POT - POURRI—Jean Parrott Davis (Mrs. Marvin) was lovely in a jacket frock of pink cotton, self-embroidered, as she served as matron of honor at the marriage of her mother, Lillian M. Parrott to AFRO Publisher Carl Murphy, on Wednesday.

Dr. Murphy had as best men his brothers, John H. Murphy Jr., and D. Arnett Murphy. Harold Derry, cousin of the bride, escorted her. The Rev. Reginald Daniels officiated at the ceremony, with the prayer being offered by Fr. Cedric Mills. Recordings provided the background music.

Incidentally the altar boys, who served at the pre-nuptial Mass on Tuesday were grandsons of the bridegroom. The littlest one was Benjamin Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Bettye Murphy) Phillips, and the taller of the two, James R. Wood, son of Frances Murphy Wood.

Ceremony was held up 40 minutes while the party awaited the plane on which Carlita Murphy Jones was arriving for her father's wedding. It was an hour and 10 minutes late.

After the wedding the young people of the families got together at Betty and Frank's . . . and a few hours later Carlita was winging back to Buffalo, N.Y. to resume the end-of-the-school-term obligations.

Bride-to-be, Saturday, will be Beatrice Lomax, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lomax, member of the Clifton Park Junior High School, and a post deb who was presented by the Me-De-Sos in 1958.

She is to be married to Kirkland Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardy of Aberdeen, N.C. at 4:30 in the afternoon in the Macedonia Baptist Church, and reception will follow in the church.

• • •

LEONORA WOODS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Woods, celebrated her graduation from Eastern High School, Friday, with a party.

Many of her guests were classmates when she graduated from School No. 112. They danced in the club room for a buffet.

Attending were:

Brenda Winkler, James Lomax, Natalie Thornton, LaVerne Wallace, Marcus G. Wood, Victor W. Myrick, Dorothy E. White, Adrianne Y. Fennell, Tony M. Wicks, Louis Sheppard;

Milton Duggar Jr., Martina K. Norton, Alvin B. Taliaferro Jr., Carol Sherrington, Ira Cox, Rudy Chapman, Nina Adams;

Thomas Bell, Wilhelmina Garner, Catherine Jordan, Eddie Williams, Marilyn Moore, Ivan Higgins, James Winters, Scott Williams, Kathy Moore;

Lee Cornish, Patricia Greene, Joe Lee, Andrew Chatmon, Sevalyn Hill, Linda V. Lee, Connie Carroll and Matilda Sheppard.

DR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. COOPER admire plaque he received at recent banquet marking his retirement as director of clinics at Tuskegee Institute School of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Cooper, 71, was honored for "more than four decades of distinguished service to the veterinary service." A veterinary graduate of Colorado State University, Dr. Cooper was in private practice in Denver until 1947 when he came to Tuskegee as head of the animal clinic. The Coopers will remain in the Tuskegee community.

Morgan officials hosts for honorees

CHERRY HILL NOTES

Alexander Brown cited at dinner

By ELMA OGLESBY
EL 5-8413

Approximately 125 persons came out to honor Alexander Brown ("Cherry Hill's favorite son") as he was called by William H. Murphy who was Master of Ceremonies).

The affair, a testimonial dinner, was given in Mr. Brown's honor "for 16 years of devoted leadership in the Cherry Hill Community."

The invocation was given by the Rev. E. Rudolph Obey, pastor of the Cherry Hill Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Gladys Tyler read the selection "My Task."

A plaque from the AFRO AMERICAN Newspapers was presented by Moses J. Newson, for Mr. Brown's superior service in his community.

• • •

OTHO PINKETT, who was guest speaker for the evening, told of his first meeting with Mr. Brown in December 1945.

He also told how hard Mr. Brown worked to get proper police protection, and good bus service, and how the fact that we live in a tavern free community today was partially due to Mr. Brown's untiring efforts.

W. Raleigh Dean spoke as a long time friend of Mr. Brown. He told how, when in 1945 and 46 he had nine children to attend schools and Mr. Brown had none of school age, Mr. Brown fought just as hard or harder than he to see that enough schools were available for the children of Cherry Hill.

• • •

OTHER SPEAKERS were Mrs. Madeline Murphy, who worked closely with "Brownie" as most of his friends call him, in the first coordinating Council of Cherry Hill;

Augustus D. Knox who spoke as a "political foe, praised Mr. Brown for his support of persons he believed in, be they Democrat, Republican or what have you;

Judge Robert Watts, who spoke as political ally, told how Mr. Brown helped to put him on the right road when he first entered politics in 1950;

Mrs. Enna Payne, principal School 160, spoke as the school knew him and how if Mr. Brown believed in what you were fighting for he fought with you. but if he believed the other side was right, he fought with them and against you;

Also Walter Baker, as a strong community worker, told of his trials and tribulations with Mr. Brown and praised him for his dedicated and Christian leadership.

THE LAST speaker was Truly Hatchett.

Mr. Hatchett challenged the people of Cherry Hill to use their tremendous strength which is potential.

Shepherd Burge, on behalf of Cherry Hill Co-ordinating Council, presented Mr. Brown a plaque in recognition of outstanding service to Cherry Hill; Mrs. Philmore presented Mrs. Brown a gift from United Democratic Club.

Other gifts were presented to Mr. Brown by Mrs. Daily Tinsley on behalf of P.T.A. of School 180, Mrs. Harrison Dodd and Mr. Augustus Knox.

Mr. Brown then thanked everyone and told them how much he would miss working in Cherry Hill.

• • •

MEMBERS OF Mr. Brown's family journeyed from Philadelphia, Washington and New York to attend this dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Mamie) Lloyd and Mrs. Bob (Othella) Grave, daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. Gladys Washington, daughter, Parachuite Riggist 2nd class Special Bertram Brown, Ethel Washington, Deatha Shelton, grand children.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDowell, cousins of Mr. Brown.

Cherry Hill's loss is Philadelphia's gain. We wish you luck Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Special birthday wishes to Mrs. Doris B. Graham who celebrated June 21st and to Mrs. Julia Noel who will celebrate June 29th.

Out congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Scott who were married on Friday, June 16th by the Rev. E. Rudolph Obey, at the home of the groom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James (Connie) McCree.

The bride is the former Alice Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Elinor Johnson and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Scott Sr.

A reception followed the ceremony. Those attending the wedding and reception were Mrs. Elinor Johnson, Misses Edna and Delores Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Middle-Sr., Mrs. Betty Moore, Mrs. ton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott, Julia Noel, Mrs. Lucy Mitchell, Miss Sandra Ogleby, Mrs. Louise Jones and Miss Jean Parker.
