TOP WESTERN HELD OVER AT THE MET

The King of Siam, King Solomon of the Israelites, Ramesses II of Egypt—all of these men rolled into one had to learn how to roll a cigarette the hard way.

Yul Brynner, who has convinced audiences as emperor, king and pharoah, labored mightily with a narrow piece of tissue paper, some strands of tobacco and fingers which didn't seem to do the job of rollin' the makin's into a serviceable smoke.

All this was for his role as a Westerner, leader of "The Magnificent Seven," in the Mirisch - Alpha film of the same name which also stars Eli Wallach, Steve McQueen and Horst Buchholz, with John Sturges producing and directing for United Artists release.

The picture, filmed in Panavision and DeLuxe color, is held over for a 4th big week at the Met Theatre.

BING IN COMEDY AT REGENT THEATRE

Bubbling over with comedy, songs and zany hi - jinx "High Time," starring Bing Crosby, Fabian, Tuesday Weld and Nicole Maurey, a Twentieth Century - Fox CinemaScope, DeLuxe Color release is now at the Regent Theatre.

The college campus has been the setting for a good many movies, but never have the portals of higher education been entered by as many merry madcaps as in Charles Brackett's production of "High Time."

The comedy ball starts rolling from the outside when Bing Crosby, a 51-year-old self made millionnaire decides he wants a college education and enters as a freshman at Pinehurst College.

Upon entrance he finds himself in the dormitory with his new roommates Fabian, Richard Beymer and Patrick Adiarte.

JOHNNY NASH STARS IN ALBERT'S OFFERING

In the rough-and-tumble entertainment field there are few artists who have reached the pinnacle of full-fledged stardom in only three yeears. Nineteen - year - old Johnny Nash has done just that.

The young singer-turned-actor has found a permanent niche in motion pictures, judging from his work in Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer's "Key Witness," now at the New Albert in which he plays the sympathetic role of a reluctant youth-gang member.

"I've been lucky," he says. "The ships have fallen my way ever since I entered show business."

That is an understatement, considering his accomplishments since his caddying days on a Houston golf course back in 1956.

Nash has hit the big time in the recording field with three discs, "A Very Special Love," "Baby, Baby, Baby" and "But Not For Me." His waxings of song - playing albums keep music store cash registers ringing.

All this in spite of the fact that he has never recorded a rock 'n roll record.

"I like to sing ballads," says Nash. "I've been offered chances to sing rock 'n roll, but I'm planning ahead and I figure the ballad will always be around."

MIDNIGHT LACE' DUE AT HARLEM

"Midnight Lace," the suspense drama in which Rex Harrison stars with Doris Day and John Gavin, is Harrison's first appearance in a Hollywood - produced picture since he made, "The Four Poster" six years ago.

"Coming soon to the Harlem Theatre, "Midnight Lace," which co - stars Myrna Loy, Roddy McDowall, Herbert Marshall, Natasha Parry, John Williams and Hermione Baddeley, is a Ross Hunter - Arwin color production released by Universal - International.

Since the English - born actor attained international fame as the star of both Broadway and London stage production of "My Fair Lady," he has starred in a number of pictures in Europe.

RANDOLPH SCOTT IN ROYAL'S NEW WESTERN

Randolph Scott heads the cast of "Comanche Station," Western drama filmed in CinemaScope and Eastman Color, now at the Royal. The Production co - stars Nancy Gates and features Claudo Akins, Skip Homeier and Richard Rust.

A man searching for his wife, who has been a captive of the Comanches for many years, Scott galvanizes the action of "Comanche Station" by boldly riding into a hostile Indian camp and "buying" the freedom of a captive white woman.

In escorting the woman back to her husband, who has offered a $5,000 reward for her dead or alive, Scott has to face not only the Indians, but a desperado trio itching to—get their hands on the reward money and not particular whether the woman is dead or alive.

Nancy Gates is attractive as the woman who is the object of varied attention of the four men during a dangerous trek through Indian country. Akins,

Les Ballets Africains opens Nov. 14 at Ford's

Les Ballets Africains is on the march again.

Luben Vichey will present it at the Ford Theatre for three days beginning Monday, Nov. 14.

This time the dancers will come as representatives of the new Republic of Guinea. Their hope is that their native culture will be seen and appreciated for the natural folklore it is.

They come with an all new company, new decor and new dancers. Kante Facelli, artistic director, with the aid of Keita Fodeba, the founder now Minister of Interior of Guinea, have recruited the dancers, singers and musicians from competitions in Africa. All the girls are new.

The dancers wear exact replicas of their native costumes, or lack of them. Their natural nudity stirred up considerable discussion last year, but now the censors appreciate the nudity was natural, as witness Toronto and New York, where the girls were forced to dress last year, but allowed to dance this year sans covering.

The new group is said to be less inhibited than the former company. Fresh from the soil of their native land, the new dancers personify rhythm irresistibly.

Homeier and Rust play the villains of the piece.

Second feature, "Because You're Young," costars Dick Clark, James Darren, Duane Eddy and the Rebels.
