Faculty testimonial for Mrs. Redden

with Lula Jones Garrett

Mrs. Alma F. Redden, who recently retired from the Baltimore School system, was honoree at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the faculty, employees and former teachers of the Francis M. Wood School, last week.

The dinner was in the Garrison Lounge on Friday evening. Isaiah White was toastmaster. Mrs. Bertha Hasklins sang and W. Meredith Birche played dinner music on the organ.

Other participants included Mrs. Sarah Manns, principal of the school; Mrs. Louise M. Dennis, former principal; Mrs. Sadie Douglass, Mrs. Orangie Epps and Miss Inez Redmond.

Mrs. Ariel Brooks presented an orchid to Mrs. Redden from the faculty. Mrs. Nevie Wooley presented a gift certificate from the hospitality committee of the school.

The gift from the faculty, an engraved silver tray, was presented by Mrs. Edith Spriggs. Other gifts to the honoree included a scarf from Mrs. Lucille Cephas, a guest book from Miss Ovella Dorsey, a gift certificate from Mrs. Malissa Fox and Mrs. Aurella Bush, and a gift certificate from Iota chapter of Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority.

Also participating were Edgar Manns, Mesdames Louise Dennis, Laura Collier, Bertha Goodman, Gladys Beaird, Portia Burrell, Myrtle Jones, Margaret Holley and Ivory Evans.

SUNDAY WAS an esthetic feast for nine of us . . . first, to sweep up an Autumn-tinted highway to Frederick, Md., a dove-gray mist shading distant mountains, a late-day sun pointing up the red and gold of the wayside trees;

The welcome mat out at the Charles Hicks' ranch house . . . deep cushioned couches into which to sink with tall glasses issuing from the bar in the family room and tantalizing aromas from the pretty kitchen;

Then drifting from the candle - lighted, pumpkin - decorated tables to sink again into the cushions while Eddie Evans picked up his guitar and we all "sang along" with him. . . while Mrs. H., sat, cross-legged on the floor, serving liquors from a low cocktail table.

Mr. Evans and his Dorothy were guests of the Hickses, who were hosts to their nameless dinner club, which also includes the Jimmy Murphys, the Rudy Wheelers, the Medford Reynoldses and Lula Patterson.

Mrs. H. (Marie) was in a pretty mellow mood herself. Having passed the Maryland board and become a full partner in her husband's mortician company. She had recently passed the neophyte status . . . handling, solely, her first funeral.

POTPOURRI: New resident in the Forest Park area is town attorney and school principal Lena K. Lee, who moved into 3701 Calloway Avenue a week back. Like "Pill Hill" a half - dozen blocks south, where some 19 physicians are domiciled, the Calloway section is taking on a decided pen - and - pencil air. — Principal Pearl Brackett is just across the street from Mrs. Lee, and around the corner — any number!

The Arlington S. Phillipses (mortician) acquired a $30-odd-thousand property a week ago, and the Lee Woodwards will be ensconced on Barrington Road.

Audrey Berry Butler and Lester Norris Sr. have chosen the 22nd for their wedding date. The marriage will take place in the home of her brother and sister - in - law, Dr. and Mrs. W. Leroy Berry of Morgan Park. And guests will be limited to members of the families. The couple's attendants will be her sister, Eunice Hall; and his son, Lester Norris, Jr.

Cutest quip of the week that from Anita (Mrs. Roland) Henson, from Miami, Fla., where the two are fall vacationing with Elizabeth Telley, formerly of this town.

Says Mrs. H. "Travel is certainly broadening . . . in more ways than one" and then proceeds to talk of the parties, plus, which are adding to more than her cultural store.

Elizabeth was barely back home from hereabouts and farther East and North and where she had been constantly on a party sprint, ere the Hensons flew down to Miami.

Aside from the football games, the beaches, the club, Betty entertained for them at a buffet supper; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert (Marie) Gill were hosts at brunch, and there was the supper party by the Non Pariel Club.

Mrs. Telley had to meet her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Sarah Yeager, Mrs. Lujette Crank, Mrs. Mamie Williams, and Drs. and Mesdames Albert Edwards, Henry Green and John Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill's brunch entertained for Lugette Crank, AKA regional director, with the Hensons and Mrs. Telley as guests. And Mrs. Yeager was hostess at the buffet supper meeting of the Non Pariel Club at which the three were guests.

DR. AND MRS. Shirley R. Clinton entertained at a pre-Halloween party for their children, Stanley and Lenise on Saturday.

Needless to say there was an array of costumes . . . and the festive theme which was in evidence throughout the home included lighted jack-o'-lanterns, witches, scarecrows and goblins.

Dr. Clinton made movies of the activities which included dancing, games and a doughnut eating contest. Each guest, upon departing, received a jack-o' - lantern candy and a surprise gift.

Out - of - town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stansberry Clinton of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Mays and their children, Laurice and Maurice Jr. of Washington.

Other guests were Ronald and Gail Robinson, Ralph Birt Jr., Julie White, Susan and Harriet Cole, Ronald Dwayne and Gregory Smoot, Barbara Ann and Lanier Braxton; Patricia Pamela and William Hall, Richard and Janet Montgomery, Malcolm Moore, Daryl Wendell and Michele Jones, Sharon Johnson, Kathleen Davis, Marlene and Charles Venter Jr. and Keith and Lisa Saunders.

ON SATURDAY afternoon, last, there were strange goings on at St. Mary's Great Hall on Walbrook and Ellamont Streets.

Traffic slowed down to look at witches astride broomsticks, skeletons strolling along side fairy princesses, a whole array of colorful Walt Disney Characters, coupled with the Flintstones, numerous personalities of the comic strips, as well as very authentic looking miniature police, nurse, Colt player, pretty Indian maiden, ballerina, and cow girls.

They were the 5-6 and the 7-8 year olds of the Jack and Jill Club on their way to their Halloween Party.

At the party children had great fun unmasking, playing traditional Holloween games, staging a grand march, and partaking of refreshments. Best of all every one received a take home prize.

The committee responsible for this delightful party included Joyce Neal, Anne Emery, and Marjorie Flannigan for the 5-6 year olds, and Eloise Parker, Wilhelmina Jose Boston, Ralph and Raymond Parker, Barbara Harris, Lynn and Harry Carpenter, Keith Neal, Robert and Roy Cragway, Donna, Renee, and Linda Taliaferro;

Heber Lighston, Susan Wood, Travis Emery, Nina and Donna Thomas, Rachael Phillips, Pern Flannigan, Michelle and Daryl Jones, Desiree Stiles, Illona Shelley, Thomas Hayes, Marvin Davis, Carlton Rice, Carole Boston, Reynold Lighston;

Yancy Whittaker, Robert and Ruth White, Virginia Moore, Robert Burkett, Wayne Stokes, Angela Griggs, Joan Finney, Teresa Redd, and Leslie Culbreath.

"DIG THOSE CRAZY Jacks and Jills" was the theme when the Counts and Countesses of Jack and Jill held a Beatnick Party Saturday night as their opening activity.

Vashti Smith and Frances Wood were in charge of the activity. Mrs. Gwendolyn Lassiter is age-group chairman.

Hosts and hostesses were: Cordell Allor, Jewell Augustin, Nanci Carroll, Edith Dennis, Allenette Gail, Emile Julian, Yvonne Lansey, Eva Marie Lassiter, Robert Mathews, Ernest Reed, Neva Wilkins, Carroll Woodford, Louis Pinkney, Patricia Nichols, Frederick Thomas, and Lance Walker.

Guests were Karen Pinderhughes, Erica Frye, Arthur Johnston, Charlotte Anne Robinson, Eloise Washington, Audrey Fountain, Wayne Fountain;

Pat Payne, Betty Mathews, Albert Greene, Chewanle Brown, Roland Nicholson, Lee Raines, Skippy Dunn, Helen Dunn, James Smith, Ronald Smith, Gregory Simmons, Cynthia Underwood, Everett Ross, Chauncey Crockett, Sheryl Lansey, Gaines Lansey;

Ralph Byrd, Carey Gambrill, Kenneth Adams, Michael Valentine, Deborah Hunter, Bernard Watts, Charles Dugger, Deborah Wainwright, Carla Brewington, Mitchell Oliver, Melva Greene, William Thomas Lynch.

Assisting the hostesses were Mesdames Ida Smith, Idella Nichols and Berine Gail.

THE FALCON GUN CLUB Auxiliary entertained their husbands and guests at their annual Halloween - Harvest party at the club house in Waterloo, Md.

Spooky decorations set the theme for the evening of fun and dancing.

Beatnik was the costume theme, this year. Carl Thomas James, wearing a green wig, furs and black shoes and hose, and husband Henry, a ruddy face, red shirt, black suit and red, red shoes, were the classic beatniks.

Eva Eaton, attired in a black pigtail wig, knee tickling plaid skirt, Clinton Coleman, elevating his stature half a nelly pressed patched suit, jazzed up the affair.

Bernadette Parker came as an air force man; Nola Leeper, an early American woman; Dr. Dorothy Jones, a Castillian; Geneva Coleman, an Oriental; Alice Ford, an Indian girl and Miriam Winbetne, a Puritan.

Others about included the George Bennetts, Herbert Prestwidges, Charles Rileys, John de Cecilios, Frank Owensez, Tommy Watterses, Rufus Tuckers, Harry Macers;

THE RECENT meeting of The Miel Jema's gathered for a buffet supper at the home of Mrs. Carrie Gaddy.

Carrie performed as usual —presented an interesting travelogue of her cruise to Bermuda this past summer. Colorful slides and appropriate background music made her talk most interesting.

Another feature of the meeting was the revealing of secret pals and the exchanging of gifts including lounging pajamas, handbags, perfumes, jewelry, lingerie, gloves, etc. This has been so much fun for the past three years that everyone decided it should continue.

Plans were made for the adoption of a needy family for a year in order to bring some happiness to the less fortunate. The first step in this direction will be to provide a complete dinner, with all the trimmings, for the family for Thanksgiving.

In place of the regular November meeting the members decided upon "A Night Out for the Girls" starting with dinner at a local dining room.

As always, Carrie served the most delicious dinner. Those about were Mae Cornish, Essie Dorsey, Lenna C. Ferrell, Geneva (Jean) Johnson, Marita King, Mildred McDaniels, Bernice S. Turner, and Elizabeth Young.

Sigma Wives feature Hunt hats at show

PHI BETA SIGMA wives provided a Paris Boulevard setting (from the boulevard brush of Reva Lewie) Sunday afternoon for their annual fashion show.

Their guest artist was Elise Hunt, whose mangificent hats lent more than a bit of glamour to the affair. Mrs. Hunt showed 20 numbers that ranged from furs to brocades, from satins to felts; and featured from intricately executed wide brims to cleverly draped turbans. And to give you an inkling of how they were received by the audience, there wasn't a hat left on Monday.

The Sigma Wives' show is unique in that the members model their own wardrobes . . . and this year they had a few friends who joined the models.

In all the clothes were shown, the cup, fork, Kappa Lee and Pamela Williams; a quartet of pre teens, Valerie Bailey, Sylvia Garrett, Marcia Lewie and Gilda Robinson; and three teenagers: Patricia Hayes, Bernice Robinson, and Audrey Wood.

Adults showing were Rosetta Addison, Priscilla Blassingdale, Cynthia Cannaday, Betty Lou Dorsey, Vivian Gilkes, Jean Harris, Evelyn Hightower;

Jean Hopkins, Geraldine Jenkins, Evelyn Johnson, Louise Johnson, Lillian Lawrence, Revie Lewis, Faye McDaniels, Thelma Moore, Phoebe Nash, Willie Oglesby;

Shirley Paige, Doris Pierce, Florence Richardson, Olga Rodney, Jean Scott, Catherine Swan, Ruby Thompson, Nellie Warrington, Anethia Williams and Nellie Wright.

The sole male model, Leroy Tayler, scored high, and deservedly so . . . from the hunting outfit he showed in a walking ensemble that dark brown suit, matching hat and suede shoes, to a top coat with detachable cape and mahogany cane.

There was also a display of jewelry by Lillian Lawrence; cosmetics by Gladys Ball; a flower display by Naomi Camper, president of the auxiliary; and music provided by Ruth Reddick. Catherine Greene narrated the show.

Tots and Teens entertained with elaborate novelties

Mrs. Alma Weems hosted the three - to - five age group of Tots and Teens at a gay Halloween party in her Bateman Avenue home, Saturday.

Children who played games, told stories, enjoyed refreshments after having introduced themselves, included Marquetta and Marshella Quarles, Jeffrey Johnson, Van Story Branch, Wilda Kidd, Lloyd Barry, Gary Watkins;

Also LaVerne Ruffin, Kina and Jeanette Miles, Melanie Shaw, Christine Hayes, Denise Weems, Elizabeth Grooms, Kelvin Keems, Ernestine Lee and Reginald Lee

ANOTHER GROUP of Tots and Teens found horsemanship exciting over the weekend. The nine-to-eleven and the twelve-to-fourteen - year old groups went to Deer Head Farms, where the more experienced riders ventured out on the riding trails and others took first lessons.

Participating in this activity were:

Cheryl Russell, Karl King, Paula Brooks, Lynn Anderson, Richard Mitchell, Annette Lambson, Gregory Johnson, Charlene Lawson, Cynthia Underwood;

Clyde Johnson, Derek East, Patricia Hayes, Fran Tarter, Alice Tucker, James Hill, Dawnae Hunter, John Drew, Lewis Tucker and Marcia Porter.

Mothers there were Mesdames Paleatine Anderton, Pauline Brooks, Lorraine Hayes, Irene Hill, Ethel Hunter, Florence Kidd, Ruth King, Mary Mitchell, Vanessa Porter, Edna Russell, Nellie Tarter and Alice Tucker.

Woman Power luncheon Nov. 5

Woman Power, Inc. will hold its forth Annual Leadership Conference and Luncheon on Sunday, November 5, at the Sheraton - Belvedere Hotel. Charles and Chase Streets, at 12:30 in the afternoon.

The purpose of the Conference this year is to launch the Woman Power New Provident Hospital Building Fund Drive, whereby individual women are pledged to donate $10 per month for a period of one year to this cause.

Workshop discussions will point up the need for a new hospital in the Northwest area of the city, and these discussions will be led by professional personnel who are most acutely aware of the urgency of this need.

Short commentaries from outstanding citizens of the city and state will be followed by a Fashion Show, featuring Charm Centre models.
