to handle the Barrett girls.

THE BOARD held further discussion on the possibilities of setting up and maintaining halfway house — institutions for the further rehabilitation of training school inimates.

These halfway houses would be for those persons able to be released from training schools, but not yet deemed sufficiently rehabilitated to be returned to the community.

The plan, if adopted, would be launched first for girls.

The admissions of girls for the current year are ahead of those for fiscal 1960 at Montrose and Barrett, and there is overcrowding at both schools, the board revealed.

Also disclosed was the fact that there is some unrest among the juvenile institutions.

The camps report an outbreak of runaways involving white boys. Boy's Village had 16 boys running away as a group on May 8, and other situations have developed including attempted suicide. This latter incident was not pinpointed to an institution.

BOARD MEMBERS of the Department of Public Welfare will meet Monday with Barrett School officials to determine the possible integrating of the school's staff with that of the Montrose School.

Bids on the construction of the Department's Southern Regional Detention Center are to be issued in the near future, the board announced. BURHA Calls 28 pt

The Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency this week flatly rejected as "impractical or undesirable" all the suggested revisions for the first Mount Royal - Fremont Renewal Area.

Since the project was sent to the City Council for approval, a number of revisions have been proposed to the Judiciary Committee headed by Councilman Henry R. Hergenroeder (D., Third).

Under the suggested revisions a number of residential and business places would be rehabilitated instead of demolished as called for in BURHA plans.

At the same time these revisions were rejected. Richard L. Steiner, BURHA director, said the agency would agree to give long-tenure leases to displaced businesses to assist them in relocating in the area.

MR. STEINER said the agency would do this "to encourage small business to remain in the neighborhood and prosper there" although the city benefits more when cleared property is sold.

BURHA's position on the revision proposals was set forth in a report to Councilman Hergenroeder's committee which is considering the changes.

Mr. Steiner said the advanced revisions would "jeopardize the long range stability, fundamental to the renewal plan, and the safety of private investment could not be assured with any conviction."

GREENSBORO, N.C. — A grant of $18,245 has been awarded to A. and T. COLLEGE by the Atomic Energy Commission to continue a research project, "Biochemical and Immunological Studies of Mice Treated With X-Ray and Protected by Bone Marrow Treatment."
