Gadabouting In Baltimore

Philly, Balto. matrons swap social courtesies

with Lula Jones Garrett

The Baltimore chapter of the Chit Chat Club journeyed to Philadelphia, on Saturday, for a joint session with the Quaker City club.

They were met at the station by their hostesses, taken to the Trott Inn for a fabulous luncheon, and then went to the Ellsworth Avenue home of Lucille Pierce for cards.

After the game there were other refreshments.

Baltimorean Dorothy Tilghman took the over - all highest score prize . . . and the other prizes went to London Houston, first; Mary Jones, second and Marie Murphy, third, of the Baltimore club; and to Dorothy Summer, Catherine Scruggs and Mae Briscoe of the Philadelphia group.

Other of the girls going from here were Mary Holmes, Elaine Taylor, Emma Jones, Iola Minson, Aubrey Williamson, Cora Meredith, Mary McCray, Beatrice Brown and Alice Nixon.

Hostesses also included Frances Beckett, Catherine King, Gladys LeCato, Mary Boyd, Addie Hedden, Mayella Johnson, Jeanette Williams, Minnie Taylor, Lucille Pierce, Juanita King, and Gladys Epps.

AND PROBABLY on a passing train were members of the Philadelphia chapter of "The Organization" en route to Baltimore to be the guests of their sister club.

This group gathered at the Braddish Avenue home of Mae Cornish, where her clubroom had been transformed into a winter wonderland. The realistic decorations were snowmen against a background of green.

Arriving at noon, the early part of the afternoon was spent at lunch and small talk. Following were games and dancing. In a more serious vein the group shared experiences and made plans for the induction of a chapter in Asbury Park, N.J., and for another joint meeting during the summer.

At five o'clock there was dinner by candlelight . . . With the same decoration motif in table decorations including place cards.

Philadelphians who came were Thelma Palmer, Marie Shockley, Elouise Smith, Kathryn Taylor, Irene Scott, Jean Williams, Gertrude Covington and Elizabeth Gaines.

The hostesses included Marian Amprey, Mary Bacote, Mae Cornish, Verona Greene, Aurelia Lonesome, Alphua Williams and Stella Wise.

IRIS MAPP had her guests don lounge wear as she entertained the Firesiders last Saturday in her snazzy club room.

Feature of the evening was her casseroles of shrimp, plenty of good conversation and cards. Special guests were Dot Wood, Chita Shipley, Alice Tinderhughes and Ivy Grinage.

Club members about were Lillian Ross, Inez Reed, Ida Smith, Bea Nixon, Eula Watkins, Milburn Brown, Irma Dancy, Ada Weaver, Helen Cothorn, Francis Ashby and Evelyn West.

The illness that never got started
A lot of progress has been made in preventing baby illnesses. Hospitals have learned how to control the germs that threaten even the most spotless nursery.
They have learned that Lysol is one of the most successful preventives of environmental disease ever adopted.
Lysol is the quickest, safest, most effective way to eliminate disease germs while you do your regular housecleaning. Use Lysol Brand Disinfectant in the bathroom, kitchen, nursery, all through the house. Lysol added to your regular cleaning water is more effective than any bleach, any pine oil—at lower cost. And Lysol is as safe to use as your detergent.

Panelists get view of Nigeria 1st hand

The current events in Nigeria were discussed in a panel recently headed by Tomilson D. Todd in which Mr. Todd, the director, producer and moderator, told of the growth of Nigeria and its fight for world recognition and independence.

Mr. Todd had visited the country, at the invitation of the Nigerian government, to witness the inauguration ceremony of the country's first Governor-General and Commander - in - chief, Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe.

After showing a film "This is Nigeria" to an American audience, Mr. Todd said that in a sixteen-page speech Dr. Azikiwe had traced the growth of the Commonwealth of Nations and emphasized that "Nigerians were bound to criticize the scandalous inconsistencies of the world which exposed the cloven hoof of certain nations in their attitude toward the darker races".

Dr. Azikiwe was also quoted as saying that "the challenge of Nigeria as a free-nation in 20th century Africa was the need to revive the stature of man in Africa and restore the dignity of man in the world".

Other speakers on the panel included Mrs. T. Todd, Mrs. Nancy Williams, founder and president of American Friends of Nigeria and U.C. Dickson Okoye, of the Economic Development Institute of the World Bank. Mrs. Todd told of her pleasant experiences in Nigeria and the togetherness that exists in the Nigerian family life.

The next speaker, Mrs. Williams, advocated a much closer tie in every field between the Nigerians and Americans.

When asked his opinion of some of the post-independence problems of Nigeria, Mr. Okoye, who is a government officer from eastern Nigeria, said that his country had worked very hard to achieve independence and a federation made up of three regional governments. He said the growing population of 35 million is geared to unity and faith.

Continuing, the Nigerian officer said the essential objective of his government was to improve the quality of economic, political, educational and social management in order to achieve a high standard of living for the Nigerian taxpayer.

He emphasized that his government is actively engaged in expanding, diversifying and modernizing the economy. He also pointed out that agricultural, mineral and human resources were ample and expressed his joy that a second university had been founded in Nigeria on the "land-grant" system.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. LOUISE R. FARR

Mrs. Louise Rice Farr of 1923 Etting St was honoree at a surprise birthday party given by her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Rice Goins of 522 Robert St., recently.

Mrs. Ellis wed to Rev. Logan

Miss Violet A. Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wallace of 3022 W. Lanvale St., and Earl Baxter were married, here, Sunday.

The ceremony, in the home of the bride's parents, was performed by the Rev. Marion C. Bascom, pastor of Douglas Memorial Christian Church.

THE BRIDE wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and silk organza. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle was held by a tiarra of seed pearls. She was attended by Miss Merab Sisco. Thomas Colbert was best man.

Alpha Kappa Alpha ups Sit-down gifts to $3,250

With its donation of $500 to CORE, Sunday, Epsilon Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha became the largest donor to the Student Sit-down movement, in this area.

The gift to CORE brought the chapter's total to $3,250 this year. The sorors had previously made cash gifts to the Baltimore chapter of NAACP, the Civic Interest Group, and the American Council on Human Rights, all for the support of the movement.

The $3,250 which has been contributed to these causes was raised through the Freedom Ball which the sorors held in October.

The check to CORE, which was presented by the chapter president, Dr. Gladys B. Jones, was received by James T. McCain, field secretary of National CORE.

MR. McCAIN was the organizer for the sit - downs in South Carolina and New Orleans.

"It is unfortunate that young people must fight to be allowed to make their contribution in creating a greater America. But as long as this society exists it will be necessary to expend energy in fighting for democracy," he said.

One of the teachers in South Carolina who was forced out of their jobs because of their stand for equality, Mr. McCain told the group that it is a great consolation to find organizations behind CORE, not only financially but in spirit.

MRS. LILLIAN M. PARROTT, chairman of the chapter's community relations committee presided at the program which also featured as speakers Mrs. Emma Bright, this city, North Atlantic regional director; and Dr. Majorie H. Parker, Washington, supreme basileus of Sigma Alpha.

Dr. Parker stressed the domestic and international problems facing the nation and the new administration, and indicated that, as in the past, AKA will support the movement for extension of human rights.

THE PROGRAM, in form of a soiree, was co - sponsored by the Founder's Day committee of which Miss Edith Gordon is chairman. Dr. Parker was introduced by Mrs. Vivian J. Cook, organizer of Epsilon Omega chapter. Two groups of songs by the Choir of Southern High School won enthusiastic applause.

The choir was under direction of Mrs. Marthy W. Pointer, with Mrs. Lillian O'Daniel as accompanist.

5th graders hear from stage star

By CHARLOTTE TRAVERS

Mrs. Rosalie Kelly and her fifth grade class of School 114, 100 S. Caroline St. have received an important message from an important alumnus of the school.

It came all the way from Toronto, Canada where the youngest alumnus, Miss Claudia McNeil, star of the Broadway play "A Raisin In The Sun," was appearing at the Royal Alexander Theatre.

Miss McNeil took the time to acknowledge each name of the members of the class on one of the play programs and sent along the message, "To Your Wonderful Class." To Add to the things that continue to manifest charm that act of May Wright Allen, past national president of Delta Sigma Theta, who was being honored by her sorority on Sunday, taking time out to drop in on the annual soiree of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, which was holding forth at the same time.

Also saw Deltas Catherine Grant and Ruth Rosedom rushing from the AKA affair to that of their own group.

The, John (Gwendolyn) de Cecilos dashed over to Washington, Saturday night, where they, along with the William Dixons were guests at the annual ball of American Friends of Ghana.

The foregoing were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin (Dr. Margurette) Piper. The colorful ball was held in the Statler - Hilton Hotel.

When the "smate" had cleared away from that serious bridge playing with the Bridgettes at the Me - De-So-Club, Saturday afternoon, guess who walked away with prizes?

Kay Carter, first; Emma Bright, second; Agnese Browne, third; Addie Donnell, fourth; Lillian Ross, fifth; and Jimmy LaForest, sixth.

And such elegant prizes they were, Sabina . . . all in one . . . and in the order listed above: A platter, a pitcher, a gravy boat, candlesticks, salt and pepper and a bud vase!
