COOKING IS FUN

Turkey fits summer meals to perfection

Fanciful dreams may be expected of a midsummer night, but comes a midsummer's day then dreams must turn to substance. Nourishing meals are important even when the weather's scorching, if the family's health is to stay up to par. The homemaker had best figure out some fanciful yet hearty dream dishes that will tempt lagging appetites no matter the temperature.

Turkey dishes fit the bill to perfection.

• • •

THERE'S ALWAYS something magnificent about a turkey. Perhaps it's the size, or the bird's long tradition laden history, or the fact that only recently was it taken out of the realm of a rare delicacy and put firmly into the class of an all - purpose, year 'round food.

Whatever the reason, a turkey has a way of stimulating both the imaginations and the appetites of even the most wearied members of the family. Fortunately, it's an easy-to-eat and easy-to-prepare food, both nutritious and satisfying, and lends itself well to the eating patterns of midsummer.

• • •

SMALL WONDER that turkey consumption has been gaining steadily in recent years, the big birds are tastier, meatier, and more delicious than ever they were. Scientific breeding and management have seen to that.

In addition, most turkeys sold at the markets today have been slaughtered under federal inspection, which guarantees they're wholesome and have been processed under rigid standards for cleanliness. Most often, too, they've been graded by U.S., Department of Agriculture examiners for quality, assuring the food shopper of just the quality she's looking for and paying for.

• • •

USDA HOME economists recommend a Turkey-Potato Pie with Cornbread Topping for a delectable leftover dish.

Melt 3 tablespoons butter, add 4 tablespoons flour, and stir over low heat until blended. Add 1 ½ cups cold turkey broth, ½ cup cream, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon finely grated onion and 1/8 teaspoon pepper.

Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Stir in 2 cups sliced or diced cooked turkey and 1 cup cooked diced potatoes. Pour into a 2-quart casserole or 6 individual baking dishes, put on a cookie sheet or piece of aluminum foil, and place in a 425 degree F. oven.

Allow the pie filling to heat 10 minutes before adding a cornbread topping. For variety, substitute the 1 cup of potatoes with 1 cup cooked carrots, peas, onions, celery or green beans. Or use a 1 cup mixture of any of these vegetables.

Or omit the vegetables entirely, add an extra cup of turkey, and use a potato topping instead of a cornbread topping.

• • •

CORNBREAD TOPPING for a turkey pie...sift together ½ cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-½ teaspoons baking powder and 2 teaspoon sugar, stir in ½ cup cornmeal. Cut in 2 tablespoons shortening until the texture looks like coarse corn meal. Combine 1 well beaten egg and ½ cup milk, add to the dry ingredients and stir until moistened. Pour the topping over the heated turkey pie filling, and continue baking until the topping is brown, 20 to 25 minutes.

• • •

POTATO TOPPING for a turkey pie...combine ½ cup well seasoned, warmed, mashed potatoes, 1 well beaten egg and ¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning. Spread the topping over the heated turkey pie filling. Brush it with 1 tablespoon melted butter and 1/8 teaspoon paprika.

Continue baking the pie until the sauce is bubbly and the topping brown about 30 minutes.

Anne Klein of Junior Sophisticates

FOR JUNIOR FIGURES

Anne Klein's smart, easy going coat for travel or town, country or campus is tailored with competence along trimly classic lines but treated with distinction that makes it more than just a casual cover-up.

The sleeves are straight and easy, the shoulders softly rounded, the neckline a collarless showcase that can be changed as often as your scarf collection warrants.

Pocket flaps are caught into a topstitched seam that emphasizes the new lowered waist look. Double-knit wool jersey, tweeds, gabardine, silk and wool mixtures, coating flannel are ideally suited for cool weather wear; try linen, wile silk or cotton faille for warmer climes.

• • •

FROM THIS SIZE chart select the one size best for you. Measurements are comparable to ready-to-wear sizes.

Sweet corn, peaches week's bargains

Summer living is easy when you plan meals to include tempting, succulent fresh vegetables and fruits.

If you select from the offerings of local produce prices will be attractive and quality good.

• • •

NOW IS THE time to eat and enjoy fresh Maryland grown sweet corn. Local grown fresh corn is available from the middle of July until the last of September with the heaviest supply coming to market in August. Fresh corn is at its best when it is husked and cooked immediately after it is harvested.

The sugar of the corn turns to starch rapidly when exposed to ordinary room temperatures. The golden rule for sweet corn is "keep it cool." The sugar content may be reduced 50 percent in 24 hours of warm summertime temperatures. Corn held at 50 degrees loses only 17 percent of its sugar content in 24 hours.

BUY FROM A reliable source from a retail store or from a roadside stand where the corn is kept cool. For fresher sweeter corn do not overcook. White corn contains no vitamin A but yellow corn is a relatively good source of this vitamin.

One ear of corn gives about 100 calories and contains both vitamin B1 and B2.

LOCAL TOMATO receipts are increasing and prices are more attractive. Tomatoes from Maryland farms, right close by, can stay in the fields until they are red and ripe. Vine-ripened tomatoes have better flavor and higher food value. Ripen any under-ripe tomatoes at room temperature.

A sunny warm window sill is not an ideal place to ripen tomatoes because at temperatures above 850 F. tomatoes turn yellow, not red. Unripe tomatoes, if refrigerated, become pale, watery, soft and flavorless. Tomatoes are low in calories, rich in vitamin C and a good source of vitamin A. Other vegetables on the list of best buys are white potatoes, cucumbers, beets, cabbage and summer squash.

• • •

MARYLAND cantaloupes from the Eastern shore are on the market to offer you refreshing cooling goodness to meals. Sweetness, fine texture and flavor of the flesh are factors that determine quality.

You can expect to find them only in well-turgored melons. The stage of maturity of a cantaloupe is indicated by the netting or veining on the surface and the condition of the scar on the stem end. The netting should be coarse and corky, of pleasing color, well developed, standing out in bold relief and covering the surface.

THE SCAR at the stem end should be slightly sunken and calloused, a condition which indicates that when the fruit was picked, it separated readily and was not cut or gouged from the stem.

Molded tuna salad loaf

Revive dwindling spirits and appetites during these hot - weather months with cool dishes like this Molded Tuna Salad Loaf.

Prepare it early in the day—then chill until serving time!

• • •

MOLDED TUNA SALAD LOAF is made with 2 3-ounce packages lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 and ¾ cups hot water, ¾ cup lemon juice, 2/3 cup mayonnaise, 1 and 2/3 cups (large can) undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 cups (2 6½ - ounce cans) tuna, drained, 1 and ½ cups chopped celery, 2 tablespoons grated onion and 1/3 cup chopped pimiento - stuffed olives.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add lemon juice. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Combine remaining ingredients.

Add to gelatin. Mix well. Pour into pan. Chill until firm (about 2 hours). Unmold. Garnish with olives and green peppers.

Peanut-orange bread with Carnation cheese spread

Bake a loaf of Peanut-Orange Bread, serve it with Carnation Cheese Spread... wonderful eating, especially with fruit salad.

This tasty bread is ideal when you're having friends over for a meeting or visit. The preparation is easy the flavor is refreshing.

PEANUT-ORANGE bread with Carnation Cheese Spread is made with 1 egg, ¾ cup sugar, 1 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk, 3 cups biscuit mix, ¼ cup orange juice, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, 1/3 cup crunchy peanut butter, and 2 teaspoons grated orange peel.

Beat egg slightly. Stir in Carnation, orange juice and peel. Mix Sugar, biscuit mix and soda. Cut in peanut butter.

Add to liquid. Mix well. Pour into lightly greased loaf pan 9" x 5" x 3". Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) for 45 to 55 minutes. Cool thoroughly before cutting. Loaf is better if it stands overnight.

• • •

FOR CARNATION cheese spread: Combine 2 tablespoons soft butter with 2 cups (8 ounces) grated process-type American cheese. Stir in ¼ cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk.

Fruit Freeze

When you have that yen for something sweet, light and luscious, try this easy frozen refresher — Summertime Fruit Freeze.

It's a cool, smooth dessert made with only three ingredients — powdered sugar, frozen strawberries (or raspberries or peaches) and evaporated milk. The mixture is whipped into stiff peaks and then frozen.

This tasty delight uses a brand new, easy way of whipping evaporated milk. You don't have to chill it. With frozen fruit, it whips up into a thick and creamy combination ready to put into a tray to freeze.

And, it takes no additional starring. Evaporated milk, double-rich in milk solids and fat, insures its creamy smoothness.

• • •

SUMMERTIME FRUIT FREEZE requires only 2/3 cup PET Evaporated Milk (1 small can), 16-oz. pkg. frozen Strawberries (Raspberries or Peaches), and 1/3 cup Powdered Sugar.

Put evaporated milk, frozen fruit and powdered sugar into small bowl of electric mixer (or 1 -quart bowl). Break up fruit with a fork.

Let stand a few minutes, just until fruit begins to thaw. Beat with electric mixer at medium speed just until blended.

Then beat at high speed 2 - 3 minutes, or until thick and creamy. Freeze in ice tray, about 2 - 3 hours.

Makes about 1 quart.

1,621 lose licenses under point system

A total of 1,621 motorists lost their driving permits during the first six months of operation of the point system, a traffic law enforcement which became effective the past Jan. 1.

The licenses of 136 others were suspended during the same period.

The system carries a mandatory revocation of licenses with an accumulation of 12 points for offenses, and a suspension with an assessment of eight points.

Operating under the influence of liquor, a 12-point offense, brought on the revocation of licenses for 1,495 motorists.

The licenses of 126 others were revoked due to an accumulation of 12 points.

• • •

THE REPORT issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles shows that under the point system:

A total of 31,505 motorists have been accused one point; 5,091 have received three points, and 19 have five point violations.

Motorists accumulating three points on their driving records are sent a warning letter by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

Those accumulating five point tracks are called in for a conference.

Other departmental actions not covered by the point system brought 3,285 revocations; 3,259 suspensions; 9,833 suspensions under the financial responsibility law; 200 probations, 2,896 reprimands, and 3,392 reprimands to teen-agers.

DURING THE same six - month period, 5,616 hearings were held in Baltimore and 2,708 in the counties.

There were 70,458 accident reports received and 38,626 such cases processed.

Gov. J. Millard Tawes, in review, the report, stated:

"It is too early, I know, to attempt an analysis of the results of the program.

"I would like to think, however, that there is a connection between the inauguration of the point system and the 26 percent reduction in fatalities on our highways during the first part of 1961.

"In any event, I believe in the eventual effectiveness of the program, and I am pleased to see that it is being administered well by our Department of Motor Vehicles.

George Smith Jr. wins top prize in stick guessing quiz

George W. Smith Jr., 1338 W. Lafayette Ave., has received a certificate for an ice cream prize from the Maryland Dairyman's Association because he had the closest guess to the actual number of ice cream sticks contained in a big display at the recent Health Fair in Harlem Park.

George's guess was 790; the actual number was 786.

The association is collecting ice cream sticks for patients in the four state tuberculosis hospitals who make doll furniture, lamps and a number of other articles with them.

Washed sticks may be sent to 900 St. Paul St., Baltimore 2. Collectors eighteen years of age or over may bring sticks to the Chest 823 N. Charles St., where they may have a free Christmas Seal chest X-ray.
