THE BALTIMORE CARDIGANS played host to the Washington chapter on Saturday night. The Kappa Fraternity House was the site for all of the festivities.

Prior to the business session, the members enjoyed quite an array of sippables then were served an elaborate dinner. Caterer Milford Jefferson, left nothing to be desired and the girls quickly forgot all about counting calories.

Baltimore proxy, Bernice Hall, in her usual versatile way, welcomed the group with an original greeting done in poetry and then presided over the meeting.

There was a lively discussion period during which Marguerite Fisher, Washington president, submitted their program for the year. Activities for the Baltimore Chapter include their complementary affair, benefit dance for their pet charity, socials for the children of the groups, and another trip to close the club year.

Intervisitation to the various club meetings in the two cities will begin in January.

After the men in their lives came upon the scene, the girls kept them busy on the floor reviving the Madison and doing some of the latest steps.

Hostessing the affair were Bernice Hall, Willie Cade, Elizabeth Butler, Vera Fry, Lollie Hockaday, Margaret Peck, Gloria Sims, Myrtle Smith, Ruth Tapkins, Vera Taylor, Janie Wright, Beulah Westcott, Bernice White, Mary Williams, and Harriet Morton.

Washingtonians about were Marguerita Fisher, Thelma Adams, Mary Berkely, Frances Burke, Rae Coles, Ruth Cuff, Virginia Fisher, Alberta Hairston, Alease Murray, Delores Plummer, and Wilhelmina Roberts.

Also present were Lawrence Temple, George Burke, Ellis Coles, Dorsey Davis, Harry Murray, Nathaniel Hall, Melvin Cade, George Butler, Albert Hockaday, Edward Peck, William Tonkins, James Taylor, Edwin Westcott, Alfred Williams, George White and Thomas Morton.

HOSTESSES, above, put the finishing touches on the elaborate smorgasbord from which 600 guests had supper at the Madison Avenue branch YWCA, Sunday. They are, left to right, Mesdames Ellen Fisher, Daisy B. Jones, Susie Nash, Annette Johnson, Grace Hunt, executive director; and Lucille Venture. The smorgasbord supper was a part of the celebration of World Fellowship Week by the Young Women's Christian Association.

10 YEARS OLD — For the past three weeks We Moms have participated in a series of parties and religious services to mark their 10th anniversary, concluding with a formal dance on Friday evening. The club members are shown above, left to right, standing: Mesdames Vinessa Porter, Neonta Corbin, Marion Ampry, Bernice Turner, Ruth Sampson, Patricia Holtsclaw, Marie Coles, Thelma Thompson; seated, Mesdames Jeannette Smith, Pauline Armstrong, Leana Ferrell, Marguerite Wilkens, Minerva Williams, Mae Cornish, and Jeannette Johnson.

Sherrard will retire at American

Thomas H. Sherrard, vice president of American Stores Company and manager of the Baltimore Zone of the Company will retire from active service on December 1, according to announcement by the Company.

Mr. Sherrard has been associated with American Stores Company for more than 38 years and has served in many positions of responsibility as he progressed through the ranks from store clerk to officer and director of the Company.

As manager of the Baltimore Zone, with responsibility for nearly 200 stores, most of which are Acme Markets, Mr. Sherrard distinguished himself as an operating executive.

The zone operation includes a large warehouse and a bakery supplying all the Baltimore area stores, which are located throughout Maryland and the District of Columbia and in parts of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, and West Virginia.

We Moms celebrate anniv. with dance

For the past three weeks, the members of the "We Moms" have been participating in a number of activities including informal parties, fun nights, and religious services to celebrate their tenth anniversary.

Friday evening, the group terminated their activities with a formal dance, when they entertained hundreds of guests in Union Hall in Cherry Hill.

The hostesses, were distinguished by wrist corsages. Tables were laden with a variety of delectables and sippables and bore the names of the hostesses thereon. Music for the evening was provided by the "Hit Paraders."

• • •

IMMEDIATELY following intermission, each Mom and her escort were introduced and led a most impression scene as the group gracefully waltzed to the strains of "The Anniversary Waltz."

Hostesses for the affair were:

Mesdames Marguereite Wilkins - president; Minerva Williams, vice president, Neonta Corbin - recording secretary; Jeannette Smith, coresponding secretary;

ANYONE VISITING the 3000 block of Southland Ave. in Cherry Hill is in for a surprise. The Cherrill Company Apartments with offices at 203 Cherry Hill Road, is conducting a Pilot Fix-Up Campaign.

Using the theme "California Styling Comes to Cherry Hill," eight of the houses have been painted pastel shades of blue, yellow, pink and gray. The process of landscaping each lawn, so far, includes the planting of red maple trees, and lancustrum bushes.

New concrete benches and play equipment have been enclosed within a wire fence. It really has improved the appearance of the block. This is just the beginning of many other improvements.

After your visit, drop in the apartment office and meet the manager, Laurence Johnson. Mr. Johnson hails from Newark, N.J. He is married to the former Edna De Coursey, local teacher, and is a member of the Sharon Baptist Church.

OVERBROOK'S Old Fashioned EGG NOG

Available At All Liquor Stores And Taverns

THE OVERBROOK EGG NOG CORP. BALTIMORE 1, MD.

...with a recipe to make you strut your stuff every time you "talk turkey"!

When your youngsters join in the kiddie chorus, "More Parks Sausages. Mom!"—they'll love 'em in a wonderful, new way in Parks Savory Stuffing. Everybody'll love the tantalizin' flavor of Parks Hot 'n Sagey Sausage in this "talk of the table" recipe.

PARKS SAVORY STUFFING
(For 12 pound bird)

2 qts. fine bread crumbs (1 soft white— 1 corn bread)
1 lb. Parks Hot 'n Sagey Sausage
1 cup onion, chopped
1 cup celery, chopped
½ cup green pepper, chopped
2 tbsp. salt (about)
2 eggs, well-beaten
Liquid from giblets or warm water to moisten

1. Crumble sausage in large skillet and brown lightly, pouring off drippings as it collects, but leaving about 4 tablespoons. 2. Add vegetables and saute slowly until they are clear, but not brown. 3. Toss bread with salt—add eggs and mixture of sausage and vegetables. 4. Toss lightly—sprinkle with liquid and mix. You want the stuffing just moist enough to hold a loose ball when you form it with your hand.

NOTE — The same recipe, using Parks Famous-Flavor Sausage, will provide a mild-seasoned dressing.

Unemployment drop recorded

Benefit payments to Maryland residents under the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law dropped in October under both those of September (1960) and those of October last year, the Maryland Department of Employment Security reported today.

Robert B. Kimble, executive director, said benefit payments were fewer in October than in September as a result of a recall of workers in a number of manufacturing industries following layoffs of one to two weeks.
