Catholics to attend D.C. mass

More than 30 buses carrying members of the St. Peter Claver Catholic Church parish are leaving Sunday, June 18 to attend the Washington appearance of Laurian Cardinal Rugambwa.

The new Cardinal, Bishop of Kutabo, Tanganyika, Africa, will offer Holy Mass at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington at 4 p.m.

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen will deliver the sermon.

Father Offer, pastor of the St. Peter Claver Church, invites all Baltimoreans to attend the Mass.

Chartered buses will depart from the following parishes at 1:30 p.m. June 18. (Bus tickets are on sale at each church.)

St. Cecilia's, Windsor and Hilton; St. Pius, Schroeder and Edmondson; St. Edwards, Poplar Grove and Prospect; St. Francis Xavier, Caroline and Eager; St. Gregory's, Gilmor and Baker; St. Varonica, Cherry Hill; Christ the King, Sollers Point Rd. at Dundalk; St. Peter Claver, Fremont and Pennsylvania Ave.

Rev. D. A. Wilson honored June 9

A testimonial honoring the Rev. D. A. Wilson for 57 years of service to God and the African Methodist Episcopal Church as our pastor and presiding elder will be held tonight (Friday) at Turner Memorial AME Church, 6th and Eye Sts., NW.

ONLY LIVING FORMER PASTOR of Bethel AME Church is Dr. A. Chester Clark, New York, right, shown with Bethel's present pastor, the Rev. Harrison J. Bryant, on Sunday at 50th anniversary when the Rev. Mr. Clark was guest speaker. He is secretary-treasurer of the AME Church Home and Foreign Mission Department and a general officer, pastored in Baltimore from 1928 to 1932.

Rev. A. C. Brown heads Maryland Baptist group

The Rev. A. C. Brown, pastor and founder of the New St. John Baptist Church, has been unanimously elected to serve as president of the Maryland Baptist Convention.

He succeeds the Rev. J. R. Butler, who after serving for ten years, asked that he be relieved.

The session, the 33rd annual one, was held at First Baptist Church, Cherry Hill.

The new president is a trustee of the Maryland Baptist Convention Board and a former student at the Jones Williams Institute.

Others elected were:

The Revs. C. H. Clark, First Baptist, Cherry Hill, first vice-president; the Rev. L. J. Gilliam, New Saint Mark, second vice-president; J. Woodard Kelly Sr., secretary; W.N. Brown, treasurer.

Mrs. Thelma Culp, corresponding secretary Mrs. Bernice Mead, president of Woman's Auxiliary, Campbell Harper, president of Sunday School Auxiliary.

JUBILANT PARISHONER — Perry Wright Sr., 2326 W. Mosher St., is carried into St. Peter Claver Church to attend the annual mass for the sick, delighted to be able to attend church despite his one missing leg. The annual mass for the sick attracted hundreds of members and friends from the Baltimore area.

Rev. and Mrs. Clark at home in new Ames Methodist parsonage

The Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Clark were at home at their new residence, 4107 Alto Rd. on Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Clark is pastor of Ames Methodist Church.

The new parsonage was the scene of festivity as church members and guests dropped in to enjoy much and look at the spacious residence.

The green shingled Cape Cod bungalow was purchased in April. The Rev. Mr. Clark moved his family here from Philadelphia where they resided when he was district superintendent of the Charleston District.

LOCATED ON a shady, tree-lined street, the attractive residence has four bedrooms, a living room with an open fireplace, spacious dining room, a large country kitchen and a family room in the basement.

In the rear, the Clarks have a barbecue pit and ample space for outdoor living.

The Clark children are Leon, 17; Lorraine, 7; Ernest Jr., 4, and Donna Marie, 2.

Consecration services began at 6:30 p.m. with Bishop A. Love, area bishop, presiding. Others on the program were Mrs. Eleanor Moore and Linwood Johnson, soloist.

Hosts and hostesses were members of the parsonage committee and included Mesdames Henrietta Brown, Emma Hicks, Mary Hazelton, Bertha Dorsey, Sannie Curtis, Addie Cranford, Susanna Watkins, Frances Greer, Clara Bowie, Lucille Custis, Lestina Scribner, Mabel Isabelle and Missouri Conway and Messrs. Russell Hammond, George G. Kelson and Joseph Mebane. Members of the E. P. Clark Courtesy Committee are Mesdames Emma Stepney, Lilyan Nichols, Helen Atkins and Izola Owens and Messrs. George Newman and Robert Marner.

Methodists Meeting Here In Historic Session

ARRIVING on Morgan College's campus for Methodist conference are the Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Scott of the Centennial Methodist Church.

DELEGATES to the annual Methodist Conference which has drawn 280 official representatives and hundreds of others to the Morgan State College campus are the Rev. William A. Carter, 124 Berlin Ave., Patapsco Park, Md., and Morris Yorkman Sr., 2620 Boone St., Baltimore.

DISCUSSING the integration issue which was scheduled to be voted on today (Friday) are the Rev. U. D. Chambers of St. Matthews Methodist, Baltimore, and the Rev. and Mrs. William Lyles, Folkston Federal Hill Charge.

AT METHODIST conference on Morgan campus the Rev. I. G. Simpson of Washington, D.C. checks registration materials.

Central Jurisdiction, presided over by its own bishops and church officials.

The 1960 General Conference at Denver attracted world wide attention as the church voted against integration or abolishment of the Central Jurisdiction.

The vote favored "gradual" integration on the local church level.

The invitation to transfer the Baltimore Area to the Northeastern Jurisdiction could become the first step toward total integration of the Methodist Church.

THE 98TH ANNUAL conference got off to a jovial start as delegates, members, ministers and friends began arriving at the Morgan campus on Wednesday morning.

By early afternoon, Mrs. Althea V. Cornish, registrar, had placed 486 visitors in dormitory rooms. They received conference programs and kits, complete with pin-on name tags saying "Hello. I am John Doe. Who are you?"

Delegates continued to arrive from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Washington until the opening of the welcome program.

Mrs. Mae Jackson, Pooles Ville, Md., arrived with her mother, Mrs. Dora Fisher, 75, a member of the Bondsville Charge, who has attended Washington conferences for 16 years.

The Rev. and Mrs. Kelly Jackson, Washington, came to the campus around 7 p.m., Wednesday. He is superintendent of the Washington District.

The Rev. Mr. Jackson said that he expected a favorable vote on the integration issues.

"It looks pretty good," he said.

THE REV. Jullius Carroll, pastor of Randall Chapel Methodist Church, Washington, predicted difficulty in the transfer to the Northeastern Jurisdiction and suggested:

"I would like to see them work out a two - direction transfer. Let some of the Northeastern Jurisdiction churches come into the Central Jurisdiction and some transfer to the Northeastern."

The Rev. James E. Adams, assistant secretary of the conference said:

"The laymen are all for the transfer. They will definitely vote yes, but the ministers of the churches are thinking twice. They are not happy at the dawn of the era of integration in Methodism. They feel they will not be at home in the white setup. They feel they will be the losers."

Dr. Edward Wilson, Morgan registrar and Sharp Street Methodist, Baltimore, official board member, said:

"Our pastors have been trained in all - colored seminaries. They have been reared in all-colored congregations. Their livelihood has come from all - colored members.

"There is apprehension about whether they will get pulpits, offices, or have prestige they have enjoyed.

"There are many problems which may leave them unhappy and disturbed about the future."

HOWEVER, A general attitude of good fellowship was set at the welcome program as more than 500 conference-goers gathered in the auditorium of the Murphy Fine Arts Building at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. R. L. Clifford, superintendent of the Virginia Washington District, presided.

Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan president, welcomed the conference to the campus by reminding them that Morgan began as a Methodist institution.

He encouraged delegates to enjoy the beautiful campus, the good food and the accommodations at the $12 million college.

He said: "The college will never forget that its roots are in Methodism. We welcome you home."

DISTRICT LAYLEADER Earl Contee replied to the greetings. Bishop Edgar A. Love introduced his guest, Bishop Manuel Singh, bishop of Bombay, India.

The Rev. Thomas S. Brooks, Sandypoint, Md. pastor, gave the sermon for the evening worship service. Music was by the Mt. Zion Methodist Church Choir, Eastport, Md.

The Rev. Mr. Brooks charged members of the conference to "put on the whole armour of God" in all church dealings.

A reception followed in the Christian Center where the Rev. Howard L. Cornish is director.

ON THURSDAY, Bishop Singh assisted Bishop Love at the 9 a.m. communion service, also held in the Murphy auditorium.

Conference business included the district superintendents' complete report by the Rev. J. B. A. Dyson, superintendent of the North Baltimore District.

The Memorial Address was delivered at 12 noon by the Rev. Calvin P. Crosson, Eastern Methodist Church, Baltimore. The Rev. G. T. C. Bell presided. Mrs. Armetie Broughton read the names of the deceased ministers, laymen, ministers wives and approved supply pastors.

Conference ministers' wives met at the Christian Center at 2 p.m. Missionary services were held in the auditorium, with sermon by the Rev. Rudolph Flood, pastor of the Lexington Parish, Lexington, Va.

THE REPORT of the World Service and Finance Commission was at 5 p.m. The anniversary of the Board of Education came at 7 p.m. with the anniversaries of the Board of Evangelism at 8:30 p.m., the Rev. Clarence L. Davis, presiding.

Dr. Hurey Deman, representing the General Board of Evangelism, gave the address. Music was by the St. James Methodist Choir.

TODAY, FRIDAY, the conference went into executive session at 9 a.m. with Bishop Love leading the devotional services. Lay delegates met at the Christian Center with Thurman Dodson, Washington, presiding.

Business sessions continued until 11 a.m. when fraternal delegates were presented.

At 11:30 a.m. classes were held for admission on trial and admission to full membership.

The Ministers Wives service was set for 11:30 a.m.

Devotions at 2:15 p.m., by the Rev. I. P. Blackman, pastor Mt. Zion Methodist Church, Martinsburg, W. Va. preceed the conference afternoon business sessions. At 4 p.m. anniversary services for the N. M. Carroll Home for the Aged and the Golden Cross Society will be held.

Dr. Frank Laubach, missionary, educator and author, will speak at the 7:30 p.m. services. The Rev. Frank L. Williams will preside at the anniversary of the Board of Missions. Music is by the Asbury Methodist Church Choir, Frederick, Md.

At 8:30 p.m., the Board of Lay Activities had anniversary services with Mr. Dodson presiding. St. Matthews Methodist Church Choir, Baltimore, will sing.

SATURDAY'S BUSINESS sessions begin at 9 a.m. with devotions by the Rev. John Coursey, Libertytown, Md. Reports come from the statisticians, treasurer, the ministry recruitment program.

The noonday message is by the Rev. William Keese, pastor Grace Methodist Youth Day begins at 1 p.m. at the Christian Center.

Saturday will be highlighted by the Women's Society of Christian Service program. Conference business will resume at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Myrtle L. Lofton will preside. On the program are Mrs. Mary S. S. Vauls, Mrs. Beryl Williams, Dr. Gertrude B. Rivers, Mrs. Adelaide Barnes and Mrs. Viola Brooks.

The Ministers Wives program will be at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building lounge. "The Valiant" will be presented by the Dramatic Guild of Mt. Zion Methodist Church, Georgetown, Washington, D.C.

SUNDAY SERVICES will begin at 9:00 with the annual Love Feast by retired ministers, the Revs. M. M. Jefferson and John Lindsey. The Rev. Mr. Clifford will preside at the 10:30 a.m. morning worship service with the sermon by Bishop Love. Music will be by the John Wesley Methodist Church.

At the 2:30 p.m. services, the Rev. Willard Williams, chairman of the board of Ministerial Training will preside and present the candidates for ordination.

The Rev. Edward Carroll, pastor of Sharp Street Methodist Church will give the ordination sermon.

The conference will close with the reading of the appointments by Bishop Love.

Visitors from five states at Morgan

More than 600 persons are attending the historic Methodist Washington Annual Conference in session here on Morgan State College Campus.

Ministerial, lay delegates and visitors are from the Washington Conference area which includes Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Washington, D.C.

Also present are the Rev. Ned H. Johnson from Anniston, Ala. and Bishop Manuel Singh, Bishop of Bombay, Bombay, India.

Most of the delegates and guests are housed in Morgan's dormatories. Meetings are held in the new Carl Murphy Fine Arts Building auditorium. Home - style meals are served in the college cafeteria.

The conference chose Morgan as the annual meeting place since delegates may bring wives and children to make the gathering a "family affair," serve as a pleasant vacation.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

by ZORAH ELICKSON

In all your decisions you make today, yield to the gentle pressure of your conscience. Accept the events of this week as God's planning and have faith that He will lead to the right decisions. Follow the pressure of God's leading and, stay or go as that pressure indicates.
