WITH THE PUB CRAWLERS

Sphinx Speaks

Charles Blackwell, tax consultant, celebrated his (?) birthday at the club Sunday, at the expense of his neighbors, Alex Simm and Jeff.

The party later moved for his Lexington St. home for a final touch. En route, they stopped off at the home of Selby Lewis and Rosel Simpson, also of Lexington St.

But they were visiting Mars Brent, who is recovering from an ailment that has made her quite uncomfortable lately.

William (Hop) Burgess — and Snow White had put the quietus on goings-on.

But hearty souls that they are, lovers of life refuse to be completely stopped.

So they will be seen at the SPHINX, where Charlie and the gang are happy to get back ready for the Old Timers fiasco.

You know, that's when the old men get together in Philly and live wrecklessly, chasing a basketball up and down the floor in a valiant attempt to recall adventures of yesteryear.

MAYBE YOU'LL be able to make it to NORTH END where a new deal has come to the fore. Added to the well known Social Security Night, now comes "Blue Monday."

It's a swinging affair that floats between four clubs on alternate Mondays. You should dig it.

When you make it back to the Main Drag, drop in on Howard Dixon and the COMEDY CLUB. The Continental Room bursts into solid action on weekends.

You naturally will develop a need to put on the feed bag while strolling the street of Fascination. In that case, you'll want to duck into the ALHAMBRA and find the Prom himself, Tony Atkins. Archer, our waiter, plus nurse maid to Herman (Cole Yak) Page when he visits the club.

Walter Caution fought a losing battle with the bool-remakers and had to spend the night.

Tickets for the basketball game between the Baltimore of Baltimore and Philly of Philadelphia, Feb. 12, are available at the club.

Roundtrip by bus, including accommodations, will run $10. If you motor up, reserved accommodations are available for only $5.

Derby of Atlantic City, is spending his vacation at the club.

Wonder why Squeeze Box has not worked for the past three weeks.

Darling Monterey Clay is slated for an operation very soon.

A position is now open at the club. Check Charlie for details.

The Sphinx speaks again next week.

OPEN HOUSE during inauguration week at a downtown hotel when Frank Reeves, D.C. attorney was host, attracted these D.C. and Baltimore ladies. Left to right, Miss Davis Martin, D.C., Mrs. Hattie Bailey, Baltimore; Mr. Reeves, and Mrs. Viola Dorothy Stice, D.C.

REGRETS ARE also in order this seven. Bob Myers and the gang at the Avenue Musical Bar have been made homeless by the early-morning fire, Tuesday.

Hurry and rebuild, Bob, the gang is lonely.

A brief swing around the Snow banked circuit, the past moonlits found that Hawkins and Snow White had put the quietus on goings-on.

But hearty souls that they are, lovers of life refuse to be completely stopped.

So they will be seen at the SPHINX, where Charlie and the gang are happy to get back ready for the Old Timers fiasco.

Bill asks Balto. police head be experienced cop

ANNAPOLIS — Two bills which would affect Baltimore's Police Department were placed before the General Assembly here Wednesday.

House Bill 163 would amend the city's charter to require that any person appointed police commissioner must have at least ten years' experience as a member of the police force.

The law now requires only that a person appointed police commissioner of Baltimore either be a resident or engaged in business in that city for three consecutive years prior to his appointment.

The bill was introduced by William P. Corrigan (D. 6th D., Balto.)

Another proposal — Senate Bill 200 — would require that policewomen and crossing guards would be subject to the same examination requirements as apply to male candidates for appointment to the police force.

Senator George W. Dalla (D. 6th D., Balto.) introduced this latter bill.

Eight years and broken leg for toiled bandit

A masked bandit with a toy pistol had his plans upset on Dec. 21, and ended up temporary crippled and imprisoned.

Victor C. Butts, 27, 1600 block W. Fayette St. was sentenced to eight years in the Penitentiary Wednesday by Judge Joseph L. Carter.

The term will not begin for several years because Butts has to first serve time for violation of probation.

In addition, Butts is nursing a broken leg sustained when he attempted to rob a grocery store proprietor, failed to scare easily and retaliated by wielding a hammer.

Julius Lenbaum, owner of the store in the 900 block E. Eager St. told the court the bandit entered his store with a handkerchief covering his face and another partially hiding a toy pistol.

He said when he recognized the pistol as a plastic toy, he grabbed his hammer and started swinging.

Butts was treated for his broken leg in City Jail.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Several youth music events called worthy of mentioning

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Without being officially proclaimed we certainly had a recent Youth Week in music. Events got off to an exhilerating start Friday morning with two concerts by the Baltimore Symphony for high school and elementary pupils held at Douglass High School.

Sunday afternoon the Jackie Robinson Youth Council of the Baltimore Branch, NAACP held its annual Youth Talent Contest in piano, voice and oratory at Sharp Street Memorial Methodist Church. A goodly number of music lovers braved the icy streets to attend the evening concert by Myrtle Mack, young soprano, who was sponsored by the Senior Choir of Christ Methodist Church.

THE SYMPHONY concert offered two areas of musical experience — one, purposeful and pleasurable listening and the other, active participation by two groups of dancers from the schools. The latter is of urgent importance, for all of our children cannot be solo or group performers.

We must have intelligent, interested listeners, who will support our gifted musicians by consistent, regular concert attendance.

For Herbert Grossman, assistant conductor of the Baltimore Symphony who directed the two concerts, this is one of the vital, long range aims of the youth project.

Judging by the rapt and delighted attention of his audiences success seems assured. For this season the youth series is concentrated on "Music of the Dance".

Two of the orchestral works were interpreted by dancers; Debussy's "Golliwog's Cake Walk" by 12 delightful youngsters from School 67 and a group of Douglass High School girls who performed with grace and dignity the "Waltz" from the opera "Eugene One-gin."

THE DAINTY sophistication of the "Chinese Dance" from "Nutcracker Suite", the Russian Sailor's Dance", with its rollicking rhythms, the earthy, broad humor of the Czech "Polka" and "Comedians' Dance" all caught the imagination of the students.

For a rollicking conclusion they joined in clapping the square dance rhythms of Barber's "Barnyard".

Mrs. Lillian Parrott, principal of Douglass High School, greeted the audiences. Concluding remarks were given by Dr. Emile Surposs, head of the music department of the public schools, thru whose cooperation the concerts are arranged.

Sunday, Jan. 2 at Lemmel Junior High School, Dukeland St. near Gwynns Falls Pkwy, the annual Soiree and Founders' Day will be celebrated.

The musical features of the event will include Charlene Moore Copper, of the Baltimore public school music department as flutist and violist and the A Capella Choir of Southern High School.

Tuesday, Jan. 31 at 8:30 p.m. in the Baltimore Museum of Art Auditorium, the third in the 160-61 series offered by the Chamber Music Society of Baltimore.

Tuesday, Jan. 31 at 8:30 in the Mt. Vernon Room at Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church, Ruslana Antonowicz, pianist will be the guest. Miss Antonowicz has an enviable European reputation, having graduated from the Vienna Conservatory with the highest award ever received by any piano student. She also was a prize winner three years in succession a the Geneva International Competition and was chosen in 1956 to play the opening concert at the Mozart Festival, for which she received the coveted Mozart Medal.

At present Ruslana Antonowicz is studying at the Peabody with Mieczyslawa Munz and Leon Fleischer.

The Mt. Vernon concert will include the Mozart Sonata in E Major, K378; Symphonic Studies, by Schumann; "Ballade, No. 1 and Two Etudes" by Chopin and Prokovief's "Sonata" No. 7.

Mrs. Welcome is supported by Howard County NAACP

The Howard County NAACP branch started its first meeting with strong support for Mrs. Verda F. Welcome's House Bill 63.

Mrs. Welcome's bill would outlaw discrimination in places of public accommodation in Maryland.

All members are urging interested citizens in the county to sign petitions to support the bill, publicizing it in the local paper, asking county representatives to support it, and sending a delegation to Annapolis for hearings.

The branch also sent $50 to the victims of voting repriisals in two West Tennessee counties.

SILAS CRAFT, chairman of the legal redress committee, reported cases of interest.

Mrs. Carrie Johnson, church committee chairman, is trying to get more churches interested in the organization.

Remus Dorsey, membership chairman, reported 25 new members.

Plans were made for a Feb. 19 mass meeting at the Locust Methodist Church.

Next meeting is Feb. 20 at Elkridge Hall. The President of the branch, the Rev. John W. Holland, will be a representative at the meeting to be held at Waterloo Junior High School.

Protestant appeal

Nearly 2,000 Maryland churches of twenty - three different Protestant denominations are served by the Maryland Council of churches and supported by contributions to the United Protestant Appeal.

The 1961 Protestant Appeal is now under way and will continue through Feb. 21.

This year's budget is some $80,000.

A Lay Advisory Board to the Maryland Council of Churches is being formed to give ministers from all over Maryland the benefit of thoughts by outstanding community leaders.

With the help of the Maryland Council, new area councils of churches and regional ministerial associations are being formed. Also, denominational leaders are working through the Community Committees of the Council to discuss and plan locations for new churches.

THE FRANK TERRELEL (Gloria) of Catonsville may well have the makings of another Wilma Rudolph in daughter, Jacqueline. Popular "Jackie," a tenth - grade student at Johnnyeake High School, will compete in the track meet being held at the National Guard Armory in Washington Saturday, representing the Oriole Track Club of Baltimore City.

Jackie's good fortune is partially due to her active participation in the Banneker summer recreation program. For years our children have won top honors in the Baltimore County recreation track meets.

Last year, Jackie's style and speed caught the attention of Mrs. Echback, an avid follower of the A.A.U. Why? Mrs. Echback's daughter, Pat, is Baltimore City's 60-yard and 100 - yard dash champion.

Jackie finished the race a fleet second to Pat. Soon after that meet, Mrs. Echback invited Jackie to compete in a small track meet to be held at Clifton Park.

Jackie ran the 100-yard dash in 13.2. From that showing she became Mrs. Echback's protegee.

In a few months, Jackie will be among those trying out for the Junior Olympics.

Jackie, a personable and mannerly girl, finds it hard to believe that such success and happiness are to be hers.

She will be traveling all over the country with the AAU. We are all wishing Jackie "God's speed and good luck" and want her to remember such rewards are earned and not given.

THE MOST surprised party down Sharrow Point way recently was Mrs. Vonzell Butler. True, it was her birthday, but no one seemed to be too aware of it. It was a matter of fact her son Alfred rad asked her to accompany him to Baltimore to help choose a present for his wife.

When she and mother returned, Alfred asked mother to step by his house for a moment. And then the fun began! The table was beautifully decorated.

Daughters Vonzella Randolph (proprietress of the Corner Beauty Salon) and Odessa Howard (secretary of School No. 452) had really "put over" a "Mom" by staging the surprise party at the 237 Sollers Point Rd. home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tyler.

Guests at the surprise party were Messrs. Ruth Stokes, Bold Stapler, Eluistana Cole, Vaughn, Louie Patterson, Bessie Potee, Lula Smith and Alex Rollins. Also Miss Mary Schyler.

Thought For Today. No man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself.

DELTA BRUNCH held at a downtown D.C. hotel Saturday attracted outstanding women from all sections of country, including Mrs. Irma Dixon of Baltimore, a member of the Md. Legislature; and Mrs. Arthur Chapin, D.C., wife of the Democratic leader. The sorority affair cited Mrs. Christine Davis, Mrs. Val Phillips and Mrs. Marjorie Lawson for their role in Kennedy's election.

were admitted to Maryland General Hospital.

Firemen reported James complained of a spine injury.

THE TWO BROTHERS escaped from the burning building around 3 a.m. in 15 degree weather by jumping from the second floor to the street.

Albert and James were found huddled in a parked car when firemen arrived.

Fire fighters attributed the blaze to an overturned candle that ignited a scarf on a living room table.

Police said there was no gas or electricity in the home.

ACCORDING to police, Albert Davis told the following story:

That around 11 p.m. Wednesday, he took a candle from his mother's bedroom and set it on a downstairs table.

The youth said he went to sleep on a sofa near the candle and when he awoke flames were racing through the house.

The boy said he tried to warn his family but was driven back by the flames.

The youth then ran outside through a back door, told a neighbor about the fire and returned to the house.

A total of seven persons in two adjoining buildings was forced to evacuate their home at the height of the fire.

The Week in Records

By ALBERT ANDERSON For ANP

Four of the releases reviewed in this column, two—by Julius "Cannonball" Adderley and Dakota Staton—stand out the most, both from the standpoint of performance and listening interest.

The other recordings are good, too, but comparatively lacking in the sustained interest. The complete fare follows:

"THE CANNONBALL ADDERLEY QUINTET AT THE LIGHTHOUSE" — Riverside LP 1341: Tunes: "Sack o' Woe," "Big P," "Blue Daniel," "Azule Serape," "Exodus," "What Is This Thing Called Love?"

BACKED UP by his celebrated brother, Nat, on cornet, Victor Feldman, piano, Sam Jones, bass and Louis Hayes, drums, "Cannonball" adds still another gem to his already sparkling jazz crown with this waxing. On this track, however, the famous alto saxophonist explores several new angles as he artfully solos with striking introductions.

The introductions include both verbal and musical material, accentuated by the traditional vamping "Cannonball" style. Best number in the set is "Exodus," and Julius stays with it all the way, although the other sidemen join in. "Exodus" is challenged by the jaunty "Sack o'Woe, and the easy moving "Azule Serape," on both of which Feldman's piano work stands out.

"DAKOTA" — Capitol LP featuring singer Dakota Staton backed by Benny Carter and orchestra. Tunes include "Make Me A Present of You," "On Green Dolphin Street," "Everybody's Somebody's Fool," "Week For the Man" and "The Masquerade Is Over."

On this her latest disc, Dakota gets ideal backing from the old pro, Carter, as she wends her way through an assortment of originals and standards.

Swinging lightly but in her familiar, effervescent style, Dakota does herself proud over the entire fare, but especially on the tuneful evergreen "Make Me A Present of You."

'Strong coffee' nets big fines

The coffee was too strong at a coffee house at the 600 block Ensor St., and as a result, fines totaling $1,200 were levied in Criminal Court Wednesday.

Judge Joseph L. Carter placed the main penalty of a year and $1,000 and costs against Mrs. Edna Mae Clement, 7, 2400 block Hamilton Ave. on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

The prison term was suspended on condition that the fine is paid.

Mrs. Geneva McDonald, 4? same address and William E. Patton, 36, 500 block Forest St. and Mrs. Clement were each fined $50 and costs on charges of violating the liquor laws by permitting consumption of alcohol after the specified hours.

Rackets Division officers testified that they went to the coffee house and were admitted after paying 50 cents each.

They said that they were served whiskey in coffee cups and added that approximately 40 people had been drinking in the place which opens at 2 a.m., the closing time for liquor selling concerns.

IN ANOTHER CASE involving the sale of liquor without a license, Aiston H. Gunter, 50, and Miss Susie Robinson, both of the 500 block N. Gilmor St. were given a year each suspended on the condition they pay fines totaling $500.

* How old is your bourbon?

The Top Bourbon of Kentucky is a full 7 years old... the only bourbon in a handsome traditional etched green glass bottle! Created by Geo. T. Stagg nearly a century ago, this fine old whiskey has found favor with three generations of bourbon lovers. Nearly three million barrels have been distilled according to the unique formula he developed. Enjoy its smooth flavor tonight. Look for the 7 year old bourbon that honors one of America's great bourbon makers... Geo. T. Stagg in the distinctive new square bottle.
