THE CONTINENTAL SOCIETY opened its club year last Thursday with exciting plans for its annual charity ball. The affair, set for Friday, December 29, promises to be one of the most gala social events of the holiday season. Proceeds, as usual, are earmarked for underprivileged children.

And, on Saturday, a contingent of Baltimore Continentals, togged in the latest fall fashions, joined members from sister chapters in New York for a fabulous fashion show and luncheon.

The show, sponsored by the New York Continentals at the Plaza Hotel, featured an interracial group of models (including high fashion model Helen Williams), and showed Vogue fashions. Special guests included lovely actress-singer Diahann Carroll who was especially charming in a new Vogue creation.

Glamorous delegates and husbands, representing chapters from Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore, were lavishly entertained by their vivacious hostesses who rolled out the proverbial red carpet.

The festive activities included an early evening cocktail dance in the Crystal Room of the Plaza Concourse Hotel, and a Sunday morning brunch.

From Baltimore were Doreva Stanley, Lillie and Norman Branch, Delores and Billy Young, Frankie and Webster Hinchen, and Helen and Cliff Gattis.

Other Continentals are:

Helen Quarles, Mattie Mumby, Margaret Mason, Margaret Beaman, Frances Turner, Phyllis Thompson, Sevilla Carroll, Serena Holmes, Sue Miles, Ellen Howard, Edith Davidson, Emily Peck, and Odessa Dyson.

THE MONDAWMIN Child Study Group met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Virginia Coleman.

The roster of new officers for the current year includes: Bernice Robinson, president; Le Moyne Matthews, vice president; Alease Lockley, secretary; Virginia Coleman, assistant secretary; and Vivian Bruce, treasurer.

Mrs. Matthews (Le Moyne) reported on the final plans for an open forum on the topic "Let Them Grow Up," to be held at Public School No. 64 on October 10. Discussants will be Dr. Nathan Pitts, Mrs. Pearl Brackett, the Rev. Marcus Wood, and Mrs. Gloria Basfield. Mrs. Magdalene Rice will be the moderator. This activity is being planned in conjunction with the Northwest and Easterwood Child Study Groups.

A highlight of this first meeting for the year was a free discussion by Mondawmin members on the topic, "Children Say and Do. The Darnest Things."

Members present were: Mesdames Bernice Robinson, Le Moyne Matthews, Alease Lockley, Virginia Coleman, Vivian Bruce, Leona Carpenter, Bettina Baker;

Mesdames Gladys Higginbotham, Dorothy George, Mae Woods, Thelma Rogers, Ruby Couch, Joyce Neal, Ruth Glenn, Nahkstah Gregory and Gwendolyn Lamont.

Mattie Connor entertained at her home on Madison Avenue, Thursday evening, as a Buffet Supper Party, honoring her sister, Fannie Martin Jones, of California.

All of the Saturday Annes Club members of Fannie's when she was living in Baltimore, were present. They included Catherine Adams, Edith Henry, Thelma Lawrence, Jennie Grinage, Ruby Freeland, Ruth Rosedom, Aurelia Stanley and Mattie Smith.

Others about were Agnese Browne, Sue Branson, Elmer Deans, Glynia Hill, Fannie Howard, Mary West Jones, Mary Lyles, Blanche McRae, Mary Pitts, Voile Redmond, Verda Welcome, Rubye Walker and Berdie West.

THE PALS opened their club season not with a bang — but an explosion! Fourteen members gaily packed and were off to the shores of Cape May, New Jersey. The weekend affair was hosted by Gwen Lynch and Alma Parker both of whom have summer cottages there. The girls really had a refreshing and exhilarating time — sightseeing, shopping, strolling the boardwalk — and the water-lovers dared to go bathing.

The weekend was highlighted on Saturday night when the Pals dined at Zaberer's Angle Sea Restaurant in Wildwood, N.J.

And believe it or not they actually held a meeting where plans for activities for the ensuing year were made. This meeting — well you guessed it — was held on the beach.

Attending the weekender were Eloise Brown, Frances

YOU'LL FLIP YOUR TOP!
MARY PROCTOR FLIP-TOP IRONING TABLE
3 surfaces in 1. First . . . table is longer, yet tapered nose is closer. Narrower width is ideal for slim sheaths, children's clothes. Second . . . flip—and nose squares off. Perfect for ironing both shoulders of shirts or blouses at the same time. Provides two long straight edges for flat work. Third . . . flip again—table becomes so wide you can iron long trousers without shifting! Adjusts to your height at a finger's touch . . . has curved legs for extra knee room . . . steam-vent top . . . easy-roll wheels.
MARY PROCTOR ZEDALON PADS & COVERS
Most scorch resistant — actually outwears others 3 to 1! Pad is two thick layers of heavy rayon with resilient polyfoam base.
MARY PROCTOR SPRAY/STEAM/DRY IRON
Spray! Just touch the button, no pumping! Iron? In any position; water is "locked-in" to prevent spotting. Steam! Iron in any direction, steam vents are distributed over the entire soleplate. So trouble-free you can use ordinary tap water instead of distilled! Clear-view heel, lets you see all your ironing. Easy-to-reed fabric dial. Lightweight.
MARY PROCTOR STEAM and DRY IRON
A beauty—glistening chrome topped by a milk-white handle! And with all the deluxe Proctor features, including plenty of steam vents distributed over the entire soleplate to give you more steam, more quickly, and with this steam-iron feel that allows you to see all your ironing. Up-front fabric dial. Light weight—less than 3 pounds!
NO HANDS!
MARY PROCTOR Self-lowering TOASTER
So advanced it practically thinks for itself. Just put in the bread. Proctor does the rest! Your bread is lowered automatically . . . toasted automatically. And because Proctor's exclusive Select-tronic Color Beam adjusts toasting time automatically, your toast always comes up the golden shade of "done-ness" you prefer. Comes up extra-high, too! So convenient for removing end-to-end toast. . . . thanks to Proctor's patented element. Glamorous black porcelain and gold end panels and easy-to-clean chrome side panels.
MARY PROCTOR "Foursome"
Toasts 1, 2, 3 or 4 slices at a time. Has exclusive Select-tronic Color Beam.
