Off The Beaten Path —

BY ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

By ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

Walter Coleman, son of Mrs. Mabel Coleman who is employed in Medical Records at Provident Hospital, is doing splendid as a commercial artist and painter in France.

A recently published booklet shows his paintings, of Billie Holiday, done in sombre colors with flecks of flashing color, to tell of her tearful laughter and songs.

The painting has received great praise.

Mr. Coleman resides in Southern France, in Biot, with his wife, whom he met in Sweden, and 4 - year-old son. Mrs. Coleman recently received as an award for her jewelery designs, a trip to the U.S. this fall.

Mr. Coleman went to France eight years ago when he finished the Parsons School of Design.

• • •

ANOTHER OF Mrs. Coleman's interesting children is son, W. Emmett Coleman, an architect, who resides in Paris. He finished Yale.

The Coleman daughters are Mrs. Helen Del'Aigle who is head of recreation at Larson Air Force Base, Washington, and Miss Nancy Coleman, a psychiatric social worker, Burlington, Vt.

Dr. Ras O. Johnson, who spoke to Coppin State Teachers College students last month received one of the nation's distinguished awards last week.

Cited for his work as chief of the Division of Education, United States Operations in Laos, Dr. Johnson recieved the Meritorious Service Citation for advancing education in Laos.

He was also singled out for praise on the ABC-TV program entitled "The Splendid American."

Dr. Johnson on furlough, will return to Laos or some African country in three years to help establish education there.

• • •

THE URBAN LEAGUE and the Masons should receive honors for the "Family Life Conference" held at the Masonic Temple last week.

"Utterly marvelous" are the words for the manner in which the gigantic affair was organized.

Dr. Gladyce Bradley Jones and Cortez Puryear struck upon the idea of the conference last winter. The results of such a dynamic conference are expected to be far-reaching and may well affect the ideals and ideas of the era on sex and sex education.

• • •

MISS LOUISE LARKINS, 56, a longtime Sharp Street Methodist Church member, was buried from there last week.

She was a member for 50 years, and a daughter of the late George Larkins, a waiter, who served many years at the old Rennert and Joyce Hotels. Her mother was a seamstress.

The Larkins family has resided at 1235 Druid Hill Ave. 54 years. Miss Larkins was a Coppin grad, taught school in Anne Arundel County and later worked for the Federal Government. She was head of the Girls Interest Group, Women's Society of Christian Service, many years ago.

• • •

LT. COL. and Mrs. Edward C. Johnson (he leaves Morgan to go to a post in New York) will return to Baltimore to live when he retires in 1964.

Mrs. Johnson, the sister of Roy Campanella, is petite and pretty, wept during the farewell party at the college last week.

She has made herself at home here in Baltimore, doing nice things for others, lending a helping hand at the Knox Presbyterian Church nursery and as a Gray Lady at Montebello Hospital.

At the testimonial, Dr. Martin Jenkins told how she had persuaded his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins to become a Gray Lady.

Together, the two have spent many hours at the hospital helping to care for the sick.

• • •

LT. COL. James D. Fowler succeeds Lt. Colonel Johnson at Morgan, to head the military department. He will arrive in Baltimore soon with his wife, a teen-aged daughter who will attend Morgan, two sons, one who will go to Poly and a 10 - year - old who will at that he will be made a full tend public school. Words is colonel in the near future.

• • •

IN WASHINGTON, Mrs. Ruth Shipley is up and about after almost nine months of grave illness. As usual, Ruth looks fine, very smartly dressed, and is on the road to recovery.

• • •

A GRACIOUS hostess, always smiling, is Mrs. Virginia Gunn of the Morgan Student Union Building.

• • •

MORE THAN the 400 expected guests arrived to congratulate the Alvan Stanleys on their 50th anniversary Sunday.

Countless gifts of gold were received. The couple spent more than 12 hours receiving guests, remained excited throughout. Now they've settled down to unwrapping, writing thank-you's and planning their summer vacation.

• • •

SPEAKING OF vacations, teachers about town have plans to spread out all over the globe with some on tour of Africa. Many college students—are going to Russia and other foreign nations.

Samuel Daniels, back from 15 weeks at Harvard received the treasured trade union certificate and then dived in to Masonic business which promises to keep him busy all summer. Many important events are coming up.

Under his expert supervisions, the Masons were hosts at the Family Life Conference Saturday.

• • •

THE METHODIST Conference, scheduled for next week at Morgan State College, is forecast as "quiet," with few exciting developments.

1964 promises an eventful meeting when Bishop Edgar A. Love retires as resident bishop.

Wilbert Williams, 3052 Arunah Ave., celebrated his sixth birthday with 70 of his School No. 145 kindergarten pupils as guests. His teachers, his mother, Mrs. Gerline Williams, his grandmother; Mrs. Ophelia Hickerson, 1729 McCulloh St., were hostesses.

Special guests were his brother, Maser, 4; and next - door neighbor, James Short, 6.

ON THE Eastside

By CHARLOTTE W. DOWNIE

The faithful Ushers of Temple Baptist Church held their seventh anniversary services last Sunday, with fine sessions held throughout the day.

Led by our Eastside dynamo, Mrs. Sarah Baldwin, other officers include Mrs. Leola Miles, vice president; Mrs. Juanita Diggs, secretary; Mrs. Jennie James, chaplain; Mrs. Ora Segree, treasurer and Mrs. Daisy Brown and Miss Rosa Boone, members.

The Rev. Charlestopher A. Hill is the pastor of Temple Baptist Church, located at 1800 N. Wolfe St. which is fast becoming one of our Eastside's most progressive young churches.

Mrs. Janie James introduced the speaker, the Rev. James A. Minor, assistant pastor of Community Baptist Church, at the 3 p.m. service.

Highlight of the celebration was the "East Baltimore Night" service held at 8 p.m.

Lovely Mrs. Juanita Diggs presided.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Charlotte W. Downie, AFRO Eastside columnist.

Also participating was Mrs. Julia Heath of First Baptist Church; Mrs. Inez Spicer of the Adjacent Neighborhood Club and Mrs. Elaine J. Harvey of New St. Johns Baptist Church.

• • •

ANOTHER BIG DAY held on our Eastside Sunday was the 31st annual Men's Day at St. Paul Baptist Church, located at Gulford and Lanvale Sts. The Rev. George A. Crawley is pastor.

Officers of the Men's Day were, B. Oglesby, president; Alfred Hurt, 1st vice president; Vernell Weaver, 2nd vice president; Marshall W. Jones Jr., secretary, and James Gregory, assistant secretary.

The morning sermon was delivered by Leonard Anderson.

Edward Wilkens introduced the speaker, the Rev. Tyree Nelson of Princess Anne, Md. an afternoon speaker.

The Men's Chorus of Ebenezer Baptist Church sang several selections. Remarks given by Rev. Moses Williams of Zion Baptist Church and the Rev. George A. Crawley of St. Paul Baptist Church.

Men's Day Committees were: Program, George L. Moore, B. Oglesby, Vernell Weaver, Charles Barner, and Edward Wilkins, Social Committee, Joseph Carey, George H. Harris, Leonard Henderson and Phillip Hankins; Decorating committee, Alfred Hurt, Otis Staley, John Banks, Harry Beard, Richard Glencamp and Alton Robinson.

• • •

SICK — Talked to Charlotte Johnson, now at J. H. Lawrence Gray out in street, lost weight. Annabelle Murray now at home after being hospitalized with 3rd degree burns of legs, arms and body. She fell while carrying grease Sat.

Rinky Dinks outing at the Joe Berry Glen Burnie home this month. Sphinx 30 - Year Club meeting this Sun. Master Beauticians Guild cocktail party at the club same date. Elgy Wilson and his yachtamen were in with grand party Sun. past.

Sphinx softball team lost to the State Department team of D.C., 18-15, at Rock Creek Park Tue. While C. P. T. was napping at Druid Hill Park Sun., Crockett's team took advantage of his team to the tune of 43-11.

The club teams will hold another practice Sun.

During Sun. skirmish, Ratty Billy proved to be a poor sportsman. Despite ruling of umpire, he insisted on making a home run out of a foul ball. Helen Fowlkes also got into the act by clearing the bases with a sure out grounder which was muffed by Crockett's second team.

Speaking of Ratty Billy, his car was impounded on Madison Ave. Wed. Spectators thought he might become a Mother for a moment.

Jerusalem Temple No. 4 hosted Sphinx ball players at the club Mon. They sang, danced and really had a fine time. You would have thought they had won the June 10 game against the Sphinx Club to be held in Halethorpe at the annual crab feast.

On the TOWN

Button Down the hatch, swinging ones, the Crawlers latched on to a wild one the past seven and we just have to tell ya about it.

It was the annual Impersonators Ball at the Melody Ballroom Saturday. To say it was something else, is like saying the sky is high.

They were so far in orbit, the A-Ok man, Alan Shepard, could have learned a thing a two.

Decked out in gorgeous gowns, tinted hairdos (some wigs, others the real thing), high heels, lipstick, makeup, the works, nearly a hundred apparent dolls promenadded from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

We say "apparent" because closer scrutiny revealed that some of the most fabulous Impersonators were guys.

A double check of such celeb names as Gi Gi, Lolita, Yvette, Lana Lanshaw, Tootsie, Mimsie, Renee, Yvonne Vicky and countless others besides, turned up genuine musclers such as:

Edward, Bernard, Pete, Ernest, Henry, Charles, John, etc. etc. and etc.

On the other side of the fence, dolls who wanted to be guys were equally striking in boyish hairdos, neatly tailored cord suits, decorated with cigars.

• • •

THE LADIES and guys for a night had things all to themselves.

It gowns so tight they could hardly breathe, and fashionable shoes (some killing oversized dogs), they squirmed about the floor and cooed darlings, dears, honey childs, girls I'm telling you's in such convincing fashion, the nose of "for real guys," uninitiated in the facts of life, were definitely turned.

For instance there was the scene in the hall where a peer joe, obviously sincere in latching on to a charming chick, poured out his heart.

He almost melted in his shoes when "the lady" told him how it was.

• • •

AS IS customary at these annual blowouts, two prizes are awarded. One for the most stunning outfit and the other for "charm, grace, finesse and poise."

Grabbing the former was Gi Gi, who shook the house to no end with a white, rabbit get-up, which plunged low in the back.

It in fact was a throw back to the plunging necklines, often on display by Hollywood glamour gals.

In fact, so revealing was Gi Gi's dress that the cops forced him to conceal a bit more.

Gi Gi disappeared for a couple of minutes only to return with a blue fur stole. The house whooped.

• • •

THE SLINKY performance was good enough to take the fifth of pink champagne offered as first prize for the most unusually attired contestant.

Walking, gliding would be a better word, off with top prize for poise charm etc. was Yvette, who was draped in a gold gown decorated with sparkling jewelry.

The new winners were presented their presents by the reigning queen of Impersonators, Lena, for was draped in spiked heels, earrings, and glittering satin gown.

The job of picking winners in the contest fell to the lot of the Crawlers and Warren Brooks, one of Hamm's crack salesmen.

• • •

IT WAS no easy job, but the choice met with shrieking approval.

The affair is sponsored by the Distinguished Ladies Club, headed by Mrs. Louise Palmer, president.

She called the affair a hit, and the way they swung behind the whaling of Big Ray Adams and his Rocking Tornados, she couldn't have been righter.

One lady put it this way as the crowd spilled down the corridors following the 2 a.m. blackout:

"Dahling, it was a beautiful night!"

Others cooed complete approval as they filed out of the house, looking forward to New Years, date of the next convention.

Crawlers were told gendermes were on the scene because the last affair developed into a sidewalk donnybrook.

Was it something? Is Khrushchev a Communist!!!

• • •

AROUND THE stroll everything and everybody are swinging from the hilt: For instance:

Maceo's second anniversary celebration, kicking off Monday week for five fabulous days.

It will feature candlelight, exotic foods and drink making up an atmosphere punctuated by the melodic organ mastery of Waverly Edmondson.

Nice guy Walter Thomas and his bevy of Kleeco Club heart throbbers are cooking up a deal, which, according to the Crawlers inside info, bids fair to put all concerned in orbit.

How can it miss when Jerri, Greta, Shirlee and Alice are manning the launching pad?

To blend with flesh and flame, headed by the fabulous Flink, Chick's has added other exotic twisters such as Lady Lola, Vanilla Wafers, Mikki to round out the big spring spectacular.

You want to spend a cool Sabbath evening? Ease over to Phil's and catch the 4 to 7 Jazz session. The Jazz Trio plus One really sells.

• • •

ALL AROUND the burg, Crawlers have heard endless weeping and wailing about foul weather putting the quietus on lovers of life seeking fun and relaxation at their favorite spots.

Well, its no longer true, the weather man is making he loves you, so there's no better time than B.-A.'s now to hit these entertainment meccas.

Rice's Cashas, Carr's Beach, Dotson's, and Adams Cocktail Lounge, all suburban hideouts where living is really easy.

So you can't make it to the outskirts this seven, why despair?

There's no need to when there're such spots as the following just waiting to welcome you:

North End, Carnival Lounge, Lucky Number, Red Fox, Vilma, Sphinx, Casino, Jones Cocktail Lounge and Knotty Pine.

So, like man, whether you feel it close and breeze out wide, you can't miss, even if you tried.

Be digging you on the Dawn Patrol. Oh! A-Ok!
