HIGH SPOT on the holiday calendar will be the Holiday Ball, so looked forward to each year, given by the Continental Society of Baltimore.

The Continentals, chiefly of the younger married set, will hold forth on the 26th in the Famous Ballroom at a cocktail dance. They've garnered Johnny Sparrow to play for the dancing, and the shekels they garner will go into the fund which finances their broad program for under-privileged children of the city.

Presiding at individual tables on Monday night will be Emily Peck, Edith Davidson, Odessa Dyson, Doreva Stanley, Sevilla Carroll;

Also Sue Miles, Serena Holmes, Doris Cole, Ellen Howard, Lillian Branch, Mattie Mumby, Margaret Beaman, Frances Turner, Helen Quarles;

And Helen Gattis, Dotores Young, Frankie Henchen, Margaret Mason and Phyllis Thompson.

THE OFFICERS and members of the Third District Democratic Council, will hold their Christmas meeting Sunday at 6 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Judge Francis J. Valle of the Orphan's Court of Baltimore City. The club, which meets the third Sunday of each month, is expanding activities to cover all precincts in the 9th, 12th, and 27th Wards. Paul J. Cockrell, attorney, is president. The members plan to resume their register and vote campaign soon. Dr. Alexander Walker is chairman.

Neighbors, the response is wonderful to the Mrs. Santa plea. Many clubs from on our Eastside are answering the call to help the needy. Have you selected a family to help yet? Please, won't you help someone less fortunate. Call MU. 5-6015 and ask for Mrs. Santa.

Remember to attend the first anniversary celebration Sunday of the Ushers of New Bethal Christain Community Church, 1822 Druid Hill Ave.,

Mrs. Inez Blackstone is president. Highlight will be the message brought by Rev. Mrs. Emma Swann, pastor of Basil AME Church, Cockeysville, Md. The Rev. Charles H. Mack is pastor.
