The family of physicist Charles E. Harrington. All the Harrington children were Carnation babies. "My doctor recommended Carnation," Mrs. Harrington explains. This milk in the red-and-white can is the world's leader for infant feeding.

Five little Harringtons—and how they do grow!
(Their doctor recommended Carnation)

Daddy is a government physicist. Mother is active in PTA, church and community projects. "And, I'm busiest of all at home," Mrs. Harrington admits, "with five little Harringtons. They all got started on a Carnation formula."

Eight out of 10 mothers who feed their babies a Carnation formula say: "My doctor recommended it." Carnation is the safest, most nourishing and digestible form of milk for baby's bottle. Ask your doctor about Carnation—the milk every doctor knows.

This milk that's best for babies is best for coffee, cereals and cooking, too! Carnation is the milk you can use like cream—with ⅓ the fat calories, and at ½ the cost of cream. Try Bunburger recipe, shown at right.

RECIPE:
(Makes 6 servings)
CARNATION'S stay-moist BUNBURGERS
⅔ cup (small can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
1 egg
1½ pounds ground beef
½ cup fine cracker crumbs
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped green pepper
American process cheese slices

Blend ingredients. Form meat mixture into 12 thin patties. Place each patty on hamburger bun half, covering completely. Broil about 5 minutes (6 to 7 inches from heat). Top each Bunburger with a cheese slice. Broil until cheese bubbles.

Spaghetti Turkey Supper combines taste, economy

IN TOWN — Mrs. Alma John, radio personality will be in Baltimore Saturday on behalf of the Tintex Dye Corp. She will appear at 11 a.m. in the Lafayette Courts and Douglass Homes, at 1 p.m. in the Cherry Hill Project auditorium, and at 3 p.m. in the Lexington-Poe Homes auditorium.

Because turkey is now, and is likely to be for weeks to come, one of the best of the meat buys, you are likely to be looking for extra ways to serve this meat.

For that part of the bird that you have tucked away in the freezer, after the first serving baked, here's is an excellent recipe.

• • •

SPAGHETTI TURKEY SUPPER utilizes another economy item, spaghetti. In addition you will need a tablespoon salt, three quarts boiling water, a can of asparagus, milk, a fourth cup butter or margarine.

Also a fourth cup all-purpose flour, salt and pepper to taste, a cup grated process American cheese, and two cups chopped cooked turkey. Eight ounces is the amount of spaghetti this recipe calls for.

• • •

ADD ONE tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Drain asparagus and measure liquid. Add enough milk to make two cups liquid. Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add flour and blend. Gradually add asparagus liquid and milk; cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt and pepper. Add cheese and stir until melted.

Arrange alternate layers of spaghetti, turkey, cheese sauce and asparagus in a greased one and a half quart casserole. If desired, arrange top layer of asparagus in spoke fashion.

Cover. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

• • •

TURKEY TETRAZZINI is another delicious way to use what is left of a gobbler.

You will need a tablespoon salt, three quarts boiling water, eight ounces spaghetti, a half pound mushrooms, six tablespoons butter or margarine, a fourth cup all-purpose flour, a teaspoon salt, an eighth teaspoon pepper;

Also a dash nutmeg, a half cup milk, a half cup light cream, a half cup chicken stock, three tablespoons dry sherry, two cups cooked turkey strips, a third cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives, and two tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese.

• • •

ADD ONE tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter or margarine. Add mushrooms and cook until brown. Blend in flour, one teaspoon salt, pepper and nutmeg. Gradually add milk, light cream, chicken stock and sherry.

Cook over low heat five minutes, stirring frequently. Combine spaghetti and sauce; mix well. Arrange in six lightly greased individual baking dishes. Top with Parmesan cheese. Broil three or four inches from source of heat for five minutes, or until lightly browned.
