Senenced for obscene calls

Frank Davis, 35, of 2000 Block Edgewood Rd., a part-time musician, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction Wednesday on two charges of making obscene phone calls.

Judge Dulany Foster withheld sentence for nearly two months, pending a medical report, before he made his decision Wednesday.

Davis was charged with making two obscene phone calls last October to women whose names he found in the newspaper.

He was arrested after one of the women had police trace the call while he was talking to her.

Davis blames his offense on drinking and said that excessive drinking had caused his discharge from the Army.

After being given a mental examination by Supreme Bench doctors, the report showed that the man needed treatment for alcoholism and "a definite mental ailment," but was not insane by Maryland standards.

Davis is married to a Japanese girl he met while serving in Korea in the Army.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

BY ELOISE RICHARDSON

It was a great shock to this community when it learned of the tragic death overtock Dr. Monroe Gregory.

While many people did not know him personally, in the three years he was a resident here, he made himself felt as a part of the life of the community.

Although he practiced his profession as a medical doctor in Washington, he retained his residence at Arundel on the Bay and centered most of his interest on helping to make conditions and opportunities for our group better in this section.

As he drove to his office on Wednesday morning, the day of his death, with his charming wife, Mrs. Isabelle Gregory, he drove along "singing in his heart" because one of his efforts had materialized for $003 in the area.

As president of the Arundel-on-the-Bay Property Owners Association, he had just succeeded in having the county commissioners to place road stop signs as a precaution for more safety in the area, and also he had made signs of "no trespassing" himself to help the property owners to protect their properties.

• • •

DR. GREGORY also had just completed plans, together with a Citizens Committee, (his own original idea), to conduct a monthly radio forum on Radio Broadcasting Station WANN, sponsored by the Central Voters Association, a bi-partisan group. The title of the forum is "What Is My Role?"

He was treasurer of the Citizens-for-Kennedy-and-Johnson Association, having been elected twice to this office.

As a member of the John Wesley Methodist Church, he was financial secretary of the Board of Trustees and had personally furnished screens for the entire building. In his remarks, Albert Williams, chairman of the trustee board, had this to say:

"Dr. Gregory was a wonderful man and it will be a long time before he can be replaced in our church.

"I'm sure I'll never meet and know any other man with any better personality. He was excellent in all his endeavors and helped the church greatly in finance and business matters.

"He served as usher, and was a member of the Methodist Men's Association."

The American Teachers Association (ATA) launched a three-month membership campaign on Jan. 7, at Atlanta University in Atlanta, Ga. with a goal of 50,000. Dr. Lelia A. Bradby of South Carolina is the president.

Officials attended the one-day conference from Texas, Missouri, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Mississippi, New Jersey, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

One of the strong features of ATA is the Teacher Welfare and Security Program which has extended services to many teachers. The $1 annual membership or the $25 life membership is a worthy investment in a united cause for equality of opportunity for all.

As director of Region Five which comprises the District of Columbia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York, I am appealing to the teacher profession to support this membership campaign.

• • •

I HAD THE pleasure of attending the Jan. 7 meeting which was held in Washington, Jan. 9-12.

Among the participants at the conference were many of the oldsters themselves ranging up to ninty-three years.

The White House Conference for the Aging made great recommendations for the purpose of making it possible for older people to lead fuller and more satisfying lives in the golden years.

• • •

ONE OF MY SIDE trips while in Washington the White House Conference was to the elaborate Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Headquarters located at 1734 New Hampshire Ave. Dr. Deborah Partridge Wolfe, professor of education, Queen's College, Flushing, N.Y., is grand basileus.

Siki-Calhoun tag team set

Sweet Daddy Siki returns to the local wrestling wars on Tuesday night at the Coliseum to appear on a star-studded wrestling show.

Siki, the Jamaican-born wonder, will team-up with the 501-pound hillbilly, Haystacks Calhoun, for a best-of-three-fall, tag-team match against a rough Swedish pair, Herb Larson and Swede Hanson.

• • •

SWEET DADDY'S ability makes a good combination with the strength and ruggedness of Calhoun. Should they be successful in this initial endeavor, they will undoubtedly seek further laurels and possibly a shot at the tag-team title.

This same show will offer the unbeaten Dick Steinborn, a new bid for the champion-ship belt worn by Buddy Rogers.

Young Steinborn has garnered the well wishes of the fans with his sportsmanly behavior in winning 7 straight bouts here.

Big Daddy set to debut with Bullets tomorrow

Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb is now a basketball player.

The scourge of opposing National Football League backfields for the past four years, the big tackle of the Baltimore Colts signed yesterday (Tuesday) to play with the Baltimore Bullets of the Eastern Basketball League.

Lipscomb will make his debut tomorrow (Saturday) night when the league-leading homesters take on Williamsport at the Coliseum.

"IT MAY take a little while for me to scrape off the rust," Big Daddy told the AFRO in confirming the report. "But I'm willing to give it a go if the Bullets are willing to take me on."

Lipscomb disclosed that he has had about eight years of basketball experience. He played on five years with an industrial-league team his Detroit (Mich.) hometown, and played three years of armed forces ball.

It was his performance while in the military service that attracted the attention of pro football scouts. So, it is understandable that the Bullets would hope he may be able to help them as a basketer.

"WE'VE HAD many favorable reports on Big Daddy," declared Nelson Dacey, general manager of the club. "Every one who has seen him play agrees that he can do us a lot of good as a rebounder. And we need a good board man more than we need anything else.

"At any rate, the consensus is that Big Daddy certainly can't hurt us, even if he doesn't help us," Baker philosophized.
