MR. AND MRS. CHARLES E. MACK were married in Baltimore, Saturday. The bride is the former Miss Evelyn L. Briscoe.

Mack-Briscoe ceremony held

Miss Evelyn Lucile Briscoe became the bride of Charles Emanuel Mack, here, Saturday.

Miss Briscoe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Briscoe of Chestertown, Md., and Mr. Mack the son of Mrs. Emma Jackson of Towson.

The wedding was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Owens of 1513 N. Carey St.

THE BRIDE, who was attended by Miss Minnie Lee, wore a blue lace ensemble, with blue lace mantilla, and pink shoes and gloves. She carried a white Bible topped with pink roses.

Miss Lee wore pink lace with matching shoes, gloves and corsage. Vernon Bailey was best man.

The Rev. Thomas A. Pitts officiated.

Baked squash

ripe olives and spicy seasonings make this simple celery casserole especially good eating. Try it along with broiled hamburgers for a quick-to-fix meal during the busy holidays.

CREOLE BAKED CELERY requires one cup ripe olives, three cups sliced celery, one-fourth cup chopped onion, three tablespoons butter or margarine, two cups cooked or canned tomatoes, one - half clove garlic, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons chili powder, two teaspoons cornstarch, one-half cup grated American cheese, and one-half cup buttered bread crumbs.

Cut olives into large pieces. Cook celery in salted water until tender; drain. Saute onion in butter until light brown; add tomatoes, chopped garlic, salt and olives. Bring to boil and simmer about 5 minutes. Mix chili powder and cornstarch with a little cold water and add to hot olive mixture.

Cook and stir until thick. Blend in cheese. Turn celery into baking dish and add olive mixture. Sprinkle crumbs over top. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 30 minutes or until brown.

Makes 6 servings.

Cossocks mark 8th birthday

The Baltimore Cossocks, Inc., social, civic and charity men's group recently celebrated its eighth anniversary.

Fifty guests of the 14-member group attended the affair, in the ballroom of the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel.

Guest speaker at the anniversary banquet was Dr. Dr. James Fleming, director, Institute of Political Science, Morgan College.

Dr. Fleming lauded the men for not only providing entertainment for its members, but giving of themselves to the betterment of the community.

He noted the club's life membership in the NAACP and its aid to the needy.

FOR INSPIRING Christian behavior and leadership among young people, the Cossocks received a citation from the Maryland Council of Churches presented by Miss Mildred Atkinson, executive secretary.

Joining the Cossocks in the celebration were officers and members of the Coordinating Council of Clubs, whose president, Alvin Townes, also heads the Cossocks.

In brief remarks, Mrs. Serena Forehand, gave reasons for the formation of CC of C "It was born of a desire to do a better job at all levels in the community," she said.

Member clubs and presidents are:

Eldorados, Benjamin Brooks; Avalons, Leroy Wilkins. Caprees, Theodore Wynn; Pyramids Kanzler Randall; Ten Pals, Irving Matthews; Regents, Benjamin Graham.

Paragons, Mrs. Forehand and Les Dix Amies, Mrs. Viola Fauntleroy.

EPILOGUE TO A FASHION SHOW

Dear Friends:

I am taking this opportunity to express my thanks to all of you who did so much to make my first fashion show at the Central YWCA, a success.

Thank you Elizabeth Turner, Wilese Harris, Catherine Thornton, Pearl Gladden, Julia Ransome, Catherine Ross for your help in the months of getting ready.

To Miss Precola Devore and your lovely models, thank you for making my creations come alive.

And to you, Mrs. Jacqueline Gamble and your models for the lovely hair styles which enhanced the show.

Thank you, Elizabeth Turner, invocation, and you Norma Dillard for the introductions.

Thanks to Ronald Gould for the lighting effects — and my apologies for not having checked before hand to make sure the lights were in good working order.

My thanks to John Santora, disc jockey of WITH, for the music, and to you Calvin Thornton, Nathan Turner and Wilbert Turner for carrying through at the deadline hour.

Helen Evans, many thanks for the set decorations which provided such a decorative background; to Samuel Ross, thanks for the program cover design, and to James Turner, thanks for the pictures which will keep alive the memories.

To the hostesses, Christine Ford, Celestine Crawford, Dolores Holmes, Ellamae Williams, Grace Ashford, Helen Clark, Rebecca Haynes, Amanda Jefferson and Mrs. Brosnan, thank you for your graciousness.

To my husband and daughter thank you for your faith, help and patience.

And to all of you who came to the show— many, many thanks. I could not have done it without you— one and all.

Sincerely and gratefully,

KITTY TURNER

600 guests attend YW's smorgasbord

with Lula Jones Garrett

While the Madison Avenue branch of the Young Women's Christian Association took on the look of a "miniature United Nations" throughout the whole week...the Sunday affair was a splendid climax to World Fellowship celebration.

...and YWCA-ers were rightfully pleased with themselves, for they had succeeded in providing an affair that was truly a community endeavor.

Some of the town's professional caterers prepared the magnificent smorgasbord that featured the supper. The flowers were donated by a local florist, and the entertaining program, throughout the evening, was provided by participants from many areas.

There were, for instance, groups from city schools as well as the Morgan State College Traverses Club.

Clarence Hendemon, baritone, sang, Joyce Williams, ballerina, danced. The Estonian Folk Dance Group, featuring Epp Tammaru; the Douglass Folk Festival, starring Gloria Street and the Joyce Campbell Vocal Group were among the entertainers.

And some 600 persons came out for the evening and enjoyed themselves immensely.

Annette C. Johnson was general chairman for the affair. She was strongly backed by a quartet of co-ordinators; Susie Nash, Lucille Venture, Ellen Fisher and Frances Smith.

Committee chairmen were Ethel Taylor, Judith Johnson, Elizabeth Criag, Daisy B. Jones, Helen McGill, Rosalind Allen, Mary D. Wilkes, Barbara Green and Dorothy Washington.

Committee members included Arlyce Chapman, Ida Moore, Sarah Diggs, Emma Dudley, Neroia Moulton, Willie McGuinn, Mildred Finch, Dorothy Phillips, Dora Hutchinson, Frances Walker, Claudia Wright, with Delores Kelly serving as secretary; Thelma Craig as mistress of ceremonies, and Grace Hunt, who is executive director, as advisor.

Lillian Parrett, chairman of the committee on administration for the Madison Avenue YWCA, said: "I don't know when we've seen such enthusiasm for a project. The committee was enormous and all of the workers excited and busy as bees. It's truly gratifying to feel that all of us working on this party and those who attend are actually participating in a World Fellowship project that extends around the globe and to know that the fun we are having is helping others in under-developed countries."

The YWCA of this country through the World YWCA lends technical and financial aid to other countries. It helps with the cost and operation of new buildings, refugee camps and hotels; education and nutrition centers, and takes part in leadership training and self - help projects around the world.

IT HAS BEEN SAID, "Happiness is like a Kiss," you cannot enjoy it unless you give it." Believing this, the sorors of Iota Chapter of Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority continue their quest for happiness by giving it to many. At Thanksgiving time, IOTA chapter members filled baskets with turkey and Thanksgiving dinner and deliver them to needy families.

"Building Leadership Today to meet Tomorrow's Needs," was the theme for the Northeastern Regional Conference of Lambad Kappa Mu Sorority, held at The Roosevelt Hotel, recently, representing Iota chapter were sorors Lillian B. Johnson and Iona Smith.

At the regular monthly meeton last Saturday, business was kept at a minimum, to give these sorors ample time to make their reports.

Sorors Lucy J. Bend and Anita P. Smith gave highlights of the national conclave. A fitting climax to this meeting was the Thanksgiving program. The Rev. Thomas S. Fraser gave the message and hymns appropriate to the Thanksgiving season were sung. Basileus Sonia B. Myles was generous with praise and gratitude when she greeted the guests and thanked the participants and program committee, sorors Doris D. Brown and Joan Julius.

Hostesses were Sorors Doris B. Adams, E. Louise Anderson, Gladys C. Baird, Olivia Bates, Eunice Brooks, Helen Brown, Elsie Bowser and Ethel C. Covington.

Other sorors present: Fannie Ewell, Glynnia K. Hill, Pattie Jackson, Naomi D. Johnson, Mary E. Johnson, Geneva Jones, Myrtle Jones, Josephine Mosley, Mary Owens, Theodosia P. Owens, Alma F. LITTLE ONES' eyes opened wide as they entered the home of Gail Gilbert to help her celebrate her sixth birthday, November 12th. The gay decorations of Japanese lanterns and bright ballons kept their heads turning to notice the different colors. Little and big "ahs" were heard as they looked upon the beautiful cake with "Little Miss Muffet and Her Lamb" decoration.

But they were happy to put on their party hats and go to the games area, to play games and win prires. Everyone won a price.

After the usual refreshments, the children watched a moving picture called "Stone Soup."

Among those enjoying the two hours of fun were Carlita Blue, Gail Carter, Kim McCreadY, Harriette Lane, Maxine Jordan, Brenda Pinkney, Ingar and Claudette Bushrod, Pamela and Phyllis Pinkett, Carl Hun, Donald Brown and Gilbert and Charles Halliburton.

Gail Gilbert is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Gilbert.
