FIRST RUN FILMS

"Sword and the Dragon" opens at Albert

A motion picute of gigantic proportions, which includes seven wonders of the motion picture world never seen before, is the "Sword and the Dragon," now at the New Albert.

The super epic, produced in extreme wide screen, natural color and the latest and most exciting film process, Vitamotion, is being presented by Sig Shore and Joseph Harris and released by Valient Films.

The "Sword and the Dragon" tells the story of Ilya Muromets, one of the most beloved heroes of Europe's mythological folklore.

Certainly the biggest picture from the standpoint of cast and budget ever produced anywhere, the "Sword and the Dragon," took three years to research and two full years to film. Its cast comprises 106,000 actors and 11,000 horses. The certified budget was in excess of ten million dollars.

The story is the result of three years of intense research by thirty teams of experts in all phasees of the life, customs, costumes and artifacts of the period. They found that the Ilya Muromets legends were spread over most of central and eastern Europe. The "Sword and the Dragon," is a compilation of the most popular of the legends.

"Esther and the King" Playing at Regent

The demure loveliness of Joan Collins is winning fresh ranks of admirers as 20th Century - Fox brings her talents to the attention of a world - wide audience in the new biblical drama, "Esther and the King," CinemaScope Eastman Color release now at the Regent Theatre.

Joan's experience in the lead role of "Land of the Pharaohs" an earlier panorama of Old Testament days, was the springboard for her original signing of a 20th Century - Fox contract with Darryl F. Zanuck several years ago.

Now, with the thoughtful, earnest and tender interpretation she gives to the part of Queen Esther, bride of the mighty Persian King Ahasuerus (Richard Egan), her cinema career has flashed to new heights of promise.

As the young Hebrew maiden who transforms the king from a pagan ruler to a merciful leader with an understanding of the meaning of morality, Joan delivers one of the outstanding performances in this sweeping and thunderous story of virgin love.

Franz Liszt Story on Harlem's Screen

A musical genius, whose life and loves were as tempestuous as his music, is the exciting subject of William Goetz' "Song without End" the story of Franz Liszt which opened Wednesday at the Harlem Theatre.

Starred are Dick Bogarde, England's top romantic actor, as the fiery piano virtuoso who had all Europe at his feet, so compelling was his genius and so magnetic his personality.

Classic beautied French actress Capucine also stars as the Russian princess who became Liszt's great love, inspiring some of the most beautiful music ever written.

The Columbia Pictures' release, which yesterday aroused tremendous audience enthusiasm with its gripping story, spectacular images and beautiful sound, was filmed in CinemaScope and Eastman Color.

"Exodus" due at Mayfair Theatre

"Exodus" is the first major American film to be produced in Israel.

Part of it also was shot on the Island of Cyprus.

Its dramatic story, based on the LEON URIS best selling novel, plays against the colorful backgrounds of these two countries with their vivid reminders of ancient and modern history.

"Exodus" is probably as international as a film can get. Administrative, technical and production personnel came from the U. S. (15), Britain (25), Italy (23) and, of course, Israel.

The Israeli end of the payroll ran close to 90 persons and similar extensive use was made of local labor and talent when the picture moved to Cyprus on June 5, 1960.

The picture is due at the Mayfair Theatre, Dec. 19.

Easton's tan trio poses problem for Bullets 5

Coach Buddy Jeannette and his Baltimore Bullets can expect a rugged defensive task tonight (Friday) when they tertain the Easton five in an Eastern Basketball League contest at the Baltimore Coliseum.

The defending champions pack a 3-ply headache wallop in their tan trio of Hal Lear, Dick Gaines and Wally Choice.

In anticipation of the job ahead, the home pros have spent the past week working on switch assignments and other alert pickups.

"THAT'S THE only way we can clamp down on those three," Jeannette says. "The defensive men must help each other.

"For instance, when they screen for Lear and try to shake him loose for his left-hander, somebody is going to have to pick him up and give John Nacincki a chance to get back.

"Last season in the playoffs John was doing such a good job, and the others were helping him out so well, that Easton came up with a double screen to help Lear."

* * *

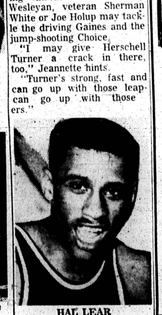
JEANNETTE MAY ask Nacincik to police Lear, the league's leading scorer at the moment with a 43.3 average, for the third straight year.

Kelly Coleman, the improving threat from Kentucky Wesleyan, veteran Sherman White or Joe Holup may tackle the driving Gaines and the jump-shooting Choice.

"I may give Herschell Turner a crack in there, too," Jeannette hints.

"Turner's strong, fast and can go up with those leapcan go up with those ers."

DOWN WITH THE TUGARS! Victory is within their grasp as the mighty Ilya spurs his warriors on in their battle against the vicious Tugars. With the war won, peace returns to the land and the marauding Tugar hordes are no more, a scene from "Sword and the Dragon" now at the New Albert Theatre.



HAL LEAR

"LOVE BY APPOINTMENT" now playing at the Met is one of the most revealing, truth-penetrating films ever to be released in the United States. Not only is the title sensational, but so is this remarkably fine motion picture — an aristocrat of films about the aristocrats of vice.
