New church for one swept away in flood

WASHINGTON

Ground-Breaking Services for Alexander P. Shaw Methodist Church's new edifice will be held Sunday April 30, 3:45 p.m. at 12th Pl. and Jasper Rd., SE, it was announced early this week.

The celebration will start with a gala parade of 500 or more people. Bishop A. P. Shaw, of California, Bishop A. Love and Rev. Dr. R. Fletcher, of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church have been invited to be speakers on this occasion.

The church's old building was swept down Oxon Creek in a flood five years ago. The celebration will commemorate the aid given by Washingtonians who, upon reading the tragic story in the AFRO, rose to the occasion.

Hot fight expected on AFL-CIO dismissal

By CHUCK STONE

The AFL - CIO summarily fired Ted Brown, assistant director of its civil rights division last week, and immediately set off speculations of a final showdown between the colored community of America and the labor leadership of George Meany.

At the AFL - CIO headquarters, the atmosphere was one of a guilty child caught stealing candy and licking his fingers at the same time.

The burly president of the union stolidly refused to comment on the dismissal.

ANOTHER AFL-CIO spokesman inquired whether the AFRO had talked with Brown. Informed that Brown had confirmed his dismissal to us, but had given no reasons, the spokesman replied contemptuously, "well, that's all we're saying."

So touchy was the issue that neither AFL - CIO vice-president A. Philip Randolph nor Rep. Adam Clayton Powell would comment on Brown's dismissal.

The AFRO learned, however, that Mr. Randolph had wired Meany last week for an explanation, but as of Thursday, had received no answer.

ANOTHER PROMINENT labor leader in New York City, L. Joseph Overton, told the AFRO "I've been getting telephone calls from all over the country and everybody is really 'teed off.'

"As a result of Brown's dismissal," said Overton, "we're calling for a nationwide one - day work stoppage to protest labor's attitude toward civil rights." Overton said the date of the one-day stoppage would be announced as soon as he consulted with other labor leaders.

ANOTHER DINGUISHED colored - leader who asked that his name be withheld for the moment declared a mass rally of "all black workers" might be held in Madison Square Garden to protest the anti - civil rights attitude of George Meany.

"The dismissal of Ted Brown may now split the labor movement in two," declared one prominent authority. "The colored man in America today is the backbone of the labor movement. Meany has refused to recognize this and if he has, he probably fears too much black power in his union."

HOWEVER, Brown's firing was viewed by most observers as an extension of the long-smoldering feud between Meany and Mr. Randolph.

The quarrel between the two men goes back to February, 1960 at the annual AFL-CIO convention when Meany angrily asked Mr. Randolph "who the hell appointed you guardian for all the colored workers?" Subsequently, Meany also attacked Rep. Powell and denounced his possible election to head the House Labor and Education Committee.

Exactly one year later, this past February at the AFL - CIO convention in Miami, Mr. Randolph again accused the union of dragging its heels in removing racial bars within all unions. He called for a complete overhaul of the AFL-CIO's civil rights division and suggested that its director, Boris Shishkin, be replaced by a colored man.

THE POSSIBILITY that Brown would have been the logical candidate to succeed Shiskin reportedly set off a series of Machiavellian maneuvers culminating in Brown's dismissal last week.

Another factor in Brown's firing has been his activities on behalf of the Negro American Labor Council founded last year by A. Philip Randolph. Meany has been consistently opposed to any so - called "separatist" movement within the labor movement, but has been warned by Mr. Randolph and other colored labor leaders that this is the only method they can exert to achieve a quicker racial equality within labor.

The AFRO also learned that an advisory committee would review Brown's dismissal sometime next month. There were speculations that he would be "reinstated" and that the dismissal was merely a "warning" against any future militant activity on behalf of racial equality within the labor movement.

These are some of the jobs now open at Treasury Dept.

The Treasury Department in a second unprecedented move by a government agency or bureau has requested the AFRO's assistance in publicizing job openings now available to qualified college students.

Typists, stenographers, engineers and persons who qualify for various administrative and technical positions are eligible to apply.

In the March 25 edition of the Washington AFRO the Treasury Department announced that it was moving toward the abolishment of the discriminatory practices which existed prior to that time.

SINCE THEN, the department has moved with all deliberate speed in order to accomplish this end.

Positions which are now open include: typists and stenographers at grades GS-2 ($3,500 pa) through GS-4 ($4,040 pa), engineers at GS-5 ($5,335 pa) and GS-7 ($6,345 pa).

A few positions are filled each year from the Federal Service Entrance Examination at grades GS-5 ($4,345 pa) and GS-7 ($5,335 pa) for work in administrative and technical fields.

Other positions which the Treasury Department is anxious to fill are listed below.

TAX EXAMINER, Internal Revenue Service. If you have completed two years of college, by day or night classes, or have graduated from a two-year junior college, or if you have completed 24 semester hours in accounting subjects in a technical school of accountancy, you may qualify to enter the Internal Revenue Service as a Tax Examiner trainee.

For the man or woman attending college classes at night, the position offers an excellent way to "earn while you learn" and provides practical education in tax matters to complement such college courses as those in business administration, business economics, accounting or a related subject.

Tax Examiner intern positions are quite often filled by graduate students at somewhat higher entrance salaries than undergraduates.

INTERNAL REVENUE Agent, Internal Revenue Service.

If you have successfully completed four years of college-level study (30 semester hours or 45 quarter hours per year), including a total of 24 semester hours or 36 quarter hours in accounting and directly related subjects, you have the necessary educational background for this position.

An Internal Revenue Agent examines and audits the accounting books and records of individuals, partnerships, fiduciaries, and corporations to determine their correct Federal tax liabilities.

Work will involve contacts with corporation executives, accountants, attorneys and individual taxpayers in all walks of life.

-Judgeship

has gotten around that President Kennedy is strongly remembering Mayor Grady's support, and has him in mind for appointment to one of Maryland's new Federal judgeships, as a token of appreciation.

Should this appointment materialize — Philip H. Goodman, president of the City Council and one of the defunct "3-Gs" team, would, by city statute, become mayor to serve the remaining two years of the Grady term.

ALL OF this has brought howls of anguish from several quarters — including Dr. Walter R. Graham Jr., city comptroller and another of the "3-Gs."

The thing has gotten to the name - calling stage.

Somebody appears not to be thinking too clearly in this matter.

When the President honors a man with an appointment to office — he has every right to accept. Without a very valid reason for refusing, he would undoubtedly look silly.

When Mr. Goodman was voted in office, people knew he would be acting mayor in Mr. Grady's absence — and mayor if Grady resigned.

So — Mr. Grady has every right to accept the Federal judgeship appointment.

Mr. Goodman has every right to succeed him as mayor.

It's as simple as that.

Dr. Graham notwithstanding.
