Lime Coconut

What's America's favorite dessert? Pie, of course! When the occasion calls for a light, refreshing dessert, serve an eye-catching chiffon pie. Lime Coconut Chiffon pie will be a good choice-the pale green color and lime flavor spell out C-O-O-L refreshment.

A tender pie crust is a must with this light-as-a-cloud chiffon filling. You can make a wonderful pastry with self-rising flour. This flour, so convenient for making biscuits and other quick breads, produces an unusually tender, flavorful pastry.

It's easy to add glamour to this lime pie. A ring of whipped cream offers a pleasant contrast to the pretty green filling. A twisted slice of fresh lime on top gives a hint of the pie's tangy flavor.

LIME COCONUT chiffon pie crust requires 1 cup sifted enriched self-rising flour, 3 tablespoons cold water (about) and ¼ cup shortening.

Cut or rub shortening into flour. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Roll out 1/8 inch thick and line 9-inch pie pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pie pan, fold under edge and flute. Prick bottom and sides of pie shell with fork.

Bake in very hot oven (450) about 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool and fill with Lime-Coconut Filling.

For Lime-Coconut filling use 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, eggs separated, ½ cup sugar, 1/3 cup lime juice, 1 cup chopped flaked coconut, green food coloring, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup sugar, and 1 teaspoon grated lime rind.

Soften gelatin in water. In top of double boiler, mix egg yolks, ½ cup sugar, lime rind and juice. Cook over boiling water about 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

Stir in softened gelatin until completely dissolve. Mix in coconut and food coloring. Beat egg whites and salt until stiff. Gradually beat in ½ cup sugar.

Makes one 9-inch pie.

LOWN TAILORED—Dandy collar plunges to a one-button V. Mock pockets accent a slenderness of skirt. It all adds up to a dashing, town-tailored look.

Make it your look in plain checks or print.

Printed Pattern 4666 comes in Misses' Sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20: Size 16 takes three and three-fourth yards of 39-inch fabric.

SIDE-BUTTONING shaped a deftly slimming jacket — perfect line for shorter, fuller figures. Note, too, peplum's clever V - detail. Choose checks or tweedy cotton.

Printed Pattern 4860 comes in half sizes 14½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 16½ requires four and three-eighths yards 35-inch fabric.

Spinach Puff taste treat

You refurbish the household each spring, so why not perk up family meals with new dishes.

One that you will enjoy is Spinach Rice Puff, a flavorful and nutritious combination of rice, spinach, cheese and chopped egg.

This is especially a good recipe which uses your leftovers, or that can be made from scratch in very short time.

FOR SPINACH RICE PUFF you will need three tablespoons butter or margarine, a third cup chopped onion, one and a half cups cooked rice, a half cup grated Parmesan cheese.

Also a half cup cooked spinach, three hard-cooked eggs, chopped; a half tea spoon salt, one egg white, a third cup mayonnaise.

MELT BUTTER in a large saucepan. Add onion and saute until tender. Add rice, cheese, spinach, chopped eggs, salt and celery salt.

Cook over low heat, stirring frequently until cheese is melted and mixture is hot. Spoon rice mixture into baking dish.

Chicken in cream sauce

For an economy main dish with a gourmet touch, why not serve zesty chicken in mushroom sauce? You'll find that this is a thrifty dish as chickens are in plentiful supply and an excellent buy at your market now.

Your family and friends with hearty appetites will find this dish nourishing and satisfying. Those who love to savor unusual foods will love its rich, delicate taste.

ZESTY CHICKEN in mushroom sauce is made with one cut-up frying chicken (2½ to 3 lbs.), one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar, one-half cup Pet Evaporated Milk, one can cream of mushroom soup, one-fourth cup flour, two-thirds cup beef consommé, and 4-oz. can mushroom stems and pieces, drained.

Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper. Put chicken in an ungreased 13 x 9-inch pan or shallow one and one-half-qt. baking dish. Bake in 425 oven (very hot) one hour or until drumstick is tender when pierced with a fork. Use 400 oven (hot) for glass pan. Add lemon juice to Pet Milk.

Mix gently and let stand five minutes to thicken. In a one and one - half-qt. bowl, stir flour, a little at a time, into soup until smooth. Stir in Pet Milk mixture, beef consomme and mushrooms until well blended.

Pour over baked chicken. Bake 15 minutes more, or until sauce is steaming hot. Makes 4 servings.

Butter Almond Bars—Guide Crunchy almonds are a real baking champion.

There's no better way to utilize their rich flavor these warm days than in frosted "Butter Almond Cooky Bars." It won't keep you in the kitchen long mixing these delightful bars. Cool the bars thoroughly before you spread with a delicious butter frosting.

Then slice into 20 "Butter Almond Cooky Bars" that will make just-right snacks to go with a cold glass of milk or to accompany ice cream during Dairy Month June.

Savory Beef-Corn Bread Bake easy dish-in-one combination

One-dish meals can be just as easy as 1-2-3.

For proof, try Savory Beef-Corn Bread Bake, an appetizing combination that everyone will enjoy.

To prepare this casserole, first brown the ground beef and chopped onion and combine them with seasonings, canned mushrooms and tomato soup.

Second, prepare the quick corn bread topping. It's an easy-mix batter made with self-rising flour, corn meal and self-rising flour.

Next, spoon the batter onto the casserole, and bake for 25 minutes. While the casserole is baking, prepare a vegetable salad, set the table and serve your family's favorite beverage.

SAVORY BEEF - CORN bread bake is made with two tablespoons shortening, one-half cup chopped onion, one pound ground beef, one teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, one-half cup drained mushroom stems and pieces (4 ounce can), one 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup (one and one-fourth cups) and corn bread topping.

Melt shortening in skillet. Add onion and brown lightly. Add ground beef and cook until brown, stirring frequently. Add salt, pepper, mushrooms and tomato soup. Heat until mixture bubbles. Place in one and one-half quart casserole.

Drop corn bread topping by spoonful onto hot beef mixture. Bake in hot oven about 25 minutes.

FOR CORN bread topping use three - fourth cup enriched self-rising corn meal, one-fourth cup enriched self-rising flour, one egg, beaten, one-fourth to one-third cup milk, one tablespoon melted shortening or oil, and one teaspoon caraway seed.

The family of physicist Charles E. Harrington. All the Harrington children were Carnation babies. "My doctor recommended Carnation," Mrs. Harrington explains. This milk in the red-and-white can is the world's leader for infant feeding.

Five little Harringtons—and how they do grow!
(Their doctor recommended Carnation)

Daddy is a government physicist. Mother is active in PTA, church and community projects. "And I'm busiest of all at home," Mrs. Harrington admits, "with five little Harringtons. They all got started on a Carnation formula."

Eight out of 10 mothers who feed their babies a Carnation formula say: "My doctor recommended it." Carnation is the safest, most nourishing and digestible form of milk for baby's bottle. Ask your doctor about Carnation—the milk every doctor knows.

This milk that's best for babies is best for coffee, cereals and cooking, too! Carnation is the milk you can use like cream—with ½ the fat calories, and at ½ the cost of cream. Try Bunburger recipe, shown at right.

RECIPE:
(Makes 4 servings)

CARNATION'S stay-moist BUNBURGERS

½ cup (small can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
1 egg
1½ pounds ground beef
½ cup fine cracker crumbs
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped green pepper
American process cheese slices

Blend ingredients. Form meat mixture into 12 thin patties. Place each patty on hamburger bun half, covering completely. Broil about 5 minutes (6 to 7 inches from heat). Top each Bunburger with a cheese slice. Broil until cheese bubbles.

in Jackson as they sought to enter the white waiting room.

MISSISSIPPI STEPPED up its war against the Freedom Riders this week as the courts meted out stiffer sentences for groups of bus, train and plane passengers who attempted to desegregate terminal facilities in the capital of the Magnolia State.

Despite a declaration by City Court Judge James Spencer that heavier penalties would be invoked, one group of seven bus riders—five white and two colored—sought service in the Trailways bus terminal restaurant on Tuesday.

They were immediately arrested on "breach of the peace" charges made possible under an anti-integration law adopted last year by the Mississippi Legislature in an attempt to block the spreading sit-in movement.

Found guilty, they were sentenced each to four months in jail with two months suspended and $200 fines each.

IN TUESDAY'S group was Miss Shirley Thompson 18, of New Orleans, a sister of Miss Jean Catherine Thompson, 19, who asserted that she had been slapped by a prison guard for refusal to say "Sir" following her arrest with the first wave of Freedom Riders.

Others in the group were Frank Johnny Ashford, 22, of Chicago; Terry John Sullivan, 23, of Chicago, editor of The Awareness, a monthly newspaper; Abraham Bassford 4th, 24 Hinsdale, Ill.; James Robert Wahlstrom, 24, Madison, Wisc., and James T. McDonough, 22, of Hunnington, N.Y., and Newell Webber, 52, of East Orange, N.J. The latter five are white.

On Wednesday the number of jailed Freedom Riders rose to 81 with the arrest of three airplane passengers who arrived in Jackson aboard a Delta Airlines plane from St. Louis and a group of six Negroes, three white and three colored, who arrived from Nashville by bus.

The airlines passengers were arrested when they attempted to use dining and rest room facilities at the airport. The terminal waiting room is not segregated although the other facilities are.

Miss Gwendolyn Jenkins, 21, of St. Louis was arrested as she tried to enter the white women's rest room. Robert Jenkins, 27, also of St. Louis, was arrested when he sat down at a "white only," restaurant. Ralph Washington, 25, was arrested as he stood in front of the door of the white men's room.

Each of the three entered the waiting room separately and not in a group as had earlier riders at the bus and train stations.

—Teacher loses

He told the Court:

"She stabbed me in my toe with a knife, spit in my face, and threatened to kill me with an ice pick or pour acid in my face while I was asleep."

Testifying to several instances of embarrassment the longtime teacher said many occurred at a Pennsylvania Ave. night club while he was in the presence of fellow teachers and friends.

"During the 1954 teachers' convention, my wife came in the club, threw my pajamas and underwear on the bar and told me to get out and stay out. A few days later, she threw all my clothes in the lobby of the club."

On another occasion at the same club, Dr. Browne told the Court, Mrs. Browne came in began fighting, spat in his face, shoved him into a cigarette machine and threatened to kill him while friends and colleagues looked on.

His wife, the doctor of administration and supervision told Judge Harlan, would telephone his supervisors, telling them things that were not true.

"One time she called up and told them I went to the races and threw away all my money," he said, "and I have never been to a race in my life."

IN ANSWER to Judge Harlan's query whether he was afraid of his wife, Mr. Browne replied:

"As long as she threatened me, I didn't pay any attention. But when she said she was going to pour acid in my face while I was asleep, I got worried.

"I couldn't sleep for watching her," he added. "Fearing she would try to make good the acid threat or use the ice pick, which she said she was going to do."

Browne said his wife constantly used profanity and obscenity both at home and in the streets.

During one of their several spats, the teacher testified, his wife fixed dinner, only to snatch the table cloth off the table when he sat down to eat.

Under cross examination by Mrs. Browne's attorney, Franklin I. Freeman, Dr. Browne denied he squandered his money and declared he held two jobs to provide for his wife and two children, both of whom are now married.

BEFORE THEY separated, Dr. Browne said, he held down jobs as a machine operator, porter and steelworker in addition to teaching.

Denying his wife's claim that he earns $900 monthly, Mr. Browne said his take home pay is $384 per month.

Asked why he has allowed court ordered support payments of $175 per month to get $1,800 in arrears, the complaining witness said he has "been paying bills."

He paid tuition fees for both of their children while they attended Morgan, Mr. Brown testified.

TESTIFYING in support of Dr. Browne's charges were a teacher and doorman at the club.

Leon Hunt, 3000 block Brighton St., teacher with 21 years service, said every time he visited the couple there was some sort of argument or disturbance.

He said he witnessed the pajamas and underwear incident and told of seeing the couple fight on several other occasions.

Elbert Perkins, 1600 block Rosedale St., the doorman, said he witnessed the spitting episode in the club and added:

"I was afraid of her. I've never seen her sober."

MR. PERKINS told the court Mrs. Browne also spat and threw whiskey in his face, at the time she allegedly shoved Dr. Brown into the cigarette machine.

• • •

MRS. BROWNE took the stand after Judge Harlan denied a motion to dismiss the complaint.

Emphatically denying all accusations, she testified that she, and not her husband, is the victim of violence.

"He shoved me through a glass door, cutting my face, dragged me out of the bed and broke my arm when I wouldn't get up at 4 a.m. and fix dinner," she told the court.

Mrs. Browne said she only wanted the club to get her husband on paydays, to prevent him from throwing away money.

"I can produce $500 in canceled checks which he made out to the club in one month for drinks," she declared, adding:

"He was just throwing away money, refusing to even pay the mortgage."

THE MORTGAGE foreclosed on their Fulton Ave. home, she said, which was later sold at public auction.

Attacking her husband's witnesses, Mrs. Browne told the court:

"They are all lying. They are his friends. My husband has signed for Hunt to get loans. Hunt and his wife, not us, were always fighting when they visited our home."

Mrs. Browne, who said she is unemployed because of the lack of work experience, told the court she is now living with her married son and must depend on relatives for support because Dr. Browne refuses to pay her support.

SAYING they never got along too well, the defendant testified that matters got worse when her husband received his Ph.D. in 1951.

"I wasn't good enough for him after that."

She added that she was arrested on a charge of threatening to poison Dr. Browne, but charges were dropped when police found she had ironed 27 shirts for her husband when they served the warrant.

She stated this is the third time their marriage has been in the courts and each time the divorce was refused.

Dr. Browne said he first filed suit for divorce a few days after they separated in 1954, but nothing ever happened.

On the second attempt, in 1957, he testified, the support order was issued.

The couple said they were married in a religious ceremony in Petersburg, Virginia, Feb. 4, 1939 and lived at 1620 N. Fulton Ave. until the separation.

Dr. Browne listed his address at 2122 McCulloh St.

When Judge Harlan asked Mrs. Browne if she would give her husband a divorce, she answered:

"No, I'm not going to give him a divorce. I wasn't good enough for him when he got his Ph.D."
