Jack-Jill urged to widen horizon

Members of the Baltimore chapter of Jack and Jill of America were urged to widen their horizons and deepen their incentives, here, Sunday afternoon.

The advice came from Dr. Furman L. Templeton, executive director of the Baltimore Urban League, speaker at the 15th anniversary dinner, held in the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel.

PRAISING THE group for its dedicated program, focused upon their children, and for its contributions to community welfare which have exceeded $10,000, Dr. Templeton urged the members to "personal" giving. "It is not so easy to give of one's self as of one's cash," he explained.

In the latter area, Dr. Templeton said that, with present population changes, it is essential that cultural functions of the family be placed in the forefront, that parents concentrate on values and standards for their children. In addition to providing the love, security and respect for self and other, the families must also influence the community in which it lives.

Towards these ends, the speaker listed six prospective objectives for the chapter.

HE SUGGESTED exposing all levels of the community to the aims and objectives of Jack and Jill; to strengthen and lengthen the program of the organization to include its alumni at college level; to project its cultural horizons to socio-economical levels.

He also suggested that the group encourage its young people to strive for academic excellence; give greater consideration to involvement of the father in the program; and emphasize uniformity of standards for their children.

As an added note, Dr. Templeton urged Jack and Jill members to interest themselves in legislation that affect all children. Dr. Templeton was presented by Mrs. Rebecca Carroll.

MRS. MAURICE ADAMS presided at the dinner meeting, which had been preceded by a cocktail hour.

Other participants on the program included the Rev. Howard Cornish, who gave the grace; Mrs. Grace M. Scott, president of the chapter, who greeted the group; a dramatization by charter members, which depicted the history of the chapter, narrated by Mrs. Blanche Hughes; a musical skit, under direction of Mrs. Gloria Stokes and narrated by Mrs. Althea Cornish, and the cities of two members, Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips, member of the School Board in absentia; and Verda F. Welcome, the Maryland Legislature.

CUTEST PARTY of the week was that on Sunday, which marked the birthday of Charlotte Downie and given by Mary Dee Marrow.

Last year Charlotte and Mary Dee shared a room while Patients at Provident Hospital . . . along with Lillian Dates.

So, Mrs. Marrow gathered the two of them, prepared an elegant dinner, and they held a reunion . . . but in much more pleasant surroundings . . . the Marrow home on Ruxton Ave. Present was the hostess' daughter, Janet.

The Pleiades had fun at their monthly meeting as they celebrated the birthdays of two club members, Murray Schmoke and Irene Schmoke. There were the conventional birthday cakes (each with one candle). A different feature was the presentations of original birthday greetings composed by the club members.

One of the birthday greetings went like this:

It happens to the best of us.
No need to fret, my dear.
When folks say, "One year older",
Present you just don't hear.
Of course, you haven't reached that age
Where you start counting back;
But when you do, just take this hint
Or, ride the "Jack Benny" track.

The Pleiades Club has been organized eight years. Throughout these years, they have presented a scholarship to a Douglass or Dunbar graduate who wishes to attend Morgan or any other state college. In previous years, the club has raised funds for the scholarship through dances. They are now making plans for a card party.

Members are:

Mr. and Mrs Donald Bagwell, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Schmoke, Mr. and Mrs. Enlo Rountree and Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Shoultz;

Henry Goodman, president of the club; Miss Lillian Chamberlain, Mrs. Clara Jackson and Mrs. Hermia Rodgers

ON SATURDAY evening from five to seven, a group of friends donned their prettiest afternoon dresses and joined Jerry Winckler and Delores Young, co-hostesses, to give a surprise baby shower for Ruth Robinson of St. George's Avenue.

Her husband, Lawrence, had carried the family to visit friends while the hostesses, along with Ruth's mom, and sister, Max, worked to complete the plans.

When the honoree arrived, she questioned Jerry and Delores for being in her house. They persuaded her to come down to the clubroom where some friends were learning to do some of the latest dancing steps.

When Ruth descended the stairs, she found the group of her intimate friends gathered in the center of the group was a comfortable chair, placed beside a beautifully decorated framed umbrella. From the umbrella, there were ribbons streaming to each guest's gift.

The hostesses opned the gifts for the expectant mom who was so surprised that all she could do amidst the tears was to say Ooh! Aah!

The group played games, tried a few of the latest steps, and sipped champagne punch, or more potent drinks for those who preferred them.

The guests were served buffet style from a beautiful laden table; the center piece being a most delicate colored gladiola.

Those who had a most enjoyable time were:

Mesdames Ruth Walter, Gwendolyn Seaborne, Maxine Higginbotham, Clarice Tilghman, Ella Pierce, Madeliene Pyles, Mary Smalley, Catherine Johnson;

Mesdames Dorothy Brown, Cora Fleming, Frances Washington, Mary Walker, Louise Jones, all of Baltimore, and Lillian Wallace of Silver Spring, Md.

Add a new son for Mr. and Mrs. Godwin D'Lillye, who arrived at Lutheran Hospital on Tuesday. Baby weighed Mrs., Claudine Snowden, who six pounds and 14 ounces, and is the fourth child of the couple.

Mr. D'Lillye is a policeman of the Southwestern District. Mother is the former Gloria Morris. Their other children, are Godwin, 3rd., 5; Yvette, 4; and Sheila, 3.

Coming up . . . a cabaret party for Sunday afternoon March 5th, when the Clevery Kiquejays hold forth for a very worthy cause.

Their affair, which will be held in the Winchester Armory, is designed to gather funds for the R. W. Coleman Association of the Handicapped. This group, through the years, has provided glasses for persons unable to buy them . . . now it plans to enlarge its aid program.

The cabaret party will have as hostesses: Elizabeth Bartz, Lillian Bates, Pauline Brooks, Lois Clark, Elizabeth Dett, Gladys Fulton, Robert Keets, Dorothy Newton and Melinee Yerrell.

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Mildred W. Harris, whose essay won national prize and honorable recognition in a food and fashion contest sponsored throughout the United States and Canada by Advertising Distributors of America.

Mrs. Harriday is a sixth grade teacher at School No. 16.

The Maryland Legislature celebration in Frederick, Md., last Thursday, provided the raison d'etre for the Charles E. Hicks, III elegantly entertaining in their parlegante home on Ballenger Creek Road.

Charles and Marie had the guests in for cocktails before the banquet, and for snacks and conversation after the reception and far into the night.

In the meantime they and the guests attended the banquet and the reception, having coffee in the Anne Key Coffee Shop of the Francis Scott Key Hotel between the two.

The Hicks' guets were Senator J. Alvin Jones, Delegate John J. Nowakowski, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Abrahanson, Del. Irma Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Sol J. Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Tombro, Del. Verda F. Welcome, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Bagharack and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stark, all of Baltimore. The gentlemen of the couples are all in the State Legislature. Also there was Del. Charles R. Brockmeyer of Anne Arundel County.

SORORITY WOMEN of Philly's Omega Omega served founders day at the Franklin Hotel Saturday with Supreme Basileus Dr. Marjorie Parker

BUSY Chapter of Sorority observed the Benjamin Franklin Birthday with Sister Dr. Marjorie Parker of Washington as speaker (seated above) with Mrs. Emma Brinkley, Anti Basileus of Philadelphia. Others are Alice Johnson, Ruby Boyd, Phyllis Beckett and Emma Bright of Baltimore.

MR. AND MRS. NATHANIEL R. BROOKS, recently married in Baltimore, received guests at a reception in the Harvey Johnson Center of Union Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Brooks is the former Mrs. Lucille E. Marcus, organist at Union, and a city school teacher of music.

Wedding fete for Mr., Mrs. Brooks

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel R. Brooks, who were married on January 28, received guests in the Harvey Johnson Center of Union Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon.

The bride is the former Mrs. Lucille Marcus and is organist of the church. She is also head of the music department of Carver Vocational-Technical High School. Mr. Brooks is with the U. S. Navy Hydrographic Office in Fruitland, Md.

For the reception she wore an ice blue satin sheath with softly draped low cut front. The neckline was deeper in the back. The overskirt was bordered with crystal bead rose petals and she wore a hat of pale blue rose petals. Her accessories were in shy violet.

IN THE RECEIVING LINE were Miss Margaret Sterling, Mrs. Theresa Austin, mother of the bride; Mr., and Mrs. Walter Webb, parents of the bridegroom; Mrs. Ruth Thaxton, sister of the bride; Miss Jean Austin, sister of the bride; Miss Jessie Austin, sister of the bride; Mrs. Louise Cooper, and Mrs. Rose Mebane.

HOSTESSES INCLUDED Miss Areea Richardson, Mrs. Louise Beasly, Mrs. Rhoda Hartman, Mrs. Elizabeth Dett and Mrs. Chandler Harmon.

Guests were directed to a white draped table from which assorted sandwiches, nuts, mints, small cakes and punch were served. A centerpiece of white snapdragons, gladiolas with silver leaves and candelabras was flanked by the huge silver punch bowls at each end of the table.

WEDDING CAKE, topped by orchids from which hung streamers of pastel ribbons, was served from a separate table. The base was surrounded by silver leaves and pink carnations.

Prior to the cutting of the cake, Mrs. Brooks removed the orchid, which he pinned on his bride. The cake was served by a cousin, Mrs. Florine Washington, who wore a street-length frock of imported Italian velveteen. The only trimming was a shoulder to shoulder collar of mink on a small mink hat, also.

Assisting Mrs. Washington was Mrs. Mary Lyles, chic in blue chiffon and gold accessories.

WEDDING MUSIC, through the evening, was provided by Hasker Gunthorp, Mr. Dorothy Tate, Miss Flora Tate, Miss Florine Poulson and Carverette Livingston, soloists. Pianists were Mrs. Emma Poulson, Miss Lucille E. Marcus Jr., Lionel Jones and Mrs. Wenda Melton.

With Dr. Frank R. Veal, President of Allen University, Dean Cumbo discusses second semester plans during coffee break. "Most of us here at school prefer Carnation to cream in our coffee," Miss Cumbo points out. "It makes coffee taste so delicious—and it's nice to know Carnation cuts fat calories in half!"

"Carnation is the milk I use like cream for coffee and cooking—even whipping!"

During her busy day at Allen University in Columbia, South Carolina, Miss T. Lorraine Cumbo likes to relax for a coffee break now and then. After school she comes home to her attractive apartment on the campus—and relaxes by serving dinner to student guests!

"Cooking is my hobby—but I'm careful about calories. That's why I cook with Carnation. It makes everything taste so creamy—but it has only ½ the fat calories of cream."

Today's Carnation is evaporated a special way that makes it look, pour and even whip like cream—with ½ the fat calories, and at ½ the cost of cream. Even when you mix it with an equal amount of water, Carnation gives smoother cooking results than ordinary milk, at far less cost.

recipe:

Creamed Chicken with CARNATION LUMP-FREE CREAM SAUCE
(Makes about 4 servings)

2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1½ cups (large can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK

Blend flour, salt and butter together in saucepan over low heat until smooth. Gradually add undiluted Carnation to butter-flour mixture. Stir constantly until thickened and smooth. For Creamed Chicken or Turkey: Pour "Lump-Free" Cream Sauce over mixture of 2 cups chopped cooked chicken or turkey, ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup sliced stuffed olives. Serve over toast slices or toasted buns.

"From Contented Cows"

Carnation EVAPORATED MILK

Allen University students gather for an informal supper at Dean Cumbo's apartment. Left to right are Sitrena Burris, Miss Cumbo and Gloria Massey. Main dish will be chicken with Carnation cream sauce (recipe below). "Carnation has been the milk in my home as long as I can remember," Miss Cumbo says. "In fact, it was my formula milk when I was a baby." This milk is the red and white can is the world's favorite by far.
