TINTEX REPRESENTATIVE

Here's what the expert says on 'colors for colored people'

A noted home arts specialist advised Baltimore housewives Saturday to brighten their lives by using high color in their homes and dress.

Speaking before audiences at two of the city's housing projects, Mrs. Alma John, noted New York radio announcer, appeared for the Tintex Corp., the nation's leading producer of fabric dyes.

Mrs. John is holder of the McCall Magazine Golden Mike Award, the Heart of Gold Award of the American Association, and was named Woman of the Year by the New York Culturists' Association.

Her programs are heard daily in New York and in many other cities including Baltimore over WSID.

She is daily commentator on "Homemakers Club" moderator on the program "What's Right With Teen Agers" and "World At Your Doorstep" on which she interviews visitors from abroad.

ACCOMPANYING her on the Baltimore trip was Herb Landon, publicity director for the Tintex firm, and representative of the Grey Advertising Co of New York.

"THE THEORY that colored women can only wear colors harmonizing with their skin is obsolete."

Mr. Landon was also present when Mrs. John spoke at the Lafayette Courts Apartments and the Cherry Hill Housing projects.

Discrediting the theory women can wear only colors harmonizing with their skin coloring, Mrs. John termed the idea "obsolete."

She said: "Other people think we can not wear certain colors. This idea is outmoded. We can wear any color of the rainbow we wish. High color brings out the many wonderful colorings of our skin.

"To overcome such ideas and other strange things other people think of us, we need a crash program for inter - cultural education.

"We can not wait five or 10 years to develop the right thinking of other groups. We must correct our thinking about them and their thinking about us now.

"They have only the most meager information about us and only the stereotype view of us. Our children have to accept this idea themselves and it is not good for them to be led to believe they are 'different.'

"In this new world we can wear what we wish, have our rights just as anyone else."

Mrs. John recommended that there is no streaking, no fading.

She pointed out that Tintex may be used in the washing machine to renew old colors, make garments and home decorations appear new in color.

Captivating both the housewives and the children in the audiences, Mrs. John's talk brought enthusiastic testimonies from them on the use of Tintex.

Mrs. Frances Winder, 27, 1134 E. Fayette St., mother of nine sons, told how she renewed old curtains with Tintex. Mrs. Ivy Bennett, 127 S. Exeter St., disclosed that she has used Tintex on dresser scarfs to make them more attractive while Mrs. Louise Fullwood, 131 Aisquith St. said she dyed spreads and scatter rugs to match.

Mrs. Juanita C. Harris, 4407 Norfolk Ave., a Lafayette Management Aide, told how she renews her 8 - year-old son's faded outgrown clothing so that she can pass them on to other children "nearly new."

Mrs. John is on a nationwide tour for Tintex. She expects to return to Baltimore in November at the Homemakers Institutes at Lafayette Courts and at the Cherry Hill project.

A native of Philadelphia, she is a graduate of New York University School of Education and the Harlem School of Nursing. In addition to her activities for Tintex, she works with schools, youth groups and service organizations, finding jobs for young people and advising young and old on daily programs.

While in Baltimore, Mrs. John visited relatives, Mrs. Ada Veney, Mrs. Mable Hawkins, Lawson Vessells and Harriston Vessells.

She also spoke on Friday night at 8 o'clock services for the Bible Way Church's Youth Convention at the First Apostolic Faith Church, 27 S. Caroline St. where Bishop Winfield A. Showell is pastor.

Escorting her on the Saturday tour of Baltimore were Elizabeth M. Oliver, AFRO reporter and George Jude, AFRO national advertising representative.

Edmondson Home Ec has special literature for 'colored' students

At Edmondson High School, principal Carroll S. Rankin and vice principal W. Harris, have approved use on Home Economics teachers of a separate leaflet for colored students only.

Both school officials told the AFRO that the home ec textbook seems to be "geared for white children" and they find it necessitty for supplementary material "for colored students."

The supplementary material, purportedly written by a Langston University teacher, states that colored persons should select colors for dress and make-up suitable to skin coloring.

It makes a separate issue of "color selections for colored women."

* * *

ASKED IF IT wasn't true that Baltimore schools have only "children" who are considered separately as "white" and "colored", Mrs. Harris and Mr. Rankin told the AFRO "we nevertheless find the supplementary material educationally sound."

Mr. Rankin stated: "We plan to use it until we are told not to. I do not see anything objectionable. It makes good sense to meet the needs of colored children."

Mrs. Harris said: "The colored children need it, really. The text book does not meet the need of the colored children in this instance. Colored children can not use color selections, white children use."

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

BY ELOISE RICHARDSON

Mannequins from the Pauline Brooks Dress Salon in Baltimore gave a fashion show on Sunday at the Adams Park School for the benefit for indigent patients at Crownsville State Hospital, sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville, Annapolis Branch.

The show was enhanced by the charming personality of Mrs. Odelle Rea, commentator.

The latest fashions in beautiful clothes of "Plaid a la Plain Perspective," "Town and Country," "Dresses on the Go," "Twilight Hours" and the "Suit and Coat Brigade" were evidence of Mrs. Brook's expert ability in the field of buying from both the smart styles and economic points of view.

* * *

THE LATEST in leisure wear brought out an array of plaids, smartly designed to flatter anybody's figure. The latest in street dresses featured the various knits, among which were worsted knits, fiber thick knits, Italian knits, and those of provincial and plaid patterns.

The sheath played a dominant role in smartness in these knits, as well as in sheer wools and many played parts in a combination with matching jackets, gave a suit effect, and without jackets, were versatile for various occasions.

Tweed showed itself off too in walking suits and coats — many in the plaid patterns which are so popular this year. The Chesterfield coat was on the scene too, to remind its audience that it is a standard style and is being worn many places at this time.

Then there were the crepes, which are staging a comeback this year, metallic brocades and fabric combinations such as satin and chiffon.

One particularly stunning dress was an all - white creation made on princess lines with an overskirt of long fringe which fell from the hip line to the hem.

Nell Sheridan's hats were "oh, so smart" and so reasonable in price. All were made from imported materials and they were featured in large and small creations. The large white mousse bible style, the Canadian red fox cossack and the black velvet baby doll numbers were especially smart.

The lovely group of models who wore these fabulous creations were Mesdames Mabela Burton, Pearl Dyson, Mae L. Hawkins, Patricia R. Press, Audrey Simmons, Tenyo Wiggins and Melinee Yerrell and Misses Leatrice Hubbard and Ann Phillips.

* * *

BEAUTIFUL background scenery and music helped to enchance the atmosphere of charm and little Miss Carol Ann Johnson, commentator, added to the evening program when she rendered the solo "Sounds" by Klemm, accompanied by Mrs. Bernice Gibbs.

The Annapolis Branch auxiliary, which started with membership of seven women last November has grown to a membership of over 25 members, under the fine leadership of their president, Miss Nan Wright.

Several members of the group are doing volunteer work on the hospital grounds in occupational thrapy directly with the patients.

On November 11, the group will conduct a shower for the Nearly - New Shop of the hospital at 10:30 a.m. The shower, which is spearheaded by Miss Sarah Jones, supervisor of schools, is being supported by the principals, teachers and parents of public schools in Anne Arundel County.

THE NEARLY - NEW Shop of the hospital is operated by the auxiliary to give patients the opportunity to shop just as they would if they were living normal lives.

It serves its purpose as a therapeutic area, which volunteers are needed to help carry it on.

Volunteers are also needed at the hospital to work in the canteen, another area which serves the patients.

Other officers of the Annapolis Branch auxiliary are: Miss Eloise Duvall, vice president; Mrs. Sarah Jones, secretary; Miss Marita Carroll, treasurer, and Mrs. Hattie Pierce, chaplain. Mrs. Mary Brown of Volunteers, chairman.

THE OBSERVANCE of American Education Week, the PTA of Bates High School on Tuesday, Nov. 7 from 7 to 9, will conduct a program centered around the theme for 1961: "Your Schools: Time for a Progress Report."

The latter half of the evening will be used for a routine parent - teacher consultation in the cafeteria.

Students will be available throughout the evening to issue membership cards to parents and patrons who want to join the PTA for the current year. George Mitchell is president.

Herbert S. Hillard, principal of Bates High School, is representing the Maryland Secondary Principals Association at a workshop meeting of the Phelps Stokes Foundation at Capahosic, Va., this week-end.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.
The results were so remarkable, in fact, that 10 leading hemorrhoid specialists reported on their findings at a meeting of the American Medical Association.
Most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months.
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics, or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form — called Preparation H®. Ask for individually wrapped convenient Preparation H Suppositories, or tube with rectal nozzle. Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Sweet memories are all we have of one so dearly loved by all;
Time can never erase a face that was so dear to part with one so dear.

When the evening shades are gathering
And we are silent all alone
In our hearts there is a longing
For a loved one gone
If you could only come
Or we could go to
Where we told you good-bye
Sleep on, dear husband
Your work on earth is done
Loving WIFE and DAUGHTERS.

SUMMERS — HAYNES — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, LAWTIE SUMMERS who passed away November 3, 1955.
Sweet memories are all we have of
One so dearly loved by all
A blow struck us a shock severe
It was to part with one so dear.
We miss her and we long for you
And speak of how you died.
We think you could not say goodbye
Before you closed your eyes.
God saw the road was getting too rough
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed her weary eyes
And whispered: "Peace be thine."
It was a painful parting
Of pain
Your weary nights are past;
Your eyes must worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
Husband, CLARENCE SUMMERS

TAYLOR — In loving memory of our dear one, "CLENTON" D. who passed away November 3, 1956:
Years ago today
Our whole world fell apart;
Your death left a void in our life;
Within our empty hearts
There is a vacant place anywhere.
A million dreams were made
And yet a voice kept telling us
Somehow we must go on.
Since we told our hearts years weeks west by
Time flies three years
And still I see my thought of your face
Not quite the same old place
But somehow tears are different
Now
Since you are no bitter tears
They are gentle tears, that only
Flow when I think of you dear
And yet dear God you understand
Why this day makes us blue
Three years ago today our husband and father went home with you.
Loving wife, AUDREY
Devoted daughter, GLADYS.
