A Camponeshi, executive secretary of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission.

Mr. Camponeshi discussed the job possibilities for the best qualified workers; the law as it now stands in relation to the EEO Ordinance; how, when, where to file a complaint; things to remember about the Ordinance; the key to opening the facets of discrimination, as they pertain to this problem.

THE VAGs' program for the year has included sponsorship to the YWCA of eight teen-aged girls. At their December meetings they will fill a basket for some needy family in the community. Chaired by the vice president, Maxie B. Rae, the meeting was attended by the following members:

Loretta M. Barnes, financial secretary; Frances Bibbs, Ruth L. Brown, president; Gladys Cook, recording secretary; Lillian Lindsey, Vella Macklin, Ruth B. Murray, Alberta Simms, Elizabeth Spicer, Edna Walker, and their guests, Carrie Terrill and Elaine Boyd.

RICHARD EVANS JR., was honored on his 11th birthday with a dinner party given by his aunt, Mrs. Bettye M. Shelton on Saturday.

The children enjoyed dancing and games which were directed by his cousin, Marjorie Shelton and Barbara Jackson.

The party ended with a dance contest at which winners were Darryl Minor, Kurt Schmoke, and Linda Wharton.

Richard is the son of Mrs. Bertesl Leake and Richard Evans Sr.

Guests were:

Joyce Jackson, Christine Curtis, Reba Smith, Darryl Minor, Jo Ann Williams, Peggy Ann Carter Gretchen Shorter, Marthann Warner, Linda Wharton and Myra Ames;

Kurt Schmoke, Harvey Danhow, George Burse, Larry Wilson James Daniels, Clifford Coulter, Henry Marshall, Jr., Michael Marshall and Larry Jackson.

KNOWING THAT Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hunt had a wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving it was their 11th friends dropped in to wish them continued happiness.

The Hunts had, incidentally, their son - in - law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Q. Pair of Mount Vernon, N.Y. as holiday guest, and the Pair's son, Quinton came over from Howard. Too, Dr. David Thomas came from New York. He's cultural counselor to the Liberian Embassy.

But among those who really made a party at the Hunts' Roslyn Avenue place on Thursday were:

Drs. and Mesdames A. A. Smith, M. E. Barksdale, James Pair; Messrs. and Mesdames Roland Williams, James Nix, Alonza Warrington, Alonzo Kelly, William Jones; and Mesdames Minnie Davis, Theresa Waters, and Fannie Howard.

DR. AND MRS. Damon Mills' four-week-old son, Marc Cedric, was Christened in St. James Episcopal Church, Wednesday, which, incidentally, was the second wedding anniversary of the parents.

Officiating, of course, was the baby's grandfather, Father Cedric Mills, rector at St. James.

Baby is named for the Rev. Mr. Mills, and is a shortened version of the name of his mother, the former Marcia Chapman.

Other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Chapman and Mrs. Mills.

When Dr. Mills flew from Cincinnati, Monday, it was the first time he had seen his new son...and was probably the most thrilled father in ten counties. He flew back Wednesday to be back at his post at Cincinnati General Hospital, where he is interning.

Following the christening ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman entertained at a buffet for members of the christening party and members of the family.

Mrs. Sarah Gray is godmother, and Drs. I. Bradshaw Higgins and George McDonald are godfathers. Guests at the party also included Dr. Raymond Gray, husband of the godmother and Mesdames Higgins and McDonald.

Mrs. Mills and young Marc will join Dr. Mills in the Ohio city in January.

Dr. Mills took his medical degree from the University of Maryland, here; Mrs. Mills was formerly on the faculty of Garrison Junior High School.

DR. MAYBELLE WEAVER was hostess to the Auxiliary to the Maryland Dental Society on Monday evening at her home in Morgan Park.

The session was attended by Mesdames Winifred Ashby, Eula Mae Watts, Olga Rodney, Elbe Hunt, Jeanette Christmas, Vashti Christmas, M. Taylor, Bernice McDaniels, Seretha Green and Janice Tribble. Mrs. Joane Phillips heads the group.

MR. AND MRS. Rufus Tucker entertained on Wednesday night for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Johnson is the niece of Mrs. Tucker. She and Mr. Johnson and their children, Frank Jr., and Denise, spent the Thanksgiving holiday with the Tuckers.

To meet the visitors were:

Messrs. and Mesdames John Edwards, Howard Collins, John Wood, William R. Perry Jr., James Gilliam, P. D. Penning-ton; Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Christmas;

Mesdames Frances Wood, Lillian Ross, William Brown, Catherine Mayo, Paul Roller, Mae Allen; Albert Woods, Lester Norris of Los Angeles, Calif., and Melvin Evans.

LONNIE SPRUILL got busy last week and called some of his wife's (Hazel) friends and relatives to help him sprint a big surprise on her birthday.

And, surprised she was when she entered the beautiful Manhatan Avenue clubroom of her sister and brother - in - law, the Richard Willises.

One of the honoree's greatest surprise was the presence of her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boggs of Cambridge, who came up for the party.

After the fun of greeting friends and viewing her many gifts, the gang enjoyed a variety of sippables and edectables from turkey to chitterlings, and later jumped this down with the Shimmy and Madison, interspersed occasionally with the cha -cha - cha and the old fashioned jitterbug.

Guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames William Nash, Gordon Chavis, Robert Chester, Elwood Brown, Robert Smith, Charles Wright, Earl W. Jackson, Alonza Moore, Earl Spruill, Edward Allor, Richard Willis, Samuel Jones, Thomas Sterrett;

Misses Blanche Miller and Peggy White; and Earl Tutman, Roy Spruill and Arnold Sampson.

PUT - POURRI: There's no doubt that Louise Francine Zachary was a strictly picture bride as she marched down the aisle of Sharon Baptist Church on Thanksgiving afternoon to become the bride of handsome Edward Ailor, 3rd.

But, you know who is going to give her some competition? Her Mom (Mrs. Hubert M. Zachary) when she trips to the altar to become Mrs. Daniel Tyler, this spring. Mother is quite a pretty gal herself.

Friends around town are pulling strong for Edward Tarter, who has been hospitalized following a heart attack. He's in Hopkins. They think that his streak of bad luck has been out of proportion for such a fine guy.

Saturday Annes 26 years old

The Saturday Annes, a club group composed chiefly of city school teachers, celebrated the 26th anniversary of their organization, Saturday.

The celebration was in the form of a dinner party at the Chesapeake Club at which Mr. and Mrs. Reid Stanley were hosts.

• • •

THE ANNES, most of whom had been friends since girlhood, were known about town as "The Bunch" before the club's organization. After organizing into the Saturday Annes they were hostesses at many gala affairs.

For the occasion, on Saturday, Mrs. Stanely wore a Paris original of Chinese blue silk and matching accessories.

The banquet room was decorated with fall flowers. As a centerpiece for the long dining table, Mrs. Stanley used silver candelabra, gold and silver pom poms, and large yellow mums.

GUESTS INCLUDED Mr. and Mrs. Leo Woods (Geneva), Dr. Maybelle Weaver, Mesdames Winifred Shepard, Dora Hutchins, Elizabeth Oliver Abney.

Club members present were Mesdames Edith Henry, Jeanette P. Grinage, Ruby Freeland, Ruth Rosedom, Thelma Lawrence, Mattie Smith, Catherine Adams and Mrs. Stanley.

LES BONNE FILLES — The group met in the home of Mrs. Henrietta Breeze, 131 Allendale Road, Thursday evening.

Prizes a cards went to Mrs. Elsie Ball, first; Mrs. Nettie Mathews, second; and Mrs. Ruby Gross, third.

ECLIPSE — The pinochle club met in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Diggs, 2303 Duvall Ave., Wednesday.

At cards, which followed he business session, winners were Mesdames Anna Willis, first; Myrtle Dennis, second; and Mary E. Johnson, third.

TAGS WILL HELP—Proceeds from tag sales, sponsored by Women's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital, enable women to support canteens and other extra services for patients, including the new Vashti T. Murphy Community Center dedicated last week. Left, Mrs. Mearland Brown, co-chairman of tag sales, talks it over with Mrs. Marie Murphy, new member of the hospital's auxiliary.
