The 'Littlest Circus' scheduled at Peabody

The "Littlest Circus", a musical carnival for children, will appear at the Peabody Concert Hall for two performances next Saturday, Nov. 4, at 2 and 4 p.m.

The program, which will last about 75 minutes, is presented in the style of the small traveling European circus.

The roles played by members of the circus include the one-man band, ringmaster, four acrobats, a seal and his trainer, a magic clown, a dancing juggler, tightrope walkers, a little sad clown, "Pocco", a giant who diminishes three times, two knockabout comedians, a ballerina, two lions and their trainer, four horses and their trainer, a fat clown who operates the hurdy-gurdy, a bareback rider and her horse and a large ostrich.

Charmettes Club dance hostesses

The original Charmettes held their Rainbow Ball in the Cherry Hill Union Hall Saturday evening.

Decorations were a rainbow at the foot of which was a "Pot - for - Gold" with a plea for guests to contribute to funds for the club's charities. Contributors participated in a drawing for prizes during the intermission.

An organist and a singer provided music for dancing and listening, and guests were served refreshments by their hostesses, who were:

Mesdames Juliette Carpenter, Victorine Adams, Marie Bowen, Henrietta W. Bailey, Elizabeth Crawley, Delores Gregory, Alverta Smith.

Mesdames Naomi Sullivan, Stella Taylor, Violet H. Whyte; and Misses Daisy Wilkins and Margaret Wilkins.
