A TOAST TO PETE — World light-heavyweight champion (if you're in New York) Archie Moore lifts a glass of milk in toast to Pete Rademacher, the heavyweight contender who became famous by challenging Floyd Patterson in his first pro fight. Moore has agreed to box Rademacher in Baltimore on October 23, at a site yet to be selected. Archie is not recognized as light-heavy champ in National Boxing Association states.

A SPOKESMAN for Richard A. Hicks of the NAACP Youth Chapter called upon "all red - blooded Americans to join the picket line."

Tonight (Friday) a meeting will be held to organize the protest. The meeting will be at NAACP offices, 1417 U St., NW.

The youth group said that it intends to use 250 pickets at the stadium as the Redskins open their season at home.

Julius W. Hobson, president of Washington CORE told the AFRO, "We will have pickets out there in great numbers. They will include Freedom Riders.

"We are asking the public not to support racial discrimination by refusing to cross our picket lines."

Ducks, Poets face tough MSA questions in debut

Football teams of Douglass and Dunbar high schools mount the witness stand this afternoon (Friday) to answer questions in connection with the 1961 Maryland Scholastic Association championship race.

The Ducks of coach Mack Payne will be interrogated by the young, but big Poly eleven at Kirk Field, along about the same time that Sugar Cain and his Poets will be under the gun of Calvert Hall at Douglass Stadium.

DOUGLASS, with a brand new backfield, is making her first start of the campaign. Poly, with a 27-14 victory over Atlantic City High behind her, is also facing an MSA foe for the first time.

Payne will go with Mike Press, 1961 stand-in behind Frank James, at quarterback Sam Glassco and Joe Mitchell at the halves, and Bill Seaton at fullback.

All - city halfback John Spangler will probably bear the brunt of Poly's ball carrying chores, and big, rangy Bill Lewis will mobilize his 215 pounds to anchor the Engineer line at tackle.

Dunbar, already soundly trounced by Carver in a non-league affair, is hoping to recover her poise in this now-for-the-chips debuf.

Cain plans to race his young hosses in an effort to befuddle a Cardinal aggregation which admittedly is not one of the schools's better crowds.

COACH Dave Parr, aware that the Poets are small but speedy, is looking to match tiems with 135-pound Bill Evans, end John Connor and end Bill Carroll.

Calvert Hall is believed to possess one of the classier quarterbacks in the loop in young Joe Ayres-LACY.

Eddie Machen signs to box Brian London

LONDON (ANP) — Eddie Machen, No. 3 ranked heavyweight contender from Portland, Ore., and Brian London, former British heavyweight boxing champion, signed for a bout last week.

Machen fistic stock rose recently after he gave Mike De John of Syracuse, N.Y. a severe pounding before stopping him in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

London is reportedly a ring comeback.

No date was announced last week for the bout.

CIAA prestige at stake in 20th 'Classic'

WASHINGTON

The Central Intercollegiate prestige will be at stake in the 20th Annual Capital Classic when Maryland State College, of Princess Anne, Maryland, takes on Southern Connecticut State College, of New Haven, Conn., at Griffith Stadium under the lights starting at 8:30 p.m., on Saturday, September 30.

For Colored College teams have sought tip national ratings in football, only to be turned back because opportunity to oppose top white collegiate grid teams.

Southern Connecticut State Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, granted Maryland State College a chance to prove the powers of CIAA play last year.

Maryland State had just won the CIAA crown.

The boys from New Haven, under the leadership of Coach Jess L. Dow, turned back the Princess Anne representatives, 12-0 at New Haven.

Coach Vernon E. McCain, of Maryland State, watched his charges weep in the dressing room following this defeat and felt only a return match would sooth the "lost" wound.

Thus the 1961 Annual Capital Classic cameup with probably the most bitter rivalry in its history.

Banks, Bears hope to make it 2 in row in NC game

DURHAM, N. C. — Flushed over their 13-7 opening game victory over Hampton last Saturday, the Morgan State College Bears are looking to make it two-for-two here tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon.

Coach Earl (Tiger) Banks will lead his high-spirited charges against the always formidable North Carolina College Eagles of Herm Riddick, in his first clash with Riddick, the dean of CIAA coaches last year. Banks pulled off a 25-15 upset.

However, this clash serve to make tomorrow's task a more rugged one than it normally would be. The Eagles season forecasts and at the same time seeking vengeance for the unexpected setback at Morgan in 1960.

BANKS AGAIN will go with Carmie Pompey at quarterback. The former Douglass High School ace tossed for both Bear touchdowns last Saturday at Hampton, and otherwise guided the Baltimoreans with considerable finesse.

While Morgan was getting a 1-0 jump in conference play, by virtue of her score over the Pirates, North Carolina was racking up a 19-6 triumph over Allen Uni will be striving to justify their No. 1 ranking in pre "I lost 22 men from last year's fine team, and with only five interior linemen returning, we will be lucky to break even." Riddick added.

RIDDICK SELDOM concede himself a spot higher than last place. However in 18 years at the Durham institution, he has suffered only one bad season. That was in 1947 when the Eagles won one game against seven losses.

Beginning his 17th year at NCC, Riddick has compiled a record of 87 wins, 47 losses and 9 ties.

versity in a non-title outing.

THIS WILL BE THE 12th meeting of North Carolina College and Morgan State. Morgan is ahead in the series with six wins. NCC has won four games, and there has been one tie contest.

Coach Riddick's Eagles were picked by conference coaches in a pre-season poll to walk away with the CIAA championship. Riddick shrugged off this prediction with the claim that the Eagles are "overrated."

Cleveland, has only 35 yards in all.

AMONG THE rushers, Joe Perry of Baltimore, is fourth; Don Perkins of Dallas, is sixth, with Tom Wilson of Los Angeles, Willie Galimore of Chicago, and Prentice Gautt of St. Louis, seventh, eight and ninth.

Following Tim Brown in kickoff returns are Abe Woodson of San Francisco, second; Bobby Mitchell of Cleveland, third; Charlie Bivins of Chicago, fifth, and Johnny Sample, Pittsburgh, and Len Lyles, Baltimore, sixth and seventh.

Ted Dean of Philadelphia, and Sample are third and fourth behind Wood in returning punts. Warren Livingston of Dallas, is seventh.

IN OTHER departments, Lenny Moore of Baltimore, is second in scoring, and Don Bishop of Dallas, Erich Barnes of New York, and Dick Lane of Detroit, are second, fifth and eigth among the interception leaders.

Jim Brown and Frank Clarke of Dallas, rate fifth and sixth as pass receivers, a department in which the name of Lenny Moore is strangely absent —LACY.

ALL-CIAA GUARD Bob Young is the anchor man in the Morgan State College line which hopes to contain the free-running North Carolina College backfield tomorrow (Saturday) at Durham. Young, a product of Baltimore's Dunbar High School, is one of the most rugged of Bears.

A Smith, 2 guys named Brown lead NFL ratings

The Smiths and the Browns have it.

San Francisco halfback J. D. Smith leads the National Football League in rushing. Philadelphia halfback Tim Brown is tops in kickoff returns and Green Bay halfback Willie Wood is the loop's best at running back punts.

These are the revelations as the NFL statistics are studied following the second week of play in the pro circuit.

THE GROUND gaining race appears to have taken up this year where it left off last December: what with Smith and Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns, already well out in front of the field in a two-man race.

Jim Brown, who won the honor last year for the fourth straight season, is only two yards behind J. D., in the current records. Smith has gained 195 yards for a 6.1 average. Jim Brown's 193 yards in 41 attempts shows a 4.7 average.

PHILADELPHIA'S member of the Brown clan—Timmy—shot into the lead on kickoff returns in the season's opener when he raced 105 yards for a touchdown. This fast start enabled him to come out of the second weekend's activity with a total of 182 yards, well ahead of the field.

And Wood shows a 62-yard total for three punt runbacks, with a 39-yard TD gallop Sunday included. His nearest pursuer, Jim Shofner of CHARGED WITH carrying out the theme of the meeting, "The Deep South on Social Revlution", the participants were to take part in workshops and planning sessions on goals and strategy. Sessions were held in the Clark Memorial Methodist Church of which the Rev. Kelly Miller Smith is the pastor.

Dr. King was scheduled to formally open the conference Thursday morning following an introduction to the opening session by the Rev. C. K. Steele of Talahassee, Fla., and devotions conducted by the Rev. James K. Lawson of Nashville, staff workshop director.

JAMES FARNER, national director of the Congress for Racial Equality, was scheduled to speak on "Non-Violence and Social Revolution" as the highlight activity of a Thursday afternoon session.

Following this, a workshop devoted to "The Philosophy and Technique of Non-Violence," under the leadership of the Rev. Matthew McCullom of Orangeburg, S.C., was slated to be held.

Another workshop dealing with "The Power of the Ballot in Social Revolution," with Edward T. Graham of Miami, as leader, was to round out the afternoon's schedule.

Dr. King was slated to give the principal address at the "Freedom Rally" to be held Thursday evening in the War Memorial Auditorium.

PRECEDING HIM on the program was to be attorney Z. Alexander Looby, with greetings from the City of Nashville, and greetings from representatives of SCLC affiliates.

The Rev. Samuel W. Williams, President of the Atlanta chapter of the NAACP, and SCLC third vice president, was to preside at a plenary session on Friday.

Workshop on the "Role of Adults and Youths in Social Revolution" were programmed under the leadership of the Rev. Virgil Wood of Lynchburg, Va., and Mrs. Dorothy Cotton of Atlanta.

THE CONFERENCE sermon was scheduled for noon Friday by the Rev. D. E. King of Louisville, Ky.

A forum and seminar for lawyers was announced for most of the day (Friday) in the First Baptist Church.

In the morning, William Kunstler of the American Civil Liberties Union, New York, was listed to discuss "The Legal Significance of the Freedom Ride Trials To Interstate Travel".

The conference was to adjourn after Spottswood Robinson 3rd, dean of the Howard University Law School, and member of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, spoke on "The Role of Civil Rights in Social Revolution."
