Brush with Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol to...

FIGHT TOOTH DECAY HELP STOP BAD BREATH

Bad breath and tooth decay often start when food is trapped between teeth. Brushing with Colgate forms a cleansing foam that penetrates between teeth—helps foam away food particles and decay germs. Brushing with Colgate right after eating helps fight tooth decay, helps stop bad breath originating in the mouth, too—stops it all day for most people. No wonder more people use Colgate Dental Cream than any other toothpaste!

COLGATE CLEANS YOUR BREATH while it CLEANS YOUR TEETH

LAST FRIDAY, members of the Baltimore chapter of the Smart Set were in Philadelphia, where they were guests of the Philadelphia chapter.

Piece de resistance was the black tie party at the Wynne Hall Room—but they had fun over the entire weekend, all being ensconsed in the Penn-Sherwood Hotel where the partying was continuous.

On Saturday, the Baltimoreans were guests of Douglas and Jane Henderson, and went on to the Nick Montgomerys, of Wilmington, Sunday.

In the party from Baltimore were Allee and Bill Pinderhughes, John and Dorothy Woods, Joel and Sarah Newton, Harold and Ruth Jennifer, Simon and Kay Carter, A. U. and Bertha Forte and Donald and Helen Queen.

Their hostesses (Philly chapter) were Thelma Harden, Ada Lloyd, Ruth Clark, Gloria Turness, Theodosia Thomas, Helen Hyde, Marie Burton,

Also Geneva Scott, Orietta Johnston, Alice Davenport, Tess Harris, Georgia Howell, Thelma Howell, Doris Marquess and Jean Bluford.

ON THURSDAY we saw Dean Thelma P. Bando and her staff entertained the senior resident women at Morgan State College at "Senior Coming Out Party."

The party marked the beginning of spring privileges for these senior women who are expected to graduate in June. The Sunken Parlor in Truth House was decorated with palms and fresh cut flolwers, and in the background, Lonnie Smith and his Combs provided music for dancing.

A candlelighted buffet table provided refreshments. The senior women were presented to their escorts and guests as they entered the Sunken Parlor, and in their party frocks, they were truly beautiful. The whole atmosphere was one of grace and charm.

Among the guests were:

Misses Barbara E. Swann, Thelma Moorman, Margaret Jackson, Betty Johnson, Mary Hackett, Betty Johnson, Whelma Brooks, Lorraine Liburd;

Misses Valerie Holland, Doretha Hall, Elsie Wilson, Alice Gettys, Ethel Waters, Marion Neville, Laurabelle Loper, Wilhelmina Ringeling, Helen Lynch, Elaine Stanton;

Misses Shirley Dixon, Comora Carter, Carolyn J. Gray, Shirley Smith, Loretta Hughes, Lillie C. Lewis, Alfreida Shaw, Gloria Crutchfield, Jocelyn Coleman, Mable Tittle, Patricia Winston, Barbara Solomon and Grace S. Christie;

Mesdames Graces McDowell, Mary B. Short, and Addie Donnell;

Louis W. Ollie, Walter Lee Jr., Eugene Smith, Frederick Anderson, Kenneth Kelley, Joseph Dunnington, Freeman Sands, Robert Young Jr., Donald Reed, Oliver Jackson;

M. Keith Parkis, Edward J. Henderson, Percil Stanford, G. Fraser Williams, Bruce W. Davis, Thomas Motley, Edward Hall, James Caldwell, Howard Stanley, Shelton Brown;

Calvin Burton, Ernest Carswell, Calvin Ferguson, John Webb, William Owens, Prince Evans, Paige Davis, and Samuel Harris.

• Members of the Dean of Women's staff present were: Mrs. Mary J. Spellman, Miss Katherine E. Wilson, Mrs. Alyce K. Young, Miss Maxine Bethel, Mrs. Sara Jeffries and Mrs. Eleanor Truman.

• • •

TALMADGE (MARSE) HILL, of Morgan State College faculty, who is off on a U.S. State Department assignment to set up a physical education program in Mozambique, East Africa, embarked under a glow of pleasant memories this week.

The week was filled with Bon Voyage parties.

On Thursday evening, a group of Morgan men hosted him at a dinner party, gifted him with a transistor radio and carrying case.

This party was in the home of Coach Kenneth Brown and hosted by Mr. Brown and other Morgan faculty members, including Coach Howard K. Wilson, Dean Albert Whiting, Dean of Men James Nix, Dr. Melvin Humphrey, Dr. Clifton Jones and Dr. U. S. Stubbs.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hill were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hall of Washington, where, with their hosts they attended the dinner dance given by the Hellions at Shoreham Hotel.

And Saturday evening, the Saturday Evening Bridge Club, meeting with Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith, of Morgan Park, honored Mr. Hill.

The members include Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Adams, Dr. and Mrs. William L. Berry, Dr. and Mrs. William Garnier, Dr. and Mrs. Smith and the Hills.

They played bridge, enjoyed a buffet supper, and each couple brought a lovely door prize.

On Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Adams were hosts at dinner in honor of Mr. Hill. Mr. Hill will be in Africa until about the middle of May.

• • •

HOSTESSES, BORED with the depression inflicted by the weather, accepted the inevitable and took up arms against it, this week.

Instead of following suit and cancelling plans, Mildred Lewis gathered members of the N. N. Club, Friday night, herded them to the Baltimore - Sheraton Inn for an elegant dinner party.

Dining in the softly - lighted dining room were: Ruth Marshall, who heads the club; Elsie Fantt, vice president; Blanche Bell, secretary; Mildred Rideout, business manager;

Also Emma Black, Aurora Chambers, Strelsa Gerham, Sarah Howell, Ethel Hunter, Evelyn Keene, Ruth King, Norma Lambson, Mildred Lewis, Arnetta Rosemond and Madessa Wallace.

• • •

AND CAME the evening of the meeting of the Sheraton (Friday) Jewel Moseley, at whose Powhatan Avenue home the session was: Mamie Todd and Gwendolyn Tarter, hostesses, instead of the regular format of coffee along with the conversation, poured the bubbly stuff to enliven the evening. Along with the champagne were a variety of tiny and very fancy sandwiches, fruit compote, nuts and mints.

Earlier, the group had heard a most informative and delightful illustrated lecture by Artist Rebecca Mills, who, along with her talk sketched a still life and a portrait. To demonstrate how "easy" painting is, But I'm afraid that the group was so bowled over by Mrs. Mills' talent that the "ease" was obliterated.

At the meeting were Hazel Fleming, Hilda Higgins, Catherine Wilson, Lydia Mussenden, Edith Smith, Pearl Brackett, Verda Welcome, Vivian Washington, Charlotte Hopkins, Ruth Bailey, Olivia Dixon, Ruth Welling, Lula Patterson and the hostesses.

• • •

AND SEVERAL Baltimoreans scorned the weekend snow to jaunt to New York City and the mid-year board meeting of the National Medical Association and its auxiliary.

They, however, checked into the Commodore Hotel and didn't as much as stick a nose out until time to catch one of the delayed trains going South.

From here were Mrs. Emerson C. Walden, president-elect of the Auxiliary; Mrs. C. Mansell Lawrence, Eastern Zone director of the Auxiliary; Dr. Maybelle Weaver, third vice president of the Medical Association; and Dr. Percival C. Smith, vice speaker of the Association.

THE SECOND of a series on Africa's Awakening was featured by the Baltimore Club of Business and Professional Women at its meeting Tuesday evening with Okello Onyango of Kenya, economics student at Morgan State College, as speaker.

Mr. Onyango outlined racial progress made over three hundred years in spite of exploitation, cruelty, slavery and segregation. He stated that Africa is the focus of the world's struggle for liberty.

Refuting the charge of Africa's link with communism he said that Africans stand ready to make any sacrifice and are willing to pay any price to attain freedom.

At the same time, said the speaker, Africans are willing to accept peaceful cooperation with any citizen of the world who appreciates their struggle and will help their cause. To bring new nations to a state of adequacy is a long and arduous task, he added.

Mr. Onyango talked at length on education and the economic situation in his native land, their need of leadership and scholarships through which their youth could prepare themselves for leadership positions. Their greatest needs are scholarships, sponsors transportation and hospitality in any form. He asked for help for African students in the form of room, board, clothing, or books.

• • •

THE PROGRAM to be presented was Anthony Gray, graduate of Morgan, who plans to study law. Club guests were Mesdames Gladys Wallace, Julia B. King, Loretta Watty, Mary Manokey and Corinne Hunt.

Dr. Delores C. Hunt and Sedonia Merritt are co-chairmen of the African series.

The woman in business featured this month was Dora Braddy, proprietor of a cleaning and tailoring establishment. She staged a style show of her own originals, while wearing a smart black two-piecer which she topped with a mink - crowned hat.

The club's next theatre party is planned for March, when they will see "The Music Man," Ethel J. Day is chairman.

The Founder's Day celebration will be held on March 26, at Morgan Christian Center, Harriette Howard is chairman.

THE MARRIAGE of Miss Rosetta Briston to SP/4 William Hart has been announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Carson of Baltimore. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel Wilson. Mrs. Marva Collins, sister of the bride, and Robert Anthony attended the couple.

Alpha Phi Alphas elect Frank Veney to presidency

Pledging a "dynamic administration," Frank R. Veney, manager of Lexington Poe Homes, assumed office Monday night as president of Delta Lambda chapter, Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

More than 45 "brothers" hailed the new president, pledging him full cooperation during the ensuing year.

Also inducted into office were Cliff W. Mackay, vice president; Pierre Davis, secretary; Dr. Vernon Pennington, treasurer; Dr. Frederic Jackson, financial secretary; and Alonzo P. Moss, chaplain.

CHARLES P. HOWARD JR regional director for Maryland and Delaware, disclosed proposals of the Eastern Regional Vice President, Dr. Alfred Fentress of Norfolk, Va.

Alphas were admonished to again assume leadership in their communities and fulfill their responsibility to aid the stepped - fight for first - class citizenship.

Dr. Clifton R. Jones, the fraternity's national educational director, called on the chapter for assistance in observing the organization's continuing campaign of encouraging youngsters to complete their high school work and, if possible, enroll in college.

• • •

JOSEPH BRACEY, chairman of the special projects committee, reported that "bids" were ready for the Alpha benefit cabaret for the scholarship fund.

The affair, going formal for the first time this year, is to be held at the Coliseum on Friday, March 3 with "Wild Bill" Davis and his combo the feature attraction.

Continuous music has been made possible by the engagement also of the Gary Bartz Quartet featuring vocalist Hermian Hawkins, Mr. Bracey said.

Union wants promotion for Sergeant Violet Hill Whyte

The Sojourner Truth Women's Christian Temperance Union has petitioned Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron to promote Sgt. Violet H. Whyte to rank of lieutenant.

A resolution to that effect was voted to the luncheon session of the body on Saturday, at which the Union honored Mrs. Annie E. S. Wells who observed a birthday.

THE UNION has sought the support of churches, organizations and citizens in their appeal, pointing out the exceptional job Sgt
