Mrs. Sinclair Swan 'floored' by surprise

withL ula Jones Garrett

Mrs. A. Sinclair (Charlotte) Swann was still "out in space" this Wednesday from last Wednesday's dinner party at which Mr. Swann feted her on their 29th wedding anniversary.

And no longer can she go around boasting that she knows everything her husband is doing...for the party was a complete surprise to her! And it's going to take some mighty tall talking to convince us that men do not make the best hosts, too.

The affair was exquisitely arranged, from its near 50 guests to his gifts (a package of silver coins, a silver bracelet, white orchids and 25 long stemmed red roses) to its setting in the Garrison Lounge. Incidentally, she had given him a ring as an anniversary gift.

Guests added a whole roomful of georgeous gifts as anniversary offerings . . .including Mrs. Vashti Wilson, who sent a magnificant silver container of fall flowers.

Guests were:

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Clayton, Drs. and Mesdames U. Simpson Stubbs, Clifton Jones, Benjamin Whitten; Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Derry, Cyrus Griffin, Carl J. White, Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Clark, Hayward Strothers, Calvin Lambson, John Berry, William Parrott, DeWitt Howard.

Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Smith, James Lee, Hubert Spellman; Mesdames Mary D. Marrow, Cedric Mills, Carl Murphy, Veta Greig, Rebecca Brown, Gladys Prestwidge.

Misses Vivian Barrington of Washington, Carrie Johnson, Janice Marrow, Barbara Prestwidge, and Kevin Johnson.

AND BEFORE we leave this romantic aura, note the anniversary celebration, in Baltimore this week, of 83-years-young John A. Coker and Mrs. Coker (she's 61) of Petersburg, Va.

Their first anniversary of their marriage was marked by a visit with his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams of Fayson St. The wedding, a year back, was the fourth for Mr. Coker, the second for his bride.

Tribute paid to Mrs. Waters at testimonial

The banquet at the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel, honoring Mrs. Virgie Waters, veteran beauty culturist and first member of the Maryland State Board of Hairdressers and Beauty Culturists, saw more than a score of citizens citing her for 20 years service.

Master of ceremonies was Linwood Koger, Sr., former Baltimore City magistrate, "a truly great Maryland woman."

Mrs. Bessie M. Freeman, president of the National Beauty Culturists League, Washington, was guest speaker.

She referred to Mrs. Waters as a great woman who dared to push forward in the dark days of the National Beauty Culturists League "When the road was filled with obstacles."

During that time, Mrs. Waters became president of the Baltimore organization and was selected by the governor of the state in 1947 as the first member of the state board.

Howard Murphy of the AFRO also spoke and recalled the pioneer organizations in 1926, the beauticians and barbers associations. He referred to himself as a big brother of the organizations and recalled the original members such as Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Jeanette Spriggs.

ALSO BRINGING greetings was John H. Murphy, III, president of the AFRO, who cited Mrs. Waters as a woman who has brought honor to "her sex; her race, her community."

He added: "I hope she will continue to be a shining light to those who follow in her footsteps."

Mrs. Evelyn Benston, state organizer, a resident of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, remarked that the association "will be unhappy to release Mrs. Waters as president and added that her guidance is needed and hopes are that she will remain with the organization.

She referred to Mrs. Waters as a devoted, Christian, woman, who conducted herself with grace and dignity and made many contributions to the organization.

MRS. KATHERINE LINDER, executive secretary of the League, cited Mrs. Waters for the promotion of good will and understanding and formed her as a distinguished citizen.

Also speaking was Dr. Lillie M. Jackson of the NAACP who recalled Mrs. Waters' fearless efforts to bring the beauticians organization into being.

Thomas Everett of the United Beauty Supply Co., said: "Mrs. Waters can count among her friends the great and the lowly."

Leonard Cox of the Hollywood Cosmos Men's Club "She is a beautiful, distinlady."

The Rev. Father Henry Offer, SSJ, pastor of St. Peter Claver Catholic Church gave the invocation.

Greetings also came from Jerome Jennedy; Mrs. Cordelia Jennings, Miss Anita Williams, and persons who made presentations.

Flowers were from Mrs. Mary Hawkins, The Rev. Richard F. Hall gave benediction.

A telegram was received from Mrs. Maude Gaskins, first vice president of the League and Mrs. Margaret C. Mitchell. Mrs. Waters' corsage of orchids was from the owners of a shoe store.

Mrs. M. Elaine Halligan, Hagerstown, Md., chairman of the Maryland State Board of Cosmetologists also spoke. Music was by Mrs. Ivory Powell, soloist.
