THE ELECTION of officers is scheduled for Monday morning after various financial reports have been made.

A new feature of this year's communication as planned by General Chairman T. Shelton Colts, will be an outing Monday afternoon at The Forest in Cedar Hill, Md. Bus transportation has been provided by the committee.

The annual address by Samuel T. Daniels, grand master, will be delivered Tuesday morning.

Recognition of Grand Master Allen's long years of service will consist of the naming of one wing of the new temple after him.

A large oil painting of the grand master emeritus is to be unveiled and hung in the hall of this wing, it was announced.

elementary colored schools is below that of the average of elementary white schools. But this is not true of all colored schools or colored pupils.

It has been true for 100 years. It would be miraculous if the situation could have changed in the 7 years of integration, wouldn't it?

But we also know that Hopkins is better than the University of Maryland and Harvard is better than Hopkins, and white students prefer better schools just as colored ones do. So what?

DR. JACKSON says Coppin Teachers College is unaccredited and a second-rate institution compared with Towson State.

We know that is true, and this community strives mightily to close Coppin and send the Coppin students to Towson, Bowie or other places which are accredited.

We can't recall that Dr. Jackson advocated it at that time, nor do we know now what efforts Dr. Jackson and other superintendents of Baltimore schools are doing to direct Baltimore City graduates of high schools to "accredited" state teachers colleges.

DR. JACKSON says that he is only speaking for himself and not for the school system in this article.

We thought that the public school system hired Dr. Jackson as an expert on education and that his obligation is to do his "exporting" for the people of Baltimore rather than for the readers of the Southern School News in Nashville and elsewhere.

It would appear to us that an article of this character should contain Dr. Jackson's recommendations for reforms, which all of us know are needed.

An article, which states recommendations for improvements and how to achieve them, is on the positive side.

The Citizens Councils, the Ku Kluxes, the Seggies (in larger numbers than ever before) are telling us our schools are in a bad way, education is going to the dogs. We don't think it is.

ARCHIE WILLIAMS, NAACP attorney who entered the case on Wednesday before the second attempt was made to get the warrant, told the AFRO that the usual procedure was to take a complaint to a Municipal Judge who questions the complainant and then issues the warrant.

The whole procedure, he said, usually takes ten minutes.

However, the complainant declared she and her mother have been trying since Tuesday to get the warrant.

Monday night, she charged as she was closing a cleaners on Reisterstown Rd. where she works as a counter girl, the alleged offense took place.

Tuesday morning the complainant and her mother went to Northwestern Police Station to file the complaint. Officers later visited the cleaners and they were told to return at 3 p.m. for the warrant.

That afternoon, however, Magistrate Aaron A. Buer withheld the issuance of the warrant "pending investigation".

He told the AFRO:

"A man who appeared to be a minister (Attorney Williams) did come in asking about a warrant for a policeman but the man did not identify himself.

"I did not issue the warrant at the time. I asked him to come back today. I had forgotten that I wouldn't be there today (Wednesday).

"From what he told me, a report has been made earlier. Capt. (Wm. R.) Franck (Northwestern District) was investigating the case to find out what he could.

"I told him that as long as an investigation was underway, I would like to see what the written report would say and to come back today."

Judge Baer called back 10 minutes later to say:

"Northwestern just called me and asked if I would be there (In Court) tomorrow. I said yes, and asked why?

They said today the woman came back with a complaint against Patrolman Wroe. The judge who was there told her I would be back tomorrow and to see me.

So, I believe she will come in tomorrow to ask for a warrant.

CAPT. FRANCK when interviewed by the AFRO Thursday said, "My investigation is complete. The warrant will be issued this afternoon. Since this will be a court case I cannot comment further.

"The officer has a very good record."

Educators refuse comment on Dr. Jackson's charges

Charges by Dr. Houston Jackson, assistant superintendent of schools, that Baltimore's schools are more segregated now than they were before the Supreme Court decision, drew no comment Friday from two leading educators.

Dr. Jackson's statement was carried in the Southern School News, a Nashville publication, which leans to the segregationist viewpoint.

Neither Dr. Parlett Moore, president of Coppin State Teachers College or Dr. Dwight O. W. Holmes, president emeritus of Morgan State College would comment on Dr. Jackson's views.

DR. JACKSON blamed the "second - rate" status of Coppin for the fact that generally the qualifications of colored elementary school teachers are lower than white elementary teachers. A third of Coppin's graduates, he revealed, fail to pass the city's examination for teachers.

Pointing out that desegregation has open new opportunities for colored teachers in previously all - white schools, few white teachers have sought transfers to all-colored schools.

He blamed "social stigma" for this situation, which he expressed confidence would gradually change. A movement of white teachers to colored schools might start a trend of white pupils in the same direction, he said.

Hi - way Restaurant Sunday. The buses were en route from Philadelphia to Carr's Beach.

The three were fined $100 and costs each on charges of disorderly conduct and assaulting an officer, following a hearing Monday in Ferndale Police Court.

In another development, Leon Higginbotham, president of the Philadelphia NAACP, this week called on Governor Lawrence of Pennsylvania to ask Gov. Tawes for an investigation and report of the alleged mistreatment of three respectable Philadelphia citizens.

The Philadelphia NAACP branch also wrote Gov. Tawes protesting the alleged mistreatment, and called on U.S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy for a probe of alleged mistreatment of interstate travelers, requesting protection from his office for American citizens traveling interstate.

The attorney general's office said it had not received the request, but that judging from newspaper accounts of the arrests, no federal laws were involved.

Chief Wilbur Wade of the Anne Arundel County police, told the AFRO Friday that his investigation has not been completed and he is waiting reports from the county sheriff's office.

The NAACP protest grew out of the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Williams and Mrs. Williams' son, Ernest J. Frederick.

They stopped at the drive-in restaurant to buy coffee and use the restroom facilities while enroute from Philadelphia to Carr's Beach.

IN A TELEGRAM to Chief Wade, Dr. Theodore H. Johnson, president, Anne Arundel NAACP Branch, termed the arrests "unfair, unnecessary and completely unjust."

Dr. Johnson said police were "antagonistic" and that Mr. Frederick was jailed from noon Sunday August 6 until 5:30 p.m. the following day within the Baltimore NAACP paid his fine.

Dr. Johnson charged that "during this time, he (Frederick) was denied phone privileges and was not given or offered any food."

Chief Wade denied that his officers refused to feed Mr. Frederick.

"We usually feed prisoners at the Ferndale lock up at 5:30 p.m. The fine for Mr. Frederick was paid about 3 p.m. which was before meal time, and he was released. "Wade said.

CHIEF WADE continued: "I can only say this. I've been in this county all my life and I have as many colored friends as I have white.

"When this (the arrests) occurred, I was off duty. I called and told the captain on duty to make sure this no one was mistreated, to handle the case in routine fashion, and not to do anything that was not within the law.

"I told them to get warrants. The prisoners received meals at the jail and used the phone twice. Reports that they were not allowed to use the telephone are untrue.

"My men didn't abuse anybody. If they had been whites, they would probably have been treated rougher.

"I am awaiting a report from the sheriff's office as to what happened at the county jail. I have sent a copy of my police reports to the governor. Up to this point, I haven't found any evidence of anyone being mistreated."

partment and there is one assistant station superintendent.

There is a disportionately small number of colored supervisors throughout the postal service, Mr. Blumberg said, and added, "the situation prevails, but it is being corrected rapidly."

He said "we've appointed more colored supervisors since Postmaster Laukitis came, than they did in all previous years."

The postmaster was not available for comment, but his administrative aide, Charles McQuay, said:

"We don't have any records of the color of the superintendents. We could not tell how many colored or white supervisors we have."

IN AN ATTEMPT to reach agreement with the Roanoke Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Rosenblum sent president Don Kellett, publicist Herb Wright and public relations assistant Buddy Young to Roanoke, Wednesday morning.

It was following a five-hour meeting with the Rev. R. R. Dickinson, president of the local NAACP, that the matter was presented to commissioner Rozelle for arbitration.

on our board and will not hold affairs at places where all persons, regardless of color, are not treated equally," Mr. Shoehatt stated.

EARLIER, the Civic Interest Group had wired Governor Tawes "not to lend your support to prejudice and discrimination" by attending the meeting.

CIG, composed of college and high school students, has demonstrated against Ocean West's segregated policy for more than a year.

In asking the governor to boycott the dinner, CIG reminded him of his recent letter to proprietors of places of public accommodation urging democratic treatment of all patrons.

"In view of your responsibility to all citizens of Maryland, we ask you to reconsider," the telegram declared.

CIG was instrumental in getting national figures of the Democratic Party in boycotting affairs at Ocean West in the past.

Paul Butler, former national chairman of the Democratic Party and Long, James Roosevelt of California snubbed Ocean West gatherings because of segregation.

TONY WEBER, owner of the restaurant, was reported to vacation. A woman, identified as spokesman for Mrs. Averes, told the AFRO Thursday the Safety Club cancelled the dinner without giving any reason.

She pointed out that the banquet hall has no racial barriers and there no objection to colored persons attending affairs there.

Such persons, however, are barred from other areas of the establishment.

This split policy triggered a controversy involving local Democratic leaders earlier this year. Fourth District Delegate Verda F. Welcome walked picket lines with student demonstrators picketing during a meeting of local party big wigs.

Philip H. Goodman and Hyman A. Pressman condemned the restaurant's segregated practice during the meeting.

The Safety Club dinner will begin at 6 p.m. Monday at the Belvedere.

However, the president of the Safety Club was later quoted as saying that the meeting had been changed because it put the "governor in a bad light."

The CIG announced late Thursday that it had received an answer from Governor Tawes in which he said he understood the "matter" had been settled and the meeting place changed.

ing the E.E.O.C. to use the tools which the students and citizens fought so hard to obtain, to accelerate the rate of hiring of skilled colored workers.

He expressed disappointment at the slowness of EEOC to act on the complaint of unfair employment practices filed by the NAACP on June 30 and the complaint of Robert Daniel Stones, 22-year-old draftsman, filed on June 28.

The NAACP youth are continuing their picket lines daily from 12 to 2 p.m.

PITTSBURGH, which has a similar problem, has started a campaign to eliminate unfair employment practices in the utilities, it was announced this week.

Attorney Wendell A. Freeland, former Baltimorean, graduate of the University of Maryland Law School, is one of the leaders. They have asked the Baltimore Branch NAACP for campaign suggestions.

Muriel Rahn

Muriel Rahn, world famous opera singer who won acclaim for her title role in the 1943 Broadway production of "Carmen Jones," died Tuesday, Aug. 8, in Sydenham Hospital, of cancer.

Miss Rahn, 50, who played an alternate role with Muriel Smith in the "Carmen" role in the Billy Rose production of Carmen Jones, had appeared in concerts and opera productions in this country and abroad for a number of years.

Liberia's liberation marked at Wayne

DETROIT — Some 176 Detroiters attended an official observance of the 114th anniversary of Liberia's liberation from America in the Student Center of Wayne State University last week.

Martin L. Bass, Liberian consul for Detroit, arranged the celebration.

Some 50 students from The Univ. of Michigan, Michigan State University, Lansing Community College and Eastern Michigan University were in attendance.

Following the Wayne observance, most of the African students and their friends attended a social at the National Supreme Council of Masons on Oakland Ave.

Folks who do their shopping in Lexington Market miss quiet, unassuming James E. Herndon, who always had a cherry "good morning" as he flashed a bright smile from behind his produce stall.

Mr. Herndon died last month. Since 1903 he has operated produce stalls here in Baltimore after leaving his small hometown of Oxford.

His first stalls were in Hollins and Lexington Markets. That same year, 57 years ago, he married Miss Ellen Sherwin and joined Sharon Baptist Church during the pastorage of the Rev. William M. Alexander.

His only son, Ralph H. Herndon, worked at his father's side and still has the stall open. He also has one grandson, Ralph Jr. and one sister, Mrs. Mary H. Baskerville.

This Tuesday will be a big day in the lives of the Lawrence Johnsons (Edna) of 2833 Wabash Ave. Ro also with other men of the Big Brothers of America will be guests on the Jack Wells Show on Channel 13, and she will be a special guest on the Dialing for Dollars show on Channel 2. The month of August is Big Brother Month.

The Rev. J. Timothy Boddie and Mrs. Boddie of Shiloh Baptist have been in Wisconsin attending two conferences — The Ministers' Conference and the National Mission Conference. The conferences of the American Baptist Convention this season.

THIS WEEK THE
"American Salute" IS AWARDED TO

FRANK W. PHILLIPS, JR.
2047 N. Bentalou Street

For 7 years, Frank Phillips has been a guiding light behind the annual YMCA Father-Son banquet. He has spent much time telling fathers what a wonderful effect a good father-son relationship has on the immediate family—and the community.

Frank has worked for the Afro-American Newspapers for 25 years and has been its Art Director since 1946. He established the Afro's modern photo engraving department and its staff of 3 photographers. His off-duty photographs have helped convince hard skeptics that training children is fun. His spare time activities have resulted in much financial aid to organizations such as the YMCA.

Mr. Joe Lee, director of boys' activities at the YMCA says, "Frank is a good man, an ardent community worker and a tireless fighter in the never-ending struggle to keep our children on the right path."

Frank is a member of Jerusalem Temple No. 4 of the Shriners which last week elected him Recorder for the 12th straight year, conferred on him a life membership in the fraternal order and recommended him for the coveted past potentate honors. He is a member of the Baltimore Frontiers which regularly gives scholarship aid to worthy high school students. He contributes to and works for the TB and Cancer Research Funds and others.

Frank Phillips has a son, Benjamin, age 8; daughters Marie, 12 and Rachael, 5. His wife Elizabeth is also active in the community.

The American Brewery is proud to award the "American Salute" to Mr. Frank Phillips as "Citizen-of-the-Week."
