnaise, salt and salad greens.

Cut olives in wedges. Combine with carrot, parsley, onion and mayonnaise. Add salt to tast. Serve on garnished salad plates.

Makes 6 servings.

Make a quick oyster stew

In the midst of election hustle and bustle, we homemakers still have to prepare family meals that are both nourishing and appetizing.

This recipe for Quick Oyster Stew really fills the bill! This is a thick, rich, hearty soup brimming with oysters.

QUICK OYSTER STEW looks and tastes elegant but it's really quite easy to fix. A can of cream of celery soup and a tall can of Pet Evaporated Milk make up the base.

For the perfect winter meal both delicious and nutritious, serve Quick Oyster Stew with crispy crackers, a green salad and a simple dessert.

QUICK OYSTER STEW is made with two cups fresh or frozen oysters, two tablespoons butter or margarine, one can cream of celery soup, one and two-third cups Pet-Evaporated Milk (thirteen - ounce can), one - half teaspoon salt, and few grains pepper.

Drain oysters. Measure liquid and add enough water to it to make two-thirds cup. Melt butter in a heavy two - quart saucepan. Add oysters and cook slowly just until their edges curl. Stir in oyster and liquid and rest of ingredients.

Heat and stir until steaming hot, but do not boil.

Serve hot. Makes four servings.
