—Maryland and Route 40

In Little Rock, in New Orleans, in Birmingham and in Montgomery, the inability of local people to control and resolve their problems has meant business loss.

In Atlanta and in Dallas where the local people have resolved to assure equal opportunity and to maintain law and order, economic stability has been assured.

AND REALLY, little is being asked of you when you consider America's history. American families have been broken and Americans have sacrificed their lives in the fight against tyranny, and more recently against the vicious Communist menace.

The total fight the Communists are making today is not being waged with bullets.

It is being waged largely through propaganda, through an attempt by the Communists to prove to the uncommitted nations of the world — 90 percent nonwhite — that their life is better than ours, that we treat in a shabby fashion one-tenth of our population which happens to be nonwhite, that we will treat them, even their diplomats, with equal shabbiness, and therefore that we have no legitimate claim to be the spokesman for freedom.

WE WELCOME this battle of ideals. Whether you realize it or not you are key participants. In a very real sense you have the opportunity to show the world what America is and what free people will do on their own to prove that in this Country we don't just preach freedom — we mean it.

On the basis of my own past experience as Staff Director of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and with knowledge of the experience of more than 100 cities throughout the Nation, I submit that you can do this without adverse economic consequences.

In another context, but with equal meaning here — when lives were at stake—Benjamin Franklin gave some good advice. He said: "We must all hang together, or most assuredly we shall all hang separately."

If, as restaurant owners, you will stand together and together open your doors to all alike, you cannot suffer.

The customers some of you may be worrying about losing are, after all, your fellow Americans. When it is understood what you are doing together and why you are doing it, I think you you will find that they will support you and that your business will prosper.

HISTORY sometimes plays strange tricks on us. It is thus that in judging this Nation's progress in civil rights, the eyes of the world are focused on the restaurants right here on Route 40. You are now being examined, and through you America is being tested.

That test is whether you, the American people — not just the American Government — will do what is now necessary to make your actions reflect your belief in the dignity of man. It is to this end that the President seeks your help.

AFRO Show packed by thousands

WASHINGTON
By EDWARD PEEKS

The Washington AFRO Home Service Show opened Wednesday with all the makings of a sparkling success, living up to its early billing as "the biggest show ever."

It will reach a shining climax tonight (Friday) when 1,000 silver dollars will be given away at Washington Coliseum, Third and M Sts., NE.

Lucky guests received 1,000 silver dollars on Wednesday and Thursday, plus many other prizes given by our advertisers.

COMMISSIONER JOHN DUNCAN cut the ribbon at the opening that brought some 1,500 housewives and patrons who witnessed special entertainment and viewed the products of 38 advertisers.

Miss Cleomie Lewis, noted coloratura soprano, sang "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Guests also heard the Jerusalem Baptist Male Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Mable Ray.

They drank many gallons of soft drinks given free by advertisers, sampled of delicious food products and took home gifts that included 100 baskets of food offered as prizes each night.

HOUSEWIVES SAW demonstrations in cooking the tastiest by Mrs. Florence Duncan, home economics specialist, and Mrs. Mildred Brooks, nutritionist and Washington AFRO food columnist.

They offered recipes of dishes prepared on the stage and others that make for the most delicious eating at home.

Our advertisers also demonstrated foods and their preparation to add to the list of recipes for the alert and enterprising housewife.

ALBANY, Ga.—The chairman of the Division of Humanities and the Department of Romance Languages, Dr. Alfredo Sharpe, will serve as a consultant in English for the forthcoming regional meeting of the Georgia Teachers and Education Association in Camilla.

fendants was scheduled for Oct. 4 but was postponed.

A strike was called at the Life + Like plant four days before the riot after negotiators failed to reach a work agreement.

The company manufactures baskets, novelties and Christmas tree ornaments.

The strikers charged that the firm had imported workers to take over their jobs.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Romantic music in spotlight at Morgan Music Festival

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Modern and 19th century romantic music highlighted the first concert of the Morgan College Caamber Music Festival last Friday evening in the Murphy Art Building auditorium.

With John Fleming, New York baritone; Louis Shub, pianist, and the Baltimore Symphony String Quinet, there was music to suit a variety of tastes.

The fine presence of Mr. Fleming commanded attention from the moment he strode on the stage. His eloquent performance drew prolonged applause from the discriminating audience of 400 or more persons.

In the case of the Quintet in A Major (known as "The Front") Schubert, who spun out his instrumental compositions to considerable length, there was an additional theme with variations, based on his art song, "The Trout".

The Baltimore Symphony String Quartet, with Louis Shub at the piano, paced this lovely work carefully, so that the lovely melodies were heard distinctly without losing the ongoing flow and movement.

MR. SHUB, as always, gave a distinguished performance, demonstrating another facet of his musicanship in the exacting team work of a chamber music ensemble. His accompanying of the baritone soloist was also of top notch quality.

Playing in the string quartet were Harold Kohon and Andrew Svilokos, violinist; Guillermia Perich, violist; Heinrich Joachim, cellist, and John Matthews, base violinist. Mr. Matthews is director of the organ Festival.

The audience assisted in maintaining the unity and atmosphere of the Finnish song cycle by not applauding until all three songs were completed. It would be rewarding to both artists and listeners if the same courtesy could be accorded the instrumental works, which consist usually of three or more movements.

The third concert of the Festival will take place Thursday, Oct. 19.

AN EXCEPTIONAL voice and studious, careful preparation combined to make Edna E. Lofton's recent recital at Brown Memorial Methodist Church a decidedly successful event.

Her voice is a soprano of well developed quality throughout its range with an especially rich texture in the lower register. She has a definite flair for the dramatic.

There is also much promise in Miss Lofton's performance of the richly ornented aria "Rejoice Greatly", from "Messiah".

A thoughtfully emotional interpretation characterized "Now Sleep the Crimson Petal" "Mountans" and Duranté's "Virvn Fount of Love".

Continued concert experience will lend, no doubt, additional graciousness to the singer's dignified stage presence.

With Shellman Johnson at the piano, the soloist was well supported by accompaniments of musicianly quality.

Junior Matrons and Willing Workers of the church sponsored the concert. The Rev. Paul Harris, the energetic, progressive pastor, is recalled as the talented violinist who was active in many local instrumental groups before his entrance into the ministry.

CALENDAR: Saturday, Oct. 14, first concert of the Young Musicians Series at Baltimore Museum of Art, with New York Brass Quintet returning by popular dequest. Tickets at the door.

Thursday, Oct. 19 at 8:30 p.m. in the Murphy Art Building auditorium the third of Morgan Chamber Music Festival Concerts, with Marilyn Cotlow, Western soprano; Egantius Genuso, clarinetist; Paul Olenkiy, cellist, and Shirley Matthews, pianist. Premier Baltimore performance will be given of four "Creole Songs" by Camille Nickerson.

Single admission to each concert of the festival is $2.00; $1.00 for students.

Sunday, Oct. 20 Jimm Mapp's Off Broadway Theatre tour to New York for opening of "All for Love", a musical. The day includes a cruise thru Greenwich Village, "Celebrity Time", to meet the stars and a full course dinner. For further information, call 669—4536 or WI 5 9620 or writer " 608 WI. 5-9620 or write 608 Cathedral Street, Baltimore, Md.

ARTHUR O'CONNELL reports the news of a murderous Indian attack to George Hamilton and commanding officer Richard Boone in "A Thunder of Drums" now playing at the Harlem, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's rousing outdoor drama of the U.S. Cavalry-Indian wars of the 1870's. Also starred in the action-filled CinemaScope and color attraction are Luana Patten, Charles Bronson and Richard Chamberlain, with popular recording star, Duane Eddy, making his acting debut.

hearing testimony from Drs. Ward and Hector Ramirez, both of Crownsville.

Hazel and his half-brother Haywood Stanley, 19, both of the 700 block W. North Ave., entered the victim's home with the intent to rob, during the time they committed a string of burglaries and robberies, the state charged.

HAZEL ATTACKED the woman during the course of the robbery, evidence showed, after herding her children and maid to the cellar.

For his part in the crimes Stanley was sentenced to life on the penitentiary, Hazel faces 55 faced other charges which could have netted more than 300 years in jail.

A panel of three Criminal Court judges, Joseph L. Carter, John T. Tucker and Anselm Sodaro, heard the case.

THE WOMAN agent, the prosecutor said, specialized in selling homes in Northwest Baltimore's "changing" neighborhoods, but was never able to account for the money at time of settlement.

The indictments followed an exhaustive investigation by Det. Sgt. Dennis Mello of the State's Attorney's office.

Sgt. Mello, who assisted Mr. Rogers in prosecuting the cases, testified his office was flooded with complaints and the indictments followed when all efforts to recover the money failed.

Louis R. Bainder, defense attorney, said the case will be appealed but Judge Carter refused to set bail until the motion is filed.

"OSSIE DAVIS, ACTOR AND AUTHOR, HAS PASSED A MIRACLE. 'Purlie Victorious' bounced and whooped into the Cort Theatre last night. A bubbling mixture of jibes, jokes and wry and uproarious variations of clichés about whites and blacks. Here figures increasingly take on the warmth of individuality until you hate to leave the season. 'Purlie Victorious' won't let you wipe that grin off your face." —Taubman, Times
"A RICH AND ROLLICKING IRONY. We've got a bright new playwright, a bucketful of bristling laughs and some of the sweetest strychnine we'll be tasting in a long time. It is something special. A rich and rollicking irony. 'Purlie Victorious' is unique in style, rich in its highly individual humor and most happily performed." —Kerr, Herald Tribune
"OSSIE DAVIS DOUBLE SUCCESS AS AUTHOR STAR. A splendid team of comedians went to work at the Cort Theatre last evening and it was a cheerful beginning for a new season of playgoing. As a playwright, Davis is well equipped with crackling jokes and jabs." —Chapman, News
"VERY FUNNY INDEED. 'Purlie Victorious' is a farce. When it hits, it's very funny indeed. It's broader than satire. Heck, it's burlesque without the strippers. The first-night audience gave it an enthusiastic reception." —Coleman, Mirror
"GO SEE IT AND 'HAVE A HAPPY'. The members of the cast of 'Purlie Victorious' have a whopping good time. They kid themselves. They kid the whites, segregation, Uncle Tom, movies, spirituals, black snake whips, slavery and fire and brimstone. It is extremely infectious and the audience is quick to be captured. It is a gay and good humored romp. Go see it and 'have a happy'." —McClain, Journal-American
SEATS NOW FOR ALL PERFORMANCES
"A HEARTY, POSITIVELY GLEEFUL SPOOF. 'Purlie Victorious' makes its jubilant point as comedy and comment. Not often does a comedy toss out as many laughable and meaningful lines as this. As a satirical weapon, 'Purlie Victorious' is on target every minute. You're not apt to see better comedy playing." —Hodel, World Telegram & Sun
"A BUCKETFUL OF BRISTLING LAUGHS!" —Kerr, Herald Tribune
